Holders of record of the Company's common stock, par value $0.01 per share (Common Stock), and holders of the Company's Series C 9% Convertible Preferred Stock (Series C Preferred Stock), at the close of business on April 14, 2009, are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Annual Meeting. On April 9, 2009, there were 23,431,175 shares of Common Stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the meeting, including 2,767,179 shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series C Preferred Stock. Each share of Common Stock is entitled to one vote and the holders of the Series C Preferred Stock are entitled to one vote for each share of Common Stock into which their Series C Preferred Stock may be converted; provided however, that the holders of the Series C Preferred Stock will not be entitled to vote on Proposal No. 1.

The enclosed proxy may be revoked at any time prior to the Annual Meeting by filing with the Secretary of the Company a written revocation or duly executed proxy bearing a later date. The proxy will also be deemed revoked with respect to any matter on which the shareholder votes in person at the Annual Meeting. Attendance at the Annual Meeting will not, in and of itself, constitute a revocation of a proxy.

This Proxy Statement is first being mailed to shareholders on or about April 24, 2009.

Quorum; Vote Required and Voting of Proxies

The presence, in person or by proxy, of a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock, including shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Series C Preferred Stock, is necessary to constitute a quorum. If a quorum is present, the election of directors is determined by plurality vote. Shareholders may not cumulate their votes for the election of directors. The affirmative vote of a majority of the votes present and entitled to vote at the Annual Meeting is required to approve Proposals No. 2 and No. 3 and to ratify Proposal No. 4 and is generally required to approve other proposals that may properly be brought before the Annual Meeting. Abstentions will be counted as votes AGAINST a proposal. If brokers do not receive instructions from beneficial owners as to the granting or withholding of proxies and may not or do not exercise discretionary power to grant a proxy with respect to such shares (a broker non-vote) on a proposal, then shares not voted on such proposal as a result will be counted as not present and not cast with respect to such proposal.

Edgar Filing: OMNI ENERGY SERVICES CORP - Form PRER14A

Unless otherwise marked, properly executed proxies in the form of the accompanying proxy card will be voted (i) FOR the election of the four nominees listed below to the Board, (ii) FOR approval of the amendment to the Seventh Amended and Restated OMNI Energy Services Corp. Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee

The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee provides assistance to the Board in fulfilling its responsibilities by identifying individuals qualified to become directors and recommending to the Board candidates for all directorships to be filled by the Board or by the shareholders of the Company. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee assists the Board in identifying directors qualified to serve on the committees established by the Board and recommends to the Board members for each committee to be filled by the Board. In addition, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee develops and recommends to the Board a set of corporate governance principles appropriate for the Company and consistent with the applicable laws, regulations and listing standards. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee periodically reviews the Company's governance principles, keeps abreast of developments with regard to corporate governance, and makes recommendations to the Board for changes in the principles as in its judgment may be appropriate. Board Independence

The Board has determined that except for Mr. Recatto, the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer, all the directors are independent as defined by Rule 4200(a)(15) of the NASDAQ Marketplace Rules. In making this determination, the Board considered transactions and relationships between each director or his immediate family and the Company and its subsidiaries, including those reported under Compensation Committee Interlocks and Insider Participation and Transactions with Related Persons below, and in the case of Mr. Kaufman, his past employment with Grant Thornton, L.L.P. The purpose of this review was to determine whether any such relationships or transactions were material and, therefore, inconsistent with a determination that the director is independent. There are no family relationships between any nominees, directors and executive officers, and the Board determined that Mr. Kaufman's prior employment with Grant Thornton L.L.P. did not change his status as an independent director.

Mr. Recatto is not an independent director because of his employment as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company.

Nomination Policy

The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee does not set minimum qualifications that nominees must meet in order for the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee to recommend them to the Board, but rather the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee will take into account the judgment, skill, diversity, experiences with business and other organizations of comparable size, the interplay of the nominees experiences with the experience of other directors, and the extent to which the candidate would be a desirable addition to the Board and any committees of the Board. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee discusses and evaluates possible candidates and has the authority to engage consultants. Once a candidate is identified whom the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee believes to be qualified to serve on the Board, the Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee will recommend that candidate to the Board to stand for election as a director at the next annual meeting of shareholders or, if applicable, at a special meeting of the shareholders. The Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee may consider candidates proposed by management, but is not required to do so. The Committee will consider nominees properly submitted by shareholders of the Company (as described below under Shareholder Nomination Policy).

Shareholder Nomination Policy

Article IV E of the Company's Articles of Incorporation provides certain procedures that shareholders must follow in making director nominations. AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

The duties and responsibilities of the Audit Committee are set forth in a written charter adopted by the Board of Directors. Each of the members of the Audit Committee is independent, as defined by Rule 10A-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and in Rule 4200(a)(15) of the NASDAQ Marketplace Rules for issuers whose securities are listed on the NASDAQ Stock Market.

Management is responsible for the Company's internal controls and the financial reporting process. The independent registered public accounting firm is responsible for performing an audit of the Company's consolidated financial statements and management's assessment on internal control over financial reporting in accordance with standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) and issuing a report thereon. It is the Audit Committee's responsibility to monitor these processes. The Audit Committee reviewed and discussed with management the Company's audited financial statements and management's report on internal control over financial reporting in accordance with Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

In this context, the Audit Committee has reviewed and discussed with the Company's independent public accounting firm the overall scope and plans for the independent audit. Management represented to the Audit Committee that the Company's consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. Discussions with the Company's independent public accounting firm about the Company's audited financial statements included the independent registered public accountants' judgments about the quality, not just the acceptability of the application of the accounting principles, the reasonableness of significant judgments and the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements. The Audit Committee also discussed with the independent registered public accountants other matters required by Statement on Auditing Standards (SAS) No. 61, Communication with Audit Committees, as amended by SAS No. 90, Audit Committee Communications.

The Company's independent registered public accounting firm provided to the Audit Committee the written disclosures and letter required by applicable requirements of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board regarding the independent registered public accounting firm's communications with the Audit Committee concerning independence, and the Audit Committee has discussed with the independent registered public accounting firm and management the independent registered public accounting firm's independence. In addition, the Audit Committee considered whether the other non-audit consulting services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm could impair the auditor's independence and concluded that such services have not impaired the independent registered public accountants' independence.

Based on the Audit Committee's discussion with management and the independent registered public accounting firm and the Audit Committee's review of the representations of management and the report of the independent registered public accounting firm to the Audit Committee, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board that the audited consolidated financial statements be included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2008, filed with the SEC.

COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Overview

The Company's executive compensation policies are designed to reward the achievement of specific annual, long-term and strategic goals by the Company and to align executive's interest with those of its shareholders by rewarding performance for achieving or exceeding established goals, with the ultimate objective of improving shareholder value. The Company seeks to provide aggregate compensation opportunities for its executives that are competitive in the business marketplace and that are based upon Company and individual performance. The Company's foremost objectives are to:

align executive pay and benefits with the performance of the Company; and attract, motivate, reward and retain the broad-based management talent required to achieve the Company's corporate objectives.

