SALE OF AVIATION INFORMATION SOLUTIONS BUSINESSES

Spirent plc (LSE: SPT; NYSE: SPM), a leading international network technology company, announces that it has sold its Aviation Information Solutions businesses (AIS) from within its Systems group to Teledyne Technologies Incorporated for a cash consideration of $6.85 million (approximately £4.1 million). The sale does not include Spirent's aviation maintenance, repair and overhaul software business.

AIS, with locations in the US, Canada and the UK, is a leading supplier of integrated hardware and software solutions for the aviation industry. AIS has approximately 100 employees and will become part of the Teledyne Controls division.

AIS had sales of £10.8 million in the year to 31 December 2002. The estimated book value of the businesses being sold is £3.0 million with associated reinstated goodwill of £2.3 million.

Nicholas Brookes, Chief Executive of Spirent, said:

"AIS has a strong position in its markets and will benefit from ownership by a company that can obtain strategic and synergistic benefits. This sale represents a further step in our strategy of focusing on network technology activities."

This press release may contain forward-looking statements (as that term is defined in the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act 1995) based on current expectations or beliefs, as well as assumptions about future events. You can sometimes, but not always, identify these statements by the use of a date in the future or such words as "will," "anticipate," "estimate," "expect," "project," "intend," "plan," "should," "may," "assume" and other similar words. By their nature, forward-looking statements are inherently predictive and speculative and involve risk and uncertainty because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that will occur in the future. You should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which are not a guarantee of future performance and are subject to factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied by these statements. Such factors include, but are not limited to: our ability to improve efficiency and adapt to the current economic downturn and other changes in demand; our ability to avoid a breach of our financial covenants and to achieve certain financial requirements under our renegotiated borrowing terms; our ability to meet and achieve the benefits of our cost reduction goals and otherwise successfully adopt cost structures to respond to changes in business conditions; risks that our cost cutting initiatives will impair our ability to develop products, operate our business effectively and remain competitive; the extent of our pension fund deficit; the effects of competition on our business; our ability to develop and commercialise new products and services and realise product synergies; risks relating to the acquisition or sale of businesses and our subsequent ability to integrate businesses; changes in the business, financial condition or prospects of one or more of our major customers and our reliance on a limited number of customers; our reliance on third party manufacturers and suppliers; risks of not retaining or increasing market share; our exposure to liabilities for product defects; our reliance on proprietary technology; our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; risks of doing business internationally; changes in market conditions in the markets in which we participate or in general economic or political conditions; fluctuations in exchange rates and heavy exposure to a weakening US dollar; and other risks described from time to time in Spirent plc's Securities and Exchange Commission periodic reports and filings. The Company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statements contained in this press release, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
