Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Note 1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

PRIMEDIA Inc., together with its subsidiaries, is herein referred to as either PRIMEDIA or the Company unless the context implies otherwise. In the opinion of the Company's management, the condensed consolidated financial statements present fairly the consolidated financial position of the Company as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010, the results of consolidated operations of the Company for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010, consolidated changes in stockholders' equity of the Company for the three months ended March 31, 2011, and consolidated cash flows of the Company for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010. The adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. All intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. These statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's annual consolidated financial statements and related notes for the year ended December 31, 2010, which are included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2010. The operating results for the three months ended March 31, 2011 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for a full year.

The Company's banking arrangements allow it to fund outstanding checks drawn on zero-balance disbursement accounts when presented to the financial institution for payment, resulting in book overdrafts. Book overdrafts in the amount of $2.8 million, $3.7 million and $3.1 million are recorded in accounts payable in the condensed consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2011, December 31, 2010 and March 31, 2010, respectively, and are reflected as an operating activity in the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows.

Liabilities related to deferred non-compete income reported in the prior year in deferred revenue have been reclassified to accrued expenses and other, and liabilities related to deferred non-compete income reported in deferred revenue (non-current) in the prior year have been reclassified to other non-current liabilities in order to conform to the current year presentation of the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements

In October 2009, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update No. (ASU) 2009-13, Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements, which provides new criteria for separating individual deliverables in multiple-deliverable arrangements into separate units of accounting. Under these new criteria, individual deliverables in multiple-deliverable arrangements are likely to be separated into separate units of accounting in more circumstances than under previous accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). ASU 2009-13 also addresses how arrangement consideration should be allocated to the separate units of accounting, when applicable. ASU 2009-13 establishes a selling price hierarchy for determining the selling price of a deliverable. The selling price used for each deliverable is to be based on:

vendor-specific objective evidence, if available;

third-party evidence, if vendor-specific objective evidence is not available; or estimated selling price, if neither vendor-specific objective evidence nor third-party evidence is available.

ASU 2009-13 clarifies that the allocation of revenue to each deliverable is to be based on entity-specific assumptions rather than assumptions of a marketplace participant. It also eliminates the residual method of revenue allocation and requires that arrangement consideration be allocated at the inception of the arrangement to all deliverables that are determined to be separate units of accounting using the relative selling price method. A vendor will be required to determine its best estimate of selling price in a manner that is consistent with that used to determine the price to sell the deliverable on a standalone basis.

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

ASU 2009-13 is effective prospectively for revenue arrangements entered into or materially modified in fiscal years beginning on or after June 15, 2010. Early adoption is permitted. The Company adopted ASU 2009-13 effective January 1, 2011.

The Company's multiple deliverable arrangements are composed of integrated marketing packages, which include subscription-based digital and print advertising delivered by the Company on behalf of its advertiser clients pursuant to contracts that are typically 12 or more months in duration. The terms of the contracts include monthly billing and permit early termination only under limited circumstances; they do not include performance guarantees or refund provisions. Under previous GAAP, the individual deliverables in these arrangements did not meet the criteria for separate units of accounting; however, under the new GAAP, the separability criteria are met, and digital and print advertising must be accounted for separately. The timing of the completion of the earnings process is different for digital and print advertising. The earnings process for digital advertising is completed as a customer's advertisement is hosted over the contract period, while the earnings process for print advertising is completed when the directories are placed on display racks and made available to end consumers. Due to this difference, the recognition of the portion of the consideration allocated to the digital advertising deliverable effectively must be delayed for approximately one month.

Table of Contents

The Company's product offerings include a digital-only advertising package; however, the Company does not offer a print-only advertising package. The Company allocates the consideration received for its integrated media packages to the two deliverables, digital advertising and print advertising, on the basis of the relative selling price of each deliverable. The selling price of the digital advertising deliverable is determined based on vendor-specific objective evidence provided by the average selling price of the Company's digital-only advertising package. The selling price of the print advertising deliverable is determined based on third-party evidence regarding the average selling price for print advertising in the Company's markets.

The allocation of the consideration under multiple-deliverable revenue arrangements must be periodically updated, and changes in the allocation between the digital advertising deliverable and the print advertising deliverable may impact the timing of revenue recognition but will not change the total revenue recognized on the contract.