The Board approves the appointment of members to the Compensation Committee (the Committee). During 2008, the Committee consisted of Messrs. Colson, Gerevas and White (Chair). After reviewing the qualifications of the current members of the Committee, and any relationships that they may have with the Company, the Board has determined that all of the members of the Committee are independent members of the Committee as independence is defined by Rule 10A-3 under the Exchange Act and Rule 4200(a)(15) of the NASDAQ Stock Market.

The Committee recommends to the Board the compensation for the Company's executive officers and other key employees, administers the Incentive Plan and performs such other functions as may be prescribed by the Board. The Committee meets as often as it deems necessary to review and consider all elements of the Company's executive officers' compensation including base salary, incentive pay, long-term equity incentives, benefits and payout obligations under severance and change in control scenarios.

Benchmarking Tools

In 2006, the Committee engaged The Hay Group, an independent compensation consultant, to assist the Committee in the evaluation of executive compensation. In reviewing the appropriate range of overall compensation and the appropriate ranges of the components of compensation, the Committee used benchmarking tools and surveys presented by The Hay Group. The benchmarking tools and surveys presented by The Hay Group related to base compensation, short-term cash incentives and long-term non-cash incentives for executive officers. Surveys and proxies of a peer group of twelve companies comparable in size and nature of the business of the Company as identified by The Hay Group were used for comparison purposes (the Comparison Group). The Committee continues to use this peer group as a benchmarking tool for comparison purposes for evaluating the Company's overall executive compensation program.

Compensation Elements

Edgar Filing: OMNI ENERGY SERVICES CORP - Form PRER14A

In the aggregate, the Company's compensation program is designed to not only attract and retain desired employees in a highly competitive market, but also to reward quality individual contribution and overall Company performance. The Company's philosophy is to match executive compensation with the performance of the Company and the individual by using several compensation components for the Company's executives. The components of the Company's compensation program for its executives consist of:

base salary;

annual performance-based incentives paid in cash;

long-term performance-based incentives paid in stock options and restricted stock; and benefits.

Table of Contents

The Committee believes that the various elements of the Company's compensation program serve to support the overall objectives of the compensation program, and the Company considers several factors in making decisions to materially increase or decrease compensation either at the individual level or at the organizational level. At the individual level, those items considered include such things as employee performance, changes in scope of responsibility, contribution to the Company, changes in external market conditions and internal salary consistency. At the corporate level, the primary drivers of change in the compensation program include external market factors and overall Company performance.

The Company considers the overall business environment, Company circumstances, overall goals sought to be accomplished by the compensation adjustment, and the perceived desires of the executives and employees in allocating compensation adjustments between cash and non-cash compensation. Base salary adjustments are generally utilized to motivate employees in the immediate future and in the short term. Annual performance-based incentives paid in cash are utilized to award executives and employees for their contribution to the Company in recent periods while long-term performance-based equity incentives are utilized to cultivate loyalty and provide a sense of ownership among the executives and employees.

Compensation of many of the executives and key managers are set out in employment agreements. Determination of the amount of additional compensation in the form of performance-based incentives paid in cash are generally set out in the employment agreements and are based upon the accomplishment of certain pre-determined goals established in advance (i.e. levels of combined revenue, net income at the business unit level, personnel evaluations and statistics related to the Company's HSE record). A portion of the performance-based incentives (generally 60% of the total incentive) is left to the discretion of the Committee.

Direct Compensation

Base Salary

In order to attract, motivate and retain the caliber of highly skilled, qualified employees that the Company believes is necessary for continued growth, the Company targets base salaries of the Named Executives (as defined in the Summary Compensation Table below) to be near the market median of the Comparison Group. Based on the information presented by The Hay Group report, the Committee adjusts annual base salaries where necessary so that the salary levels of all of the Named Executives are generally near the market median levels of salaries of the Comparison Group. The Company pays base salaries to its Named Executives under employment agreements. The employment agreements provide that the base salaries of the Named Executives cannot be decreased, but the Committee has sole discretion to determine any base salary increases.

In the fourth quarter of each year, the Committee, in collaboration with the Chief Executive Officer (with respect to all other executive officers), reviews and sets the compensation for the following year, including any increases under the employment agreements. Company management makes no recommendations as to the President and Chief Executive Officer's compensation. For executive officers other than the President and Chief Executive Officer, the Committee receives additional recommendations from the Company's President and Chief Executive Officer.

Due to the current economic climate, effective April 1, 2009, Mr. Recatto voluntarily reduced his annual base salary for 2009 by 20%.

Employment Agreements. On December 31, 2007, the Company entered into an Amended and Restated Employment Agreement (the Amended Agreement) with Mr. Eckert. The Amended Agreement, which was effective until June 30, 2008, provided that Mr. Eckert would receive an annual base salary of $250,000, and he would be eligible to receive a bonus for 2007, which bonus was determined by the Compensation Committee of the Board before April 1, 2008. In connection with the Amended Agreement, the Company and Mr. Eckert entered into a Consulting Agreement effective December 31, 2007 (the Consulting Agreement). Under the terms of the Consulting Agreement, effective July 1, 2008, Mr. Eckert will serve as an independent contractor performing consulting services for the Company until June 30, 2009. The Consulting Agreement also contains a non-compete for a period of two years after the consulting services end. Pursuant to the Consulting Agreement, Mr. Eckert will be paid an aggregate of $1.2 million in quarterly payments of $100,000 each after an initial payment of $300,000 on January 1, 2009.

Effective January 2, 2008 and December 1, 2008, the Company entered into employment agreements with each of Messrs. Mogel and Recatto, respectively, which are in effect until January 1, 2012 and June 30, 2012, respectively. The agreements will be automatically extended for additional, successive one year periods at the expiration of their initial terms, unless either party gives notice of non-renewal as provided under the terms of the respective employment agreements. The annual base salaries under the employment agreements are $250,000 and $300,000 for each of Messrs. Mogel and Recatto, respectively. Both executives are eligible to receive an annual bonus. In 2008, each of Messrs. Mogel and Recatto were eligible to earn up to 125% of his annual salary through the achievement of targets determined by the Board upon approval of the 2008 OMNI Business Plan. The bonus is determined and if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but is paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year. Mr. Recatto's employment agreement also provides that if both parties agree, bonus payments may be in the form of restricted stock in lieu of cash.

Prior to the December 1, 2008 employment agreement, Mr. Recatto's employment was governed by an employment agreement with the Company's wholly-owned subsidiary, Charles Holston, Inc. Under this employment agreement, Mr. Recatto's annual base salary was $225,000. Additionally, pursuant to this employment agreement, Mr. Recatto was eligible to receive an annual bonus if certain business targets, which are adjusted annually as described in the employment agreement, were met. A portion of the bonus (60%) was at the discretion of the Compensation committee and the remaining portion (40%) was calculated based upon certain targets being achieved, including combined revenue, combined net income at the business unit level, personnel evaluations for each business unit and combined statistics. The bonus was not to exceed 75% of Mr. Recatto's annual base salary. The bonus was determined and if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but was paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year.

