Form 424B3
April 17, 2015

Filed pursuant to Rule 424(b)(3)
Registration No. 333-202162

PROPOSED CONVERSION YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

To the Shareholders of Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC:

The board of directors of Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC (MIC LLC) has approved (i) a plan of conversion, including the conversion, certificate of incorporation and bylaws contemplated thereby (collectively, the plan of conversion), dated as of April 10, 2015, providing for the conversion of MIC LLC from a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware to Macquarie Infrastructure Corporation, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware (MIC Corp.), subject to the satisfaction of certain closing conditions (including the approval of MIC LLC s shareholders), and (ii) the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share (preferred stock), that may be issued from time to time, conditioned on the approval of MIC LLC s shareholders of such authorization and the consummation of the conversion.

The transactions contemplated by the plan of conversion, including the conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation, and adoption of the certificate of incorporation and bylaws contemplated thereby, are referred to herein collectively as the conversion. At the effective time of the conversion, each outstanding limited liability company interest of MIC LLC (LLC interest) will be converted into one share of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, of MIC Corp. (common stock). Concurrently with the conversion, Macquarie Infrastructure Management (USA) Inc., the manager of MIC LLC (the manager), will be issued 100 shares of special stock, par value $0.001 per share, of MIC Corp. (special stock). The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager s existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the terms of MIC LLC s current operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager s right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. We are not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance.

The board of directors of MIC LLC (1) has determined that the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock are advisable and in the best interests of MIC LLC and its shareholders, (2) has unanimously approved the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock and (3) recommends that the shareholders of MIC LLC approve (A) the plan of conversion (the conversion proposal) and (B) the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time (the preferred stock proposal). Consummation of the preferred stock proposal is conditioned on MIC LLC s shareholders approving the preferred stock proposal and consummation of the conversion, but consummation of the conversion is not conditioned on MIC LLC s shareholders approving the preferred stock proposal. The board of directors of MIC LLC recommends that you vote FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals (the adjournment proposal).

Your vote is very important. MIC LLC cannot consummate the conversion unless, among other things, the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon vote to approve the conversion proposal. MIC LLC cannot authorize preferred stock unless the conversion is consummated and the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon vote to approve the preferred stock proposal. MIC LLC will hold a special meeting of shareholders (the special meeting) to vote on approval of the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal. The special meeting will be held at the date, time and location set forth below unless adjourned or postponed. Regardless of whether you plan to attend the special meeting, please take the time to submit your proxy by completing and mailing the enclosed proxy card. If you hold your LLC interests through an account with a broker, bank or other financial institution, please follow the instructions you receive from them to vote your LLC interests.

Special Meeting:

Friday, May 15, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. (Eastern Time), at 125 West 55th Street, 22nd Floor, New York, NY 10019.

The board of directors of MIC LLC recommends that you vote FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal.

Before casting your vote, please take the time to review carefully this proxy statement/prospectus, including the section entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 21 of the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus for a discussion of the risks relating to the conversion.

On behalf of the board of directors and management of MIC LLC, I extend our appreciation for your participation and interest in MIC LLC.

Sincerely,

Martin Stanley
Chairman of the Board of Directors

The following are some questions that you, as a shareholder of Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC, which is referred to as MIC LLC in this proxy statement/prospectus, may have regarding the conversion (as defined below) and the authorization of preferred stock (as defined below), and brief answers to those questions. MIC LLC urges you to carefully read the remainder of this proxy statement/prospectus because the information in this section may not provide all the information that might be important to you with respect to the conversion and the authorization of preferred stock. Additional important information is also contained in the annexes to, and the documents incorporated by reference into, this proxy statement/prospectus. All references in this proxy statement/prospectus to MIC Corp. refer to Macquarie Infrastructure Corporation, a Delaware corporation. The limited liability company interests of MIC LLC are referred to as LLC interests in this proxy statement/prospectus. The common stock of MIC Corp., par value $0.001 per share, is referred to as common stock in this proxy statement/prospectus. The special stock of MIC Corp., par value $0.001 per share, is referred to as special stock in this proxy statement/prospectus. Holders of LLC interests are sometimes referred to in this proxy statement/prospectus as you. Holders of LLC interests and holders of common stock are sometimes referred to as shareholders in this proxy statement/prospectus. Unless otherwise stated or the context otherwise implies, references in this proxy statement/prospectus to the board of directors refer to the board of directors of MIC LLC. The special meeting of shareholders of MIC LLC is referred to as the special meeting in this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What is the purpose of the special meeting?

The shareholders are being asked to consider and vote on proposals to approve (i) a plan of conversion, including the conversion, certificate of incorporation and bylaws contemplated thereby, which is referred to, collectively, as the plan of conversion in this proxy statement/prospectus and the form of which is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus, and the transactions contemplated thereby, which is referred to, collectively, as the conversion in this proxy statement/prospectus, dated as of April 10, 2015, providing for the conversion of MIC LLC from a limited liability company organized under the laws of the State of Delaware to MIC Corp., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, which is referred to as the conversion proposal in this proxy statement/prospectus, (ii) the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time, which is referred to as preferred stock in this proxy statement/prospectus, and the bracketed provisions in the proposed certificate of incorporation, conditioned on consummation of the conversion, which is referred to as the preferred stock proposal in this proxy statement/prospectus, and (iii) adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals, which is referred to as the adjournment proposal in this proxy statement/prospectus. The conversion proposal includes adoption of the form of certificate of conversion, certificate of incorporation and bylaws of MIC Corp. under the laws of the State of Delaware, which are attached as Annex A-1, Annex A-2 and Annex A-3, respectively, to this proxy statement/prospectus, and referred to as the certificate of conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, respectively, in this proxy statement/prospectus, each to become effective concurrently with the effectiveness of the conversion. The holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon must approve the conversion proposal before the conversion can occur. The holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon must approve the preferred stock proposal before MIC Corp. can authorize preferred stock. The holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote on the matter is required to approve the adjournment proposal.

Q: Why am I receiving this proxy statement/prospectus?

A: You are receiving this proxy statement/prospectus and enclosed proxy card for the approval of the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal because, as of March 25, 2015, which is referred to as the record date in this proxy statement/prospectus, you owned LLC interests of MIC LLC. Only shareholders of record as of the close of business on the record date will be entitled to receive notice of and vote at the special meeting. This proxy statement/prospectus describes in detail the issues on which MIC LLC would like you, as a shareholder, to vote. It also provides you with important information about this issue to enable you to make an informed decision as to whether to vote your LLC interests for the matters described herein.

Q: What proposals are to be considered and voted upon at the special meeting?

A: The shareholders are being asked to consider and vote upon:

1. a proposal to approve the plan of conversion, including the conversion, certificate of incorporation and bylaws contemplated thereby;
2. a proposal to approve the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation; and
3. a proposal to approve the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals.

Consummation of the preferred stock proposal is conditioned on shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal and consummation of the conversion, but consummation of the conversion is not conditioned on shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal. These proposals are more fully described in the sections entitled The Conversion Proposal, The Preferred Stock Proposal, and Adjournment of the Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies beginning on pages 30, 35 and 37, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Why am I being asked to approve the conversion proposal?

A: You are being asked to vote upon the conversion proposal in connection with the conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation. Pursuant to the Delaware Limited Liability Company Act, which is referred to as the DLLCA in this proxy statement/prospectus, and the third amended and restated operating agreement of MIC LLC, which is referred to as the operating agreement in this proxy statement/prospectus, the conversion proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. In determining that the conversion is in the best interests of the shareholders, the board of directors considered a number of potential benefits to the shareholders, including, but not limited to, the following:

as a corporation, MIC Corp. would be eligible for inclusion in certain stock indices, which could increase demand for MIC Corp. s securities. In addition, institutional and other investors might find it easier to invest in a corporation than a limited liability company, which is referred to as an LLC in this proxy statement/prospectus, due to restrictions on the ability of certain investors to invest in LLCs, as well as the perceived ease of understanding by investors generally of the Delaware corporate form;

the Delaware General Corporation Law, which is referred to as the DGCL in this proxy statement/prospectus, is generally acknowledged to be the most advanced corporate law in the United States, is responsive to the changing needs of businesses, and has a well-established body of corporate case law; and incorporation may enhance MIC Corp. s ability to attract and retain directors because many qualified candidates are already familiar and comfortable with the DGCL.

Q: Why am I being asked to approve the preferred stock proposal?

A: You are being asked to vote upon the preferred stock proposal in connection with the conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation and in the event that the conversion is consummated. In determining that the authorization of preferred stock is in the best interests of the shareholders, the board of directors considered a number of potential benefits to the shareholders, including, but not limited to, the following:

provide MIC Corp. with increased flexibility to meet future capital requirements through equity financings without the delay and expense ordinarily attendant to obtaining further shareholder approvals; and improve MIC Corp.'s ability to attract needed investment capital, as various series of the preferred stock may be customized to meet the needs of any particular transaction or market conditions.

Q: What will shareholders receive as a result of the conversion?

A: At the effective time of the conversion, each outstanding LLC interest will be converted into one share of common stock. Concurrently with the conversion, Macquarie Infrastructure Management (USA) Inc., the manager of MIC LLC, which is referred to as the manager in this proxy statement/prospectus, will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the Third Amended and Restated Management Services Agreement, to be entered into on or about the effective date of the conversion, among MIC Corp., Macquarie Infrastructure Holdings Inc., certain wholly-owned subsidiaries of MIC Corp. and the manager, which is referred to as the amended management services agreement in this proxy statement/prospectus. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager's existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the operating agreement. This right of the manager would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager's right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock. For a more complete description of the manager and its interests in connection with the conversion, see the section entitled "Interests of Directors and Officers in the Conversion" beginning on page 33 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: How will the business and control of MIC LLC change as a result of the conversion?

A: The business of MIC Corp. will be the same as the business of MIC LLC and is not expected to result in any change in headquarters, business, jobs, management, location of any of the offices, number of employees, assets, liabilities or net worth (other than as a result of the costs incident to the conversion). The conversion is not expected to result in a change in MIC LLC's current trading status on the New York Stock Exchange, which is referred to as the NYSE in this proxy statement/prospectus, and MIC Corp.'s common stock will continue to trade on the NYSE under the ticker symbol "MIC" upon the effective time of the conversion. MIC LLC's management, including all directors and officers, will remain the same in connection with the conversion and will assume identical positions with MIC Corp., except that the positions of alternate chairman and alternate committee chairmen provided for under the operating agreement will no longer exist at MIC Corp. The conversion will effect certain changes of a legal nature, the most significant of which are described in the section entitled "Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion" beginning on page 44 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What vote is required to approve the conversion proposal?

A: Approval of the conversion proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. You may vote FOR or AGAINST or you may ABSTAIN from voting on the conversion proposal. An abstention, a failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or a broker non-vote will have the effect of a vote against the conversion proposal.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Q: What vote is required to approve the preferred stock proposal?

Approval of the preferred stock proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. You may vote FOR or AGAINST or A: you may ABSTAIN from voting on the preferred stock proposal. An abstention, a failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or a broker non-vote will have the effect of a vote against the preferred stock proposal.

Q: What vote is required to approve the adjournment proposal?

Approval of the adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon. You may vote FOR or AGAINST or you may ABSTAIN from voting on the adjournment proposal. An A: abstention will have the effect of a vote against the adjournment proposal. A failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or a broker non-vote will not have an effect on a vote to approve the adjournment proposal.

Q: What is the quorum required to vote on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal?

Under the operating agreement, the shareholders participating in person or by proxy holding a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of shareholders of MIC LLC. Holders of record of LLC interests as of the record date are the only shareholders entitled to vote at the special meeting. LLC interests represented by proxies that are marked abstain will be counted as present for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. A failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or a broker non-vote will not be counted as present for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. A: broker non-vote occurs when the broker holding LLC interests for a beneficial owner does not vote on a particular proposal because the broker does not have discretionary voting power to vote on that proposal without specific voting instructions from the beneficial owner. The conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal described in this proxy statement/prospectus are non-discretionary items, which means that your LLC interests may not be voted on by brokers, banks, or other shareholders of record unless they receive specific instructions from you. If you do not provide specific voting instructions, your LLC interests will be recorded as a broker non-vote and will not be counted as a vote cast for purposes of calculating voting results. If the persons participating or represented by proxies at the special meeting do not constitute a majority of the holders of outstanding LLC interests entitled to vote as of the record date, the board of directors will adjourn or postpone the special meeting to a later date. Other than an announcement to be made at the special meeting of the time, date and place of an adjourned meeting, an adjournment generally may be made without notice.

Q: Who is entitled to vote on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal?

A: All shareholders of record who owned LLC interests at the close of business on the record date are being asked to vote on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal.

Q: How did the board of directors vote on the conversion proposal?

The board of directors unanimously approved the conversion proposal. However, the conversion will not occur unless and until the conversion proposal has been approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of A: the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon and certain other conditions to the conversion proposal are satisfied or waived. If the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal are approved at the special meeting, then MIC LLC does not intend to call a vote to adjourn the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Q: How did the board of directors vote on the preferred stock proposal?

The board of directors unanimously approved the preferred stock proposal. However, preferred stock will not be authorized unless and until the conversion is consummated and the preferred stock proposal has been approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. As noted above, if the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal are approved at the special meeting, then MIC LLC does not intend to call a vote to adjourn the special meeting to solicit additional proxies.

Q: How will a vote in favor of the conversion proposal affect the shareholders?

