NOTES TO UNAUDITED CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1 THE COMPANY AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Company

Mellanox Technologies, Ltd. (the Company or Mellanox) was incorporated in Israel and commenced operations in March 1999. Mellanox is a supplier of high-performance semiconductor interconnect products for computing, storage and communications applications.

Principles of presentation

The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include the Company's accounts as well as those of its wholly owned subsidiaries after the elimination of all significant intercompany balances and transactions.

The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included in this quarterly report on Form 10-Q have been prepared by the Company without audit, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC). The year-end unaudited condensed balance sheet data was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. However, the Company believes that the disclosures contained in this quarterly report comply with the requirements of Section 13(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act), for a quarterly report on Form 10-Q and are adequate to make the information presented not misleading. The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements included herein reflect all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring adjustments) which are, in the opinion of management, necessary for a fair statement of the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the interim periods presented. These unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto contained in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on February 28, 2012. The results of operations for the six months ended June 30, 2012 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be anticipated for the entire year ending December 31, 2012 or thereafter.

The Company is subject to all of the risks inherent in a company that operates in the dynamic and competitive semiconductor industry. Significant changes in any of the following areas could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial position and results of operations: unpredictable volume or timing of customer orders; ordered product mix; the sales outlook and purchasing patterns of the Company's customers based on consumer demands and general economic conditions; loss of one or more of the Company's customers; decreases in the average selling prices of products or increases in the average cost of finished goods; the availability, pricing and timeliness of delivery of components used in the Company's products; reliance on a limited number of subcontractors to manufacture, assemble, package and production test the Company's products; the Company's ability to successfully develop, introduce and sell new or enhanced products in a timely manner; product obsolescence and the Company's ability to manage product transitions; and the timing of announcements or introductions of new products by the Company's competitors.

Additionally, the Company has a significant presence in Israel, including research and development activities, corporate facilities and sales support operations. Uncertainty surrounding the political, economic and military conditions in Israel may directly impact the Company's financial results.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of net revenues and expenses in the reporting period. The Company regularly evaluates estimates and assumptions related to revenue recognition, allowances for doubtful accounts, sales returns and allowances, warranty reserves, inventory reserves, share-based compensation expense, long-term asset valuations, investments, goodwill and purchased intangible asset valuation, deferred income tax asset valuation allowances, uncertain tax positions, litigation and other loss contingencies. These estimates and assumptions are based on current facts, historical experience and various other factors that the Company believes to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities and the recording of revenue, costs and expenses that are not readily apparent from other sources. The actual results the Company experiences may differ materially and adversely from its original estimates. To the extent there are material differences between the estimates and actual results, the Company's future results of operations will be affected.

Significant accounting policies

There have been no changes in the Company's significant accounting policies that were disclosed in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2011. See our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on February 28, 2012, for a discussion of significant accounting policies and estimates.

The Company excluded 135,486 and 428,010 outstanding shares for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively, from the computation of diluted net income per ordinary share, because including these outstanding shares would have had an anti-dilutive effect.

The Company excluded 548,264 and 666,034 outstanding shares for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, respectively, from the computation of diluted net income per ordinary share, because including these outstanding shares would have had an anti-dilutive effect.

Effective January 1, 2012, the Company adopted the authoritative guidance, issued by FASB in May 2011, on fair value measurements that clarifies the application of existing guidance and disclosure requirements, changes certain fair value measurement principles and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements. The adoption of this guidance had no impact on the Company's unaudited consolidated financial statements.

Effective January 1, 2012, the Company adopted the authoritative guidance, issued by FASB in June 2011, regarding the presentation of comprehensive income. The new standard requires companies to present net income and other comprehensive income in one continuous statement or in two separate, but consecutive statements. In-process research and development ( IPR&D ) represents projects that had not yet reached technological feasibility. Technological feasibility is defined as being equivalent to completion of a beta-phase working prototype in which there is no remaining risk relating to the development. Acquired IPR&D consisted of three projects: Unified Fabric Manager, or UFM , Acceleration software and Ethernet. Each of these projects is focused on integrating new technologies, improving product performance and broadening features and functionalities. The Acceleration software and Ethernet projects were completed during the year ended December 31, 2011. The UFM project was completed during the second quarter of 2012.

The goodwill recognized from the acquisition of Voltaire resulted primarily from the Company s anticipated enhanced position in providing end-to-end connectivity solutions, expanding its software and hardware offerings and strengthening its engineering team and sales force. Goodwill will not be amortized but instead will be tested for impairment annually or more frequently if certain indicators are present. Goodwill is not expected to be deductible for tax purposes.

NOTE 7 DERIVATIVES AND HEDGING ACTIVITIES:

The Company uses forward contracts to manage its exposure to changes in the exchange rate of the New Israeli Shekel ( NIS ) against the U.S. dollar. The Company's primary objective in entering into these arrangements is to reduce the volatility of earnings and cash flows associated with changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The program is not designated for trading or speculative purposes. The Company's forward contracts expose the Company to credit risk to the extent that the counterparties may be unable to meet the terms of the agreement. The Company seeks to mitigate such risk by limiting its counterparties to major financial institutions and by spreading the risk across a number of major financial institutions. In addition, the potential risk of loss with any one counterparty resulting from this type of credit risk is monitored on an ongoing basis.