As a result of the adoption of the new GAAP, the Company does not expect a significant impact on the timing or amount of its billings or cash receipts associated with its multiple-deliverable arrangements; however, as a result of the adoption, the Company's advertising revenue for the three months ended March 31, 2011 was approximately $0.4 million less than it would have been under previous GAAP. For all of 2011, the Company currently expects advertising revenue to be approximately $4.0 million to $5.0 million, less than it would have been under previous GAAP, including $0.5 million for the second quarter of 2011. The adoption did not have a significant impact on the condensed consolidated balance sheet because cash is generally not received until after the completion of the earnings process.

Note 2. Discontinued Operations

The Company has classified the results of divested entities as discontinued operations in accordance with GAAP.

The components of discontinued operations for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 included in the condensed consolidated statement of operations are as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31,

Table of Contents

Amounts included in income or loss from operations of the disposed businesses before (provision) benefit for income taxes primarily represent the impact of changes in contingent obligations the Company has related to the disposition of the businesses, including changes in sublease income assumptions related to operating leases for office space subleased or assigned to the buyer or another third party; legal and other professional fees incurred in defending the Company against litigation or in attempting to force performance by third parties under leasing arrangements; actual or expected losses from litigation for which the Company is liable; write-off of uncollectable rent receivable under operating lease arrangements for real estate; insurance-related costs for events that occurred prior to the disposition; and other similar costs.

Held for Sale

As of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010 there were no assets and liabilities of businesses held for sale.

Cash Flows

For the purposes of the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows, the Company does not separately report cash flows arising from discontinued operations. For purposes of calculating cash provided by or used in operating activities, discontinued operations are included until sold or shut down; therefore, these discontinued operations do not contribute to operating activities for the full year in which the sale of an entity occurs.

Note 3. Intangible Assets

Intangible assets not subject to amortization had a carrying value of $6.3 million as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010 and consisted of trademarks.

Intangible assets subject to amortization consist of the following:

	Weighted-Average Amortization Period (Years)	Gross Carrying Amount	March 31, 2011		December 31, 2010
			Accumulated Amortization	Net Carrying Amount	Gross Carrying Amount	Accumulated Amortization	Net Carrying Amount
Advertiser lists	12	$ 92,953	$ 84,380	$ 8,573	$ 92,953	$ 83,679	$ 9,274

		$ 97,295	$ 88,716	$ 8,579	$ 98,695	$ 89,399	$ 9,296

Amortization expense for intangible assets subject to amortization is as follows:

Three Months Ended
March 31,
2011	2010
(Dollars in thousands)
$ 717	$ 1,389

During the fourth quarter of 2010, factors were identified indicating that the carrying value of one of the Company's advertiser lists might not be recoverable. The Company determined that the expected undiscounted cash flows associated with this advertiser list were less than the carrying value and, as a result, recorded an impairment charge of approximately $1.0 million during the year ended December 31, 2010.

The Company also concluded that the asset had a shorter estimated life, which was changed effective January 1, 2011. As a result of the impairment charge recorded in 2010 and the shorter estimated life for the advertiser list, the Company's amortization expense decreased by $0.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2011 over what it would have been absent the impairment charge and change in estimate.

Table of ContentsNote 4. Fair Value

	$ 664	$	$ 664	$ 1,000

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

One of the Company's advertiser lists was measured at fair value as of December 31, 2010 because the Company identified factors indicating its carrying value might not be recoverable. The Company determined that the expected undiscounted cash flows associated with this asset were less than the carrying value and recorded an impairment charge of $1.0 million to reduce the asset to its fair value. Fair value was determined using the discount rate adjustment technique with a discount rate equal to current rates that would be offered to the Company for debt with a remaining maturity equal to the expected remaining life of the asset. Because it was not necessary to re-measure the advertiser list for fair value during 2011 and since the asset was recorded at its carrying value, net of accumulated amortization, no disclosure is necessary as of March 31, 2011.

The carrying values and fair values of the Company's financial assets and liabilities are summarized as follows:

	March 31, 2011		December 31, 2010
	Carrying Value	Fair Value	Carrying Value	Fair Value
	(Dollars in thousands)
Borrowings under bank credit facilities	$ 207,147	$ 188,504	$ 207,772	$ 188,553
Derivative financial instruments	1,683	1,683	2,210	2,210

The fair value of borrowings under bank credit facilities was determined based on recently completed market transactions and the current rates that would be offered to the Company for debt of the same remaining maturity.

The valuation of the derivative financial instruments, comprised of interest rate swaps, was determined using widely accepted valuation techniques, including discounted cash flow analysis on the expected cash flows of each derivative. This analysis reflects the contractual terms of the interest rate swaps, including the period to maturity, and uses observable market-based inputs, including interest rate curves. The fair values of interest rate swaps were determined using the market standard methodology of netting the discounted future fixed cash receipts (or payments) and the discounted expected variable cash payments (or receipts). The variable cash payments (or receipts) were based on an expectation of future interest rates (forward curves) derived from observable market interest rate curves.