If the conversion proposal is approved by the shareholders, MIC LLC will convert from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation. The rights of the shareholders in MIC Corp. as a corporation are different from their rights as a member of an LLC. This proxy statement/prospectus describes these differences. Upon the conversion, each outstanding LLC interest will be converted into one share of common stock. Concurrently with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager's existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the terms the operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager's right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. For a more detailed description of the conversion proposal, see the section entitled "The Conversion Proposal" beginning on page 30 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: How will a vote in favor of the preferred stock proposal affect the shareholders?

If the preferred stock proposal is approved by the shareholders and the conversion is consummated, the board of directors will be authorized to fix the designations, rights, preferences, powers and limitations of each series of preferred stock as the board of directors may fix in the resolution providing for the issuance of such shares. The issuance of shares of preferred stock could affect the relative rights of MIC Corp.'s shares of common stock. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock. For a more detailed description of the effects of the preferred stock proposal, see the section entitled "The Preferred Stock Proposal" beginning on page 35 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What will be the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the conversion?

The conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation will qualify as a tax-free transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes. As a result of the conversion, for U.S. federal income tax purposes:

you will not be required to recognize any gain or loss on the conversion of your LLC interests to common stock; your tax-basis in your common stock will be the same as your basis in the LLC interests that have been converted into such stock; and your holding period for your common stock will include your holding period for the LLC interests that have been converted into such common stock, provided such interests were held by you as a capital asset at the time of conversion.

You are urged to consult your tax advisor to determine the tax consequences to you under the federal tax laws, as well as any consequence under applicable state or local tax laws, given your particular circumstances.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Q: If the conversion proposal is approved by the shareholders, what is the timetable for the conversion?

A: If approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon, the conversion is expected to become effective on or about May 21, 2015, upon filing of the certificate of conversion and the certificate of incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. At the effective time of the conversion, MIC Corp. will be deemed for all purposes of the State of Delaware to be the same entity as of immediately prior to the conversion, but will be governed by the certificate of incorporation, the bylaws and the DGCL as a Delaware corporation.

Q: What conditions are required to be fulfilled to consummate the conversion?

A: MIC LLC is not required to consummate the conversion unless certain specified conditions, including those described in the plan of conversion, are satisfied or waived. These conditions are:

obtaining approval by the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon; the registration statement, of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, having been declared effective by the Securities Exchange Commission, which is referred to as the SEC in this proxy statement/prospectus; common stock being admitted to trading on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance; any waivers, consents or amendments needed under MIC LLC's contracts, licenses and permits in connection with the conversion being obtained; the board of directors not having revoked its recommendation that the shareholders vote in favor of the conversion proposal;

MIC LLC's receipt of all other required regulatory approvals; and the absence of any statute, order or injunction prohibiting the conversion.

MIC LLC cannot assure you that the required conditions will be satisfied. For a more complete description of the conditions that must be satisfied or waived prior to the effective time of the conversion, see the section entitled "The Conversion Proposal - Conditions to the Conversion" beginning on page 32 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Are MIC LLC's shareholders entitled to appraisal rights?

A: Holders of LLC interests will not have the right to seek appraisal of the fair value of their LLC interests in connection with the conversion. Under Section 18-210 of the DLLCA, no appraisal rights are granted to shareholders of an LLC unless the operating agreement provides otherwise. The operating agreement does not provide for appraisal rights.

Q: Are there risks associated with the conversion that I should consider in deciding how to vote?

A: Yes. You should carefully read the detailed description of risks associated with the conversion, including the differences that arise from owning shares in a corporation rather than interests in an LLC, and MIC Corp.'s authorization of preferred stock as described under the sections entitled "Risk Factors" and "Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion" beginning on pages 21 and 44, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: How does the board of directors recommend that I vote?

A: The board of directors has reviewed the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal and believes that approval of such proposals is in the best interests of the shareholders. The board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal, if necessary or appropriate.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

For a more complete description of the recommendations of the board of directors, see the sections entitled The Conversion Proposal Reasons for Conversion from a Delaware Limited Liability Company to a Delaware Corporation, The Preferred Stock Proposal Purpose of Authorization of Preferred Stock and Adjournment of the Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies beginning on pages 32, 36 and 37, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: Will my vote make a difference?

A: Your vote is very important and can make a difference in the governance and management of MIC LLC, no matter how many LLC interests you own. All shareholders are encouraged to participate in the governance of MIC LLC. A shareholder who holds LLC interests in the shareholder's own name (as opposed to being held in the name of the shareholder's broker, bank or other nominee) is referred to as a shareholder of record in this proxy statement/prospectus. Under the rules of the NYSE, if you are a beneficial owner and hold your LLC interests in street name, you must give your broker, bank or other shareholder of record specific voting instructions for your LLC interests by the deadline provided in order to ensure your LLC interests are voted in the way you would like. The conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal are non-discretionary items and brokers, banks or other shareholders of record cannot vote your LLC interests on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal or the adjournment proposal in their discretion unless they receive specific voting instructions from you.

Q: What will happen if I return my proxy card without indicating how to vote?

If you do not indicate how your LLC interests should be voted, LLC interests represented by your properly completed proxy will be voted as the board of directors recommends and therefore will be voted FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal. However, if your LLC interests are held in street name and you do not instruct your broker, bank or other shareholder of record specific instructions on how to vote your LLC interests, your proxy will not be voted.

Q: Who will count the votes?

A: All votes will be tabulated by Broadridge Financial Services, Inc., the proxy tabulator and inspector of election appointed for the special meeting. Broadridge Financial Services, Inc. will separately tabulate affirmative and negative votes, abstentions and broker non-votes.

Q: Is MIC LLC paying for the cost of this proxy statement/prospectus?

A: The cost of the solicitation of proxies, including the preparation, printing and mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus and the proxy card will be borne by MIC LLC. In addition to the solicitation of proxies by mail, solicitation may be made by certain officers of MIC LLC by telephone, telecopier or other means. These officers will receive no additional compensation for such solicitation. MIC LLC will reimburse brokers and other nominees for costs incurred by them in mailing proxy materials to beneficial holders in accordance with the rules of the NYSE. MIC LLC has engaged Okapi Partners LLC to assist in the solicitation of proxies for the special meeting and estimates it will pay Okapi Partners LLC a fee of approximately $22,000. MIC LLC has also agreed to reimburse Okapi Partners LLC for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements incurred in connection with the proxy solicitation and to indemnify Okapi Partners LLC against certain losses, costs and expenses.

Q: What do I need to participate in the special meeting?

A: You can participate in person by attending the special meeting on Friday, May 15, 2015 at 10:00 a.m. (Eastern Time), at 125 West 55th Street, 22nd Floor, New York, NY 10019. All shareholders must bring an acceptable form of government-issued identification, such as a driver's license, in order to attend the special meeting in person. If you hold LLC interests in street name and would like to attend the special meeting, you will also need to bring an account statement or other acceptable evidence of ownership of LLC interests as of the close of business on March 25, 2015, the record date of the special meeting or a valid legal proxy, which you can obtain from your broker, bank or other financial institution through which you hold your LLC interests. If you are voting on behalf of another person, including a legal entity, in addition to the above, MIC LLC must also have received by 11:59 p.m. (Eastern Time) on May 14, 2015, a duly executed proxy from the shareholder of record or beneficial owner appointing you as proxy.

Q: How do I vote my LLC interests?

A: In addition to voting in person at the special meeting as described above, shareholders and beneficial owners who hold LLC interests in street name can vote by proxy in any of the following ways:

By Internet. The web address for Internet voting can be found on the enclosed proxy card or the Notice. Internet voting is available 24 hours a day.

By Telephone. The number for telephone voting can be found on the enclosed proxy card or the Notice. Telephone voting is available 24 hours a day.

By Mail. Complete, sign, date and return the proxy card supplied by your broker, bank or other financial institution through which you hold your LLC interests.

MIC LLC MUST RECEIVE YOUR PROXY BY NO LATER THAN 11:59 P.M. (EASTERN TIME) ON MAY 14, 2015. IF MIC LLC DOES NOT RECEIVE YOUR PROXY BY THAT TIME, YOUR PROXY WILL NOT BE VALID. IN SUCH CASE, UNLESS YOU ATTEND THE SPECIAL MEETING, YOUR VOTE WILL NOT BE REPRESENTED.

The Internet and telephone voting procedures are designed to authenticate your identities, to allow you to give your voting instructions and to confirm that your instructions have been recorded properly. MIC LLC has been advised that the Internet and telephone voting procedures that have been made available to you are consistent with the requirements of applicable law. When voting by Internet or telephone, you should understand that, while neither MIC LLC nor any third party proxy service providers charge fees for voting by Internet or telephone, there may nevertheless be costs, such as usage charges from Internet access providers and telephone companies, which must be borne by you.

Your proxy will be voted as you direct in your proxy. Proxies returned without voting directions, and without specifying a proxy to participate in the special meeting and vote on your behalf, will be voted in accordance with the recommendations of the board of directors. The board of directors recommends:

a vote FOR the approval of the plan of conversion, including the conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws contemplated thereby;

a vote FOR the approval of the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation; and a vote FOR the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals.

If any other matter properly comes before the special meeting, your proxy will be voted on that matter by the proxy holders, in their discretion.

Q: How do I revoke my proxy?

A: You may revoke or change your proxy before the special meeting by:
subsequently executing and mailing a new proxy card that is received on a later date and no later than the deadline specified on the proxy card;
subsequently submitting a new proxy by Internet or telephone that is received by the deadline specified on the proxy card;

giving written notice of revocation to the attention of Michael Kernan, General Counsel and Secretary, Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC, 125 West 55th Street, New York, New York 10019, that is received no later than 11:59 p.m. (Eastern Time) on May 14, 2015; or

Q: How do I receive my documents as a shareholder if I share an address?

If you are the beneficial owner, but not the shareholder of record, of LLC interests, the broker, bank or other financial institution through which you hold your LLC interests may only deliver one copy of this proxy statement/prospectus and enclosed proxy card to multiple shareholders who share an address unless that nominee has received contrary instructions from one or more of the shareholders. MIC LLC will deliver promptly, upon written or oral request, to a shareholder at a shared address to which a single copy of the documents was delivered a copy of this proxy statement/prospectus. A shareholder who wishes to receive a separate copy of this proxy statement/prospectus or enclosed proxy card, now or in the future, should submit this request by writing to

A: Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC, Attention: Investor Relations 125 West 55th Street, New York, New York 10019, or by calling (212) 231-1825. If you are a beneficial owner and would like to receive a separate copy of this proxy statement/prospectus or enclosed proxy card, please contact the broker, bank or other financial institution through which you hold your LLC interests. Beneficial owners sharing an address who are receiving multiple copies of proxy materials and who wish to receive a single copy of such materials in the future will also need to contact their broker, bank or other financial institution to request that only a single copy of each document be mailed to all shareholders at the shared address in the future.

Q: Why might I receive more than one proxy card? Should I vote on each proxy card I receive?

First, you may have various accounts that are registered differently, perhaps in different names or with different social security or federal tax identification numbers. Second, you may also own LLC interests indirectly through

A: your broker. Your broker will send you a proxy card or voting instructions form for these LLC interests. You should vote on each proxy card or voting instructions from which you receive and mail it to the address shown on the applicable proxy card or form.

Q: Whom do I call if I have questions?

You should call Okapi Partners LLC, MIC LLC's proxy solicitor, toll-free at (877) 869-0171 with any questions

A: about the conversion proposal or the preferred stock proposal, or to obtain additional copies of this proxy statement/prospectus or additional proxy cards.

The Company (Page 27)

Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC
125 West 55th Street
New York, New York 10019
(212) 231-1000

MIC LLC is currently an LLC formed on April 13, 2004. MIC LLC completed its initial public offering in December 2004. MIC LLC is a non-operating holding company that owns, operates and invests in a diversified group of infrastructure businesses that provide basic services to businesses and individuals primarily in the United States.

LLC interests of MIC LLC trade on the NYSE under the symbol MIC.

Additional information about MIC LLC and its subsidiaries is included in the documents incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. See the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information; Incorporation by Reference beginning on page 64 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

The Conversion (Page 30)

The board of directors has approved a plan of conversion to convert MIC LLC from an LLC formed under the laws of the State of Delaware to a corporation formed under the laws of the State of Delaware. The plan of conversion is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein. The board of directors encourages you to read the plan of conversion in its entirety because it is the legal document that governs the conversion.

Authorization of Preferred Stock (Page 35)

The board of directors has approved the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock that may be issued from time to time, conditioned on the approval of MIC LLC's shareholders of such authorization and the consummation of the conversion. The board of directors represents that, if the preferred stock proposal is approved, it will not, without prior shareholder approval, approve the issuance or use of any of the preferred stock for any defensive or anti-takeover purpose or for the purpose of implementing any shareholder rights plan. The board of directors encourages you to read the certificate of incorporation, including the bracketed provisions therein, attached as Annex A-2 to this proxy statement/prospectus, because it is the legal document that will govern the authorization of preferred stock.

Adjournment of the Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies (Page 37)

Shareholders of MIC LLC are being asked to grant authority to proxy holders to vote in favor of one or more adjournments of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal. If the adjournment proposal is approved, the special meeting could be successively adjourned to any date. In accordance with the operating agreement, a vote to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal may be taken in the absence of a quorum.

Effects of the Conversion and the Authorization of Preferred Stock (Page 35)

At the effective time of the conversion, each outstanding LLC interest will be converted into one share of common stock. In connection with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager's existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the terms of the operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager's right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock.

Upon the approval of the preferred stock proposal and consummation of the conversion, the certificate of incorporation will authorize 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time.