The Company uses forward contracts designated as cash flow hedges to hedge a substantial portion of future forecasted operating expenses in NIS expected to occur over the next twelve months. The gain or loss on the effective portion of a cash flow hedge is initially reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) ( OCI ), and subsequently reclassified into operating expenses in the same period in which the hedged operating expenses are recognized, or reclassified into other income, net, if the hedged transaction becomes probable of not occurring. Any gain or loss after a hedge is de-designated because it is no longer probable of occurring or related to an ineffective portion of a hedge, as well as any amount excluded from the Company's hedge effectiveness, is recognized as other income (expense) immediately. The net gains or losses relating to ineffectiveness were not material in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011. As of June 30, 2012, the Company had forward contracts in place that hedged future operating expenses of approximately 165.0 million NIS, or approximately $42.1 million, based upon the exchange rate as of June 30, 2012.

The Company does not use derivative financial instruments for purposes other than cash flow hedges.

NOTE 10 INCOME TAXES:

As of June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the Company had unrecognized tax benefits of $5.0 million and $4.1 million, respectively. It is the Company's policy to classify accrued interest and penalties as part of the unrecognized tax benefits, or tax contingencies, and record the expense in the provision for income taxes. As of June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the amount of accrued interest and penalties totaled $309,000.

Edgar Filing: Mellanox Technologies, Ltd. - Form 10-Q

and $231,000, respectively. As of June 30, 2012, calendar years 2008 through 2011 were open and subject to potential examination in one or more jurisdictions.

The Company's effective tax rate is highly dependent upon the geographic distribution of its worldwide earnings or losses, tax regulations and tax holiday benefits in Israel, and the effectiveness of the Company's tax planning strategies. The Company updates its annual effective tax rate estimate at the end of each quarterly period. This estimate takes into account projections of annual pretax income, the Company's geographic mix and interpretations of tax laws and possible outcomes of current and future audits. The Company's effective tax rates were 0.3% and 2.3% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively. The Company's effective tax rates were 25.3% and 58.9% for the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, respectively. The difference between the Company's effective tax rates and the 34% federal statutory rate resulted primarily from foreign earnings taxed at rates lower than the federal statutory rate, partially offset by non-tax-deductible expenses such as share-based compensation expense and the accrual of unrecognized tax benefits, and interest and penalties associated with unrecognized tax positions. In addition, the Company has recorded deferred tax assets in the amount of $0.8 million associated with the benefits that relate to taxable operations in Israel not fully covered by the existing tax holiday.

Table of Contents

The application of income tax law is inherently complex. Laws and regulations in this area are voluminous and are often ambiguous and the Company is required to make many subjective assumptions and judgments regarding its income tax exposures. In addition, interpretations of and guidance surrounding income tax laws and regulations are subject to change over time. Any changes in the Company's subjective assumptions and judgments could materially affect amounts recognized in its condensed consolidated balance sheets and statements of operations.

Overview

We are a fabless semiconductor company that produces and supplies high-performance interconnect products that facilitate efficient data transmission between servers, storage systems and communications infrastructure equipment and other embedded systems. We offer adapter, gateway and switch integrated circuits ( IC ), adapter cards, switch systems, gateway systems, software, services and cables as integral parts of a total end-to-end interconnect solution focused on computing, storage and communication applications used in multiple markets, including high-performance computing, or HPC, Web 2.0, Big Data, Cloud, financial services, database and storage. Our adapters and switch ICs provide per-port bandwidth up to 10Gb/s and 40Gb/s Ethernet, and 10Gb/s (Single Data Rate or SDR), 20Gb/s (Double Data Rate or DDR), 40Gb/s (Quad Data Rate or QDR) and 56Gb/s (Fourteen Data Rate or FDR) InfiniBand. With our adapter ICs and cards, we deliver software for parallel programming, messaging, unstructured data and storage used to accelerate applications in HPC, Web 2.0, Big Data, Cloud, high frequency trading, database and storage, among others. Our switch systems range in port density from 8, 18, 36, 64 port top-of-rack switches to director-class switches ranging in size from 108 to 648 ports. Connectivity between the adapters and switches is supported with our short reach copper cables and long reach active optical cables, and our management software provides visibility, monitoring and diagnostics for the system.

As a leader in developing multiple generations of high-speed interconnect solutions, we have established strong relationships with our customers. Our products are incorporated in servers and associated networking solutions produced by the five largest server vendors, Hewlett-Packard, IBM, Dell, Oracle and Fujitsu, which collectively shipped the majority of servers in 2011, according to industry research firm International Data Corporation. We supply our products to leading storage and communications infrastructure equipment vendors such as Data Direct Networks, Hewlett-Packard, IBM, Isilon/EMC, NetApp, Oracle and Xyratex. Additionally, our products are used as embedded solutions by companies such as GE Fanuc, Toshiba Medical and Sea Change International.

We are one of the pioneers of InfiniBand, an industry-standard architecture that provides specifications for high-performance and scalable datacenter interconnects. We believe we are the leading supplier of InfiniBand interconnect solutions that deliver industry-leading features, which is demonstrated by the performance, efficiency and scalability of clustered computing and storage systems that incorporate our products. In addition to supporting InfiniBand, our products also support industry-standard Ethernet transmission protocols providing unique product differentiation and connectivity flexibility. Our products serve as building blocks for creating reliable and scalable InfiniBand and Ethernet solutions with leading performance.

