MITSUI TO EXPAND SUPPLY CAPACITY AT WESTERN AUSTRALIAN IRON ORE
JOINT VENTURES WITH BHPB
- RESPONDING TO THE TIGHTNESS OF THE WORLD IRON ORE MARKET -

Mitsui & Co., Ltd. (Mitsui) today announced that it will increase supply capacity at its Western Australian iron ore operations, jointly owned with the world's largest mining house, BHP Billiton Limited / BHP Billiton Plc (BHP Billiton).

Mitsui, together with BHP Billiton and Itochu Corporation, currently operates three iron ore joint ventures, namely, Mt. Newman JV, Yandi JV, and Goldsworthy JV. (The participating interests of each company in the three joint ventures are 7%, 85% and 8%, respectively.) The three joint ventures exported approximately 100 million tons of iron ore in 2004 and 50 million in the first half of 2005, mainly to Asian markets.

Ten years ago, in 1995, the world's iron ore seaborne trade totaled approximately 400 million tons. Since then, it has increased by approximately 200 million tons, reaching nearly 600 million tons in 2004, due to, in particular, the rapid increase in China's imports. The world's iron ore seaborne trade is expected to grow another 200-300 million tons by 2010.

In order to comply with the future increase in iron ore demand, the three joint ventures are planning for staged expansions of supply capacity. As a step, they approved an expansion plan to add 20 million tons per annum (Mtpa) to their capacity, upgrading combined capacity to 129 Mtpa by 2008.

The capital expenditure for the expansion work will total A$2.2 billion (180 billion yen). Mitsui will bear approximately A$150 million (approximately 12.6 billion yen). The expansion will focus mainly on Mining Area C mine and encompass future expansions of rail systems and the loading port, which is meant to bring improved efficiency in operations and reduce overall operating costs.

Following the expansion investments, Mitsui's equity production of iron ore from the three joint ventures will increase from the current 7 Mtpa to approximately 9 Mtpa.

In response to the worldwide tightness of iron ore supply, Mitsui will contribute to expanding supply capacity.
