Total	4,866,950,000	100	7,741,700,000	100

Note: the percentage ratios shown in the above table have been rounded up to 2 decimal places.

2.5 INFORMATION ON THE PARTIES TO THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

CEA Holding is a state-owned enterprise established in the PRC. The principal activities of CEA Holding are investment holding.

CES Global is a company incorporated in Hong Kong, and an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of CEA Holding. Its principal activities are selling of air tickets and investment holding.

The Company is an international airline company incorporated in the PRC whose H Shares, A Shares and American depository shares are listed on the Stock Exchange, the Shanghai Stock Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., respectively.

2.6 REASONS FOR AND BENEFITS OF THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The US subprime mortgage crisis since 2008 has resulted in continuous fluctuations in global financial markets, which in turn affected the economy and prompted an immediate threat of a global recession. The domestic economy has experienced a slowdown due to the impact of global economic slowdown. The civil aviation industry is highly sensitive to the economic cycle. In 2008, the civil aviation industry is in a difficult operating condition as a result of the economic slowdown, snow storms, earthquake, fluctuations in oil prices and reduction in exchange gains due to the slowdown of RMB appreciation. As at the end of the third quarter of 2008, almost all airline in the domestic civil aviation industry in China suffered losses. It is estimated that the operating conditions will not turn around in the fourth quarter of 2008 which is traditionally a low season for the aviation industry. It is widely expected that the civil aviation industry in China will experience losses as a whole in 2008. As a result of the above, the Company's operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure. The continuous fluctuations in global financial markets make it extremely difficult for the Company to obtain financial support in the short run.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Further, the subscription price for A Share Subscription is determined pursuant to Administrative Measures (Administrative Measures in relation to the Acquisition of the Listing Companies) which requires that the subscription price for A Share Subscription shall not be less than 90% of the average trading price of A Shares during the Fixed Price Period. The subscription price for H Share Subscription is determined pursuant to PRC Company Law which requires that the subscription price of H Share cannot be below its par value. The net asset value per share of the Company as at 30 June 2008 (unaudited as shown in the interim report 2008 of the Company) is only RMB0.6842 and both the subscription prices for the Subscriptions represented a high premium of such value.

The Company believes the Subscriptions will improve the financial position of the Company, especially when the Company's operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure. In the long term, the Subscriptions will enhance the Company's competitiveness and help to improve its operational position.

The terms and conditions of the Subscriptions are agreed after arm's length negotiations between the parties. Considering all these factors, the Directors believe that the terms and conditions of the Subscriptions are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Group and the shareholders of the Company as a whole.

2.7 RECENT FUND RAISING ACTIVITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

The Company has not conducted any fund raising activities within the 12 months immediately prior to the Latest Practicable Date. The total proceeds of the Subscriptions will be approximately RMB7,000,016,250. After deduction of relevant expenses for the Subscriptions, the total proceeds are intended to be used as working capital of the Company.

2.8 FINANCIAL IMPACT OF THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The total proceeds of the Subscriptions will be RMB7,000,016,250 before deduction of expenses. The capital injection will significantly enhance the capital structure and financial position of the Company by improving its balance sheet and leverage ratios, and thus strengthen the core competitiveness and risk-resistance capability of the Company. According to the interim report of the Company for the six months ended 30 June 2008 (prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards), it is estimated that, upon completion of the Subscriptions, the net assets (being total assets minus total liabilities) of the Company would be increased by approximately 210%. The Company had unaudited net assets of approximately RMB3,330 million as of 30 June 2008. The current ratio (being the ratio of current assets over current liabilities) of the Company would be increased to approximately 0.45 from 0.29. The quick ratio (being the ratio of current assets excluding inventory over current liabilities) would be increased to approximately 0.42 from 0.26. The gearing ratio (being net debt over total equity) of the Company would be decreased to approximately 3.92 from 14.27. The ratio of total liabilities over total assets of the Company would be decreased to approximately 0.87 from 0.96.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The capital injection will reduce the financial costs of the Company. In order to maintain its daily operation, the Company requires a large amount of working capital to settle its operating expenses in cash. Such substantial expenses include aviation fuel costs, landing fees, airway fees and expenses on the purchase of aircraft spare parts and aircraft maintenance, etc. When the working capital is insufficient to settle the above-mentioned expenses, the Company usually settles the shortage by using short-term borrowings. After replenishment of working capital with the proceeds from the Subscriptions, the pressure on the working capital of the Company will be released. It is equivalent to reducing short-term debt financing in the same amount, and thus reduces the financial costs.