Upon consummation of the conversion and acceptance of the certificate of incorporation by the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware following approval of the preferred stock proposal, MIC Corp. is expected to have outstanding 79,338,212 shares of common stock, 100 shares of special stock and no shares of preferred stock. For additional information on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and effects thereto, see the sections entitled "The Conversion Proposal," "The Preferred Stock Proposal" and "Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion" beginning on pages 30, 35 and 44, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Risk Factors (Page 21)

In evaluating the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal, shareholders should carefully read this proxy statement/prospectus and especially consider the factors discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 21 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors (Page 36)

The board of directors (1) has determined that the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock are advisable and in the best interests of MIC LLC and its shareholders, (2) has unanimously approved the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock and (3) recommends that the shareholders of MIC LLC approve (A) the plan of conversion and (B) the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock that may be issued from time to time, and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation. The board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal.

Shareholders Entitled to Vote; Vote Required for Approval (Page 23)

Record date: Shareholders can vote at the special meeting if they owned LLC interests at the close of business on March 25, 2015. Only shareholders of record as of the close of business on the record date will be entitled to receive notice of and vote at the special meeting. A shareholder may cast one vote for each LLC interest owned on the record date.

Quorum required: The shareholders of record participating in person or by proxy holding a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon shall constitute a quorum at the special meeting. Holders of LLC interests as of the record date are the only shareholders entitled to vote at the special meeting. Broker non-votes occur when a broker, bank or other shareholder of record holding LLC interests for a beneficial owner does not vote on a particular proposal because that holder does not have discretionary voting power for that particular item and has not received instructions from the beneficial owner. Broker non-votes or a failure to submit a proxy or attend the meeting in person will not be counted as present at the special meeting for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. Abstentions will be counted as present at the special meeting for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum.

Votes required: Approval of the conversion proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the preferred stock proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. Approval of the adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon. A vote in favor of the conversion proposal is a vote to approve the plan of conversion, including the conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws contemplated thereby.

For the conversion proposal, abstentions, a broker non-vote or a failure to submit the proxy or attend the special meeting in person will each have the same effect as a vote against the conversion proposal. For the preferred stock proposal, abstentions, a broker non-vote or a failure to submit the proxy or attend the special meeting in person will each have the same effect as a vote against the preferred stock proposal. For the adjournment proposal, abstentions will have the same effect as a vote against the adjournment proposal, while broker non-votes or a failure to submit the proxy or attend the special meeting in person will not have an effect on a vote to approve the adjournment proposal.

Your vote is very important. You are encouraged to vote as soon as possible. If you do not indicate how your LLC interests should be voted, LLC interests represented by your properly completed proxy will be voted as the board of directors recommends and therefore will be voted FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal. However, if your LLC interests are held in street name and you do not instruct your broker, bank or other shareholder of record specific instructions on how to vote your LLC interests, your proxy will not be voted.

Conditions to Consummation of the Conversion (Page 32)

A number of conditions must be satisfied or waived before the proposed conversion can become effective. These conditions are:

obtaining approval of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon; the registration statement, of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, having been declared effective by the SEC;

the common stock being admitted to trading on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance; any waivers, consents or amendments needed under MIC LLC's contracts, licenses and permits in connection with the conversion being obtained;

the board of directors not having revoked their recommendation that the shareholders vote in favor of the conversion proposal;

MIC LLC's receipt of all other required regulatory approvals; and the absence of any statute, order or injunction prohibiting the conversion.

The board of directors cannot assure you that the required conditions will be satisfied or waived or whether the conversion will occur as intended.

The conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation will qualify as a tax-free transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Stock Ownership of MIC Directors and Executive Officers (Page 33)

As of the close of business on the record date, the directors and executive officers of MIC LLC collectively beneficially owned and were entitled to vote 5,345,236 shares of LLC interests, which represent, in the aggregate, approximately 6.9% of the LLC interests outstanding on that date.

Interests of Directors and Officers in the Conversion (Page 33)

No director or executive officer of MIC LLC has any interest, direct or indirect, in the conversion other than any interest arising from ownership of LLC interests.

Concurrently with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager's existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the terms of the operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager's right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. The manager has assigned, or seconded, to MIC LLC two of its employees to serve as chief executive officer and chief financial officer of MIC LLC and seconds or makes other personnel available as required. This practice will continue after the conversion.

No Appraisal Rights (Page 63)

The operating agreement does not entitle shareholders of MIC LLC to appraisal rights in connection with the conversion or authorization of preferred stock. Under Section 18-210 of the DLLCA, no appraisal rights are granted to shareholders of an LLC unless the operating agreement provides otherwise. The operating agreement does not provide for appraisal rights.

Comparison of Rights of Holders of LLC Interests and Holders of Common Stock (Page 44)

In connection with the effectiveness of the conversion, each outstanding LLC interest will automatically convert into one share of common stock of MIC Corp. and the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock of MIC Corp. The rights of holders of LLC interests may differ from the rights of shareholders of common stock and special stock under the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, as more fully described under the section entitled "Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion" beginning on page 44 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

MIC LLC has included or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, and from time to time may make in its public filings, press releases or other public statements, certain statements that may constitute forward-looking statements. These include without limitation those under Risk Factors in Part I, Item 1A, Legal Proceedings in Part I, Item 3, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in Part II, Item 7, and Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk in Part II, Item 7A in MIC LLC's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, filed with the SEC on February 18, 2015. In addition, MIC LLC's management may make forward-looking statements to analysts, investors, representatives of the media and others. These forward-looking statements are not historical facts and represent only MIC LLC's management's beliefs regarding future events, many of which, by their nature, are inherently uncertain and beyond MIC LLC's control. MIC LLC's actual results, performance, prospects or opportunities could differ materially from those expressed in or implied by the forward-looking statements. A description of risks that could cause the actual results to differ appears under the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 21 of this proxy statement/prospectus. You should, however, consult further disclosures MIC LLC may make in future filings with the SEC.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information contained or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed in the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 19 of this proxy statement/prospectus, shareholders should carefully consider the following risk factors in determining whether to vote for the approval of the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal. Certain other risk factors include, without limitation, those under "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A, "Legal Proceedings" in Part I, Item 3, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in Part II, Item 7, and "Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk" in Part II, Item 7A in MIC LLC's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, which was filed with the SEC on February 18, 2015 and is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus.

If the conversion is consummated, the benefits expected to be obtained from the conversion may not be achieved.

Even if the conversion proposal is approved by the shareholders and the conversion is consummated, the benefits expected to be obtained from the conversion may not be achieved. For example, the conversion may not result in MIC Corp.'s inclusion in certain stock market indices, such as the S&P indices and the Russell indices. Inclusion in such indices may not result in an increased demand for MIC Corp.'s securities and MIC Corp. may not have greater access to capital. The conversion also may not increase MIC Corp.'s ability to retain its current directors or attract and retain new directors.

The conversion may not be consummated on a timely basis or at all. Failure to consummate the conversion could negatively impact the market price of the LLC interests and MIC LLC's future business and financial results.

The board of directors cannot assure you that the plan of conversion will be approved by the shareholders or that the other conditions to the consummation of the conversion will be satisfied or waived. If the conversion is not consummated, MIC LLC will not receive any of the expected benefits of the conversion and will be subject to risks and/or liabilities, including the following:

failure to consummate the conversion might be followed by a decline in the market price of the LLC interests; certain costs relating to the conversion (such as legal and accounting fees) will be payable by MIC LLC regardless of whether the conversion is consummated; and the proposed conversion may disrupt MIC LLC's business and distract its management and employees from day-to-day operations, because work related to the conversion requires substantial time and resources, which could otherwise have been devoted to other business opportunities for the benefit of MIC LLC.

The rights of holders of LLC interests who become holders of common stock upon the effective time of the conversion will be governed by the certificate of incorporation and bylaws, and certain rights of holders of common stock may be less favorable than those rights granted to holders of LLC interests pursuant to the operating agreement.

Holders of LLC interests who receive common stock in the conversion will become subject to the DGCL, and will be governed by the certificate of incorporation and bylaws, rather than the operating agreement. As a result, there will be differences between the current rights of the holders of LLC interests under the operating agreement, as compared to the rights they will have as holders of common stock under the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, and certain rights of holders of common stock may be less favorable than those rights granted to holders of LLC interests. For example, the bylaws state that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware will be the sole and exclusive forum to bring derivative claims, fiduciary claims and internal affairs actions. For more information describing the differences between the rights of holders of LLC interests and the rights of holders of common stock under the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, see the section entitled Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion beginning on page 44 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, preferred stock could be issued with rights, preferences and privileges that may be superior to the common stock, and could have other negative consequences to holders of common stock.

Shares of preferred stock could be issued in a financing in which investors purchase preferred stock with rights, preferences, and privileges that may be superior to those of the common stock. MIC Corp. could also use the authorized preferred stock for potential strategic transactions, including, among other things, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, restructurings, business combinations and investments, although MIC Corp. has no immediate plans to do so. There are no assurances that any such transactions will be consummated on favorable terms or at all, that they will enhance shareholder value, or that they will not adversely affect MIC Corp.'s business or the trading price of the common stock. Any shares of preferred stock could be issued with rights, preferences and privileges that may be superior to those of the common stock. In addition, preferred stock could be issued for capital raising, financing and acquisition needs or opportunities that have the effect of making an acquisition of MIC Corp. more difficult or costly, as could also be the case if the board of directors were to issue additional common stock. For a more detailed description of the preferred stock proposal, see the section entitled "The Preferred Stock Proposal" beginning on page 35 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE SPECIAL MEETING

Date, Time, Place and Purposes of the Special Meeting

The special meeting will be held on Friday, May 15, 2015, at 10:00 a.m. (Eastern Time), at 125 West 55th Street, 22nd Floor, New York, NY 10019 for the following purposes:

1. to approve the plan of conversion, including the conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws contemplated thereby, a copy of which is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus;
2. to approve the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation; and
3. to approve the adjournment of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals.

The board of directors recommends that shareholders vote FOR the conversion proposal, FOR the preferred stock proposal and FOR the adjournment proposal.

For these recommendations, see the sections entitled "The Conversion Proposal" Recommendation of the Board of Directors, "The Preferred Stock Proposal" and "Adjournment of the Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies" beginning on pages 32, 35 and 37, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Who Can Vote at the Special Meeting

Shareholders can vote at the special meeting if they owned LLC interests at the close of business on March 25, 2015, the record date. Only shareholders of record as of the close of business on the record date will be entitled to receive notice of and vote at the special meeting. All shareholders of record who owned LLC interests at the close of business on the record date are being asked to vote on the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal. You are being asked (i) to approve the plan of conversion, including the conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws contemplated thereby, providing for a conversion of MIC LLC from a Delaware limited liability company to MIC Corp., a Delaware corporation, (ii) to approve the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time, conditioned on the approval of such authorization and the consummation of the conversion, and (iii) to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the foregoing proposals. A shareholder of record may cast one vote for each LLC interest owned on the record date.

Required Vote for the Conversion Proposal

Approval of the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. A vote in favor of the conversion proposal is a vote to approve the plan of conversion, including the conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws contemplated thereby. If the conversion proposal fails to obtain the requisite vote for approval, the conversion will not be consummated and MIC LLC will continue as a Delaware limited liability company. The consummation of the conversion is not conditioned on shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal.

Required Vote for the Preferred Stock Proposal

Approval of the preferred stock proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon. A vote in favor of the preferred stock proposal is a vote to approve the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation.

The consummation of the preferred stock proposal is conditioned on the consummation of the conversion and shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Required Vote for the Adjournment Proposal

Approval of the adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon. A vote in favor of the adjournment proposal is a vote to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal. Only shareholders of record at the close of business on the record date will be entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting and at any subsequent adjournments or postponements.

Quorum

Under the operating agreement, the shareholders participating in person or by proxy holding a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of shareholders of MIC LLC. Holders of LLC interests as of the record date are the only shareholders entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Broker non-votes occur when a broker, bank or other shareholder of record holding LLC interests for a beneficial owner does not vote on a particular proposal because that holder does not have discretionary voting power for that particular item and has not received instructions from the beneficial owner. Broker non-votes or a failure to submit a proxy or attend the meeting in person will not be counted as present at the special meeting for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. Abstentions will be counted as present at the special meeting for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum.

Adjournments

If a quorum is not present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting, the special meeting may be adjourned by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon. In addition, if the adjournment proposal is approved, adjournments of the special meeting may be made for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal. Other than an announcement to be made at the special meeting of the time, date and place of an adjourned meeting, an adjournment generally may be made without notice. For more information on the adjournment proposal, see the section entitled Adjournment of the Special Meeting to Solicit Additional Proxies beginning on page 37 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Manner of Voting

Shareholders of record may vote in person at the special meeting or by proxy. The board of directors recommends that shareholders of record vote by proxy even if they plan to attend the special meeting. Shareholders of record can always revoke their proxy and change their votes at the special meeting.

Shareholders of record can vote by proxy in any of the following ways:

By Internet. The web address for Internet voting can be found on the enclosed proxy card or the Notice. Internet voting is available 24 hours a day.

By Telephone. The number for telephone voting can be found on the enclosed proxy card or the Notice. Telephone voting is available 24 hours a day.

By Mail. Complete, sign, date and return the proxy card supplied by your broker, bank or other financial institution through which you hold your LLC interests.

For additional information on how to vote your proxy, see the section entitled "Questions and Answers - How do I vote my LLC interests?" beginning on page 8 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Proxy Voting by Shareholders of Record

Voting instructions are attached to your proxy card. If you properly submit your proxy to MIC LLC in time to vote, one of the individuals named as your proxy will vote your LLC interests at the special meeting as you have directed.

You may vote for or against any or all of the proposals submitted at the special meeting or abstain from voting.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

If you are a shareholder of record, please vote your proxy by mail as provided below. Your submission of proxy authorizes the individuals named on the enclosed proxy card, and each of them, with full power of substitution and re-substitution, to vote all LLC interests that you are entitled to vote at the special meeting.