In February 2011, we completed the acquisition of Voltaire Ltd., or Voltaire, a leading provider of scale-out computing fabrics for data centers, high performance computing and cloud environments. Our primary reasons for the Voltaire acquisition were to enhance our position in providing end-to-end connectivity solutions and to expand our software and hardware offerings. The acquisition also enhanced our engineering team and sales force through the addition of Voltaire employees. The acquisition of Voltaire has allowed us to offer a broader product portfolio, provided us with the opportunity to expand our customer base and allowed us to go to market with end-to-end hardware and software solutions for both InfiniBand and Ethernet.

Revenues. We derive revenues from sales of our ICs, cards, switch systems, cables, software and accessories. Our sales have historically been made on the basis of purchase orders rather than long-term agreements. Revenues were $222.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $118.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of approximately 88%. To date, we have derived a substantial portion of our revenues from a relatively small number of customers. Sales to our top ten customers represented 82% and 73% of our total revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. Sales to customers representing 10% or more of our revenues accounted for 46% and 43% of our total revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. A large Web 2.0 customer contributed to the percentage of our current quarter revenues from Hewlett-Packard. The loss of one or more of our principal customers, the reduction or deferral of purchases, or changes in the mix of our products ordered by any one of these customers could cause our revenues to decline materially if we are unable to increase our revenues from other customers.

Our customers, including our most significant customers, are not obligated by long-term contracts to purchase our products and may cancel orders with limited potential penalties. If any of our large customers reduces or cancels its purchases from us for any reason, it could have an adverse effect on our revenues and results of operations.

At June 30, 2012, Oracle Corporation held approximately 3.8 million of our ordinary shares. Sales to Oracle mainly through its contract manufacturers in the six months ended June 30, 2012 were $11.5 million, and were conducted at arm's-length. There were no other material transactions with Oracle during the six months ended June 30, 2012. At June 30, 2012, accounts receivable from Oracle totaled $239. At June 30, 2011, Oracle held approximately 3.4 million of our ordinary shares. Sales to Oracle mainly through its contract manufacturers for the six months ended June 30, 2011 were $13.0 million, and were conducted at arm's-length. At December 31, 2011, accounts receivable from Oracle totaled $17,831.

Cost of revenues and gross profit. The cost of revenues consists primarily of the cost of silicon wafers purchased from our foundry supplier, costs associated with the assembly, packaging and production testing of our ICs, outside processing costs associated with the manufacture of our host channel adapters, or HCA cards, and switch systems, purchased cable costs, royalties due to third parties, warranty costs, excess and obsolete inventory costs and costs of personnel associated with production management, quality assurance and services. In addition, after we purchase wafers from our foundry supplier, we also face yield risk related to manufacturing these wafers into semiconductor devices. Manufacturing yield is the percentage of acceptable product resulting from the manufacturing process, as identified when the product is tested as a finished IC. If our manufacturing yields decrease, our cost per unit increases, which could have a significant adverse impact on our cost of revenues. We do not have long-term pricing agreements with our foundry supplier and contract manufacturers. Accordingly, our costs are subject to price fluctuations based on the overall cyclical demand for semiconductors.

We purchase our inventory pursuant to standard purchase orders. We estimate that lead times for delivery of our finished semiconductors from our foundry supplier and assembly, packaging and production testing subcontractor are approximately three to four months, lead times for delivery from our HCA card manufacturing subcontractor are approximately eight to ten weeks, and lead times for delivery from our switch systems manufacturing subcontractors are approximately twelve weeks. We build inventory based on forecasts of customer orders rather than the actual orders themselves. In addition, our customers are seeking opportunities to minimize their inventory on hand while demanding shorter lead times for orders placed. As a result, we have increased our inventory levels over some of the past quarters to meet this demand.

Table of Contents

We expect our cost of revenues to increase over time as a result of the expected increase in our sales volume. Our cost of revenues as a percentage of sales will fluctuate in the future due to expected reductions in the average sale price of our products, and the percentage of revenue deriving from sales of switch systems and cables, which generally yield lower gross margins. This fluctuation will also depend on overall customer demand for our products, introduction of new products, our product mix, composition of our revenues by respective data rate, competitive product offerings and related pricing, and our ability to reduce manufacturing costs.

Operational Expenses

Research and development expenses. Our research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries, share-based compensation and associated costs for employees engaged in research and development, costs associated with computer aided design software tools, depreciation, allocable facilities related expenses, metal spins and tape-out costs. Tape-out costs are expenses related to the manufacture of new ICs, including charges for mask sets, prototype wafers, mask set revisions and testing incurred before releasing new ICs into production. We anticipate these expenses will increase in future periods based on an increase in personnel to support our product development activities and the introduction of new products. We anticipate that our research and development expenses may fluctuate over the course of a year based on the timing of our product tape-outs.

Sales and Marketing Expenses. Sales and marketing expenses consist primarily of salaries, incentive compensation, share-based compensation and associated costs for employees engaged in sales, marketing and business development, commission payments to external, third party sales representatives, advertising, and charges for trade shows, promotions, travel and allocable facilities related expenses. We expect these expenses will increase in absolute dollars in future periods based on an increase in sales, marketing and business development personnel and increased marketing activities.

General and Administrative Expenses. General and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries, share-based compensation and associated costs for employees engaged in finance, legal, human resources and administrative activities, and other professional service expenses for accounting, corporate legal fees and allocable facilities related expenses. We expect these expenses will increase in absolute dollars in future periods based on an increase in personnel to support our business activities.