Table of Contents

The Company entered into an employment agreement effective September 23, 2006 with Mr. Harris that was in effect until December 31, 2008 and which has been extended for an additional one year period commencing on January 1, 2009. Mr. Harris's employment agreement will be automatically extended for additional, successive one year periods unless the Company or Mr. Harris gives notice of non-renewal as provided under the terms of his employment agreement. Annual base salary under Mr. Harris's employment agreement is $185,000 and Mr. Harris is eligible to receive an annual bonus if certain targets are met. The bonus targets are generated by the Chief Executive Officer, approved by the Board and presented to Mr. Harris on or before April 1 of each bonus year. The bonus is determined and, if appropriate, awarded by the Board during each calendar year, but is paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year.

Mr. Shaw's employment with the Company is governed by an employment agreement with CHI, effective February 28, 2007 and expiring on December 31, 2009. The agreement will be automatically extended for additional, successive one year periods, unless either party gives notice of non-renewal as provided under the terms of the employment agreement. Annual base salary under the agreement is $150,000 and Mr. Shaw is eligible to receive an annual bonus. The bonus targets are generated by the Chief Executive Officer, approved by the Board and presented to Mr. Shaw on or before April 1 of each bonus year. If a bonus is awarded by the Board, it will be paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for each such calendar year, but not later than April 1 of the following calendar year.

Mr. Vice's employment agreement with the Company, effective September 23, 2006, expired on December 31, 2008. Mr. Vice's annual base salary under his agreement was $185,000 and he was eligible to receive an annual bonus if certain business targets generated by the Chief Executive Officer and approved by the Board were met. For 2008, the bonus was determined to be appropriate and was paid following the closing of the Company's books and records for 2008. While the employment agreement with Mr. Vice was not renewed, Mr. Vice continues to be employed by the Company.

As discussed below, each of the Named Executives, other than Mr. Eckert, received an annual bonus based upon particular performance measures being met.

Annual Performance-Based Incentives Paid in Cash

In order to encourage and reward quality performance, the Company has developed an annual performance-based incentive program, which is paid in the form of a cash bonus. The Company believes that the program helps to focus its executive officers on financial and operational objectives that the Committee believes are primary drivers of the Company's stock price over time. The annual performance-based incentives paid in cash to certain of the Named Executives are provided for in their employment agreements (see "Employment Agreements" above). In making the bonus determination, the Committee evaluates (i) benchmark data from the Comparison Groups as included in the June 2006 report from The Hay Group; (ii) the Company's strategic initiatives; (iii) the ability of the positions to contribute to the profitability of the Company; (iv) the HSE statistics of the applicable departments; and (v) annual evaluations. Additionally, in 2008, the Committee used the following performance measures for all of the Named Executives:

Adjusted EBITDA;

Stock performance in comparison to the Company's peer group; and

HSE performance record.

Table of Contents

Set forth below is a table showing the bonuses awarded to the Named Executives for 2008 (paid in 2009):

| NAME | 2008 BONUS |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| James C. Eckert (1) | $ |
| Brian J. Recatto | $ 322,000 |
| Ronald Mogel | $ 268,000 |
| John A. Harris | $ 125,000 |
| Lawrence J. Shaw | $ 112,500 |
| Nolan C. Vice, Jr. | $ 75,000 |

- (1) Mr. Eckert resigned as President and Chief Executive Officer effective June 30, 2008, at which time he became a consultant to the Company.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

In order to retain key officers and to create a linkage between those key officers, Company performance and shareholders' interest, the Company has developed a long-term incentive program that awards either stock options or restricted stock. In determining the level of long-term incentive compensation, appropriate focus is given to the following factors:

appreciation of the Company's stock price;

management of ongoing operations and implementation of strategic plan; and the Company and individual's relationship to the Comparison Group.

The Company believes that the grant of annual equity awards further links the interests of senior management and the Company's shareholders. Therefore, the Company believes that the grant of stock options and the award of restricted stock are important components of annual compensation. The Company's executive officers, including each of the Named Executives, are eligible to receive awards under the Incentive Plan. In the second quarter of each year, the Committee sets the components of the long-term incentive compensation for that year. The Committee considers several factors in determining whether awards are granted to an executive officer under the Incentive Plan. In addition to the factors referenced above regarding an executive officer's overall compensation, factors include the executive's position in the Company, his performance and responsibilities, the amount of options or other awards, if any, currently held by the officer, and their vesting schedule.

Stock options are granted at exercise prices equal to 100% of the fair market value of the Common Stock on the grant date. Stock options vest quarterly over a three year period at a rate of one-twelfth per quarter and expire ten years from the date of grant.

Upon his appointment as Chief Operating Officer in early 2008, the Company granted Mr. Recatto non-qualified options to purchase 200,000 shares of Common Stock, pursuant to the Incentive Plan. The 200,000 shares vest as to 16,660 shares at the close of each calendar quarter through December 31, 2010. In addition, the Company granted Mr. Recatto 37,500 restricted shares of Common Stock which vest at the rate of 3,125 shares at the close of each calendar quarter through December 31, 2010.

Upon the execution of his employment agreement in January 2008, the Company granted Mr. Mogel non-qualified options to purchase 100,000 shares of Common Stock, pursuant to the Incentive Plan. The 100,000 shares vest as to 6,250 shares at the close of each quarter during the initial term of his employment agreement. In addition, the Company granted Mr. Mogel 25,000 restricted shares of Common Stock which vest as follows: 6,248 shares on January 14, 2009; 1,562 shares on the close of each calendar quarter thereafter through September 30, 2011, and the remaining 1,570 shares on December 31, 2011.

Table of Contents

The Company believes that the grant of these equity awards is in alignment with the Company's overall compensation philosophy described above.

Indirect Compensation

Various employee benefits assist the Company in attracting, motivating and retaining employees in a competitive labor market. From time to time the Committee reviews the benefit plans. The Committee may recommend that the Company implement changes to existing plans or adopt new benefits. The Committee strives to meet the market median with respect to Company benefits.

Health and Welfare Benefits

The Company offers a standard range of health and welfare benefits to all employees, including the Named Executives. The benefits include: medical, prescription drug, vision and dental coverage, life insurance, and accidental death and dismemberment. Executive officers participate in these employee benefit plans generally available to all employees on the same terms as similarly situated employees.

Perquisites and other Personal Benefits

In order to attract, motivate and retain key officers, the Company approves certain perquisites to those officers whose job duties or positions justify a business need for such items. Perquisites for certain officers include Company-owned vehicles and/or a fixed monthly mileage allowance and certain living expenses. See Summary Compensation Table for values associated with these perquisites and other personal benefits for the Named Executives.