Table of Contents

The Company incorporates credit valuation adjustments to appropriately reflect both its own nonperformance risk and the respective counterparty's nonperformance risk in the fair value measurements. In adjusting the fair value of its interest rate swap contracts for the effect of nonperformance risk, the Company has considered the impact of netting and any applicable credit enhancements, such as collateral postings, thresholds, mutual puts and guarantees.

Although the Company has determined that many of the inputs used to value its derivative financial instruments fall within Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, the credit valuation adjustments associated with its derivative financial instruments utilize Level 3 inputs, such as estimates of current credit spreads, to evaluate the likelihood of default by itself and its counterparties. However, the Company has assessed the significance of the impact of the credit valuation adjustments on the overall valuation of its derivative financial instrument positions and has determined that the credit valuation adjustments, which amount to less than $0.1 million in the aggregate for all periods, are not significant to the overall valuation. As a result, the Company has classified its derivative financial instrument valuations, in their entirety, in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

For certain assets and liabilities, including cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, accounts payable, accrued expenses and borrowings under the Company's revolving credit facility (the Revolving Facility), the carrying amount approximates fair value because of the short maturity of these instruments.

Note 5. Accrued Expenses and Other and Other Non-Current Liabilities

On June 30, 2009, the Company's bank credit facility was amended (the Amendment). Among other things, the Amendment gives the Company the right, subject to the conditions set forth therein, to prepay or otherwise acquire with or for cash, on either a pro rata or non-pro rata basis, loans outstanding under the Term Loan B Facility and held by lenders who consent to such prepayment or acquisition, at a discount to the par value of such principal at any time and from time to time on and after June 30, 2009 and on or prior to June 30, 2011; provided that the aggregate amounts expended by the Company in connection with all such prepayments or acquisitions do not exceed $35.0 million. All such loans prepaid or acquired will be retired and extinguished and deemed paid effective upon such prepayment or acquisition. Through March 31, 2011, the Company has utilized $27.7 million pursuant to the Amendment to repurchase and retire $34.7 million in principal outstanding.

There are no scheduled commitment reductions under the Revolving Facility. The loans under the Term Loan B Facility are subject to scheduled repayment in quarterly installments of approximately $0.6 million each payable on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year through June 30, 2014, followed by a final repayment on the Term Loan B Maturity Date of $199.0 million, which reflects completed Term Loan B Facility repurchases through March 31, 2011.

Revolving Facility

Activity under the Company's Revolving Facility is summarized as follows:

Date	Borrowings (Dollars in thousands)	Repayments
February 2010	$ 9,000	$
May 2010		9,000

Covenant Compliance

Under the most restrictive covenants contained in the bank credit facilities agreement, the maximum allowable total leverage ratio, as defined in the agreement, is 5.25 to 1. As of March 31, 2011, this leverage ratio was approximately 2.69 to 1.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Term Loan B Facility and as a result of having a leverage ratio below 2.75 to 1 at March 31, 2011, the applicable margin over the eurodollar borrowing rate will be 200 basis points for the second quarter of 2011.

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

At March 31, 2011, the Company was in compliance with all of its debt covenants.

Table of ContentsNote 7. Income Taxes

Income tax expense for the three months ended March 31, 2011 was $4.0 million, compared to an income tax expense of $2.3 million for the same period in 2010, reflecting effective tax rates of 40.7% and 48.1%, respectively. The effective tax rates are computed based on consolidated income or loss before income taxes, and income tax expense is comprised of the following:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2011	2010
	(Dollars in thousands)
Provision for tax expense on pre-tax income, adjusted for permanent differences	$ 3,959	$ 2,140
Recorded reserves related to uncertain tax positions	67	85
Other miscellaneous adjustments	(26)	80
Provision for income taxes	$ 4,000	$ 2,305

As of March 31, 2011, the Company maintained a partial valuation allowance against its net deferred tax assets. The Company may release additional valuation allowance in future periods when it can conclude that a greater portion of the net deferred tax assets is more likely than not to be realized. To the extent the Company reports taxable income in future periods, it intends to use its net operating loss carryforwards (NOLs), to the extent allowable, to offset that taxable income and reduce cash outflows for income taxes. The Company's ability to use its federal and state NOLs and federal and state tax credit carryforwards may be subject to restrictions attributable to equity transactions in the future resulting from changes in ownership as defined under the Internal Revenue Code.