The capital injection will also improve the financing capability of the Company. Improvement in the Company's financial position to a certain extent and enhancement of the Company's profitability will strengthen the Company's fund raising capability with banks and other financial institutions, and as a result, the Company will have more opportunities in raising funds with lower financial costs.

2.9 RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

There are certain risks that are associated with the Subscriptions, including market risk, business and operation risk, financial risk, management risk, supervisory policy risk and other risks. Investors are advised to exercise caution when dealing in the shares of the Company.

2.10 IMPLICATIONS UNDER THE LISTING RULES

As of the Latest Practicable Date, CEA Holding holds 2,904,000,000 shares of A Shares in the Company, representing 59.67% of the existing issued share capital of the Company. CEA Holding controls the voting right in respect of such shares. As of the Latest Practicable Date, CES Global does not hold any shares in the Company.

Since CEA Holding is the controlling shareholder of the Company, and hence a connected person of the Company, the issue of new A Shares to CEA Holding pursuant to the Revised A Share Subscription Agreement constitutes a connected transaction of the Company under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules and is subject to reporting, announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements under that Chapter. Further, since CES Global is an indirectly wholly owned subsidiary of CEA Holding, and hence a connected person of the Company, the issue of new H Shares to CES Global pursuant to the Revised H Share Subscription Agreement constitutes a connected transaction of the Company under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules and is subject to reporting, announcement and independent shareholders' approval requirements under that chapter. PRINCIPAL FACTORS AND REASONS CONSIDERED

1. Background

The Company is an international airline company incorporated in the PRC whose H Shares, A Shares and American depository shares are listed on the Stock Exchange, the Shanghai Stock Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange, Inc., respectively.

As stated in the “Letter From the Board” and the annual report for the years ended 31 December 2007 of the Company, the Company encountered substantial difficulties from a financial perspective during recent years, with much higher operating costs due to the rapid growth of the prices of international crude oil and aviation fuel to a historical peak level over the past few years.

On the other hand, despite of the steady positive growth in the economy in 2005, 2006 and 2007 and thus the air transportation market in the PRC, the transport capacity within the whole industry has increased rapidly, resulting in a significant increase in the competition within the air transportation market in the PRC.

The US subprime mortgage crisis since late 2007 has resulted in continuous fluctuation in global economy and prompted an immediate threat of a global recession. The civil aviation industry, which is highly sensitive to the economic cycle, has also been impacted and entered into a very difficult operating condition recently.

LETTER FROM ING

As shown above, the Company's operating expenses increased rapidly during the last three years, primarily due to higher aircraft fuel costs affected by increasing international crude oil prices. The Company also had significant financial costs. The Company thus suffered substantial operating and net losses for the year ended 31 December 2006, which also had negative impacts on the net assets value of the Company.

For the year ended 31 December 2007, the Company's revenue grew by 13%, resulting from the capacity increase from the acquisition of aircrafts and an increase in the average daily aircraft utilisation rate. The Company also benefited from the RMB currency appreciation against United States dollar ("USD" or "US dollar") from its USD- dominated liabilities. As a result, the Company successfully turned loss into profit in the year.

For the six months ended 30 June 2008, the Company suffered from slower growth of domestic air transportation demand and high aircraft fuel costs, resulting in much higher operating loss as compared to the first half of 2007. Despite the fact that the USD-dominated liabilities of the Company gained a much higher exchange gain due to continuous appreciation of RMB again US dollar, the Company made an overall net loss during the period.