Auto allowances. Fixed monthly mileage allowance is awarded to those individuals whose job duties routinely require them to be out of the office either calling on customers or visiting various sites within the organization. Company-owned vehicles are offered to members of the executive team and to regional or divisional managers. These officers may elect to receive a fixed monthly mileage allowance in lieu of using a Company-owned vehicle. The fixed monthly mileage allowance can be as little as $300 per month up to a maximum of $1,000 per month, depending on the position and anticipated business usage.

Living expenses. In order to facilitate effective management, the Company provided meals and housing during the week for Messrs. Eckert and Harris, each of whom live in Mississippi but spent the workweek in Louisiana during 2008. The cost of providing the meals and housing is determined using per diem rates as determined by the Internal Revenue Service for the meal component ($39 per day per employee for 200 days) and rental estimates for the housing component ($350 per month per employee). Mr. Harris has continued to receive this indirect compensation while Mr. Eckert stopped receiving the compensation upon his retirement effective June 30, 2008.

Retirement Plans

The Company believes that financial security during retirement can be as important as financial security before retirement. Consistent with the Company's desire to provide financial security in retirement, the Company also offers a 401(k) plan to its employees, including its executive officers. The Company provides a 25% match of a portion of the contributions made by employees on a voluntary basis.

The amounts contributed by the Company to 401(k) plan matching accounts of the Named Executives for additional contributions for fiscal years 2008 and 2007 were $9,659 and $3,880, respectively. The amount of contribution made by the Company on behalf of the Named Executives as the employer matching contribution on the 401(k) portion of the Company's 401(k) averages less than 1% of base salaries.

Change in Control/Severance Agreements

The Company has employment agreements with each of the Named Executives other than Messrs. Eckert and Vice. Under the terms of these employment agreements, if the employment of the Named Executive is terminated, other than for cause (as defined below under Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control Equity Acceleration) and such Named Executive is not in breach of the obligations under his respective employment agreement, the Company shall pay (i) the annual base salary in effect in semi-monthly payments for the remainder of the contract period (in the case of Mr. Shaw) or twelve months, whichever is greater, (ii) vacation pay earned but not taken to the date of such termination, and (iii) except for Mr. Shaw, annual bonus prorated to the date of termination. In addition, other than Mr. Shaw's, the agreements provide that the stock options granted under the employment agreements will vest upon such termination without cause.

Mr. Mogel's employment agreement provides that upon a Change in Control (as defined below under Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control Equity Acceleration) all options and restricted stock granted to him under his employment agreement will vest immediately.

Under the terms of Mr. Eckert's Consulting Agreement with the Company, upon a Change in Control (as defined below under Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control Equity Acceleration) the aggregate remaining payments due under the agreement will be accelerated and paid in full on the date of the change in control.

The Incentive Plan provides that upon a Change in Control (as defined below under Executive Compensation Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change in Control Equity Acceleration) all of the Named Executive's outstanding stock-based compensation awards (including options, restricted stock and other stock-based awards) will automatically become fully exercisable, all restrictions or limitations will lapse and all performance criteria and other conditions relating to the payment of such award will be deemed to be achieved or waived by the Company, without the necessity of any action by any person.

Executive Compensation Policies

Securities Trading Policy. The Board has included in the Company's Code of Ethics a section which addresses the subject of insider trading. The provisions of the Code of Ethics expressly prohibit directors, officers or other employees from trading, either directly or indirectly, after becoming aware of material nonpublic information related to the Company. The Code of Ethics provides guidance as to what constitutes material information and when information becomes public. It also addresses transactions by family members as well as other transactions which may be prohibited. The Code of Ethics also discussed the consequences of an insider trading violation and mentions additional trading restrictions and certain reporting requirements applicable to directors, officers and designated key employees. The Company's Code of Ethics is available on the Company's corporate website at <http://www.omnienergy.com> on the Home page under About OMNI and then under Code of Ethics .

Recoupment of Equity Awards Policy. Performance-based equity awards are granted after the achievement of certain levels of performance, and these awards typically include a vesting period for ownership. This practice negates the need for a recoupment policy for equity awards.

Policy on the Re-pricing of Stock Options. Stock options are granted at the fair market value on the date of the grant and may be repriced at the discretion of the Compensation Committee.

Policy on Timing Stock Award. The timing of stock awards must be consistent with guidelines established in a stock program, such as the Incentive Plan, that the Committee approves prior to the awarding of any grant. The Committee approves the grant prior to the stock being awarded in the event of a requested special stock award or the awarding of stock or stock options to a new hire.

Table of Contents

Policy on Hedging the Economic Risks of Equity Ownership. There is no policy regarding hedging the economic risks of equity ownership for the executive team or Directors of the Company and the Company does not engage in this practice.

Recoupment of Incentives Policy. There is no policy regarding the recoupment of incentives for the Company's executives or Directors.

Policy on Deductibility of Compensation Over $1 Million. Unless compensation is performance based, Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code, enacted in 1993, imposes a limit of $1 million on the amount that a publicly held corporation may deduct in any year for the compensation paid or accrued with respect to its chief executive officer and each of its four other most highly compensated executive officers. None of the Company's executive officers currently receives compensation exceeding the limits imposed by Section 162(m). While the Committee cannot predict with certainty how the Company's executive compensation might be affected in the future by Section 162(m) or applicable tax regulations issued, the Committee intends to try to preserve the tax deductibility of all executive compensation while maintaining the Company's executive compensation program as described in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis.

Policies on the Impact of Accounting/Tax Treatments on any Elements of Compensation. The Company's stock-based compensation policy applies to all forms of stock-based compensation including stock options, restricted stock units, and share units. All stock-based compensation is accounted for under the fair-value method as required by United States generally accepted accounting principles. The expense associated with stock based compensation is recognized over the vesting period of each individual arrangement.

The fair value of each stock option award is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option valuation model. The fair value of restricted stock is based on the fair value at the date of grant. The fair value of each performance based share unit is estimated based on expected performance goals being attained and using the current public market price of the Company's common stock at the end of each reporting period.

Policy on assessing past stock awards in determining future awards. The value, or lack of value, realized from at-risk awards granted in prior years is not taken into account by the Committee in the process of setting compensation for the current year. The Committee believes that doing so would be inconsistent with the underlying reasons for the use of at-risk compensation. If current year awards were increased to recover from below-target performance in prior years or decreased to account for above-target performance in prior years, the Committee would be diluting or eliminating the link between performance and award. Recipients would have little incentive to improve performance if it meant decreased target awards in the future, or if the negative consequences for poor performance would be cushioned by increases in the target value of future awards. Additionally, the value realized from equity-based awards granted in prior periods depends in large measure on when the recipient decides to realize that value by exercising options or by selling vested shares of stock. The Committee does not believe it would be appropriate to adjust future grants in light of these types of individual decisions.

