LOS ANGELES, May 13, 2003 Meridian Holdings, Inc. (OTC Bulletin Board: MRDH), a health care services and technology company today announced that it has retained the global consulting services of A. G. Spencer Corporation (AGS) of San Francisco/Los Angeles to craft and execute winning value growth agendas.

AGS will assist the Company's management in determining the best strategy to increase shareholder value. In addition, AGS will help Meridian work through proven processes of value-driven business design to help identify breakthrough growth opportunities and design the businesses to capture them.

"Business design lifecycles are growing shorter and shorter, " stated Anthony C. Dike, MD, Chairman of Meridian Holdings. "So anticipating, then moving to capture, tomorrow's opportunities before today's have run their course have become critical strategic imperatives. True business design innovation involves far more than getting the 'right' answer and drafting a detailed blueprint. It also requires realizing the full profit potential of new insights, by executing quickly and deftly on the front lines of the marketplace. With the assistance of AGS, we look forward to put forth a high-impact value growth agenda with a carefully prioritized list of actions created to maximize shareholder value. "

"AGS looks at strategy from the 'outside in' finding strategic insight through a robust understanding of current and future customer priorities," stated Danny Lee, President & Chief Consulting Strategist of A. G. Spencer Corporation. "We harness thought leadership in key areas of business design innovation and organizational transformation to deliver breakthrough recommendations to clients. Our ever-growing clientele in a multitude of industries enhances AGS's capabilities and intellectual capital.