Amortization of Acquired Intangible Assets. Amortization of acquired intangible assets relates to acquired identified intangible assets resulting from our acquisition of Voltaire, which will be amortized over their estimated useful lives. Amortization of customer relationships is included in sales and marketing expenses. Amortization of all other intangible assets is included in cost of revenues.

Acquisition Related Charges. Acquisition-related charges include expenses incurred in connection with the Voltaire acquisition including severance costs related to employees terminated post acquisition, consulting and legal fees. Acquisition related charges were included in general and administrative expenses.

Taxes on Income. Our operations in Israel have been granted Approved Enterprise status by the Investment Center of the Israeli Ministry of Industry, Trade and Labor and the Israeli Income Tax Authority, which makes us eligible for tax benefits under the Israeli Law for Encouragement of Capital Investments, 1959. Under the terms of the Approved Enterprise program, the Company's income before tax is split into several categories: a) income that is attributable to manufacturing activities outside of Development Area A in Israel and taxable at regular corporate tax rate or reduced tax rate depending on the geographical location of the manufacturing; b) income that is attributable to our operations in Yokneam which will be exempt from income tax for a period of ten years commencing in fiscal year 2011; and c) income that is attributable to our operations in Tel Aviv which will be exempt from income tax until 2013 and subject to a reduced income tax rate (generally 10-25%, depending on the percentage of foreign investment in the Company) for the following five to eight years. The Yokneam tax holiday is expected to expire in 2020 and the Tel Aviv tax holiday is expected to expire between 2017 and 2020. In accordance with recent amendments to the Israeli tax laws, effective January 1, 2012, the corporate income tax rate was increased to 25%.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Our consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses and related disclosures. We evaluate our estimates and assumptions on an ongoing basis. Our estimates are based on historical experience and various other assumptions that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Our actual results could differ from these estimates.

Table of Contents

We believe that the assumptions and estimates associated with revenue recognition, allowance for doubtful accounts, fair value of financial instruments, short-term investments, inventory valuation, valuation and impairment of goodwill and acquired intangibles, warranty provision, share-based compensation and income taxes have the greatest potential impact on our consolidated financial statements. Therefore, we consider these to be our critical accounting policies and estimates. For further information on all of our significant accounting policies, please see Note 1 of the accompanying notes to our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements.

See our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, filed with the SEC on February 28, 2012, for a discussion of additional critical accounting policies and estimates. There have been no changes in our critical accounting policies as disclosed in the Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Revenues. Revenues were $133.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012 compared to $63.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of 110.7%. This year-over-year growth was primarily due to increased market demand for our higher bandwidth FDR InfiniBand products in the HPC and Web 2.0 markets. Our Ethernet revenues also grew year-over-year primarily due to increased adoption of our products within the Web 2.0 markets. Revenues in all of our product categories increased with the highest growth in switch systems and boards. Post the introduction of Romley and Sandy Bridge server and storage platforms by Intel Corporation in March 2012, end-users have begun to upgrade their systems, placing an increased emphasis on the interconnects and associated performance. During the second quarter of 2012, we released our next generation InfiniBand adapter Connect-IB into the marketplace. Revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2012 are not necessarily indicative of future results.

Gross Profit and Margin. Gross profit was $91.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012 compared to $41.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of approximately 123.3%. As a percentage of revenues, gross margin increased to 68.8% in the three months ended June 30, 2012 from 64.9% in the three months ended June 30, 2011. The gross margin percentage improvement was across all product categories and due primarily to increased shipments of our FDR Infiniband products, which typically yield higher gross margins compared to our lower data rate products. Gross margin for the three months ended June 30, 2012 is not necessarily indicative of future results.

Research and Development.

The following table presents details of our research and development expenses for the periods indicated:

	Three Months Ended June 30,
	% of		% of
	2012	Revenues	2011	Revenues

Other research and development costs	7,041	5.2%	4,485	7.1%
Total research and development	$ 37,658	28.2%	$ 23,689	37.4%

Research and development expenses were $37.7 million in the three months ended June 30, 2012 compared to $23.7 million in the three months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of 59.0%. The increase in salaries and benefits and share-based compensation was attributable to headcount additions, merit increases and higher accrued bonuses, including a discretionary bonus amount of $2.1 million related to the Company's second quarter performance which will be paid in 2013. Development and tape-out costs grew due primarily to increased tape-out mask costs and higher software costs. The increase in other research and development costs was primarily attributable to an increase in facilities, depreciation and human resources related expenses. We expect that research and development expenses will increase in absolute dollars in future periods as we continue to devote more resources to develop new products, meet the changing requirements of our customers, expand into new markets and technologies and hire additional personnel.

The increase in salaries and benefits and share-based compensation was attributable to headcount additions, merit increases and higher accrued bonuses, including a discretionary bonus amount of $0.5 million related to the Company's second quarter performance which will be paid in 2013. The increase in trade show and promotion costs was primarily due to higher expenses related to equipment for customer product evaluations and an increase in the volume of tradeshows and promotional activities. The increase in other sales and marketing costs was primarily attributable to higher human resources related costs.

For a further discussion of share-based compensation included in sales and marketing expense, see Share-based Compensation Expense below.

General and Administrative.