According to the third quarter financial statements that the Company disclosed under the PRC Accounting Regulations, the financial performance during the third quarter of 2008 worsened as compared to the first two quarters of 2008. The third quarter alone made a net loss attributable to equity holders of the Company of approximately RMB2,334 million, as compared to net profit attributable to equity holders of the Company of approximately RMB42 million for the six months ended 30 June 2008 (prepared in accordance with the PRC Accounting Regulations. The Company has not published results for the third quarter of 2008 prepared in accordance with IFRS). The substantial loss in the third quarter is the result of the continuously worsen global and domestic economy and market conditions, as well as the impact of impairment of the fair value of option contracts for aircraft fuel.

5. The financial figures set out above may have slight differences when adding up due to rounding.

As shown above, the Company was under liquidity pressure for the years ended 31 December 2005, 2006 and 2007, and the six months ended 30 June 2008. The current ratios and quick ratios of the Company were only approximately 0.27 and 0.24 as at 31 December 2007, respectively, and approximately 0.29 and 0.26 as at 30 June 2008, respectively, implying potential liquidity risks of the Company.

The Company is also burdened by high gearing. As at 30 June 2008, the Company had a gearing ratio of approximately 14.27, and a total liabilities/total assets ratio of 0.96. This, combined with low current ratio and quick ratio, reflected the heavy financial burden, weak liquidity and vulnerable operating risks of the Company.

LETTER FROM ING

As mentioned above, the Company incurred substantial loss for the three months ended 30 September 2008. As a result, based on the PRC Accounting Regulations, the equity attributable to the shareholders of the Company decreased 81.5% from RMB2,862 million as at 30 June 2008 to RMB528 million as at 30 September 2008 and its total liabilities to total assets ratio was 98.5% as at 30 September 2008.

Therefore, under current economic and market conditions, the Company's operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure. a premium of approximately 578.9% as compared to the net asset value per share attributable to the equity
(7) holders of the Company of RMB0.57 as at 30 June 2008 (unaudited).

In assessing the subscription price for the A Share Subscription, we have noticed that the trading price of the A Shares has had unusual fluctuations during the period after 17 November 2008 (the “Unusual A Share Price Fluctuation”), which is the date that the Company first disclosed that CEA Holding has applied for State-owned capital operation budget with the relevant department of the State Council of the PRC. The market has reacted to the announcement positively, reflected by the unusual rise of the A Share price of the Company.

Due to the above mentioned reason, we have also assessed the subscription price of the Revised A Share Subscription as compared to the trading prices of A Shares prior to the Unusual A Share Price Fluctuation:

(1) a premium of approximately 10.6% as compared to the closing price of RMB3.50 per A Share on 14 November 2008, the last trading day prior to 17 November 2008;

(2) a premium of approximately 20.9% as compared to the average closing price of RMB3.20 per A Share for the last 5 consecutive trading days immediately prior to 17 November 2008;

(3) a premium of approximately 29.0% as compared to the average closing price of RMB3.00 per A Share for the last 10 consecutive trading days immediately prior to 17 November 2008;

(4) a premium of approximately 19.1% as compared to the average closing price of RMB3.25 per A Share for the last 20 consecutive trading days immediately prior to 17 November 2008; and

(5) a premium of approximately 9.0% as compared to the average closing price of RMB3.55 per A Share for the last 30 consecutive trading days immediately prior to 17 November 2008.

After the announcement of the Original Subscriptions on 10 December 2008, the average trading price of the A Shares for the period from 11 December 2008 to 24 December 2008 (being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements) was RMB4.40. After the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements on 29 December 2008, the average trading price of the A Shares for the period from 30 December 2008 to the Latest Practicable Date was RMB4.26.

Subscription Price for the new H Shares

The subscription price for the H Share Subscription is RMB1.00 per share (equivalent to HK$1.1338 based on the exchange rate of RMB1=HK$1.1338), which is determined by reference to the par value of the H Shares. Pursuant to PRC Company Law, it requires that the subscription price for H Share Subscription cannot be below its par value. Such subscription price represents:

(1) a discount of approximately 8.6% as compared to the closing price of HK$1.24 of H Shares on the Latest Practicable Date;

a discount of approximately 12.1% as compared to the closing price of HK$1.29 per H Share on 24 December 2008, the last trading day immediately prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements;

(2) a discount of approximately 6.3% as compared to the average closing price of HK$1.21 per H Share for the last 5 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements;

(3) a premium of approximately 1.2% as compared to the average closing price of HK$1.12 per H Share for the last 10 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements;

(4) a premium of approximately 14.5% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.99 per H Share for the last 20 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements;

(5) a premium of approximately 15.7% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.98 per H Share for the last 30 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements; and

(7) a premium of approximately 75.4% as compared to the net asset value per share attributable to the equity holders of the Company of RMB0.57 as at 30 June 2008 (unaudited).