To submit your proxy by mail, there are three steps:

1. Vote on each of the matters as follows:
 - The conversion proposal. Check the box FOR or AGAINST or ABSTAIN (to not cast a vote);
 - The preferred stock proposal. Check the box FOR or AGAINST or ABSTAIN (to not cast a vote);
 - The adjournment proposal. Check the box FOR or AGAINST or ABSTAIN (to not cast a vote); and
2. Sign and date your proxy card. If you do not sign and date your proxy card and do not submit a proxy by Internet or telephone, your votes cannot be counted.
3. Mail your proxy card in the pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope.

Please check the box on your proxy card if you plan to attend the special meeting.

Only the latest dated proxy received from you will be voted at the special meeting.

Voting of LLC Interests Held in Street Name

LLC interests that are not held in your own name but rather by your broker, bank or another nominee, are referred to as being held in street name by your nominee in this proxy statement/prospectus.

If your LLC interests are held in street name and you wish to attend the special meeting and personally vote your LLC interests held in street name, you must obtain a legally sufficient proxy from your nominee authorizing you to vote your LLC interests held in street name. If your LLC interests are held in a brokerage account, you will receive a full meeting package, including a voting instructions form to vote your LLC interests. If you do not receive a request for voting instructions from your nominee in advance of the special meeting, MIC LLC recommends that you directly contact your nominee to determine how to cause your LLC interests to be voted as you wish. Your brokerage firm may permit you to provide voting instructions by Internet or by telephone.

Under the rules of the NYSE, MIC LLC anticipates that the conversion proposal, the preferred stock proposal and the adjournment proposal in this proxy statement/prospectus will be non-discretionary items for which specific voting instructions from beneficial owners is required. As a result, brokers and other nominees subject to the rules of NYSE will not be allowed to vote with respect to any proposal on behalf of a beneficial owner if the beneficial owner does not provide specific voting instructions on that proposal. Your LLC interests held in street name will not be counted for purposes of determining whether a quorum is present at the special meeting. MIC LLC urges you to respond to your brokerage firm so that your vote will be cast in accordance with your instructions.

How Proxies Will Be Voted

All LLC interests entitled to vote and represented by properly completed proxies received prior to the special meeting (unless properly revoked) will be voted at the special meeting as instructed on the proxies.

If shareholders of record who submit a properly completed proxy do not indicate how their LLC interests should be voted on a matter, the LLC interests represented by their proxy will be voted (unless properly withdrawn) as the board of directors recommends and therefore will be voted:

FOR the conversion proposal;
FOR the preferred stock proposal; and
FOR the adjournment proposal.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

However, if your LLC interests are held in street name and you do not instruct your broker or other nominee on how to vote your LLC interests, your proxy will not be voted.

Revoking a Proxy

You may revoke or change your proxy before the special meeting by:

subsequently executing and mailing a new proxy card that is received on a later date and no later than the deadline specified on the proxy card;

subsequently submitting a new proxy by Internet or telephone that is received by the deadline specified on the proxy card;

giving written notice of revocation to the attention of Michael Kernan, General Counsel and Secretary, Macquarie Infrastructure Company LLC, 125 West 55th Street, New York, New York 10019, that is received no later than 11:59 p.m. (Eastern Time) on May 14, 2015; or voting in person at the special meeting.

Your attendance at the special meeting in person without voting will not automatically revoke your proxy. If you revoke your proxy during the special meeting, this will not affect any vote previously taken. If you need an additional proxy card and are a shareholder of record, contact:

Solicitation of Proxies and Expenses

The cost of solicitation of proxies, including the preparation, printing and mailing of this proxy statement/prospectus will be borne by MIC LLC. In addition to the solicitation of proxies by mail, solicitation may be made by certain officers of MIC LLC by telephone, telecopier, or other means. These officers will receive no additional compensation for such solicitation. MIC LLC will reimburse banks, brokers and other nominees for costs incurred by them in mailing proxy materials to beneficial holders in accordance with the rules of NYSE.

MIC LLC has engaged Okapi Partners LLC to assist in the solicitation of proxies for the meeting and estimate that MIC LLC will pay Okapi Partners LLC a fee of approximately $22,000. TABLE OF CONTENTS

BACKGROUND OF THE CONVERSION AND AUTHORIZATION OF PREFERRED STOCK

MIC LLC was originally formed as a trust in 2004 and completed its initial public offering in December 2004. In 2007, the trust was dissolved and all shares of the trust were exchanged for shares of its immediate subsidiary, an LLC. Effective January 1, 2007, MIC LLC elected to be taxed as a corporation. MIC LLC has effectively operated substantially in the same manner as a corporation, with customary corporate governance procedures.

In September 2014, MIC LLC's management began to consider converting to a corporation, in light of MIC LLC's growth over the prior two years. Management believes that MIC Corp. can benefit from the opportunity to be included in certain stock indices. LLCs are not eligible for inclusion in such indices. Management also believes that an increased number of institutional and other investors might consider investing in MIC LLC if it were a corporation.

In October and December 2014, the board of directors discussed the proposed conversion, and the potential provisions to be included in a certificate of incorporation and bylaws, with management. In February 2015, the board of directors again considered the proposed conversion. The board of directors determined to generally maintain the corporate governance provisions currently in effect pursuant to the operating agreement. The board believed, however, that inclusion of a forum selection provision was advisable. This provision requires that certain actions including, among others, derivative actions, breach of fiduciary duty claims, and actions arising pursuant to the DGCL, the certificate of incorporation or the bylaws, be brought in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware. The board of directors (1) determined that the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock are advisable and in the best interests of MIC LLC and its shareholders, (2) unanimously approved the plan of conversion and the authorization of preferred stock and (3) recommended that the shareholders of MIC LLC approve (A) the plan of conversion and (B) the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock that may be issued from time to time, and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation.

During the course of its deliberations, the board of directors considered the following factors as generally supporting its decision:

The DGCL is generally acknowledged to be the most advanced corporate law in the United States, is responsive to the changing needs of businesses, and has a well-established body of corporate case law.

As a corporation, MIC Corp. would be eligible for potential inclusion in certain stock indices, which could increase demand for MIC Corp.'s securities. In addition, institutional and other investors might find it easier to invest in a corporation than an LLC, due to restrictions on the ability of certain investors to invest in LLCs, as well as the perceived ease of understanding by investors generally of the Delaware corporate form.

Incorporation may enhance MIC Corp.'s ability to attract and retain directors, because many director candidates are familiar and comfortable with Delaware corporate law.

The forum selection provision will promote litigation efficiency by preventing similar claims from being filed in multiple jurisdictions.

The preferred stock proposal will provide MIC Corp. with increased flexibility to meet future capital requirements in a timely manner.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

In addition, the board of directors considered the following potential risks, but concluded that the anticipated benefits from the proposals were likely to outweigh these risks:

MIC LLC will incur direct costs as a result of the conversion, even if the conversion does not occur.

The conversion could divert the attention of MIC LLC's management from day-to-day operations. There could be confusion in the market regarding the conversion, which could cause the price of the LLC interests to decline.

If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, preferred stock could be issued with rights, preferences and privileges that may be superior to the common stock, and could have other negative consequences to holders of common stock. Other matters described in the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 21 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

In view of the variety of factors considered, the board of directors did not quantify or assign relative weight to the factors considered in reaching its conclusions. Rather, the board of directors views its recommendations as being based on the totality of the information considered by it.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

THE CONVERSION PROPOSAL

General

The board of directors has unanimously approved and recommends that the shareholders approve the plan of conversion, including adoption of the certificate of conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws under the laws of the State of Delaware, each to become effective concurrently with the effectiveness of the conversion. The consummation of the conversion is not conditioned on shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal. The following discussion summarizes certain aspects of the conversion from a Delaware limited liability company to a Delaware corporation, which MIC LLC anticipates will be effective on or about May 21, 2015. This summary does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the plan of conversion, the certificate of conversion, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, each in substantially the form attached as Annex A, Annex A-1, Annex A-2 and Annex A-3, respectively, to this proxy statement/prospectus. The board of directors recommends that the shareholders vote FOR the conversion proposal.

Structure of the Conversion

Subject to the conditions to the conversion described herein, MIC LLC will convert from an LLC formed under the laws of the State of Delaware to a corporation formed under the laws of the State of Delaware. Upon the effectiveness of the conversion, the converted entity's name will change to Macquarie Infrastructure Corporation.

To convert to a Delaware corporation, MIC LLC will file a certificate of conversion and a certificate of incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. At the effective time of the conversion, each outstanding LLC interest will be converted into one share of common stock of MIC Corp. Concurrently with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager's existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors of MIC LLC pursuant to the terms of the operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager's right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock.

Upon consummation of the conversion, MIC Corp. is expected to have outstanding 79,338,212 shares of common stock, 100 shares of special stock and no shares of preferred stock (subject to shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal). Upon consummation of the conversion, pursuant to the certificate of incorporation, the authorized capital stock of MIC Corp. will consist of 500,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, 100 shares of special stock, par value $0.001 per share, and 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time (subject to shareholder approval of the preferred stock proposal).

Effective Time of the Conversion

Consummation of the conversion is expected to occur, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain closing conditions, as soon as practicable following approval of the plan of conversion by the shareholders of MIC LLC at the special meeting. The conversion will become effective, assuming satisfaction or waiver of all other closing conditions, immediately when the certificate of conversion and the certificate of incorporation is accepted for filing by the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware (or such later time as set forth in the certificate of conversion), which is referred to as the effective time of the conversion in this proxy statement/prospectus.

No Change in Business, Jobs, Physical Location, Etc.

The business of MIC Corp. will be the same as the business of MIC LLC and is not expected to result in any change in headquarters, business, jobs, management, location of any of the offices, number of employees, assets, liabilities or net worth (other than as a result of the costs incident to the conversion). The conversion is not expected to result in a change in MIC LLC's current trading status on the NYSE and MIC Corp.'s common stock will continue to trade on the NYSE under the ticker symbol MIC upon the effective time of the conversion. The management, including all directors and officers, will remain the same in connection with the conversion and will assume identical positions with MIC Corp., except that the position of an alternate chairman provided for under the operating agreement will no longer exist at MIC Corp. The conversion will effect certain changes of a legal nature, the most significant of which are described below in the section entitled Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion beginning on page 44 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Conversion of LLC Interests; Conversion Procedures

Conversion of LLC Interests

The plan of conversion provides that, at the effective time of the conversion, by virtue of the conversion and without further action on the part of MIC LLC, MIC Corp. or the shareholders of MIC LLC, each outstanding LLC interest will be converted into one share of common stock. Concurrently with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement.

At the effective time of the conversion, the certificate of formation and operating agreement of MIC LLC will be terminated, and the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws will be in effect. For a description of the terms of the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, and the rights of the shareholders of common stock and special stock thereunder, see the sections entitled Description of MIC Capital Stock and Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion beginning on pages 38 and 44, respectively, of this proxy statement/prospectus and the certificate of incorporation and bylaws attached as Annex A-2 and Annex A-3, respectively, to this proxy statement/prospectus.

Conversion Procedures

All shares of common stock issued in connection with the conversion will be uncertificated. MIC Corp. will register, or cause to be registered in book-entry form, the shares of common stock into which each LLC interest is converted as a result of the conversion.

As soon as reasonably practicable after the effective time of the conversion, MIC Corp. will send a letter of transmittal to each person who was a record owner of the LLC interests at the effective time of the conversion and holds a certificate. This mailing will contain instructions on how to surrender any certificates formerly representing LLC interests in order for the shares of common stock received in the conversion to be registered in book-entry form.

Until each certificate of the LLC interests is surrendered, such certificate or book-entry unit will be deemed at any time after the effective time of the conversion to represent shares of common stock.

Lost LLC Interest Certificates

If a certificate formerly representing LLC interests has been lost, stolen or destroyed, MIC Corp. will register in book-entry form the shares of common stock issued in connection with the conversion upon receipt of an affidavit as to that loss, theft or destruction, and, if required by MIC Corp., the posting of a bond in such reasonable amount as MIC Corp. will direct as indemnity, with such assurances as MIC Corp. may reasonably require.

Dividends with Respect to Unexchanged LLC Interests

Dividends, if any, that are made to holders of LLC interests prior to the effective time of the conversion will be paid to such holders regardless of whether such payment is made before or after the effective time of the conversion and regardless of whether such holder transmitted its LLC interest certificate for book-entry registration of its shares of common stock.

Effect of the Conversion on Employee Benefit Plans, Stock Purchase Plans and Other Similar Plans

To the extent that any employee benefit plan, direct stock purchase and/or dividend reinvestment program or other similar plan of MIC LLC provides for the issuance of LLC interests, upon the effective time of the conversion, such plan will be deemed to provide for the issuance of shares of common stock of MIC Corp. A number of shares of common stock will be reserved for issuance under such plans or programs equal to the number of LLC interests so reserved immediately prior to the effective time of the conversion.

2.875% Convertible Senior Notes Due 2019 of MIC LLC

Under the terms of MIC LLC's indenture, which is referred to as the indenture in this proxy statement/prospectus, governing its 2.875% Convertible Senior Notes due 2019, which is referred to as the convertible notes in this proxy statement/prospectus, consummation of the conversion will constitute a Make-Whole Fundamental Change (as defined in the indenture). Therefore, if a holder of the convertible notes converts its convertible notes during a specified period of approximately 20 business days following the consummation of the conversion, such holder will be entitled to an increased conversion rate based upon the market price of the common stock and the date of the conversion. Although the convertible notes are convertible at any time, if holders of the convertible notes elect to convert during this period, holders of common stock may experience a greater amount of dilution than they would experience if the convertible notes are converted at other times. MIC Corp. will also execute a supplemental indenture that provides that the convertible notes will become convertible into shares of common stock of MIC Corp. in lieu of the LLC interests of MIC LLC, on a one for one basis, in accordance with the plan of conversion.