The total amount of unrecognized tax benefits as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010 was $79.4 million. Approximately $22.7 million of the Company's unrecognized tax benefits would, if recognized, have an impact on the effective income tax rate, while approximately $56.7 million would not. As of March 31, 2011, the Company's recorded liability for uncertain tax positions was $27.5 million, which includes $4.8 million of interest and penalties. The Company recorded charges for interest related to the unrecognized tax benefits of $0.3 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011.

The Company or one of its subsidiaries files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction and various state and local jurisdictions, and the Company is routinely under audit by multiple tax authorities. The Company is currently under audit by the Internal Revenue Service for its 2005 through 2008 federal consolidated income tax filings and other material state taxing jurisdictions for income tax filings for the years 2005 through 2007. The Company reported NOLs from tax years back to 1992 on federal and state tax returns currently under, or open to, examination. The Company believes that its accrual for tax liabilities is adequate for all open audit years based on its assessment of many factors, including past experience and interpretations of tax law. This assessment relies on estimates and assumptions and involves a series of complex judgments about future events.

Of the unrecorded tax benefits at March 31, 2011 of $79.4 million, the Company believes that it is reasonably possible that, due to the expiration of the statutes of limitations in certain state and local jurisdictions within the next 12 months, the Company may record a decrease of unrecognized tax benefits and accrued interest of approximately $1.5 million.

Note 8. Provision for Restructuring

Over the past several years, the Company has implemented a number of plans to streamline its expense structure. The plans have included employee-related termination costs resulting from the elimination of certain positions; charges associated with vacating certain leased properties as a result of the co-location of operations within certain markets or leasing less space in a market due to a reduced number of employees; charges resulting from actions taken with respect to certain of the Company's retail display allowances (RDAs), which are intended to reduce the Company's distribution costs; and charges to terminate other contracts.

As part of its distribution function, the Company has entered into contracts with various retail chains, including grocery, drug, convenience, and mass merchandise retailers for exclusive rights for distribution related to the Company's and third-party free directories, which the Company refers to as RDAs. The Company has taken action to reduce its ongoing distribution costs arising from RDAs that are underperforming through:

terminating the Company's distribution rights for some or all locations covered by certain RDAs at a negotiated price; discontinuing service for and vacating some locations covered by certain RDAs; and determining to forego distribution rights for certain locations that are not currently being serviced.

All of these actions result in charges included in restructuring expense; however, in the last two cases, the timing and amount of the Company's future cash obligations are not impacted.

2011 Plan

The Company's 2011 restructuring plan included charges related to certain position eliminations, which are expected to be paid during 2011.

Table of Contents

2010 Plans

The Company's 2010 restructuring plans included charges arising from actions taken on underperforming RDAs, which continue through 2011; charges associated with vacating certain leased properties, which continue through 2015; and charges related to certain position eliminations, of which a majority were paid in 2010 with the remainder expected to be paid during 2011.

2009 Plan

The Company's 2009 restructuring plan included charges arising from actions taken on underperforming RDAs, which continue through 2011; charges associated with vacating certain leased properties, which continue through 2015; and charges related to certain position eliminations, which were paid during 2009.

2008 Plan

The Company's 2008 restructuring plan included charges related to the elimination of certain jobs, which were paid through 2009; charges associated with vacating certain leased properties, which continue through 2015; and charges related to the termination of certain other contracts, which were paid in 2008.

Total expected cost of each plan and costs incurred through March 31, 2011 are as follows:

	2011 Plan	2010 Plans	2009 Plan	2008 Plan
	(Dollars in thousands)
Total expected costs	$ 250-325	$ 10,900-11,900	$ 21,000-21,500	$ 7,800-8,000
Costs incurred through March 31, 2011	235	7,990	21,393	7,898

The 2008 and 2009 restructuring plans are substantially complete; however, further changes in the Company's recorded liability and restructuring charge could result if it becomes necessary to change the Company's assumptions about future sublease income, which is further discussed below.

Other Plans

In addition to the plans implemented in 2011, 2010, 2009 and 2008, the Company also has remaining liabilities associated with vacating certain leased properties under restructuring plans initiated in 2006 and prior, which are expected to be paid through 2015.

To reduce the lease-related costs under all of its restructuring plans, the Company has pursued subleases of its available properties. These leases have been recorded at their net present value amounts and are net of anticipated sublease income. Until such time as the underlying leases are terminated or expire, the Company expects to incur further expense on all of its vacated leased properties from imputed interest related to the rental payments and changes in the amounts and timing of estimated cash flows, primarily anticipated sublease income.

