Item 5. Other Events.

In compliance with its obligations under Regulation FD, K2 Inc. (NYSE:KTO) is disclosing information that it discussed today in private conversations with certain members of the financial community. K2 stated that it is in continuing discussions with certain key commercial partners of Rawlings Sporting Goods Company, Inc. (NASDAQ: RAWL) with respect to an outstanding contractual consent and a pending contract amendment in connection with the previously announced merger agreement with Rawlings. K2 noted that the receipt of the consent and the amendment to the contract are conditions to the closing of the proposed merger and that K2 will be unable to consummate the transaction unless the consent and the amendment are obtained. Dick Heckmann, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the company, stated "At this late stage in the process, we are concerned that all of the contingencies associated with the transaction, other than stockholder approvals, have not been satisfied. The consent and the amendment that remain outstanding relate to material contracts of Rawlings, and, given the importance of the contracts, we could not justify closing without these conditions being satisfied."

K2 also noted that, if the average daily closing price per share of K2 common stock as reported on the NYSE Composite Transactions reporting system for any 15 consecutive trading days ending prior to Rawlings stockholders meeting on March 26, 2003 is less than $8.00 per share, K2 has the right to terminate the merger agreement with Rawlings. Mr. Heckmann stated "At an average trading price of less than $8.00 per share for K2 stock, the exchange ratio in the proposed transaction may not make financial sense for the company."