Conditions to the Conversion

Consummating the conversion is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

obtaining approval by the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon; the registration statement, of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part, having been declared effective by the SEC;

the common stock being admitted to trading on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance; any waivers, consents or amendments needed under MIC LLC's contracts, licenses and permits in connection with the conversion being obtained;

the board of directors not having revoked its recommendation that the shareholders vote in favor of the conversion proposal;

MIC LLC's receipt of all other required regulatory approvals; and the absence of any statute, order or injunction prohibiting the conversion.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors

The board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the conversion proposal. An affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon is required for the approval of the conversion proposal. Abstentions, broker non-votes and a failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person will have the same effect as a vote against the conversion proposal.

Reasons for Conversion from a Delaware Limited Liability Company to a Delaware Corporation

Enhanced Access to Potential Capital. As a corporation, MIC Corp. would be eligible for inclusion in certain stock indices, such as the S&P indices and the Russell indices. MIC LLC believes that inclusion in such indices could result in an increased demand for its securities. In addition, institutional and other investors might find it easier to invest in a corporation due to restrictions on the ability of certain investors to invest in LLCs, as well as the perceived ease of understanding by investors generally of the Delaware corporate form, and investors' familiarity with the DGCL.

Predictability and Responsiveness of the DGCL. The DGCL is generally acknowledged to be the most advanced corporate law in the United States. The Delaware General Assembly annually considers and adopts statutory amendments that the Corporation Law Section of the Delaware State Bar Association proposes in an effort to ensure that the corporate law continues to be responsive to the changing needs of businesses. Delaware's well-established body of case law construing Delaware corporate law has evolved over the last century and provides businesses with greater predictability than the DLLCA. The abundance of Delaware corporate case law serves to enhance the relative clarity and predictability of many areas of corporate law, which the board of directors believes will offer added advantages to MIC Corp. by allowing the board of directors and management to make corporate decisions and take corporate actions with greater assurance as to the validity and consequences of those decisions and actions.

Enhanced Ability to Attract and Retain Directors. The board of directors believes that incorporation will enhance MIC Corp. s ability to attract and retain directors. Many candidates for the board of directors are already familiar with Delaware corporate law, including provisions relating to director indemnification, from their past business experience.

Not only is Delaware corporate law most familiar to directors, but Delaware corporate law also provides, as noted above, greater predictability and responsiveness to corporate needs and more certainty regarding indemnification and limitation of liability of directors, all of which could enable the directors to act in the best interests of MIC Corp. As a result, the board of directors believes that MIC Corp. will be able to more effectively retain MIC LLC s current directors or attract and retain new directors.

The Forum Selection Provision will Promote Litigation Efficiency. The board of directors believes that including a forum selection provision in the bylaws will promote litigation efficiency by requiring plaintiffs to bring suit in a specified Delaware court with significant experience adjudicating such claims.

Stock Ownership of Directors and Officers in the Conversion

As of the close of business on the record date, the directors and executive officers of MIC LLC collectively beneficially owned and were entitled to vote 5,345,236 shares of LLC interests, which represent, in the aggregate, approximately 6.9% of LLC interests outstanding on that date.

Interests of Directors and Officers in the Conversion

Except as described above with regard to potential benefits to be received by the officers and directors of MIC LLC arising from the liability limitation and indemnification provisions under the DGCL, no director or executive officer of MIC LLC has any interest, direct or indirect, in the conversion other than any interest arising from the ownership of LLC interests.

In connection with the conversion, MIC Corp., Macquarie Infrastructure Holdings Inc. and the manager will enter into the amended management services agreement. Concurrently with the conversion, the manager will be issued 100 shares of special stock in order to induce the manager to enter into the amended management services agreement. The sole purpose for the issuance of shares of special stock to the manager is to preserve the manager s existing right to appoint one director who will serve as the chairman of the board of directors to MIC LLC pursuant to the terms of MIC LLC s current operating agreement, which right would otherwise be lost upon consummation of the conversion. Following the conversion and the issuance of special stock, the manager s right to elect one director will be the same as is currently in effect. MIC Corp. is not granting any additional rights to the manager through the special stock issuance. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock. If the preferred stock proposal is consummated, the amended management services agreement is expected to provide that, if at any time MIC Corp. issues preferred stock, MIC Corp. and the manager may amend the amended management services agreement with respect to the calculation of the base management fees and performance fees payable to the manager.

In connection with the conversion, MIC Corp. and the manager will also enter into the amended and restated registration rights agreement.

The manager is a member of the Macquarie Group, a diversified international provider of financial, advisory and investment services. The Macquarie Group is headquartered in Sydney, Australia and is a global leader in management of infrastructure investment vehicles on behalf of third-party investors and advising on the acquisition, disposition and financing of infrastructure assets. The manager is responsible for MIC LLC's day-to-day operations and affairs and oversees the management teams of MIC LLC's operating businesses. The manager has assigned, or seconded, to MIC LLC two of its employees to serve as chief executive officer and chief financial officer of MIC LLC and seconds or makes other personnel available as required. The services performed for MIC LLC by the manager are provided at the manager's expense, and include the compensation of MIC LLC's seconded personnel. This practice will continue after the conversion. For more information, see Note 13, Related Party Transactions, in the notes to the consolidated financial statements in Item 8 of MIC LLC's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, which was filed with the SEC on February 18, 2015 and is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Conversion

The following is a summary description of the material anticipated U.S. federal income tax consequences of the conversion generally applicable to the holders of LLC interests and to MIC LLC. This summary is not intended to be a complete description of all the federal income tax consequences of the conversion. No information is provided with respect to the tax consequences of the conversion under any other tax laws, including applicable state, local and foreign tax laws. In addition, the following discussion may not be applicable with respect to specific categories of holders of LLC interests, including but not limited to corporations, partnerships and trusts; dealers in securities; financial institutions; insurance companies or tax exempt organizations; persons who are not United States citizens or resident aliens or domestic entities; persons who are subject to alternative minimum tax; persons who do not hold their interests as capital assets; or persons who hold their interests as part of a straddle, conversion or hedging transaction, synthetic security or other integrated investment or risk reduction transaction.

No ruling has been or will be requested from the Internal Revenue Service with respect to the tax effects of the conversion. The federal income tax laws are complex, and the individual circumstances of a holder of LLC interests may affect the tax consequences to such holder.

MIC LLC anticipates receiving an opinion from White & Case LLP to the effect that:

The conversion will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

No gain or loss will be recognized by the holders of LLC interests upon the conversion of LLC interests solely for common stock.

Neither MIC LLC nor MIC Corp. will recognize gain or loss as a result of the conversion.

The federal income tax-basis of each LLC interest will carry over to the common stock received in exchange for such interest, pursuant to the conversion, and the holding period of such common stock will include the holding period of the LLC interest exchanged therefor.

The opinion will be based on customary assumptions and certain factual representations by the management of MIC LLC.

We urge you to consult your own tax advisors as to the specific consequences to you of the conversion under federal, state, local and foreign income and any other tax laws applicable in your particular circumstances.

Regulatory Matters

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, MIC LLC is not required to make filings or obtain approvals or clearances from any antitrust regulatory authorities in the United States or other countries to consummate the conversion. In the United States, MIC Corp. must comply with applicable federal and state securities laws and the rules and regulations of the NYSE in connection with the issuance of shares of common stock of MIC Corp. and the filing of this proxy statement/prospectus with the SEC.

Accounting Treatment of the Conversion

The conversion will have no effect for accounting purposes. The historical consolidated financial statements of MIC LLC previously reported to the SEC as of and for all periods through the date of this proxy statement/prospectus will remain the consolidated financial statements of MIC Corp.

Stock Exchange Listing

Shares of MIC Corp. s common stock will continue to trade on the NYSE under the ticker symbol MIC upon the effective time of the conversion.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

THE PREFERRED STOCK PROPOSAL

The board of directors has approved the authorization of 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share and the bracketed provisions in the certificate of incorporation. The holders of a majority of the LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon must approve the preferred stock proposal and the conversion must be consummated before MIC Corp. can authorize preferred stock that may be issued from time to time. The consummation of the preferred stock proposal is conditioned on consummation of the conversion but consummation of the conversion is not conditioned on MIC LLC's shareholders approving the preferred stock proposal. If the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal are approved by the shareholders at the special meeting, MIC Corp. intends to file the certificate of incorporation, including the bracketed provisions therein, substantially in the form attached as Annex A-2 to this proxy statement/prospectus, with the Secretary of State of Delaware as soon as practicable following the special meeting.

Authorization of Preferred Stock

MIC LLC is not currently authorized to issue any preferred shares. If shareholders approve the preferred stock proposal and the conversion is consummated, upon acceptance by the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, the certificate of incorporation will authorize 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, that may be issued from time to time. MIC Corp.'s authorized capital stock will consist of (i) 500,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.001 per share, (ii) 100 shares of special stock, par value $0.001 per share, and (iii) 100,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $0.001 per share, subject to approval of the preferred stock proposal and the consummation of the conversion. MIC Corp. is expected to have outstanding 79,338,212 shares of common stock, 100 shares of special stock and no shares of preferred stock.

If MIC LLC's shareholders approve the preferred stock proposal and the conversion is consummated, the board of directors of MIC Corp. will be authorized to fix the designations, rights, preferences, powers and limitations of and to issue each series of the preferred stock. The consummation of the preferred stock proposal will give the board of directors the flexibility to create one or more series of preferred stock, from time to time, and to determine the relative designations, powers, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, and the qualifications, limitations or restrictions of each series, including, without limitation: (i) the dividend rights and dividend rates, (ii) conversion rights, (iii) any voting rights, (iv) rights and terms of redemption (including sinking fund provisions), (v) redemption price or prices, (vi) liquidation preferences of any such series, (vii) the number of shares in each series, (viii) the designation thereof or any of the foregoing or (ix) any other powers, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights, qualifications, limitations or restrictions. The consent of the manager, as holder of shares of special stock, will be required for MIC Corp. to issue preferred stock.

Effect of Preferred Stock on MIC Corp.'s Shareholders

The authorization of preferred stock will not have any immediate effect on MIC Corp.'s shareholders. However, the preferred stock to be authorized pursuant to the certificate of incorporation, including the bracketed provisions therein, could be issued, at the discretion of the board of directors, for any proper corporate purpose, without further action by the shareholders other than as may be required by applicable law. Shareholders do not have preemptive rights with respect to the future issuance of shares of preferred stock by MIC Corp. and their interest in MIC Corp. could be diluted by such issuance with respect to any of the following: earnings per share, voting, liquidation rights and book and market value.

The board of directors will have the power to issue shares of preferred stock in one or more classes or series with such designations, rights, preferences, powers and limitations as the board of directors may fix in the resolution providing for the issuance of such shares. The issuance of shares of preferred stock could affect the relative rights of MIC Corp. s shares of common stock. Depending upon the exact terms, limitations and relative rights and preferences, if any of the shares of preferred stock as determined by the board of directors at the time of issuance, the holders of shares of preferred stock may be entitled to a higher dividend rate than that paid on the common stock, a prior claim on funds available for the payment of dividends, a fixed preferential payment in the event of liquidation and dissolution of MIC Corp., redemption rights, rights to convert their shares of preferred stock into shares of common stock, and voting rights which would tend to dilute the voting control of MIC Corp. by the holders of shares of common stock. MIC Corp. could use preferred stock for potential strategic transactions, including, among other things, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures, restructurings, business combinations and investments, although we have no immediate plans to do so. The board of directors cannot provide assurances that any such transactions will (i) be consummated on favorable terms or at all, (ii) enhance shareholder value or (iii) not adversely affect MIC Corp.'s business or the trading price of common stock. Any shares of preferred stock could be issued with rights, preferences and privileges that may be superior to those of the common stock.

Recommendation of the Board of Directors

The board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the preferred stock proposal. An affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of voting power of the shares of LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon is required for the approval of the preferred stock proposal. An abstention, broker non-vote or a failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person will have the same effect as a vote against the preferred stock proposal.

Purpose of Authorization of Preferred Stock

The board of directors has determined that the authorization of preferred stock is advisable and in the best interests of MIC LLC and its shareholders because it will provide MIC Corp. with the flexibility to consider and respond to future business needs and opportunities as they arise from time to time, including in connection with capital raising, financing and acquisition needs or opportunities. The availability of shares of preferred stock would give MIC Corp. flexibility to respond to future capital raising, financing and acquisition needs or opportunities without the delay and expense associated with holding a special meeting of shareholders to obtain further shareholder approval. The ability to respond to MIC Corp.'s needs and opportunities on an expedited basis with customized series of preferred stock may be advantageous to MIC Corp., depending on market conditions at the time.

The preferred stock proposal has been prompted by business and financial considerations and not by the threat of any known or threatened hostile takeover attempt. The board of directors represents that, if the preferred stock proposal is approved, it will not, without prior shareholder approval, approve the issuance or use of any of the preferred stock for any defensive or anti-takeover purpose or for the purpose of implementing any shareholder rights plan. Within these limits, as well as others imposed by applicable law and NYSE rules, the board of directors may approve the issuance or use of preferred stock for capital raising, financing and acquisition needs or opportunities that has the effect of making an acquisition of MIC Corp. more difficult or costly, as could also be the case if the board of directors were to issue additional common stock.