In assessing the subscription price for the H Share Subscription, we have noticed that the trading price of the H Shares has significantly increased after the Company announced the Original Subscriptions on 10 December 2008, implying the effect of the announcement of the Subscriptions has been partly reflected in the trading prices for the period from 10 December 2008 to 24 December 2008.

Due to the above mentioned reason, we have also assessed the subscription price of the Revised H Share Subscription as compared to the trading prices of H Shares prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions on 10 December 2008:

- (1) a premium of approximately 51.2% as compared to the closing price of HK$0.75 per H Share on 26 November 2008, the last trading day immediately prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions;
- (2) a premium of approximately 45.4% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.78 per H Share for the last 5 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions;
- (3) a premium of approximately 31.8% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.86 per H Share for the last 10 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions;
- (4) a premium of approximately 24.6% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.91 per H Share for the last 20 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions; and
- (5) a premium of approximately 21.9% as compared to the average closing price of HK$0.93 per H Share for the last 30 consecutive trading days immediately prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions.

Chart (b): Price Performance of H Shares from 27 May 2008 (being the date falling on six months prior to 26 November 2008, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions) to the Latest Practicable Date

After the announcement of the Original Subscriptions on 10 December 2008, the average trading price of the H Shares for the period from 11 December 2008 to 24 December 2008 (being the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements) was HK$1.12. After the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements on 29 December 2008, the average trading price of the H Shares for the period from 30 December 2008 to the Latest Practicable Date was HK$1.19.

2.3 Lock-up Arrangement

Pursuant to the relevant rules of CSRC, CEA Holding has undertaken to the Company that it shall not dispose any of the new A Shares it has subscribed for pursuant to the A Share Subscription Agreement within 36 months from the date of the completion of the A Share Subscription (the “Lock-up Arrangement”).

Pursuant to H Share Subscription Agreement, CES Global has also undertaken to the Company that it shall not dispose any of the new H Shares it has subscribed for pursuant to the H Share Subscription Agreement within 12 months from the date of the completion of the H Share Subscription (the “Lock-up Arrangement”).

LETTER FROM ING

The Lock-up Arrangements in the A Share Subscription Agreement and the H Share Subscription Agreement therefore restrict CEA Holding and CES Global from selling their newly subscribed A Shares and H Shares into the stock market within 36 and 12 months, respectively.

2.4 Ranking of New A Shares and New H Shares to be Issued

The new A Shares to be issued pursuant to the A Share Subscription Agreement and the new H Shares to be issued pursuant to the H Share Subscription Agreement will rank, upon issue, pari passu in all respects with the A Shares and H Shares in issue at the time of issue and allotment of such new A Shares and new H Shares.

2.5 Reasons for the Subscriptions

As stated in the “Letter from the Board”, the terms and conditions of the Subscriptions are agreed after arm’s length negotiations between the parties. The Company confirms that it is the investment decisions of CEA Holding, taking into consideration interests of all stakeholders, to propose to acquire further A Shares and through its indirectly wholly-owned subsidiary CES Global to acquire H Shares to provide funding to the Company. CEA Holding is a PRC State-owned company controlled by State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission of the State Council of the PRC. In considering this investment proposal, the Company has considered that the Company’s operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure under the immediate threat of a global recession and slowdown in the domestic economy, and that the continuous fluctuations in global financial market make it extremely difficult for the Company to obtain financial support in the short term. The issue of the H Shares will also give the Company more balanced foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities.

The Original Subscriptions were intended to raise additional equity of approximately RMB3 billion. Under the Revised Share Subscription Agreements, the size of the Subscriptions has increased to approximately RMB7 billion. The Company believes the increased subscription size of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements will provide additional funds and further improve the financial position of the Company, especially when the Company’s operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure.