Primarily as a result of changes in timing and amount of anticipated sublease income, the Company recorded an increase in expense of $0.4 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011, which is included in the provision for restructuring costs in the condensed consolidated statement of operations.

Details of all restructuring plans that have been implemented and the related payments during the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 are as follows:

Note 9. Stock-Based CompensationRestricted StockPerformance Share Plan

During 2010 and 2011, the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors (the "Compensation Committee") approved awards of performance-based restricted stock for 2010 and 2011, to be granted under the PRIMEDIA Inc. Stock Purchase and Option Plan, as amended (the "Stock Compensation Plan"), to certain employees of the Company. The extent to which an award vests is based on the Company's level of performance during the year in which the grant is made. Under the terms of each grant, the restricted stock is forfeited if less than 90% of the applicable performance goal is achieved and fully vests if at least 100% of the applicable performance goal is achieved. If at least 90%, but less than 100%, of the applicable performance goal is achieved, a portion of the restricted stock vests pursuant to a predetermined formula. Restricted stock vests on the date of determination by the Compensation Committee of the extent to which the applicable performance goal is achieved, provided the grantee is employed by the Company at such time. At that time, restrictions on the vested portion of the award lapse, and the corresponding shares are distributed to the grantee. Awards granted in 2011 also vest if the grantee's employment with the Company is terminated by the Company for any reason other than for cause.

The performance targets for the 2010 awards were set during the first quarter of 2010, at which time approximately 0.3 million shares were granted. The performance targets for 2010 were met, and $1.1 million of performance-based restricted stock was expensed for all of 2010. The performance targets for the 2011 awards were set during the first quarter of 2011, at which time approximately 0.3 million shares were granted. Performance-based restricted stock is expensed based on the probability of the Company achieving the applicable performance targets.

Service Plan

During 2010, the Compensation Committee approved awards that totaled approximately 0.5 million shares of service-based restricted stock, granted under the Stock Compensation Plan, to certain employees. The restricted stock will vest at 100% as long as the employee remains employed with the Company through specified vesting dates between 2010 and 2013, subject to earlier vesting under certain conditions.

During the first quarter of 2011, the Compensation Committee approved awards that totaled approximately 0.1 million shares of service-based restricted stock, granted under the Stock Compensation Plan, to the Company's Chief Executive Officer ("CEO"). The restricted stock will vest at 100% so long as the CEO remains employed with the Company through 2014, subject to earlier vesting under certain conditions.

A summary of the Company's restricted stock award activity, under both performance and service plans, during the three months ended March 31, 2011 is presented below:

	Number of Shares	Weighted- Average Grant- Date Fair Value

(1) Shares of common stock were surrendered to the Company by certain employees to satisfy the employees' tax withholding obligations upon the vesting of the restricted stock.

All restricted stock granted to the Company's CEO includes tandem dividend equivalent rights, and he will receive the dividends if he is employed with the Company on the dates the underlying shares vest.

The total fair value of shares vested during the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 was $1.7 million and $0.3 million, respectively.

Note 12. Derivative Financial InstrumentsRisk Management Objective of Using Derivative Financial Instruments

The Company is exposed to certain risks arising from both its business operations and economic conditions. The Company principally manages its exposures to a wide variety of business and operational risks through management of its core business activities. The Company manages economic risks, including interest rate, liquidity and credit risk primarily by managing the amount, sources and duration of its debt funding and the use of derivative financial instruments. Specifically, the Company enters into derivative financial instruments to manage exposures that arise from business activities that result in the payment of future known and uncertain cash amounts, the value of which are determined by interest rates. The Company's derivative financial instruments are used to manage differences in the amount, timing and duration of the Company's known or expected cash payments related to its borrowings. The Company does not use derivative financial instruments for speculative purposes.

The Company's objectives in using interest rate derivatives are to add stability to interest expense and to manage its exposure to interest rate movements. To accomplish this objective, the Company primarily uses interest rate swaps as part of its interest rate risk management strategy. Interest rate swaps designated as cash flow hedges involve the receipt of variable-rate amounts from a counterparty in exchange for the Company making fixed-rate payments over the life of the agreements without exchange of the underlying notional amount.

Cash Flow Hedges of Interest Rate Risk

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivative financial instruments that are designated in qualifying cash flow hedging relationships is recorded in accumulated other comprehensive income (AOCI) in the condensed consolidated balance sheet and is subsequently reclassified into earnings in the period that the hedged forecasted transaction affects earnings. During the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010, these derivative financial instruments were used to hedge the variability in cash flows arising from changes in the benchmark interest rate on the Company's variable-rate debt, which is presently represented by the Term Loan B Facility. The ineffective portion of the change in fair value of the derivative financial instruments is recognized directly in earnings through interest expense. There were no off-market terms present in any of the Company's interest rate swaps during the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 and no hedge ineffectiveness.