The following table presents details of our general and administrative expenses for the periods indicated:

General and administrative expenses were $6.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012 compared to $4.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of 36.0%. The increase in salaries and benefits was primarily due to higher salaries and benefits associated with headcount additions, merit increases and higher accrued bonuses, including a discretionary bonus amount of $0.5 million related to the Company's second quarter performance which will be paid in 2013. The decrease in professional services costs was primarily due to lower accounting and consulting fees. The increase in other general and administrative costs was due to higher facilities and travel related expenses.

Share-based compensation expenses were $8.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $5.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of 55.5%. The increase in share-based compensation was primarily due to new restricted stock units granted to existing employees in the first quarter of fiscal 2012.

Table of Contents

At June 30, 2012, there was $70.3 million of total unrecognized share-based compensation costs related to non-vested share-based compensation arrangements. The costs are expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of 3.36 years.

Other Income, Net. Other income, net consists of interest earned on cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments, and foreign currency exchange gains and losses. Other income, net was $221,000 for the three months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $88,000 for the three months ended June 30, 2011. The increase consisted of higher interest income, net of $247,000, partially offset by higher foreign currency exchange losses of $114,000.

Provision for Taxes on Income. Provision for taxes on income was $100,000 for the three months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $719,000 for the three months ended June 30, 2011. The effective tax rate was approximately 0.3% and 25.3% for the three months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The decrease in the effective tax rate is attributable to a higher portion of our consolidated income before tax being subject to the tax holiday in Israel. In addition, we have recorded deferred tax assets in the amount of $0.8 million associated with the benefits that relate to our taxable operations in Israel not fully covered by the existing tax holiday. The difference between our effective tax rates and the 34% federal statutory rate resulted primarily from profits earned in Israel which are subject to the tax holiday, partially offset by non-tax-deductible expenses such as share-based compensation expense and the accrual of unrecognized tax benefits, and interest and penalties associated with unrecognized tax positions Share-based compensation expenses were $15.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $9.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011, representing an increase of 61.6%. The increase in share-based compensation was primarily due to new restricted stock units granted to existing employees in the first quarter of fiscal 2012.

The increase consisted of higher interest income, net of $490,000, partially offset by higher foreign currency exchange losses of $221,000.

Provision for Taxes on Income. Provision for taxes on income was $1,068,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012, compared to $722,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The effective tax rate was approximately 2.3% and 58.9% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. The decrease in the effective tax rate is attributable to a higher portion of consolidated income before tax being subject to the tax holiday in Israel. The difference between our effective tax rates and the 34% federal statutory rate resulted primarily from profits earned in Israel and subject to the tax holiday, partially offset by non-tax-deductible expenses such as share-based compensation expense and the accrual of unrecognized tax benefits, and interest and penalties associated with unrecognized tax positions.

Table of ContentsLiquidity and Capital Resources

Since our inception, we have financed our operations through a combination of sales of equity securities and cash generated by operations. As of June 30, 2012, our principal source of liquidity consisted of cash and cash equivalents of $123.8 million and short-term investments of $196.4 million. We expect that our current cash and cash equivalents and short-term investments and our cash flows from operating activities will be sufficient to fund our operations over the next twelve months after taking into account expected increases in research and development expenses, including tape-out costs, higher sales and marketing and general and administrative expenses, and capital expenditures to support our infrastructure and growth.

Our cash position, short-term investments, restricted cash and working capital at June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 were as follows:

Our ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 4.7:1 at June 30, 2012, unchanged from 4.7:1 at December 31, 2011.

Operating activities

Net cash provided by our operating activities amounted to $82.7 million and $26.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively. Net cash provided by operating activities in the six months ended June 30, 2012 was primarily attributable to net income of $44.5 million, adjusted by net non-cash items of $22.5 million and changes in assets and liabilities of $15.7 million. Non-cash expenses consisted primarily of $13.9 million of share-based compensation, net of the excess tax benefits, and $10.9 million for depreciation and amortization, partially offset by deferred income taxes of $2.1 million. The $15.7 million cash inflow from changes in assets and liabilities resulted from an increase of $24.0 million in accrued liabilities primarily due to higher payroll obligations, and an increase in accounts payable of $4.4 million due to the timing of purchases during the quarter, partially offset by an increase in inventories of $6.9 million to support higher demand from our customers and an increase in accounts receivable of $6.4 million.

Net cash provided by our operating activities amounted to $26.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2011 and was primarily attributable to net income of $0.5 million adjusted by net non-cash items of $18.7 million and changes in assets and liabilities of $6.9 million. Non-cash expenses in the six months ended June 30, 2011 consisted primarily of $8.9 million for depreciation and amortization, $9.3 million of share-based compensation, net of the excess tax benefits and deferred income taxes of $0.6 million. The cash inflow from changes in assets and liabilities resulted from an increase in accrued liabilities and other payables of $10.5 million, an increase in accounts payable of $8.5 million due to the timing of purchases during the quarter, a decrease in inventory of $0.8 million and a decrease of $0.3 million in prepaid expenses and other assets, partially offset by an increase in accounts receivable of $13.2 million due to the timing of sales during the quarter.

Investing activities

Net cash used in investing activities was $156.1 million in the six months ended June 30, 2012. Cash used in investing activities was primarily attributable to net purchases of short-term investments of $144.0 million, purchases of property and equipment of $10.5 million and an equity investment of $1.4 million in a private company.