Required Vote

Approval of the preferred stock proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests outstanding and entitled to vote thereon.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ADJOURNMENT OF THE SPECIAL MEETING TO SOLICIT ADDITIONAL PROXIES

Shareholders of MIC LLC are being asked to grant authority to proxy holders to vote in favor of one or more adjournments of the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal. If the adjournment proposal is approved, the special meeting could be successively adjourned to any date. In accordance with the operating agreement, a vote to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the conversion proposal and the preferred stock proposal may be taken in the absence of a quorum. MIC LLC does not intend to call a vote to adjourn the special meeting to solicit additional proxies if the conversion proposal is approved at the special meeting.

If the special meeting is adjourned to solicit additional proxies, shareholders of record who have already submitted their proxies will be able to revoke them at any time prior to their use. If the chairman of the special meeting does not adjourn the special meeting, the holders of a majority of the voting power of the shares of LLC interests present in person or represented by proxy at the special meeting and entitled to vote thereon is required to approve the adjournment proposal. An abstention will have the effect of a vote against the adjournment proposal. A failure to submit a proxy or to attend the special meeting in person or a broker non-vote will not have an effect on a vote to approve the adjournment proposal.

The board of directors unanimously recommends that shareholders vote FOR the adjournment proposal.

These documents may be amended from time to time. The certificate of incorporation and the bylaws are attached as Annex A-2 and Annex A-3, respectively, to this proxy statement/prospectus. You should read each of these documents because they, not this description, will define your rights as shareholders following consummation of the conversion. As provided in the certificate of incorporation, the holders of common stock and special stock will vote separately as different classes. Holders of common stock will not be entitled to vote cumulatively for the election of directors. All matters to be voted on by shareholders must be approved by a majority of the voting power of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting of shareholders or, in the case of the election of directors, by a plurality of the votes cast at a meeting at which a quorum is present (consisting of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote, present in person or by proxy).

Dividends. Subject to applicable law and the preference of any other stock ranking prior to the common stock as to the payment of dividends, holders of common stock will be entitled to receive dividends in amounts as determined by the board of directors. MIC Corp. may pay dividends consisting of cash, property or shares of capital stock of MIC Corp.

Delaware law allows a corporation to pay dividends only out of surplus, as determined under Delaware law or, if there is no surplus, out of net profits for the fiscal year in which the dividend was declared and for the preceding fiscal year.

Under Delaware law, however, a corporation cannot pay dividends out of net profits if, after paying the dividend, the corporation's capital would be less than the capital represented by the outstanding stock of all classes having a preference upon the distribution of assets.

Transfer Restriction. The certificate of incorporation and bylaws do not restrict the transfer of shares of common stock but the bylaws provide that MIC Corp. has the power to enter into and perform any agreement with any shareholders to restrict the transfer of shares of stock of MIC Corp. in any manner not prohibited by the DGCL.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Election of Directors. Under the certificate of incorporation, at any time when the amended management services agreement is in effect and the manager or any of its affiliate holds at least 200,000 shares of common stock (which represents the number of shares of common stock with an aggregate value of at least $5 million at a price per share of common stock equal to the per share price of the shares sold in the initial public offering of the predecessor to MIC LLC (as adjusted to reflect any subsequent equity splits or similar recapitalizations)), holders of common stock, voting separately as a class, will be entitled to elect the directors of MIC Corp. other than one director who will be elected by the holders of special stock and who will act as the chairman of the board of directors.

At any time when the amended management services agreement is not in effect or neither the manager nor any of its affiliates holds at least 200,000 shares of common stock (as adjusted to reflect any subsequent equity splits or similar recapitalizations), the holders of common stock will be entitled to elect all of the directors to be elected at an election.

Other Rights. Upon the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of MIC Corp., all holders of common stock will be entitled to share equally, on a per share basis, in all assets of MIC Corp. of whatever kind available for distribution.

Trading. Upon official notice of issuance, the outstanding shares of common stock will be listed on the NYSE under the symbol MIC, the same symbol under which the LLC interests are currently listed. The transfer agent and registrar for the shares of common stock will be Computershare Investor Services, LLC.

Special Stock

Voting. Each share of special stock will be entitled to one vote on each matter on which holders of special stock are entitled to vote or provide consent.

Holders of special stock are not entitled to vote on or consent to any matter of MIC Corp., except those matters explicitly set forth in the certificate of incorporation, which are as follows:

any further authorization for issuance of shares of special stock, which issuance will require the prior affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of a majority of the shares outstanding of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class;

any issuance of shares of preferred stock (if the preferred stock proposal is consummated), which issuance will require the prior affirmative or written consent of the holders of a majority of the shares outstanding of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class;

any amendment of any provision of the certificate of incorporation or bylaws that would adversely affect the rights of holders of special stock as a class, which amendment will require the prior affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of a majority of the shares outstanding of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class;

election of one director who will act as the chairman of the board of directors, which election will require the holders of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class and is discussed immediately below in the section entitled Election of One Director ;

removal of any director for cause, which removal will require the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock and special stock (and any series of preferred stock then entitled to vote at an election of directors if the shareholders approve the preferred stock proposal), voting together as a single class; and removal of any director elected by the holders of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, without cause, which removal will require the affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of at 66 2/3% of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class.

Election of One Director. Under the certificate of incorporation, holders of special stock will be entitled to elect one director, who will act as the chairman of the board of directors, at any time when the amended management services agreement is in effect and the manager or any of its affiliate holds at least 200,000 shares of common stock (as adjusted to reflect any subsequent equity splits or similar recapitalizations).

Dividends. The certificate of incorporation provides that holders of special stock are not entitled to any dividends of MIC Corp.

Transfer Restriction. The certificate of incorporation provides that holders of special stock may not offer, sell, pledge, transfer, dispose or distribute shares of special stock or enter into any agreement with respect to the foregoing.

Redemption. Upon the earlier of (i) the termination of the amended management services agreement or (ii) the date on which neither the manager nor any of its affiliates holds at least 200,000 shares of common stock (as adjusted to reflect any subsequent equity splits or similar recapitalizations), which event is referred to as a redemption event in this proxy statement/prospectus, all outstanding shares of special stock will be redeemed by MIC Corp. at a price equal to $0.001 per share, within five business days after MIC Corp. becomes aware of the occurrence of a redemption event. If MIC Corp. does not have sufficient funds legally available to redeem all outstanding shares of special stock, MIC Corp. will redeem a pro rata portion of each holder's redeemable shares out of any legally available funds and redeem the remaining shares as soon as practicable after MIC Corp. has funds legally available thereafter. Any shares of special stock which are redeemed or otherwise acquired by MIC Corp. or any of its subsidiaries will be automatically and immediately canceled and retired and will not be reissued, sold or transferred. Neither MIC Corp. nor any of its subsidiaries may exercise any voting or other rights granted to the holders of special stock following redemption.

Other Rights. Holders of special stock will not be entitled to share in any distribution of assets in the event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the affairs of MIC Corp.

Trading. The outstanding shares of special stock will not be listed on any stock exchange.

Anti-Takeover Provisions in the Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws

Certain provisions of the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws could make it less likely that the manager will be changed or someone will acquire voting control of MIC Corp. without the consent of the board of directors. These provisions could delay, deter or prevent tender offers or takeover attempts that shareholders might believe are in their best interests, including tender offers or takeover attempts that could allow shareholders to receive premiums over the market price of the common stock. The operating agreement currently in effect for MIC LLC includes provisions substantially similar to the provisions described below. For further discussion of the rights of the shareholders under the operating agreement, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws, see the section entitled "Comparison of Rights of Shareholders Before and After the Conversion" beginning on page 44 of this proxy statement/prospectus.

Special Meeting of Shareholders. The certificate of incorporation and the bylaws provide that a special meeting of shareholders may be called only by the secretary of MIC Corp., either at the direction of the board of directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by the board of directors or by the chairman of the board of directors.

No Shareholder Action Without a Meeting. The certificate of incorporation and the bylaws provide that, subject to the rights of the holders of any class of stock that have been expressly granted the right to take action by written consent, no action will be taken by the shareholders by written consent. Any actions required or permitted to be taken by the shareholders may only be taken at an annual or special meeting of the shareholders. However, actions that require a vote of the holders of special stock as a separate class may be taken by written consent without a meeting.

Nomination Procedures. Under the bylaws, for a shareholder to nominate individuals for election to the board of directors (other than the director to be elected by the holders of special stock) at an annual or special meeting of shareholders, the shareholder must follow the advance notice procedures described in the bylaws.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

In general, to deliver timely notice of a nomination for (i) an annual meeting of shareholders, a shareholder must submit a written notice of the proposed nomination to the corporate secretary of MIC Corp. at least 120 days but not more than 150 days before the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting, and (ii) a special meeting of shareholders, a shareholder must submit such written notice at least 120 days but not more than the later of the 90th day prior to such special meeting or the 10th day following the day on which public announcement is first made of the special meeting date and of the proposed nominees.

Proposal Procedures. Under the bylaws, for a shareholder to propose business to be considered by the shareholders (other than nomination of individuals for elections to the board of directors) at an annual meeting of shareholders, the shareholder must follow the advance notice procedures described in the bylaws. In general, to deliver timely notice of business other than nominations of individuals for election to the board of directors for an annual meeting of shareholders, a shareholder must submit a written notice of the proposed nomination or other business to the corporate secretary of MIC Corp. at least 120 days but not more than 150 days before the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting.

Removal Procedures. The certificate of incorporation provides that any director may be removed for cause by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock, voting together as a single class. Any director elected by the holders of common stock, voting separately as a class, may be removed from office at any time, without cause, solely by the affirmative vote of at least 66 2/3% of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock as a separate class. Any director elected by the holders of special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, may be removed from office at any time, without cause, solely by the affirmative vote or written consent of the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of special stock as a separate class.

Rights Plan. Although MIC Corp. does not have a shareholder rights plan, under Delaware law, the board of directors could adopt such a plan without shareholder approval. If adopted, a shareholder rights plan could operate to cause substantial dilution to a person or group that attempts to acquire MIC Corp. on terms not approved by the board of directors.

Amendment of Certificate of Incorporation. Under the DGCL, the certificate of incorporation may be amended by an affirmative vote of a majority of the directors then in office and a majority of the outstanding stock and entitled to vote thereon.

Amendment of Bylaws. The certificate of incorporation and the bylaws provide that the board of directors may amend the bylaws by resolution adopted by the affirmative vote of a majority of the total number of directors then in office, subject to limitations under Delaware law. Section 6.6 (Replacement Manager) and Section 11.1 (Amendments) of the bylaws may not be amended without the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at a meeting of shareholders. For so long as the amended management services agreement is in effect, Section 3.7 (Appointment of Chairman of the Board), Article VI (Management), Section 11.1 (Amendments) and Section 11.2 (Execution of Amendments by Officers) of the bylaws may not be amended without the prior written consent of the manager.

Authorized But Unissued Shares. The unissued shares of authorized capital stock may be issued for a variety of purposes, including acquisitions, compensation and incentive plans and future public or private offerings to raise additional capital. One of the effects of the existence of such unissued shares may be to enable the board of directors to discourage or prevent a potential acquisition or takeover (by means of a tender or exchange offer, proxy contest or otherwise) and thereby to protect the continuity of the management.

Effect of Management Services Agreement. In addition to the limited circumstances in which the manager can be terminated under the terms of the existing management services agreement, the management services agreement provides that in circumstances where the LLC interests cease to be listed on a recognized U.S. exchange as a result of the acquisition of LLC interests by third parties in an amount that results in the stock ceasing to meet the distribution and trading criteria on such exchange or market, the manager has the option to either propose an alternate fee structure and remain MIC LLC's manager or resign, terminate the management services agreement upon 30 days' written notice and be paid a substantial termination fee. The termination fee payable on the manager's exercise of its right to resign as the manager subsequent to a delisting of LLC interests could delay or prevent a change in control that may favor shareholders. Furthermore, in the event of such a delisting, any proceeds from the sale, lease or exchange of a significant amount of assets must be reinvested in new assets of MIC LLC, subject to debt repayment obligations. MIC LLC would also be prohibited from incurring any new indebtedness or engaging in any transactions with shareholders of MIC LLC or its affiliates without the prior written approval of the manager. These provisions could deprive shareholders of opportunities to realize a premium on the shares owned by them. These provisions will remain in place with respect to the common stock of MIC Corp. following the conversion.

Business Combinations

MIC Corp. will be subject to Section 203 of the DGCL, which is substantially similar to the provisions set forth under the operating agreement. In general, Section 203 prohibits an interested stockholder from engaging in a business combination with a Delaware corporation for three years following the date such person became an interested stockholder, unless:

prior to the date such person became an interested stockholder, the board of directors of the corporation approved the transaction in which the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder or approved the business combination;

upon consummation of the transaction that resulted in the interested stockholder becoming an interested stockholder, the interested stockholder owned at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding stock held by directors who are also officers of the corporation and stock held by certain employee stock plans; or on or subsequent to the date of the transaction in which such person became an interested stockholder, the business combination is approved by the board of directors of the corporation and authorized at a meeting of shareholders by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation not owned by the interested stockholder.

Section 203 defines a business combination to generally include:

any merger or consolidation involving the corporation and an interested stockholder;

any sale, transfer, pledge or other disposition involving an interested stockholder of 10% or more of the assets of the corporation;

subject to certain exceptions, any transaction which results in the issuance or transfer by the corporation of any stock of the corporation to an interested stockholder;

any transaction involving the corporation which has the effect of increasing the proportionate share of any class or series of stock of the corporation beneficially owned by the interested stockholder; or the receipt by an interested stockholder of any loans, guarantees, pledges or other financial benefits provided by or through the corporation.

