Report of Independent Certified Public Accountants

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Express-1 Inc.

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet(s) of Express-1, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the related statements of operations, changes in stockholders' equity, and cash flows for the years, then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of Express-1, Inc. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. These standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Express 1, Inc. as of December 31, 2003 and 2002 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Description of Business and Organization

Express-1, Inc. (Express-1 or the Company) is incorporated in the state of Michigan and headquartered in Buchanan, Michigan. The Company is engaged in the business of expedited trucking and is licensed to carry cargo in the 48 continental states and Canada. The Company runs automobiles, cargo vans, straight trucks and tractor-trailers and charter planes. These vehicles run under the Company's authority in addition to brokering freight to other approved carriers to provide their customers service. The Company's customer base is made up primarily of manufacturers located in the Midwest and Southeast United States.

Express-1 was founded in 1989 in a small business incubator in Niles, Michigan with a cargo van, a straight truck and a pager. The Company has forged a partnership between drivers and management to build Express-1's reputation as a premier trucking company. The company currently occupies a 20,000 square foot facility in Buchanan, Michigan and regularly contracts with over 150 owner operators all equipped with the latest telecommunication technology. Express-1 is ISO 9001-2000 certified and has embraced this management philosophy and practice throughout its operations.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Method of accounting

The Company prepares its financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These principles require management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. The Company reviews its estimates, including but not limited to, purchased transportation, recoverability of long-lived assets and allowance for doubtful accounts, on a regular basis and makes adjustments based on historical experiences and existing and expected future conditions. These evaluations are performed and adjustments are made, as information is available. Management believes that these estimates are reasonable; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are defined as highly liquid investments that have original maturities of three months or less. The majority of cash is maintained with a major financial institution in the United States. Deposits with this bank may exceed the amount of insurance provided on such deposits. Generally, these deposits may be redeemed upon demand and, therefore, bear minimal risk.

Table of ContentsNOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS*2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies Continued*Accounts receivable*

The Company extends credit to its various customers based on the customer's ability to pay. The Company provides for estimated losses on accounts receivable considering a number of factors, including the overall aging of the receivables, previous history with the customer and the customer's current ability to pay its obligation to the Company. Based on management's review of accounts receivable, an allowance for doubtful accounts of approximately $27,000 and approximately $12,000 is considered necessary as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The Company does not accrue for interest on delinquent accounts.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Expenditures for maintenance and repair costs are expensed as incurred. Major improvements that increase the estimated useful life of an asset are capitalized. Depreciation is computed using an accelerated method of depreciation over the following estimated useful lives of the related assets:

	Years
Office furniture	7-10
Office equipment	5-7
Automotive	5-7
Communication equipment	3-5
Trucks	3-5
Leasehold improvements	Lease term

Prepaid expenses and other current assets

Prepaid expenses and other current assets consist primarily of prepaid insurance.

Revenue recognition

Operating revenues for expediting services are recognized on the date the freight is delivered. Related costs of deliveries, which includes accrued owner / operator expense, are accrued as incurred and are also recognized when the freight is delivered.

Income taxes

The Company, with the consent of the stockholders, has elected under Sections 1361 through 1379 (sub-chapter S) of the Internal Revenue Code to be treated substantially as a partnership instead of as a corporation for income tax purposes. As a result, the stockholders will report the entire corporate taxable income and investment credit on their individual tax returns. Therefore, no provision for income taxes has been made to these financial statements.