Net cash used in investing activities was $70.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2011 and was primarily attributable to the acquisition of Voltaire in the amount of $203.7 million, purchases of property and equipment of $4.5 million, an increase in restricted cash of $2.2 million and purchases of severance related insurance policies of $0.4 million, partially offset by net proceeds from sales and maturities of short-term investments of $135.5 million.

Table of ContentsFinancing activities

Our financing activities generated $15.9 million in the six months ended June 30, 2012. Cash provided by financing activities was primarily due to proceeds of $14.3 million from stock option exercises and purchases pursuant to our employee stock purchase plan and an excess tax benefit from share-based compensation of $1.8 million, partially offset by principal payments on capital lease obligations of $0.2 million.

Our financing activities generated $9.7 million in the six months ended June 30, 2011, primarily due to proceeds from stock option exercises and purchases pursuant to our employee stock purchase plan of $9.4 million, and excess tax benefit from share-based compensation of $0.4 million, partially offset by principal payments on capital lease obligations of $0.2 million.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

As of June 30, 2012, we did not have any off-balance sheet arrangements.

Contractual Obligations

The following table summarizes our contractual obligations at June 30, 2012, and the effect those obligations are expected to have on our liquidity and cash flows in future periods:

	Total	Payments Due by Period
		Less Than 1 Year	1-3 Years (In thousands)	3-5 Years	Beyond 5 Years
Commitments under capital lease	$ 428	$ 149	$ 279	$	$
Non-cancelable operating lease commitments	46,060	6,087	23,004	7,371	9,598
Service commitments	7,234	6,786	448
Purchase commitments	59,865	59,865
Total	$ 113,587	$ 72,887	$ 23,731	$ 7,371	$ 9,598

For purposes of this table, purchase obligations for the purchase of goods or services are defined as agreements that are enforceable and legally binding and that specify all significant terms including: fixed or minimum purchase quantities; fixed, minimum or variable price provisions; and the approximate timing of the transaction. Our purchase orders are based on our current manufacturing needs and are fulfilled by our vendors within short time horizons. We do not have significant agreements for the purchase of raw materials or other goods specifying minimum quantities or set prices that exceed our expected requirements.

Recent Accounting Standards

See Note 1, The Company and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies Recent accounting pronouncements of the Notes to the Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements, included in Part I, Item 1 of this report, for a full description of recent accounting standards, including the respective dates of adoption and effects on our condensed consolidated financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

ITEM 3 *QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Fluctuation Risk

We do not have any long-term borrowings. Our investments consist of cash and cash equivalents, short-term deposits, money market funds and interest bearing investments in U.S. government debt securities, commercial paper, corporate bonds and foreign government bonds with an average maturity of approximately one year. The primary objective of our investment activities is to preserve principal while maximizing income without significantly increasing risk. By policy, we limit the amount of our credit exposure through diversification and restricting our investments to highly rated securities. Individual securities are limited to comprising no more than 10% of the portfolio value at the time of purchase, except U.S. Treasury or Agency securities. Highly rated securities are defined as having a minimum Moody or Standard & Poor's rating of A2 or A, respectively. We have not experienced any material losses on cash equivalents or short-term investments. We do not enter into investments for trading or speculative purposes. Our investments are exposed to market risk due to a fluctuation in interest rates, which may affect our interest income and the fair market value of our investments. Due to the short-term nature of our investment portfolio, we do not believe an immediate 1% change in interest rates would have a material effect on the fair market value of our portfolio, and therefore we do not expect our operating results or cash flows to be materially affected by a sudden change in market interest rates.

Foreign Currency Exchange Risk

We derive all of our revenues in U.S. dollars. The U.S. dollar is our functional and reporting currency in all of our foreign locations. However, a significant portion of our headcount related expenses, consisting principally of salaries and related personnel expenses, and our Israeli facility expenses are denominated in new Israeli shekels, or NIS. This foreign currency exposure gives rise to market risk associated with exchange rate movements of the U.S. dollar against the NIS. Furthermore, we anticipate that a material portion of our expenses will continue to be denominated in NIS. To the extent the U.S. dollar weakens against the NIS, we will experience a negative impact on our profits.

To protect against reductions in the value and the volatility of future cash flows caused by changes in foreign currency exchange rates, we have established a balance sheet and anticipated transaction risk management program. Currency forward contracts and natural hedges are generally utilized in this hedging program. We do not enter into forward contracts for trading or speculative purposes. Our hedging program reduces, but does not eliminate, the impact of currency exchange rate movements (see Part II, Item 1A, Risk Factors ). If we were to experience a 10% change in currency exchange rates, the impact on assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar, after taking into account hedges and offsetting positions, would result in a loss before taxes of approximately $388,000 at June 30, 2012. There would also be an impact on future operating expenses denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar. At June 30, 2012, approximately $7.7 million of our monthly operating expenses were denominated in NIS. As of June 30, 2012, we had forward contracts in place that hedged future operating expenses of approximately 165.0 million NIS, or approximately $42.1 million based upon the exchange rate on June 30, 2012. The forward contracts cover a significant portion of future NIS denominated operating expenses expected to occur over the next twelve months. Our derivatives expose us to credit risk to the extent that the counterparties may be unable to meet the terms of the agreement. We seek to mitigate such risk by limiting our counterparties to major financial institutions and by spreading the risk across a number of major financial institutions. However, under current market conditions, failure of one or more of these financial institutions is possible and could result in incurred losses.