Section 203 generally defines an interested stockholder as any entity or person beneficially owning 15% or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation and any entity or person affiliated with or controlling or controlled by such entity or person.

The certificate of incorporation provides that MIC Corp. will not merge or consolidate with any other entity or sell, lease or exchange its property and assets, unless the board of directors adopts a resolution approving such action by the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the total number of directors then in office and an affirmative vote of the shareholders holding a majority of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of stock of MIC Corp. Any shares held by the manager or its affiliate or associate will not be entitled to vote on approval of any merger or consolidation with or into, or sale, lease or exchange to, the manager or its affiliate or associate. This provision is currently in effect for MIC LLC under the operating agreement.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The certificate of incorporation also provides that the affirmative vote of at least 66 2/3% of the then outstanding shares of stock of MIC Corp. (excluding shares held by an interested stockholder (as defined in the certificate of incorporation) or any of its affiliate or associate) is required to approve any business combination (as defined in the certificate of incorporation). Such affirmative vote is required notwithstanding any law or agreement with any securities exchange or otherwise. The continuing directors (as defined in the certificate of incorporation) will determine, on the basis of information known to them after reasonable inquiry, all facts necessary to determine compliance with the provisions relating to certain business combinations and transactions, including, without limitation, (a) whether a person is an interested stockholder, (b) the number of shares of stock of MIC Corp. beneficially owned by any person, (c) whether a person is an affiliate or associate of another and (d) the fair market value (as defined in the certificate of incorporation) of the equity securities of MIC Corp. or any of its subsidiaries.

This provision is currently in effect for MIC LLC under the operating agreement.

COMPARISON OF RIGHTS OF SHAREHOLDERS BEFORE AND AFTER THE CONVERSION

Upon the conversion of MIC LLC to a Delaware corporation, the rights of the shareholders who become holders of common stock, and who previously were governed by the DLLCA and the operating agreement, will be governed by the DGCL, the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws. While there are similarities between the organizational documents of a Delaware limited liability company and a Delaware corporation, a number of differences will exist. The following is a summary of the existing rights of the shareholders under the operating agreement and the rights that the shareholders will have under the certificate of incorporation and bylaws upon the conversion of MIC LLC to a Delaware corporation. For discussion of the rights of shareholders of preferred stock, see the section entitled "The Preferred Stock Proposal" beginning on page 35 of this proxy statement/prospectus. You should carefully read this entire proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents included or summarized in this proxy statement/prospectus for a more complete understanding of the differences between the rights of a shareholder of a Delaware limited liability company and the rights of a shareholder of a Delaware corporation. A copy of the certificate of incorporation and the bylaws are attached as Annex A-2 and Annex A-3, respectively, to this proxy statement/prospectus, and all documents material to the rights of shareholders are included, summarized or incorporated by reference in this proxy statement/prospectus.

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the LLC was formed on April 13, 2004 and has been operating under the Third Amended and Restated Operating Agreement of the LLC, dated as of June 22, 2007 (the Operating Agreement);

WHEREAS, upon the terms and subject to the conditions of this Plan of Conversion and in accordance with the LLC Act and the DGCL, the LLC will be converted to a Delaware corporation pursuant to and in accordance with Section 18-216 of the LLC Act and Section 265 of the DGCL (the Conversion); continuing its existence in the organizational form of a Delaware corporation. The Conversion shall not require the LLC to wind up its affairs under Section 18-803 of the LLC Act or pay its liabilities and distribute its assets under Section 18-804 of the LLC Act, and the Conversion shall not constitute a dissolution of the LLC. At the Effective Time (as defined below), for all purposes of the laws of the State of Delaware, all of the rights, privileges and powers of the LLC, and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due to the LLC, as well as all other things and causes of action belonging to the LLC, shall remain vested in the Corporation and shall be the property of the Corporation, and title to any real property vested by deed or otherwise in the LLC shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of any provision of the LLC Act; but all rights of creditors and all liens upon any property of the LLC shall be preserved unimpaired, and all debts, liabilities and duties of the LLC shall remain attached to the Corporation, and may be enforced against the Corporation to the same extent as if said debts, liabilities and duties had originally been incurred or contracted by it in its capacity as a Delaware corporation. SECTION 1.06 Termination. This Plan of Conversion may be terminated and the Conversion abandoned by action of the Board at any time prior to the Effective Time (a Termination). Upon a Termination, if the Certificate of Conversion and the Certificate of Incorporation have been filed with the Secretary of State, but have not become effective, any person or entity that was authorized to execute, deliver and file such certificates, including an Authorized Officer, may execute, deliver and file a certificate of termination terminating such certificates.

of the transfer agent or other agent of the Corporation that the notice has been given by personal delivery, mail or a form of electronic transmission shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

(iii) Notice of any meeting of stockholders need not be given to any stockholder if waived by such stockholder either in a writing signed by such stockholder or by electronic transmission, whether such waiver is given before or after such meeting is held. If such a waiver is given by electronic transmission, the electronic transmission must either set forth or be submitted with information from which it can be determined that the electronic transmission was authorized by the stockholder.

2.5 Record Date.

(i) In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, the Board of Directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors, and which record date shall not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days before the date of such meeting. If no record date is fixed by the Board of Directors, the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held.

(ii) A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of such meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for determination of stockholders entitled to vote at the reconvened meeting, and in such case shall also fix as the record date for stockholders entitled to notice of such reconvened meeting the same or an earlier date as that fixed for determination of stockholders entitled to vote in accordance with the provisions of Section 213 of the DGCL and this Section 2.5 at the reconvened meeting.

(iii) In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights or the stockholders entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock, or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted, and which record date shall be not more than sixty (60) days prior to such action. If no record date is fixed, the record date for determining stockholders for any such purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors adopts the resolution relating thereto.

2.6 Quorum and Adjournment.

Except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation of the Corporation (the Certificate of Incorporation), these Bylaws or the rules of any applicable stock exchange, the holders of a majority of the voting power of the stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote, present in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of stockholders. Where a separate vote by a class or series or classes or series is required, a majority of the voting power of the issued and outstanding shares of such class or series or classes or series, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum entitled to take action with respect to that vote on that matter, except as otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws or the rules of any applicable stock exchange.

The Chairman of the Board or the holders of a majority of the voting power of the stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote so represented may adjourn the meeting from time to time, whether or not there is such a quorum. The stockholders present at a duly organized meeting at which a quorum is present in person or by proxy may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal of enough stockholders to leave less than a quorum.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

When a meeting is adjourned to another time and place, if any, unless otherwise provided by these Bylaws, notice need not be given of the reconvened meeting if the date, time and place, if any, thereof and the means of remote communication, if any, by which stockholders and proxyholders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such reconvened meeting are announced at the meeting at which the adjournment is taken. At the reconvened meeting, the stockholders may transact any business that might have been transacted at the original meeting. A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of such meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the reconvened meeting in accordance with Section 213(a) of the DGCL and Section 2.5 of these Bylaws. If an adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days or if, after an adjournment, a new record date is fixed for the reconvened meeting, a notice of the reconvened meeting shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote at the meeting.

2.7 Proxies.

Each stockholder entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders may authorize another Person or Persons to act for such stockholder by proxy authorized by an instrument in writing or by a transmission permitted by law filed in accordance with the procedure established for the meeting, but no such proxy shall be voted or acted upon after three (3) years from its date, unless the proxy provides for a longer period. The revocability of a proxy that states on its face that it is irrevocable shall be governed by the provisions of Section 212 of the DGCL. A written proxy may be in the form of a telegram, cablegram, or other means of electronic transmission which sets forth or is submitted with information from which it can be determined that the telegram, cablegram, or other means of electronic transmission was authorized by the stockholder.

2.8 Nominations and Notice of Stockholder Business.

(i) General.

(a) Only individuals who are nominated in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.8 shall be eligible to be elected as directors at a meeting of stockholders and only such business shall be conducted at a meeting of stockholders as shall have been brought before the meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.8. Except as otherwise provided by applicable law or this Section 2.8, the Chairman of the Board shall have the power and duty to determine whether a nomination or any business proposed to be brought before the meeting was made in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.8 and, if any proposed nomination or business is not in compliance with this Section 2.8 (including if the stockholder or stockholders of record intending to propose the business (or a qualified representative of such stockholder) did not appear at the meeting to present the proposed business), to declare that such defective proposal or nomination shall be disregarded. To be considered a qualified representative of such stockholder, a person must be a duly authorized officer, manager, or partner of such stockholder or must be authorized by a writing executed by such stockholder or an electronic transmission delivered by such stockholder to act for such stockholder as a proxy at the meeting and such person must produce such writing or electronic transmission, or a reliable reproduction of the writing or electronic transmission, at the meeting. The requirements of this Section 2.8 shall apply to any nominations or business to be brought by a stockholder before a meeting of the stockholders notwithstanding (A) any reference in these Bylaws to the Exchange Act or the rules or regulations promulgated thereunder or (B) that the underlying matter may already be the subject of a notice to the stockholders or public disclosure. Subject to compliance with the requirements of this Section 2.8, nothing in this Section 2.8 shall be deemed to affect any rights of stockholders to request inclusion of proposals in the Corporation's proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act (or any successor provision of law).

(b) For purposes of this Section 2.8, public announcement shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Associated Press or comparable national news service or in a document publicly filed by the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) pursuant to Section 13, 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act.

Nothing in this Section 2.8 shall be deemed to affect any rights of stockholders to request inclusion of proposals in the Corporation's proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act.

(ii) Annual Meetings of Stockholders.

(a) Nominations of individuals for election to the Board of Directors of the Corporation, other than the director to be elected by the holders of the Corporation's special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, and the proposal of business to be considered by the stockholders, may be made at an annual meeting of stockholders (A) pursuant to the Corporation's notice of meeting delivered pursuant to Section 2.4 hereof, (B) by or at the direction of the Board of Directors or (C) by any stockholder who is entitled to vote at the meeting, who complies with the notice procedures set forth in clauses (b) and (c) of this Section 2.8(ii).

(b) For nominations or other business to be properly brought before an annual meeting by a stockholder pursuant to clause (C) of the first paragraph of Section 2.8(ii)(a), even if such matter is already the subject of any notice to the stockholders or public disclosure from the Board of Directors, the stockholder must have given timely notice thereof in writing to the Secretary and, in the case of business other than nominations, such other business must otherwise be a proper matter for stockholder action under the DGCL and, if such stockholder, or the beneficial owner on whose behalf any such proposal or nomination is made or any Associated Person, solicits or participates in the solicitation of proxies in support of such proposal, such stockholder must have timely indicated its, or each such person's, intention to do so as provided in Section 2.8(ii)(c) below. To be timely, a stockholder's notice shall be delivered to the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not less than one hundred and twenty (120) days nor more than one hundred and fifty (150) days prior to the first anniversary of the preceding year's annual meeting. (c) Subject to Section 2.8(ii)(a), for nominations to be properly brought before an annual meeting by a stockholder such stockholder's notice shall set forth: (A) as to each individual whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election or reelection as a director and each Proposed Nominee Associated Person, as applicable, (1) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person; (2) the principal occupation or employment of such person; (3) the class and number of shares of capital stock of the Corporation which are owned of record and beneficially owned by such person; (4) a description of all arrangements or understandings between such stockholder and each such person pursuant to which the nomination or nominations are to be made by the stockholder; and (5) any other information relating to such person that is required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filing required to be made in connection with the solicitations of proxies for elections of directors, or is otherwise required, in each case pursuant to Section 14 of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (including, without limitation, such nominee's written consent to being named in the proxy statement as a nominee and to serving as a director if elected); and (B) as to such stockholder giving notice and each Stockholder Associated Person, the

In addition, a stockholder providing notice of any nomination shall update and supplement such notice from time to time so that the information provided or required to be provided in such notice pursuant to this Section 2.8(ii)(c) shall be true and correct in all material respects, and such update and supplement shall be received by the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not later than three (3) business days following the occurrence of any event, development or occurrence which would cause the information provided or required to be provided to be not true and correct in all material respects (or if such three (3) business day period ends after the date of the applicable meeting, not later than the day prior to such meeting). Notwithstanding anything in these Bylaws to the contrary, no nomination shall be brought forth at a meeting except nominations brought before the meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.8(ii). Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.8(ii)(c), a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the Exchange Act with respect to matters set forth in this Section 2.8(ii)(c).