We concur with the Company’s view that the Company’s operating and financial condition is under enormous pressure. As mentioned in the paragraph headed “Background” in this letter, the Company has low liquidity, high gearing and low equity base. We are of the view that the Company is in urgent need to recapitalize its equity and the Subscriptions provide the Company the quickest measure to improve its financial position.

LETTER FROM ING

Independent Shareholders should note that the A Share Subscription Agreement and the H Share Subscription Agreement will take effect upon, inter alia, obtaining the approvals by the shareholders of the Company by way of special resolutions at a general meeting and class meetings for the issue of new A Shares and new H Shares pursuant to the Revised A Share Subscription Agreement and the Revised H Share Subscription Agreement respectively. If any of the Subscriptions is not approved (including but not limited to the approvals from the shareholders, the A Shareholders Class Meeting, the H Shareholders Class Meeting, or CSRC), the other subscription will automatically be terminated. The A Share Subscription and the H Share Subscription could therefore be analysed as if they were one transaction. On that basis, the average subscription price for the Subscriptions is RMB2.44 per share (equivalent to approximately HK$2.77 per share, based on the exchange rate of RMB1=HK$1.1338), representing:

- (1) a premium of approximately 328.1% as compared to the net assets value attributable to the equity holders of the Company of RMB0.57 on a per share basis;
- (2) a premium of approximately 114.7% as compared to the closing price of HK$1.29 per H Share on 24 December 2008, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements; and
- (3) a discount of approximately 47.6% as compared to the closing price of RMB4.66 per A Share on 24 December 2008, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the Revised Share Subscription Agreements.

SHAREHOLDING STRUCTURE

The shareholding structures of the Company immediately prior to, and immediately after, the completion of the Subscriptions are as follows:

Shareholders	Prior to the Subscriptions		Immediately after the Subscriptions
	Number of shares	%	Number of shares	%
CEA Holding	2,904,000,000	59.67	4,341,375,000	56.08
CES Global	–	–	1,437,375,000	18.57
Public	1,962,950,000	40.33	1,962,950,000	25.36
– A Shares	396,000,000	8.14	396,000,000	5.12
– H Shares	1,566,950,000	32.19	1,566,950,000	20.24
Total	4,866,950,000	100	7,741,700,000	100

Note: The percentage ratios shown in the above table have been rounded up to two decimal places.

LETTER FROM ING

As all the new A Shares and H Shares are to be issued to CEA Holding and CES Global, which are both considered as connected persons under the Listing Rules, immediately after the completion of the Subscriptions, the total public float (A Shares and H Shares held by Independent Shareholders) of the Company will decrease from 40.33% to 25.36%, which is still above the minimum requirement of 25% public float as required by the Listing Rules.

Immediately after the completion of the Subscriptions, the percentage of H Shares to total issued shares of the Company will increase from 32.19% to 38.81%, due to the subscription of new H Shares by CES Global under the H Share Subscription Agreement. However, as CES Global will be considered as a connected person and thus its shareholding will not be considered as public float, the public float of H Shares as to the total issued shares of the Company immediately after the Subscription will decrease from 32.19% to 20.24%, which is still above the minimum requirement of 15% of the Company's total issued share capital as required by the Listing Rules.

Having taking into account that:

- (1) the capital injection through the Subscriptions will help improve the financial position of the Company as set out in the paragraph headed "Financial Effects of the New A Shares and New H Share Subscriptions" below; and
- (2) there is still sufficient public float of the Company after the Subscriptions, we consider that the dilution on the shareholding interest of the existing independent A and H shareholders of the Company as mentioned above is acceptable.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The total proceeds that the Company will receive upon the completion of the Subscriptions of the new A Shares and the new H Shares will be approximately RMB7,000,016,250 before deduction of any expenses. After deduction of relevant expenses for the Subscriptions, the total proceeds are intended to be used as working capital of the Company.