ITEM 4 CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in our Exchange Act reports is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, as appropriate, to allow for timely decisions regarding required disclosure. In designing and evaluating the disclosure controls and procedures, management recognizes that any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives, and management is required to apply its judgment in evaluating the cost-benefit relationship of possible controls and procedures.

As required by Rule 13a-15(b) under the Exchange Act, we carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. Based on the foregoing, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded, as of such date, that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective at the reasonable assurance level.

Changes in Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

There has been no change in our internal controls over financial reporting that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

We are not currently party to any material legal proceedings.

ITEM 1A RISK FACTORS

Investing in our ordinary shares involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the following risk factors, in addition to the risk factors previously disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, the other information set forth in this report and our other filings with the SEC, before purchasing our ordinary shares. Each of these risk factors could harm our business, financial condition or operating results, as well as decrease the value of an investment in our ordinary shares.

There have been no material changes from risk factors previously disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011, except for the following:

Risks Related to Our Business

We depend on a small number of customers for a significant portion of our sales, and the loss of any one of these customers will adversely affect our revenues.

A small number of customers account for a significant portion of our revenues. For the three months ended June 30, 2012, sales to Hewlett-Packard and IBM accounted for 30% and 19%, respectively, of our total revenues, while sales to our top ten customers accounted for 82% of our revenues. A large Web 2.0 customer contributed to the percentage of our current quarter revenues from Hewlett-Packard. For the three months ended June 30, 2011, sales to Hewlett-Packard, IBM and Bull SAS accounted for 15%, 13% and 11%, respectively, of our total revenues, while sales to our top ten customers accounted for 75% of our revenues. For the year ended December 31, 2011, sales to Hewlett-Packard and IBM accounted for 19% and 17%, respectively, of our total revenues, while sales to our top ten customers accounted for 70% of our revenues. Because the majority of servers, storage, communications infrastructure equipment and embedded systems are sold by a relatively small number of vendors, we expect that we will continue to depend on a small number of customers to account for a significant percentage of our revenues for the foreseeable future. Our customers, including our most significant customers, are not obligated by long-term contracts to purchase our products and may cancel orders with limited potential penalties. If any of our large customers reduces or cancels its purchases from us for any reason, it could have an adverse effect on our revenues and results of operations.

We face intense competition and may not be able to compete effectively, which could reduce our market share, net revenues and profit margin.

The markets in which we operate are extremely competitive and are characterized by rapid technological change, continuously evolving customer requirements and fluctuating average selling prices. We may not be able to compete successfully against current or potential competitors. With respect to InfiniBand products, we compete with Intel Corporation which acquired QLogic's InfiniBand business in the first quarter of 2012. In Enterprise Data Centers, products based on the InfiniBand standard primarily compete with two different industry-standard interconnect technologies, namely Ethernet and Fibre Channel. For Ethernet technology, the leading IC vendors include Emulex, Intel and Broadcom Corporation. The leading IC vendors that provide Ethernet and Fibre Channel products to the market include Marvell Technology Group, Emulex Corporation and QLogic Corporation. The leading Ethernet switch system vendors include Cisco and Arista. In HPC, products based on the InfiniBand standard compete primarily with the industry-standard Ethernet and Fibre Channel interconnect technologies. In embedded markets, we typically compete with interconnect technologies that are developed in-house by system OEM vendors and created for specific applications.

Some of our customers are also integrated circuit and switch suppliers and already have in-house expertise and internal development capabilities similar to ours. Licensing our technology and supporting such customers entails the transfer of intellectual property rights that may enable such customers to develop their own products and solutions to replace those we are currently providing to them. Consequently, these customers may become competitors to us. Further, each new design by a customer presents a competitive situation. In the past, we have lost design wins to divisions within our customers and this may occur again in the future. We cannot predict whether these customers will continue to compete with us, whether they will continue to be our customers or whether they will continue to buy products from us at the same volumes. Competition could increase pressure on us to lower our prices and could negatively affect our profit margins.

Many of our current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, significantly greater resources, greater economies of scale, stronger name recognition and larger customer bases than we have. This may allow them to respond more quickly than we are able to respond to new or emerging technologies or changes in customer requirements. In addition, these competitors may have greater credibility with our existing and potential customers. If we do not compete successfully, our market share, revenues and profit margin may decline, and, as a result, our business may be adversely affected.

Risks Related to Operations in Israel and Other Foreign Countries

We are susceptible to additional risks from our international operations.

We derived 55% and 49% of our revenues in the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, respectively, from sales outside of North America. As a result, we face additional risks from doing business internationally, including:

- reduced protection of intellectual property rights in some countries;
- difficulties in staffing and managing foreign operations;
- longer sales and payment cycles;
- greater difficulties in collecting accounts receivable;
- adverse economic conditions;
- seasonal reductions in business activity;
- potentially adverse tax consequences;
- laws and business practices favoring local competition;

Edgar Filing: Mellanox Technologies, Ltd. - Form 10-Q

- costs and difficulties of customizing products for foreign countries;
- compliance with a wide variety of complex foreign laws and treaties;
- compliance with the United States Foreign Corrupt Practices Act and similar anti-bribery laws in other jurisdictions;
- compliance with export control and regulations;
- licenses, tariffs, other trade barriers, transit restrictions and other regulatory or contractual limitations on our ability to sell or develop our products in certain foreign markets;
- foreign currency exchange risks;
- fluctuations in freight rates and transportation disruptions;
- political and economic instability;
- variance and unexpected changes in local laws and regulations;
- natural disasters and public health emergencies; and
- trade and travel restrictions.