(d) Subject to Section 2.8(ii)(a), as to any other business that the stockholder proposes to bring before the meeting, such stockholder's notice shall set forth: (A) a brief description of the business desired to be brought before the annual meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at the annual meeting (including the text of any resolutions proposed for consideration and, in the event that such business includes a proposal to amend these Bylaws, the language of the proposed amendment), (B) as to such stockholder and each Stockholder Associated Person, (1) the name and address, as they appear on the Corporation's books, of each such person and of any holder of record of the stockholder's shares, (2) the class and number of shares of the Corporation which are held of record or beneficially owned by each such person and owned by any holder of record of each such person's shares, as of the date of such stockholder's notice, and a representation that such stockholder will notify the Corporation in writing of the class and number of such shares held of record or beneficially owned by each such person as of the record date for the meeting not later than five (5) business days following the later of the record date or the date notice of the record date is first publicly disclosed, (3) any material interest of each such person in such business, (4) a description of any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to such business between or among each such person, and a representation that such stockholder will notify the Corporation in writing of any such agreement, arrangement or understanding in effect as of the record date for the meeting not later than five (5) business days following the later of the record date or the date notice of the record date is first publicly disclosed, (5) a description of any agreement, arrangement or understanding (including any derivative instruments, swaps, warrants, short positions, profit interests, options, hedging transactions, borrowed or loaned shares or other transactions) that has been entered into as of the date of such stockholder's notice by, or on behalf of, each such person, the effect or intent of which is to mitigate loss to, manage risk or benefit from share price changes for, or increase or decrease the voting power of each such person with respect to shares of stock of the Corporation, and a representation that such stockholder will notify the Corporation in writing of any such agreement, arrangement or understanding in effect as of the record date for the meeting not later than five (5) business days following the later of the record date or the date notice of the record date is first publicly disclosed, (6) a representation that such stockholder is a holder of record or beneficial owner of shares of the Corporation entitled to vote at the annual meeting and intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to propose such business, (7) whether any such person,

A stockholder providing notice of any matter (other than the nomination of a person for election to the Board of Directors) shall further update and supplement such notice so that the information provided or required to be provided in such notice shall be true and correct as of the record date for the applicable meeting and as of the date that is ten (10) business days prior to such meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof, and such update and supplement shall be delivered to, or mailed and received by, the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not later than five business days after the record date for such meeting (in the case of the update and supplement required to be made as of the record date), and not later than eight (8) business days prior to the date for such meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof (in the case of the update and supplement required to be made as of ten (10) business days prior to such meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof). In addition, a stockholder providing notice of any matter (other than the nomination of a person for election to the Board of Directors) shall update and supplement such notice from time to time so that the information provided or required to be provided in such notice pursuant to this Section 2.8(ii)(d) shall be true and correct in all material respects, and such update and supplement shall be received by the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not later than three (3) business days following the occurrence of any event, development or occurrence which would cause the information provided or required to be provided to be not true and correct in all material respects (or if such three (3) business day period ends after the date of the applicable meeting, not later than the day prior to such meeting). Notwithstanding anything in these Bylaws to the contrary, no business shall be conducted at an annual meeting except business brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Section 2.8(ii). Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 2.8(ii), a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to matters set forth in this Section 2.8.

For purposes of these Bylaws, (a) Associated Person shall mean any Stockholder Associated Person or Proposed Nominee Associated Person, (b) Proposed Nominee Associated Persons shall mean, with respect to the applicable Proposed Nominee, (1) any beneficial owner of shares of the Corporation owned of record or beneficially by such Proposed Nominee, (2) any associate of such Proposed Nominee or beneficial owner, (3) any affiliate of such Proposed Nominee or beneficial owner and (4) any other person acting in concert, directly or indirectly pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, understanding or otherwise, whether written or oral, with such Proposed Nominee or beneficial owner (or any of their respective affiliates or associates) and (c) Stockholder Associated Person(s) shall mean, with respect to the applicable stockholder, (1) any beneficial owner of shares of the Corporation owned of record or beneficially by such stockholder, (2) any associate of such stockholder or beneficial owner, (3) any affiliate of such stockholder or beneficial owner and (4) any other person acting in concert, directly or indirectly pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, understanding or otherwise, whether written or oral, with such stockholder or beneficial owner (or any of their respective affiliates or associates).

In addition to any other applicable requirements, for a nomination for election of a director to be made by a stockholder, such stockholder must (A) be a stockholder of record on both (1) the date of the delivery of such nomination or the date of the giving of the notice provided for in this Section 2.8(iii) and (2) the record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to vote at such special meeting, and (B) have given timely notice thereof in proper written form in accordance with the requirements of Section 2.8(ii) to the Secretary.

(b) In the event the Corporation calls a special meeting of stockholders for the purpose of electing one (1) or more directors to the Board of Directors, any such stockholder may nominate such number of individuals for election to such position(s) as are specified in the Corporation's notice of meeting, if the stockholder's notice as required by clause (c) of Section 2.8(ii) of these Bylaws shall be delivered to the Secretary at the principal executive offices of the Corporation not earlier than the one hundred and twentieth (120th) day prior to such special meeting and not later than the close of business on the later of the ninetieth (90th) day prior to such special meeting or the tenth (10th) day following the day on which public announcement is first made of the date of the special meeting and of the nominees proposed by the Board of Directors to be elected at such meeting. In no event shall the public announcement of an adjournment or postponement of a special meeting commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above.

2.9 Procedure for Election of Directors: Voting.

The stockholders entitled to vote at any meeting of stockholders shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation and Section 2.5 of these Bylaws, subject to Section 217 (relating to voting rights of fiduciaries, pledgors and joint owners of stock) and Section 218 (relating to voting trusts and other voting agreements) of the DGCL.

Except as may be otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, each stockholder shall be entitled to one (1) vote for each share of capital stock held by such stockholder.

Except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws or the rules of any applicable stock exchange, the election of directors submitted to stockholders at any meeting shall be decided by a plurality of the votes cast thereon. Except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws or the rules of any applicable stock exchange, all matters other than the election of directors submitted to the stockholders at any meeting shall be decided by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting of stockholders. Where a separate vote by a class or series or classes or series is required, in all matters other than the election of directors, the affirmative vote of the majority of the voting power of shares of such class or series or classes or series present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting shall be the act of such class or series or classes or series, except as otherwise provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws or the rules of any applicable stock exchange.

The vote on any matter at a meeting, including the election of directors, shall be by written ballot. Each ballot shall be signed by the stockholder voting, or by such stockholder's proxy, and shall state the number of shares of capital stock voted.

2.10 Inspectors of Elections: Opening and Closing the Polls.

(i) The Board of Directors by resolution shall appoint one or more inspectors, which inspector or inspectors shall not be directors, officers or employees of the Corporation, to act at the meeting and make a written report thereof. One or more individuals may be designated as alternate inspectors to replace any inspector who fails to act. If no inspector or alternate has been so appointed to act, or if all inspectors or alternates who have been appointed are unable to act, at a meeting of stockholders, the Chairman of the Board shall appoint one or more inspectors to act at the meeting. Each such inspector, before discharging his or her duties, shall take and sign an oath faithfully to execute the duties of inspector with strict impartiality and according to the best of his or her ability. The inspectors shall have the duties prescribed by the DGCL.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

The inspectors of election shall perform their duties impartially, in good faith, to the best of their ability and as expeditiously as is practical. If there are three (3) inspectors of election, the decision, act or certificate of a majority is effective in all respects as the decision, act or certificate of all. Any report or certificate made by the inspectors of election is prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

(ii) The Chairman of the Board shall fix and announce at the meeting the date and time of the opening and the closing of the polls for each matter upon which the stockholders will vote at the meeting.

2.11 Conduct of Business.

The chairperson of any meeting of stockholders shall determine the order of business and the procedure at the meeting, including such regulation of the manner of voting and the conduct of business. The chairperson of any meeting of stockholders shall be designated by the Board of Directors; in the absence of such designation, the Chairman of the Board, if any, the Chief Executive Officer (in the absence of the Chairman of the Board) or the lead Independent Director (in the absence of the Chairman of the Board and the Chief Executive Officer), or in their absence any other executive officer of the Corporation, shall serve as chairperson of the stockholder meeting.

As used in these Bylaws, Independent Director means a director who (i) is not an officer or employee of the Corporation, or an officer, director or employee of any Subsidiary of the Corporation, (ii) was not appointed as a director pursuant to the terms of the Management Services Agreement, (iii) for so long as the Management Services Agreement is in effect, is not affiliated with the Manager or Macquarie Group Limited, and (iv) who complies with the independence requirements under the Exchange Act, the Rules and Regulations and the applicable rules, if any, of the principal U.S. securities exchange on which the shares of stock of the Corporation are listed or quoted, as the case may be (the Applicable Listing Rules).

2.12 Waiver of Notice.

Whenever any notice is required to be given to any stockholder by the DGCL, the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, a waiver thereof in writing, signed by the Person or Persons entitled to such notice, or a waiver thereof by electronic transmission by the Person or Persons entitled to notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be deemed equivalent to the giving of such notice. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any annual or special meeting of the stockholders need be specified in any written waiver of notice or any waiver by electronic transmission of such meeting.

2.13 Remote Communication.

For the purposes of these Bylaws, if authorized by the Board of Directors in its sole discretion, and subject to such guidelines and procedures as the Board of Directors may adopt, stockholders and proxyholders may, by means of remote communication:

(i) participate in a meeting of stockholders; and

(ii) be deemed present in person and vote at a meeting of stockholders, whether such meeting is to be held at a designated place or solely by means of remote communication, provided, however, that (i) the Corporation shall implement reasonable measures to verify that each Person deemed present and permitted to vote at the meeting by means of remote communication is a stockholder or proxyholder, (ii) the Corporation shall implement reasonable measures to provide such stockholders and proxyholders a reasonable opportunity to participate in the meeting and to vote on matters submitted to the stockholders, including an opportunity to read or hear the proceedings of the meeting substantially concurrently with such proceedings and (iii) if any stockholder or proxyholder votes or takes other action at the meeting by means of remote communication, a record of such vote or other action shall be maintained by the Corporation.

2.14 No Stockholder Action Without a Meeting.

Subject to the rights of the holders of the shares of any series of preferred stock or any other class of stock or series thereof that have been expressly granted the right to take action by written consent, stockholders of the Corporation shall take any action required or permitted only at a meeting of stockholders duly called and noticed, and no action shall be taken by the stockholders by written consent.

2.15 List of Stockholders.

The Secretary shall make, at least ten (10) days before every meeting of stockholders, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting, arranged in alphabetical order, and showing the address of each stockholder and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting for a period of at least ten (10) days prior to the meeting: (i) on a reasonably accessible electronic network, provided that the information required to gain access to such list is provided with the notice of the meeting, or (ii) during ordinary business hours, at the principal place of business of the Corporation. In the event that the Corporation determines to make the list available on an electronic network, the Corporation may take reasonable steps to ensure that such information is available only to stockholders. The list shall be produced and kept at the time and place of the meeting during the whole time thereof, and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present.

ARTICLE III

DIRECTORS

3.1 General Powers.

The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be managed by or under the direction of its Board of Directors, except as may be otherwise provided in the DGCL or the Certificate of Incorporation. No director is authorized to act individually on behalf of the Corporation and the Board of Directors shall only take action in accordance with the quorum and other requirements provided by these Bylaws.

In addition to the powers and authorities expressly conferred upon it by these Bylaws, the Board of Directors may exercise all such powers of the Corporation and do all such lawful acts and things as are not by applicable law, including the Rules and Regulations, or by the Certificate of Incorporation or by these Bylaws required to be exercised or done by the stockholders. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, it shall be the responsibility of the Board of Directors to establish broad objectives and the general course of the business, determine basic policies, appraise the adequacy of overall results, and generally represent and further the interests of the stockholders.

3.2 Number, Tenure and Qualifications.

The number of directors shall be fixed from time to time exclusively pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Directors, but shall consist of not less than four (4) nor more than twelve (12) directors. However, no decrease in the number of directors constituting the Board of Directors shall shorten the term of any incumbent director. The term of each director shall be the period from the effective date of such director's election to the next annual meeting of stockholders until such director's successor is duly elected and qualified or until such director's earlier death, resignation or removal. Directors need not be residents of the State of Delaware or stockholders.

3.3 Election of Directors.

Except as provided in Section 3.6 and with respect to the director to be elected by the holders of the Corporation's special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, the directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of stockholders. At any meeting of stockholders duly called and held for the election of directors at which a quorum is present, directors shall be elected by a plurality of the voting power of the shares of the Corporation's common stock present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting of stockholders. For the avoidance of doubt, (i) the holders of the Corporation's special stock may elect the director to be elected by the holders of the Corporation's special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, at a meeting of the holders of the Corporation's special stock or by written consent and (ii) the holders of the Corporation's common stock may elect all other directors, voting separately as a class, in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, at a meeting of the holders of the Corporation's common stock.

3.4 Removal.

Any director may be removed from office in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation. If any directors are so removed, new directors may be elected by the stockholders at the same meeting in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation and Section 3.3 hereof.

3.5 Resignations.

Any director may resign at any time upon notice of such resignation to the Corporation. A resignation is effective when the resignation is delivered unless the resignation specifies a later effective date or an effective date determined upon the happening of an event or events. An Independent Director who ceases to be independent shall promptly resign to the extent required for the Corporation or the Manager to comply with applicable laws, rules and regulations.

3.6 Vacancies and Newly Created Directorships.

Vacancies and newly created directorships shall be filled in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation.

If at any time, by reason of death or resignation or other cause, the Corporation should have no directors in office, then any officer or any stockholder or an executor, administrator, trustee or guardian of a stockholder, or other fiduciary entrusted with like responsibility for the person or estate of a stockholder, may call a special meeting of stockholders in accordance with the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation or these Bylaws, or may apply to the Delaware Court of Chancery for a decree summarily ordering an election as provided in Section 211 of the DGCL.

If, at the time of filling any vacancy or any newly created directorship, the directors then in office constitute less than a majority of the whole Board of Directors (as constituted immediately prior to any such increase), the Delaware Court of Chancery may, upon application of any stockholder or stockholders holding at least ten percent (10%) of the voting power of the voting stock at the time outstanding having the right to vote for such directors, summarily order an election to be held to fill any such vacancies or newly created directorships, or to replace the directors chosen by the directors then in office as aforesaid, which election shall be governed by the provisions of Section 211 of the DGCL as far as applicable.

3.7 Appointment of Chairman of the Board.

For so long as the holders of the Corporation's special stock, voting or consenting separately as a class, are entitled to elect a director of the Board of Directors pursuant to the provisions of the Certificate of Incorporation, such director shall serve as Chairman of the Board. In all other cases, the Board of Directors shall appoint a Chairman of the Board from among its members.

3.8 Chairman of the Board.

The Chairman of the Board shall be a member of the Board of Directors. The Chairman of the Board is not required to be an employee of the Corporation. The Chairman of the Board, if present, shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors.