Termination by the Company without Cause

Under the employment agreements, a Named Executive will be entitled to the benefits as described in the table above if the Named Executive's employment is terminated by the Company for reasons other than cause. Generally, a termination is for cause if it is for any of the following reasons:

the conviction of, the indictment for (or its procedural equivalent), or the entering of a guilty plea or plea of no contest with respect to, any felony, the equivalent thereof, or any crime or offense causing harm to the Company or any of its affiliates (whether or not for personal gain) or involving acts of theft, fraud, embezzlement, moral turpitude or similar conduct;

the commission (or attempted commission) of an act of fraud upon the Company or any of its affiliates;

the misuse or diversion (or attempted misuse or diversion) of the Company's or any of its affiliates' funds or property;

fraudulent or willful and material misrepresentation or concealment on any written report submitted to the Company or any of its affiliates;

misconduct or failure to adhere to any written policy of the Company or any of its affiliates;

breach of the individual employment agreements, or failure to perform material duties assigned thereunder or the habitual neglect thereof;

the appropriation (or attempted appropriation) of a material business opportunity of the Company or any of its affiliates, including attempting to secure or securing personal profit in connection with any transaction entered into on behalf of the Company or any of its affiliates;

the engagement in any conflict of interest with the Company or any of its affiliates (except as otherwise provided in the employment agreement) without compliance with the Company's conflict of interest policy, if any, then in effect;

the engagement, without the prior written approval of the Board, in any activity or venture which competes with the domestic business of the Company or any of its affiliates;

the engagement in any behavior or conduct which would constitute a material violation of the provisions of the Company's insider trading policy or business ethics policy, if any, then in effect;

the engagement in any behavior or conduct which, in the judgment of the Board, is detrimental to or harms the business or reputation of the Company or any of its affiliates; or the engagement by or acceptance of employment with another company or entity.

Equity Acceleration

Table of Contents

Incentive Plan. Under the Incentive Plan, if there is a Change in Control of the Company, all stock based compensation awards (including options, restricted stock and other stock-based awards) will automatically become fully exercisable, all restrictions or limitations will lapse and all performance criteria and other conditions relating to the payment of such award will be deemed to be achieved or waived by the Company, without the necessity of any action by any person.

Under the Incentive Plan a Change in Control generally means (a) with certain exceptions, the acquisition of beneficial ownership of more than 50% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock; (b) with certain exceptions, a change in the majority of the Board serving as directors as of the date of the adoption of the Incentive Plan; (c) the consummation of a business combination transaction approved by the Company's shareholders where (i) the beneficial owners of the Common Stock and voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors immediately prior to the business combination transaction own less than 50% of the then outstanding shares of common stock and the combined voting power of the corporation resulting from such business combination transaction (the Surviving Corporation), (ii) with certain exceptions, a person is the beneficial owner of 30% or more of the outstanding shares of common stock or the combined voting power of the outstanding voting securities of the Surviving Corporation, and (iii) less than a majority of the members of the board of directors of the Surviving Corporation were members of the Board at the time of the execution of the business combination agreement, or of the action of the Board, providing for the business combination transaction; or (d) approval by the Company's shareholders of a complete liquidation or dissolution.

Non-compete, Non-solicitation and Confidentiality Agreements.

As a condition to each Named Executive's entitlement to receive the payments referenced in the table above, the Named Executive is required to execute a waiver of claims against the Company and shall be bound by the terms of the non-competition, non-solicitation, confidentiality, business opportunity and intellectual property provisions contained in each of the employment agreements or consulting agreement, as applicable. The non-competition provisions prohibit the Named Executives, from:

engaging in or carrying on, directly or indirectly, either in their individual capacity or as a member of a partnership or as a shareholder, investor, owner, officer or director of a company or other entity, or as an employee, agent, associate or consultant of any person, partnership, corporation or other entity, any business in Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and in the case of Messrs. Recatto and Milton, Utah, Alabama, Arkansas and Wyoming, or any parish or county thereof (including, but not limited to, the Parishes and Counties specifically listed in the exhibits to their respective employment agreements) or the offshore waters within 100 miles of the coast of either such state that directly competes with any services or products produced, sold, provided, conducted or developed, by the Company on the date of termination of their employment including the services specifically described in the exhibits to their respective employment agreements, or holding a 5% or greater ownership interest in any class of securities registered under the Exchange Act.

The non-solicitation provisions prohibit the Named Executives, whether for the Named Executive's own account or the account of any person, from:

soliciting, employing, or otherwise engaging as an employee, independent contractor, or otherwise, any person who is an employee of the Company or any of its affiliates or in any manner inducing or attempting to induce any employee of the Company and any such affiliate to terminate employment with the Company or such affiliate; or interfering with the Company's, or any of its affiliate's, relationship with any person, including any person who at any time during the employee's employment with the Company was an employee, contractor, supplier or customer of the Company or any such affiliate.

Messrs. Recatto, Mogel, Shaw and Eckert are bound by the non-competition and non-solicitation agreements during their employment (or engagement in the case of Mr. Eckert) with the Company and for a period of two years after the termination of their employment (or engagement in the case of Mr. Eckert) for any reason (including non-renewal) with the Company. However, in the event Mr. Recatto's employment is terminated after June 30, 2011 for any reason other than for cause, he will be bound by the non-competition and non-solicitation agreements for only one year following his termination of employment with the Company. Mr. Harris is bound by the non-competition and non-solicitation agreements during his employment with the Company and for a period of one year after the termination of his employment for any reason (including non-renewal) with the Company.

incentive to employees and by increasing employee awareness of the Company in the marketplace. Under the Option Plan, the Company may grant options to any of its employees with the exception of officers of the Company. The options become exercisable immediately with respect to one-half of the shares, and the remaining one-half are exercisable one year following the date of the grant. The exercise price of any stock option granted may not be less than the fair market value of the Common Stock on the effective date of the grant. A total of 100,000 shares of Common Stock are authorized, of which 42,909 remain available for issuance at December 31, 2008.

PROPOSAL NO. 2.

TO APPROVE AN AMENDMENT TO THE SEVENTH AMENDED AND RESTATED OMNI ENERGY SERVICES CORP. STOCK INCENTIVE PLAN

On April 13, 2009, the Compensation Committee recommended to the Board that the shareholders approve an amendment to the Seventh Amended and Restated OMNI Energy Services Corp. Stock Incentive Plan to increase the number of shares available for issuance under the Incentive Plan from 4,250,000 to 5,750,000 shares (the Amendment). Attached hereto as Appendix A is a copy of the Incentive Plan, as amended and restated and approved by the Board, and as submitted to the shareholders for their approval.

The Board believes that approval of the proposed amendment will allow the Company to continue to provide management, directors and employees with a proprietary interest in the growth and performance of the Company while aligning the interests of management with those of shareholders, and allow the Company continued flexibility to compete in the market for talented leaders when such needs arise.