Our principal research and development facilities are located in Israel, and our directors, executive officers and other key employees are located primarily in Israel and the United States. In addition, we engage sales representatives in various countries throughout the world to market and sell our products in those countries and surrounding regions. If we encounter any of the above risks in our international operations, we could experience slower than expected revenue growth and our business could be harmed.

Table of Contents

Exchange rate fluctuations between the U.S. dollar and the NIS may negatively affect our earnings.

Although all of our revenues and a majority of our expenses are denominated in U.S. dollars, a significant portion of our research and development expenses and our Israeli facility expenses are incurred in NIS. As a result, we are exposed to risk to the extent that the inflation rate in Israel exceeds the rate of devaluation of the NIS in relation to the U.S. dollar, or if the timing of these devaluations lags behind inflation in Israel. In that event, the U.S. dollar cost of our research and development operations in Israel will increase and our U.S. dollar-measured results of operations will be adversely affected. To the extent that the value of the NIS increases against the U.S. dollar, our expenses on a U.S. dollar cost basis increase. We cannot predict any future trends in the rate of inflation in Israel or the rate of appreciation of the NIS against the U.S. dollar. The Israeli rate of inflation amounted to 3.9%, 2.7% and 2.2% for the years ended December 31, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively, and to 2.2% and 1.0% for the six months ended June 30, 2011 and 2012, respectively. The increase in value of the NIS against the U.S. dollar amounted to 0.7%, 6.0% and 7.7% in the years ended December 31, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively. The decrease in value of the U.S. dollar against the NIS amounted to 3.8% in the six months ended June 30, 2011, and an increase in value of U.S. dollar against the NIS amounted to 2.7% in the six months ended June 30, 2012. If the U.S. dollar cost of our research and development operations and facility expenses in Israel increases, our dollar-measured results of operations will be adversely affected. Our operations also could be adversely affected if we are unable to guard against currency fluctuations in the future. Further, because all of our international revenues are denominated in U.S. dollars, a strengthening of the U.S. dollar versus other currencies could make our products less competitive in foreign markets and collection of receivables more difficult. To help manage this risk we have been engaged in foreign currency hedging activities. These measures, however, may not adequately protect us from material adverse effects due to the impact of inflation in Israel and changes in value of NIS against the U.S. dollar.

Risks Related to Our Ordinary Shares

The ownership of our ordinary shares will continue to be highly concentrated, and your interests may conflict with the interests of our existing shareholders.

As of June 30, 2012, based on information filed with the SEC or reported to us, Oracle Corporation and certain entities affiliated with Fidelity Management & Research Company, beneficially owned an aggregate of approximately 24% of our outstanding ordinary shares, and our executive officers and directors and their affiliates beneficially owned an aggregate of approximately 5% of our outstanding ordinary shares. Accordingly, these shareholders, should they act as a group, would have significant influence over the outcome of corporate actions requiring shareholder approval, including the election of directors, any merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of our assets or any other significant corporate transaction. These shareholders could delay or prevent a change of control of our company, even if such a change of control would benefit our other shareholders. The significant concentration of share ownership may adversely affect the trading price of our ordinary shares due to investors' perception that conflicts of interest may exist or arise.

The price of our ordinary shares may continue to be volatile, and the value of an investment in our ordinary shares may decline.

We sold ordinary shares in our initial public offering in February 2007 at a price of $17.00 per share, and our shares have subsequently traded as low as $6.02 per share. During the three months ended June 30 2012, our shares traded as low as $39.71 and as high as $74.27 per share. During the month of July 2012, our shares traded as high as $108.50 and experienced an intra-day increase of approximately 41%. Also, during the second quarter we experienced intra-day declines of more than 10%. Factors that could cause volatility in the market price of our ordinary shares include, but are not limited to:

- quarterly variations in our results of operations or those of our competitors;
- announcements by us, our customers or rumors from sources other than our company related to acquisitions, new products, significant contracts, commercial relationships or capital commitments;
- our ability to develop and market new and enhanced products on a timely basis;
- disruption to our operations;
- geopolitical instability;
- the emergence of new sales channels in which we are unable to compete effectively;
- any major change in our board of directors or management;

Table of Contents

- changes in financial estimates, including our ability to meet our future revenue and operating profit or loss projections;
- changes in governmental regulations or in the status of our regulatory approvals;
- general economic conditions and slow or negative growth of related markets;
- commencement of, or our involvement in, litigation;
- changes in earnings estimates or recommendations by securities analysts;
- continuing international conflicts and acts of terrorism; and
- changes in accounting rules.

In addition, the stock markets in general, and the markets for semiconductor stocks in particular, have experienced extreme volatility that often has been unrelated to the operating performance of the issuer. These broad market fluctuations may adversely affect the trading price or liquidity of our ordinary shares. In the past, when the market price of a stock has been volatile and declined, holders of that stock have sometimes instituted securities class action litigation against the issuer. If any of our shareholders were to bring such a lawsuit against us, we could incur substantial costs defending the lawsuit and the attention of our management would be diverted from the operation of our business.