FINANCIAL EFFECT OF THE SUBSCRIPTIONS

The proceeds that the Company will receive upon the completion of the Subscriptions will have the following financial effects to the Company's current financial position:

- (1) Net Assets Value Attributable to the Equity Holders of the Company

According to the interim report of the Company for the six months ended 30 June 2008 (prepared in accordance with IFRS), the Company had unaudited net assets attributable to the equity holders (being total assets minus total liabilities and minority interests) of approximately RMB2,773,170,000. With the receipt of the gross proceeds from the Subscriptions of approximately RMB7,000,016,250, the net assets attributable to the equity holders of the Company would be increased by approximately 252.4%.

LETTER FROM ING

(2) Gearing Ratio

According to the interim report of the Company for the six months ended 30 June 2008 (prepared in accordance with IFRS), the Company had unaudited net debt (being total debt minus cash and cash equivalent) and total equity of approximately RMB47,533,098,000 and RMB3,330,050,000, respectively. The gearing ratio (being net debt over total equity) of the Company was approximately 14.27 as at 30 June 2008. With the receipt of the gross proceeds from the Subscriptions of approximately RMB7,000,016,250, the net debt of the Company would be decreased and hence the gearing ratio of the Company would decrease to approximately 3.92.

Also, according to the interim report of the Company for the six months ended 30 June 2008 (prepared in accordance with IFRS), the Company had unaudited total liabilities and total assets of approximately RMB70,964,251,000 and RMB74,294,301,000, respectively (prepared in accordance with IFRS). The ratio of total liabilities over total assets of the Company was approximately 0.96 as at 30 June 2008. With the receipt of the gross proceeds from the Subscriptions of approximately RMB7,000,016,250, the total assets of the Company would be increased and hence the ratio of total liabilities over total assets of the Company would decrease to approximately 0.87.

(3) Current Ratio and Quick Ratio

According to the interim report of the Company for the six months ended 30 June 2008, the Company had current assets of approximately RMB12,278,070,000, and current liabilities of approximately RMB42,879,554,000. The current ratio (being the ratio of current assets over current liabilities) of the Company was approximately 0.29, and the quick ratio (being the ratio of current assets excluding inventory over current liabilities) was approximately 0.26. With the receipt of the gross proceeds from the Subscriptions of approximately RMB7,000,016,250, the current assets of the Company would be increased and hence the current ratio of the Company would be increased to approximately 0.45, and the quick ratio would be increased to approximately 0.42.

In view of the above, we consider that the completion of the Subscriptions will strengthen the financial position of the Company.

LETTER FROM ING

CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION

Having analyzed and considered the principal factors as set out in this letter above, we would draw your attention to the following key factors, which should be read in conjunction with, and interpreted in, the full context of the Circular, in arriving at our conclusion:

- (1) the Subscriptions will provide additional funds and improve the financial position of the Company under deteriorating economic and market conditions by (i) increasing the equity; (ii) lowering the gearing ratio; and (iii) improving the current ratio and quick ratio;
- (2) the subscription price for the new A Shares and the new H Shares both represent premiums to the most recent market trading prices of A Shares (prior to the announcement of Unusual A Share Price Fluctuation) and H Shares of the Company (prior to the announcement of the Original Subscriptions), as well as premiums to the net assets value attributable to the equity holders of the Company as at 30 June 2008;
- (3) the Subscriptions will dilute the shareholding of independent A and H shareholders from 40.33% to 25.36%. However, considering the Subscriptions will improve the financial position of the Company, and there is still sufficient public float after the Subscriptions, the dilution on the shareholding interest of the existing independent public shareholders of the Company as mentioned above is acceptable;
- (4) the net proceeds of the Subscriptions are intended to be used as working capital of the Company; and
- (5) the Directors confirm that the terms and conditions of Subscriptions, including the subscription prices for the Subscriptions, are agreed after arm's length negotiations between the parties.

Based on the above, we are of the opinion that the terms of the Revised A Share Subscription Agreement and the Revised H Share Subscription Agreement are fair and reasonable, on normal commercial terms, and in the interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole so far as the Company and the Independent Shareholders are concerned. Therefore, we advise the Independent Shareholders and the Independent Board Committee to recommend the Independent Shareholders, to vote in favour of the resolutions to be proposed at the EGM in relation to the Subscriptions.

Yours faithfully,
For and on behalf of
ING BANK N.V.