General

The Board believes that the growth of the Company depends significantly upon the efforts of its officers, directors and key employees and that such individuals are best motivated to put forth maximum effort on behalf of the Company if they own an equity interest in the Company. In accordance with this philosophy, in 1997 the Board adopted and the shareholders approved the Incentive Plan. The shareholders previously approved amendments to the Incentive Plan increasing the number of shares issuable thereunder to 666,667 in April 1999, 1,000,000 in September 2001, 1,500,000 in September 2003, 2,500,000 in November 2004, 2,750,000 in June 2006 and 4,250,000 in August 2007. Under the Incentive Plan, key employees, officers, directors, and consultants and advisors to the Company (the Eligible Persons) are eligible to receive (i) incentive and non-qualified stock options; (ii) restricted stock; and (iii) other stock-based awards (Incentives) when designated by the Compensation Committee. Directors who are not also employees of the Company (Outside Directors) also receive option grants under the Incentive Plan as described under Formula Options for Outside Directors, below, without action by the Compensation Committee. Presently, all employees of the Company and the Outside Directors are eligible to participate in the Incentive Plan.

As of April 9, 2009, 473,149 shares of Common Stock remained available for future grants and awards under the Incentive Plan (excluding any additional shares that might become available as a result of future forfeitures, expirations or other terminations of awards under the Plan), all of which may be issued as stock options, restricted stock, or other stock-based awards. Through such date, no shares are reserved for issuance pursuant to outstanding stock option grants to employees and officers under the Incentive Plan, 1,758,087 shares have been issued pursuant to stock option awards previously granted to employees and officers under the Incentive Plan, an aggregate of 491,500 shares of restricted stock have been issued under the Incentive Plan, and an aggregate of 1,527,264 shares have been or will be issued pursuant to automatic awards of stock and stock options to Outside Directors in exchange for their service as members of the Board of Directors.

Shares Issuable Pursuant to the Incentive Plan

The number of shares of Common Stock that currently are authorized and available for issuance under the Incentive Plan is 4,250,000. The Amendment to the Incentive Plan would increase this limit by 1,500,000 shares. Of the 5,750,000 shares, all of the shares would be available for issuance pursuant to awards in the form of stock options, restricted stock or other stock-based awards, as described below, and no more than 500,000 shares would be available for issuance to a single participant in one calendar year. If the shares of Common Stock that are subject to an award are not issued or cease to be issuable because the award is reacquired by the Company, terminated, forfeited or cancelled unexercised, those shares will then become available for future awards. The number of shares authorized and available for issuance under the Incentive Plan is subject to adjustment in the event of a stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, or other change in the Common Stock.

Administration of the Incentive Plan

The Compensation Committee administers the Incentive Plan and has authority to award Incentives under the Incentive Plan, to interpret the Incentive Plan, to establish rules or regulations relating to the Incentive Plan, to make any other determination that it believes necessary or advisable for the proper administration of the Incentive Plan and to delegate its authority as appropriate. With respect to participants not subject to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or Section 162(m) of the Code, the Compensation Committee may delegate its authority to grant Incentives under the Incentive Plan to appropriate personnel of the Company.

Amendments to the Incentive Plan

The Board may amend or discontinue the Incentive Plan at any time, except that any amendment that would materially increase the benefits under the Incentive Plan, materially increase the number of securities that may be issued through the Incentive Plan or materially modify the eligibility requirements must be approved by the shareholders. Except in limited circumstances no amendment or discontinuance of the Incentive Plan may change or impair any previously-granted Incentive without the consent of the recipient thereof.

In addition, the Compensation Committee has the authority to cause any incentive granted under the Incentive Plan to be cancelled in consideration of a cash payment or alternative incentive made to the holder of the cancelled incentive equal in value to the cancelled incentive. The determination of such value will be made by the Compensation Committee in its sole discretion.

Types of Incentives

Stock Options. A stock option is a right to purchase Common Stock from the Company. The Compensation Committee may grant non-qualified stock options or incentive stock options to purchase shares of Common Stock. The Committee will determine the number and exercise price of the options, provided that the option exercise price may not be less than the fair market value of the Common Stock on the date of grant. The term of the options, and the time or times that the options become exercisable, will also be determined by the Committee, provided that the term of an incentive stock option may not exceed 10 years.

The option exercise price may be paid in cash, check, in shares of Common Stock that, unless otherwise permitted by the Compensation Committee, have been held for a least six months, or through a broker-assisted exercise.

Incentive stock options will be subject to certain additional requirements necessary in order to qualify as incentive stock options under Section 422 of the Code.

Restricted Stock. Restricted stock consists of shares of Common Stock that are transferred to a participant for past services but subject to restrictions regarding their sale, pledge or other transfer by the participant for a specified period (the Restricted Period). The Compensation Committee has the power to determine the number of shares to be transferred to a participant as restricted stock. All shares of restricted stock will be subject to such restrictions as the Compensation Committee may designate in the incentive agreement with the participant, including, among other things, that the shares of Common Stock are required to be forfeited or resold to the Company in the event of termination of employment or in the event specified performance goals or targets are not met. A Restricted Period of at least one year is required, except that if vesting is subject to the attainment of performance goals, a minimum Restricted Period of six months is required.

Subject to the restrictions provided in the incentive agreement, each participant receiving restricted stock will have the rights of a shareholder with respect thereto, including voting rights and rights to receive dividends. To the extent that restricted stock is intended to vest based upon the achievement of pre-established performance goals rather than solely upon continued employment over a period of time, the performance goals pursuant to which the restricted stock shall vest must be any or a combination of the following performance measures: earnings per share, return on assets, an economic value added measure, shareholder return, earnings, stock price, return on equity, return on total capital, HSE performance, reduction of expenses or increase in cash flow of the Company, a division of the Company or a subsidiary. For any performance period, such performance objectives may be measured on an absolute basis or relative to a group of peer companies selected by the Compensation Committee, relative to internal goals or relative to levels attained in prior years.

Other Stock-Based Awards. The Compensation Committee is authorized to grant to Eligible Persons another stock-based award (Other Stock-Based Award), which consists of an award, the value of which is based in whole or in part on the value of shares of Common Stock, other than a stock option or a share of restricted stock. Other Stock-Based Awards may be awards of shares of Common Stock or may be denominated or payable in, valued in whole or in part by reference to, or otherwise based on or related to, shares of Common Stock. The Compensation Committee determines the terms and conditions of any such Other Stock-Based Award and may provide that such awards would be payable in whole or in part in cash. Except in the case of an Other Stock-Based Award granted in assumption of or in substitution for an outstanding award of a company acquired by the Company or with which the Company combines, the price at which securities may be purchased pursuant to any Other Stock-Based Award or the provision, if any, of any such award that is analogous to the purchase or exercise price, may not be less than 100% of the fair market value of the securities to which such award relates on the date of grant. An Other Stock-Based Award may provide the holder thereof with dividends or dividend equivalents, payable in cash or shares of Common Stock on a current or deferred basis. Other Stock-Based Awards intended to qualify, as performance-based compensation must be paid based upon the achievement of pre-established performance goals. The performance goals pursuant to which Other Stock-Based Awards may be earned must be any or a combination of the following performance measures: earnings per share, return on assets, an economic value added measure, shareholder return, earnings, stock price, return on equity, return on total capital, HSE performance, reduction of expenses or increase in cash flow of the Company, a division of the Company or a subsidiary. For any performance period, such performance goals may be measured on an absolute basis or relative to a group of peer companies selected by the Compensation Committee, relative to internal goals or relative to levels attained in prior years. The grant of an Other Stock-Based Award to a participant will not create any rights in such participant as a shareholder of the Company, until the issuance of shares of Common Stock with respect to such Other Stock-Based Award.