Amounts reported in AOCI related to derivative financial instruments in designated hedging relationships will be reclassified to interest expense as interest payments are made on the Company's Term Loan B Facility. During the twelve months ending March 31, 2012, the Company estimates that $1.7 million, excluding deferred taxes, will be reclassified from AOCI into earnings as an increase to interest expense.

The Company reports cash flows arising from derivative financial instruments in designated cash flow hedging relationships as operating activities in the condensed consolidated statement of cash flows.

The Company had the following outstanding derivative financial instruments that were designated as cash flow hedges of interest rate risk:

Credit-risk-related Contingent Features

The Company has agreements with each of its derivative financial instrument counterparties that contain a provision by which the Company could be declared in default on its derivative financial instrument obligations if repayment of the underlying indebtedness is accelerated by the lender due to the Company's default on the indebtedness.

The termination value of derivative financial instruments in a net liability position, which includes accrued interest but excludes any adjustment for nonperformance risk, related to these agreements was $1.7 million and $2.2 million as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively. The Company has not posted any collateral related to these agreements. If the Company breached any of these provisions, it would be required to settle its obligations under the agreements at their termination value of $1.7 million and $2.2 million as of March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively.

Note 13. Commitments and Contingencies

Litigation-Related Matters

The Company is involved in lawsuits and claims, both actual and potential, including some that it has asserted against others, in which substantial monetary damages are sought. These lawsuits and claims generally relate to contract, patent and other matters arising out of the conduct of the Company's current and past business activities. Although the result of any future litigation of such lawsuits and claims is inherently unpredictable, the Company believes that, in the aggregate, the outcome of all such lawsuits and claims will not have a material effect on its long-term consolidated financial position or liquidity; however, any such outcome could be material to the results of operations or cash flows of any particular period in which costs, if any, are recognized or amounts in resolution, if any, are paid.

Derivative Litigation

The Company is named as a nominal defendant in a consolidated stockholder derivative action pending in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (Chancery Court) under the caption In re PRIMEDIA Inc. Derivative Litigation, Consolidated C.A. No. 1808-N. Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. L.P. (KKR), and certain present and former members of the Company's Board of Directors are also named as defendants. Plaintiffs allege that KKR and the Company's Board of Directors breached their fiduciary duties to the Company in connection with PRIMEDIA's redemption of certain shares of its preferred stock in 2004 and 2005. On November 15, 2006, the Chancery Court denied separate motions to dismiss filed by the director defendants and KKR, and, on January 18, 2007, all defendants answered the then operative complaint. On May 23, 2007, the Company's Board of Directors formed a Special Litigation Committee (SLC) of independent, non-defendant directors with full and sole authority to investigate, review and take action with respect to the plaintiffs' claims in the derivative litigation. On September 7, 2007, plaintiffs filed a Second Amended and Consolidated Derivative Complaint (SAC), which, in addition to the allegations discussed above, further alleged that KKR usurped a corporate opportunity of the Company in 2002 by purchasing shares of PRIMEDIA preferred stock at discounts on the open market, while causing the Company to refrain from doing the same. On February 28, 2008, the SLC filed a motion to dismiss the SAC and, in support of the motion, its report (filed under seal) concluding that the pursuit of the claims asserted by plaintiffs does not make legal, practical or business sense. On March 16, 2010, plaintiffs filed a Third Amended and Consolidated Derivative Complaint (TAC), including additional allegations concerning KKR's purchases of PRIMEDIA preferred stock in 2002. On June 16, 2010, the Chancery Court granted the SLC's motion and dismissed the TAC with prejudice. On August 30, 2010, plaintiffs filed an appeal in the Supreme Court of the State of Delaware. On September 29, 2010, the SLC filed its answering brief in opposition, and on October 14, 2010, plaintiffs filed their reply. The Delaware Supreme Court has not yet ruled on plaintiffs' appeal.

About.com

Plaintiffs commenced this action in 2002 on behalf of a putative class of current and former guides for About.com, a former subsidiary of the Company. The plaintiffs asserted a variety of claims, primarily that guides were employees who were misclassified as independent contractors (and therefore were entitled to be paid minimum wage and overtime under federal and state wage laws), and that the guides were underpaid according to the terms of their contracts. In November 2005, the Company moved for summary judgment on the breach of contract claim and certain others. The basis of the motion was that About.com compensated the guides properly (i.e., it paid them the contractually required percentage of net advertising revenues generated by the About.com website, and in some years paid them more).