Formula Options for Outside Directors

Each Outside Director is granted non-qualified options to purchase 10,000 shares of Common Stock, at such time as he first becomes a member of the Board. In addition, for as long as the Incentive Plan remains in effect and shares of Common Stock remain available for issuance thereunder each Outside Director will be automatically granted a non-qualified stock option to purchase 5,000 shares of Common Stock on the date following the annual meeting of shareholders of the Company, without action on the part of the Compensation Committee. These options become exercisable one year after grant and have exercise prices equal to the fair market value of a share of Common Stock on the date of grant. Director options expire ten years after the date of grant, except that to the extent otherwise exercisable, director options must be exercised within three months from termination of Board service or, in the event of death, disability or retirement on or after reaching age 65, within eighteen months thereafter.

Change of Control

All outstanding stock options granted under the Incentive Plan will automatically become fully exercisable, all restrictions or limitations on any Incentives, including without limitation restricted stock, will lapse and all performance criteria and other conditions relating to the payment of Incentives will be deemed to be achieved or waived by the Company upon (i) approval by the shareholders of the Company of a reorganization, merger or consolidation of the Company or sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company, unless (x) all or substantially all of the individuals and entities who were the beneficial owners of the Company's outstanding Common Stock and voting securities entitled to vote, generally in the election of directors immediately prior to such transaction, have direct or indirect beneficial ownership, respectively, of more than 50% of the then outstanding shares of common stock and more than 50% of the combined voting power of the then outstanding voting securities entitled to vote generally in the election of directors of the resulting corporation; (y) except to the extent that such ownership existed prior to the transaction, no person (excluding any corporation resulting from the transaction or any employee benefit Incentive Plan or related trust of the Company or the resulting corporation) beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 30% or more of the then outstanding shares of common stock of the resulting corporation or 30% or more of the combined voting power of the then outstanding voting securities of the resulting corporation; or (z) a majority of the board of directors of the resulting corporation were members of the Company's board of directors at the time of the execution of the initial agreement or of the action of the Board providing for the transaction; (ii) approval by the shareholders of the Company of a complete liquidation or dissolution of the Company; (iii) a person or group of persons becoming the beneficial owner of more than 50% of the Company's Common Stock (subject to certain exceptions); or (iv) the individuals who as of the adoption of the Incentive Plan constitute the Board (the Incumbent Board) or who subsequently become a member of the Board, with the approval of at least a majority of the directors then comprising the Incumbent Board other than in connection with an actual or threatened election contest, cease to constitute at least a majority of the Board (each, a Significant Transaction).

The Compensation Committee also has the authority to take several actions regarding outstanding Incentives upon the occurrence of a Significant Transaction, including (i) requiring that all outstanding options remain exercisable only for a limited time, (ii) making equitable adjustments to Incentives as the Compensation Committee deems in its discretion necessary to reflect the Significant Transaction or (iii) providing that an option under the Incentive Plan shall become an option relating to the number and class of shares of stock or other securities or property (including cash) to which the participant would have been entitled in connection with the Significant Transaction, if the participant had been immediately prior to the Significant Transaction the holder of record of the number of shares of Common Stock then covered by such options.

Transferability of Incentives

Incentives are transferable only by will and by the laws of descent and distribution, except that stock options may also be transferred pursuant to a domestic relations order, to immediate family members, to a family partnership, to a family limited liability company or to a trust for the sole benefit of immediate family members, if permitted by the Compensation Committee and if provided in the Incentive agreement or an amendment thereto.

Payment of Withholding Taxes in Stock

A participant may, but is not required to, satisfy his or her withholding tax obligation by electing to have the Company withhold, from the shares the participant would otherwise receive upon exercise or vesting of an Incentive, shares of Common Stock having a value equal to the amount required to be withheld. This election must be made prior to the date on which the amount of tax to be withheld is determined and is subject to the Compensation Committee's right of disapproval.

New Plan Benefits

In general, the awards that will be granted to eligible participants under the Incentive Plan are subject to the discretion of the Compensation Committee and, therefore, are not determinable at this time. However, the Incentive Plan provides that each Outside Director will receive annually non-qualified options to purchase 5,000 shares of Common Stock. See the Director Compensation Table on page 5 for a summary of such grants for 2008.

Federal Income Tax Consequences

Under existing federal income tax provisions, a participant who receives stock options or who receives shares of restricted stock that are subject to restrictions that create a substantial risk of forfeiture (within the meaning of Section 83(b) of the Code) will not normally realize any income, nor will the Company normally receive any deduction for federal income tax purposes, in the year such Incentive is granted.

When a non-qualified stock option granted pursuant to the Incentive Plan is exercised, the employee will realize ordinary income measured by the difference between the aggregate fair market value of the shares of Common Stock on the exercise date and the aggregate purchase price of the shares of Common Stock as to which the option is exercised, and, subject to Section 162(m) of the Code, the Company will be entitled to a deduction in the year the option is exercised equal to the amount the employee is required to treat as ordinary income.

An employee generally will not recognize any income upon the exercise of any incentive stock option, but the excess of the fair market value of the shares at the time of exercise over the option price will be an item of adjustment, which may, depending on particular factors relating to the employee, subject the employee to the alternative minimum tax imposed by Section 55 of the Code. An employee will recognize capital gain or loss in the amount of the difference between the exercise price and the sale price on the sale or exchange of stock acquired pursuant to the exercise of an incentive stock option, provided the employee does not dispose of such stock within either two years from the date of grant or one year from the date of exercise of the incentive stock option (the required holding periods). An employee disposing of such shares before the expiration of the required holding period will recognize ordinary income generally equal to the difference between the option price and the fair market value of the stock on the date of exercise. The remaining gain, if any, will be capital gain. The Company will not be entitled to a federal income tax deduction in connection with the exercise of an incentive stock option, except where the employee disposes of the Common Stock received upon exercise before the expiration of the required holding periods.

An employee who receives restricted stock will normally recognize taxable income on the date the shares become transferable or no longer subject to substantial risk of forfeiture or on the date of their earlier disposition. The amount of such taxable income will be equal to the amount by which the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock on the date such restrictions lapse (or any earlier date on which the shares are disposed of) exceeds their purchase price, if any. An employee may elect, however, to include in income in the year of purchase or grant the excess of the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock (without regard to any restrictions) on the date of purchase or grant over its purchase price. Subject to the limitations imposed by Section 162(m) of the Code, the Company will be entitled to a deduction for compensation paid in the same year and in the same amount as income is realized by the employee. Dividends currently paid to the participant will be taxable compensation income to the participant and deductible by the Company.

A participant who receives a stock award under the Incentive Plan will realize ordinary income in the year of the award equal to the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock covered by the award on the date it is made and, subject to Section 162(m) of the Code, the Company will be entitled to a deduction equal to the amount the employee is required to treat as ordinary income.