In December 2009, the parties reached an agreement in principle to settle the case in its entirety for $5.75 million. Counsel for the parties subsequently entered into a settlement agreement. On or about March 12, 2010, a motion was made for preliminary approval of the settlement, which the judge in the case granted on or about April 19, 2010. A fairness hearing was held on October 7, 2010, and the Court issued a final order certifying the settlement class and approving the settlement in full. The Company had previously paid the settlement amount of $5.75 million into escrow in September 2010.

Table of ContentsPatent Litigation

The Company was sued by Smarter Agent LLC on March 26, 2010, along with nine other defendants, in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. The complaint asserts that Smarter Agent owns three U.S. patents 6,385,541; 6,496,776; and 7,072,665 that have been infringed by the Company because of its distribution of applications that work on mobile devices and provide real estate-related information. The complaint seeks injunctive relief and unspecified damages. The Company believes that it is not infringing any valid claims of the patents and has provided prior art to Smarter Agent that was not considered by the United States Patent & Trademark Office. The Company formally responded to the complaint on September 13, 2010, denying infringing and alleging counterclaims for a declaratory judgment of patent invalidity and non-infringement. The Company also filed petitions in the United States Patent and Trademark Office to have the patents reexamined in light of the previously-unconsidered prior art. These petitions were granted, and the initial office actions have rejected all the claims of the patents. The parties have agreed to a stay of this case, and the Court has approved such stay, pending completion of all reexamination proceedings.

Other Matters

During the three months ended March 31, 2011, the Company and other parties reached a mediated settlement pertaining to certain copyright infringement claims against a divested entity. The amount of the settlement, $0.5 million, was included in discontinued operations in the condensed consolidated statement of operations and was paid during March 2011.

Indemnifications and Other Contingencies

The Company is a party to contracts in which it is common for it to agree to indemnify third parties for certain liabilities that arise out of or relate to the subject matter of the contract. In some cases, this indemnity extends to related liabilities arising from the negligence of the indemnified parties but usually excludes any liabilities caused by gross negligence or willful misconduct. The Company cannot estimate the potential amount of future payments under these indemnities until events arise that would trigger a liability under the indemnities.

Additionally, in connection with the sale of assets and the divestiture of businesses, the Company may agree to indemnify the buyer and related parties for certain losses or liabilities incurred by the buyer with respect to: (i) the representations and warranties made by the Company to the buyer in connection with the sale and (ii) liabilities related to the pre-closing operations of the assets sold. Indemnities related to pre-closing operations generally include tax liabilities and other liabilities not assumed by the buyer in the transaction.

Indemnities related to the pre-closing operations of sold assets normally do not represent additional liabilities to the Company but simply serve to protect the buyer from potential liability associated with the Company's obligations existing at the time of the sale. As with any liability, the Company has previously accrued for those pre-closing obligations that are considered probable and reasonably estimable. Should circumstances change, increasing the likelihood of payments related to a specific indemnity, the Company will accrue a liability when future payment is probable and the amount is reasonably estimable.

The Company also has other contingent tax-related liabilities arising from positions taken with the filing of certain tax returns. The Company has recorded reserves, included in accrued expenses and other in the condensed consolidated balance sheet, of $2.6 million and $2.7 million at March 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010, respectively, for all of its tax-related contingencies. During the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010, the Company recorded expense, included in other income, net in the condensed consolidated statement of operations, for changes in its estimated liability for tax-related contingencies attributable to continuing and discontinued operations as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2011	2010
	(Dollars in thousands)
Continuing operations	$ 3	$ 3
Discontinued operations	(125)	24
Total	$ (122)	$ 27

Note 14. Subsequent Event

Cash Dividend Declared

On April 26, 2011, the Company's Board of Directors declared a cash dividend of $0.07 per share of the Company's common stock, payable on or about May 18, 2011, to stockholders of record on May 9, 2011.

Item 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Introduction

In this Form 10-Q, which we refer to as this Report, the words PRIMEDIA, Company, we, us and our mean PRIMEDIA Inc., including its subsidiaries, unless the context otherwise specifies or requires.