When the exercisability or vesting of an Incentive granted under the Incentive Plan is accelerated upon a change of control, any excess on the date of the change in control of the fair market value of the shares or cash issued under Incentives over the purchase price of such shares may be characterized as parachute payments (within the meaning of Section 280G of the Code) if the sum of such amounts and any other such contingent payments received by the employee exceeds an amount equal to three times the base amount for such employee. The base amount generally is the average of the annual compensation of such employee for the five years preceding such change in ownership or control. An excess parachute payment with respect to any employee, is the excess of the present value of the parachute payments to such person, in the aggregate, over and above such person's base amount. If the amounts received by an employee upon a change in control are characterized as parachute payments, such employee will be subject to a 20% excise tax on the excess parachute payments pursuant to Section 4999 of the Code, and the Company will be denied any deduction with respect to such excess parachute payments.

PROPOSAL NO. 3

TO VOTE, ON AN ADVISORY BASIS, FOR THE COMPANY'S ABILITY TO REPLACE AND REPRICE OPTIONS ISSUED UNDER THE SEVENTH AMENDED AND RESTATED OMNI ENERGY SERVICES CORP. STOCK INCENTIVE PLAN

The Company believes that both the Company and its shareholders benefit from transparency with respect to corporate governance philosophy and compensation objectives. As such, the Board has approved and recommended that the Company submit to its shareholders, for a non-binding advisory vote, the Compensation Committee's ability to replace and reprice stock options issued under the Incentive Plan. The outcome of this advisory vote will provide the Board and the Compensation Committee important information about shareholder views on the Compensation Committee's proposed plan to replace and reprice stock options issued under the Incentive Plan as further described below. The Compensation Committee intends to replace and reprice stock options issued under the Incentive Plan that are currently held by some of the Company's employees, including executive officers and consultants, and directors with exercise prices above the current market price of the Company's Common Stock for a lesser number of shares of Common Stock to be issued under the Incentive Plan. If a majority of the votes cast on this matter are not cast in favor of this Proposal No. 3, the Board and the Compensation Committee will reconsider the plan to replace and reprice stock options as described below.

General

The Company awards stock options under the Incentive Plan in order to attract, incentivize and retain the services of its management, key employees, Outside Directors and consultants. In addition, the Company believes that equity-based compensation aligns the interests of its employees, directors and consultants with those of its shareholders. The Company's long-term compensation program is broad-based, with over 19% of its employees participating. The Board has determined that many of the Company's employees, officers, consultants and directors have outstanding stock options with exercise prices that are significantly higher than the current market price of the Company's common stock. As a result, these options have little or no current value as an incentive to retain and motivate the Company's employees, officers, consultants and directors.

The Compensation Committee and the Board have determined that it would be in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders to conduct an option replacement and repricing program pursuant to which the Compensation Committee will replace outstanding underwater options (i.e., options with exercise prices higher than the Company's current stock price) for new stock options intended to be of equivalent value but covering significantly fewer shares (the Replacement Program). On April 9, 2009, the Company's employees, officers, consultants and directors held stock options to purchase 1,527,264 shares of the Company's common stock with exercise prices ranging from $2.25 to $10.13 per share, and a weighted average exercise price of $5.59 per share as compared to the closing price per share of the Company's common stock on the Nasdaq Global Market on that day of $1.26. The Compensation Committee and the Board believe that the reduction in share price is due, in large part, to the contraction in the worldwide economy, and in the energy sector in particular. All of the Company's outstanding options are underwater. The Compensation Committee and the Board believe that the proposed Replacement Program would create better incentives for the Company's employees, officers, consultants and directors to remain with the Company and contribute to the Company's business and financial objectives. The Company's failure to implement the Replacement Program for its active employees, officers, consultants and directors may force the Company to consider cash alternatives to provide a market-competitive total compensation package necessary to attract, retain and motivate the individual talent critical to the Company's future success.

The Company's shareholders originally approved the Incentive Plan in 1997. The Incentive Plan expressly permits the Compensation Committee to cancel any incentive award granted under the Incentive Plan in consideration of a cash payment or an alternative award made to the participant of the cancelled award equal in value to the cancelled award. The determination of the value of the incentive award is left to the sole discretion of the Compensation Committee. Therefore, the Company is not required to submit to its shareholders this proposal regarding the Compensation Committee's ability to replace and reprice stock options issued or to be issued under the Incentive Plan. However, the Board has determined that it would be prudent and a good corporate governance practice to submit this Proposal No. 3 to an advisory vote of the Company's shareholders.

Stock Options Eligible for the Replacement Program

It is the current intention of the Compensation Committee that only currently outstanding options issued under the Incentive Plan and held by current employees, officers, consultants and directors and have an exercise price above the closing price of the Company's Common Stock on May 29, 2009 be eligible for the Replacement Program. These options are referenced as the Subject Options. All other terms of the Subject Options will remain unchanged. Regardless of whether this Proposal No. 3 is approved, on an advisory basis, by shareholders, the Compensation Committee will continue to have sole discretion to implement the Replacement Program and to determine which currently outstanding stock options are eligible for the Replacement Program.

The Replacement Program

On May 29, 2009, the Subject Options held by current employees, officers and directors will be replaced with a number of new stock options (New Stock Options) intended to have a value equal to the value of the Subject Options (determined in accordance with the option valuation described below), based on the closing price of the Common Stock on May 29, 2009. The fair value of the Subject Options will be determined immediately prior to the modification using the Black-Scholes option pricing model where the variables considered will include the current per share stock price, the exercise price of the Subject Option, the expected life of the Subject Option (assumed to be 65% of the nominal remaining life), the risk free rate as determined by the US Treasury associated with the 7-year Treasury Bill, and the six month volatility of the Company's per share stock price. Likewise, the fair value of the New Stock Options will be determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model where the variables considered will include the current per share stock price, the exercise price of the New Stock Option (assumed to be the closing price of the Common Stock on May 29, 2009), the expected life of the New Stock Option (assumed to be 65% of the nominal remaining life which is to be unchanged from the Subject Options), the risk free rate as determined by the US Treasury associated with the 7-year Treasury Bill, and the six month volatility of the Company's per share stock price. The value of the Subject Options will be determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model. Accordingly, the actual number of New Stock Options that replace the Subject Options will vary based on the exercise price and remaining terms of the Subject Option, as well as the fair market value and volatility of the Common Stock used for purposes of the valuation. The exercise price of the New Stock Options will be the closing price of the Common Stock on May 29, 2009. The Replacement Program is intended to result in the issuance of New Stock Options that have a value approximately equal to or less than the value of the Subject Options they replace. Using this Black-Scholes option pricing model, reducing the exercise price of the Subject Options alone would result in increased value to the current holders but a corresponding reduction in quantity of outstanding units as New Stock Options will offset what would have been increased value on a per unit basis. This will eliminate any additional compensation cost that the Company must recognize on the New Stock Options.