This document contains forward-looking statements that is, statements related to future, not past, events. In this context, forward-looking statements often address our expected future business and financial performance and often contain words such as expects, estimates, anticipates, intends, plans, believes, seeks or will. Forward-looking statements by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain. These uncertainties may cause our actual future results to be materially different than those expressed in our forward-looking statements. For us, particular uncertainties which could adversely or positively affect our future results include, among others: the results and impact of the Company's announcement that it is exploring strategic alternatives; general economic trends and conditions and, in particular, trends and conditions in the apartment and other rental property and new home sales sectors of the residential real estate industry; changes in technology and competition; implementation and results of our ongoing strategic initiatives; the demand by customers for our products and services; expenses or adverse results of litigation; changes in U.S. federal tax laws; and numerous other matters of national, regional and local market scale, including those of a political, economic, business, competitive and regulatory nature. In addition, the results and impact of our January 2011 announcement that we are exploring strategic alternatives, including the possible sale of the Company, could affect our actual future results and cause such results to differ from those expressed in our forward-looking statements. We do not undertake to update our forward-looking statements.

The following discussion and analysis summarizes our financial condition and operating performance as of and for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 and should be read in conjunction with our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements and notes thereto, included elsewhere in this Report.

Executive Summary

Our Business

We are a targeted media company that provides consumers with the information and tools they need to find a place to live. Our consumer directories are targeted primarily for the apartment and other rental property sectors of the residential real estate industry, as well as selected new home markets, and are provided free to consumers through a combination of online, mobile and print platforms. We derive advertising revenue by providing our advertiser clients property management companies, private owner/landlords, new home builders and real estate professionals with products and services that generate measurable results in the form of cost-effective, quality leads.

Our principal digital assets include ApartmentGuide.com, Rentals.com, RentalHouses.com, NewHomeGuide.com and AmericanHomeGuides.com. According to comScore Media Metrix, our Apartments/Rentals Network of Sites averaged 5.1 million monthly unique visitors and over 10.0 million monthly unique visits during the first quarter of 2011. The average monthly number of digital leads per community has grown by over 20% compared to the first quarter of 2010. Leads derived from our online and mobile services now represent more than 85% of the total leads we deliver to our advertiser clients.

We produce printed directories for 75 markets and distribute them through display rack programs, many of which are on an exclusive basis, primarily with national and regional retail chains, including grocery, drug, convenience and mass merchandise retailers. In the first quarter of 2011, we distributed printed directories to approximately 19,000 retail and other locations.

Table of Contents*2011 First Quarter Summary Consolidated Results*

Financial highlights for the first quarter include the following:

	Three Months Ended March 31,		$ Change Favorable/ (Unfavorable)	% Change Favorable/ (Unfavorable)
	2011	2010
	(Dollars in thousands, except per share data)

Discontinued operations	(0.02)	(0.02)
Net income	$ 0.11	$ 0.04	$ 0.07	175.0

Total revenue decreased due to a $3.8 million decrease in Apartments advertising revenue, a $0.6 million decrease in New Homes advertising revenue and a $0.9 million decrease in distribution revenue. The change in income from continuing operations was primarily due to a $10.3 million net reduction in total costs and expenses, partially offset by lower revenue of $5.3 million and an increase in provision for income taxes of $1.7 million. Net income increased due to the factors above, partially offset by a $0.3 million decrease in discontinued operations, net of tax.

2011 Business Trends and Outlook

Overall, we expect our advertisers to increasingly favor digital media choices in their advertising budgets, and we are continuing to aggressively develop and market our online and mobile offerings. The greater portion of the value we now deliver (in the form of leads) on a national basis has shifted to our digital products and services. However, at least in the shorter term, we anticipate continuing decreases in revenue per community served as we increase apartment communities served. We believe that our growth will depend, to a significant degree, upon the value of our online products and services and our ability to monetize this value.

We are seeing improving conditions in most of our markets. Overall, however, pressure on clients' advertising budgets continued during the first quarter as economic rents had not fully recovered to pre-recession levels. For the remainder of 2011, we intend to continue to grow our client count and market share in our largest business, Apartment Guide, and pursue enhancements to our product portfolio and market segment expansion. We also intend to grow our Rentals.com business by focusing on improving site engineering and performance, while increasing traffic, primarily through search engine optimization. Our visibility around 2011 revenue for Apartments is limited, given changing economic and market conditions, though we currently expect to see a 6.5% to 7.5% year-over-year decline in second quarter 2011 Apartments revenue, which includes the impact of delayed revenue recognition of approximately $1.1 million due to clients transitioning from integrated marketing packages (which include Internet, mobile and print offerings) to digital-only advertising packages, as well as the adoption of a new accounting standard, which is more fully discussed in Note 1, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, to the condensed consolidated financial statements contained elsewhere in this Report. We also expect year-over-year declines in second quarter 2011 revenue of approximately $1.0 million for New Homes and $1.0 million for Distribution.

Apartments

Apartment Guide, ApartmentGuide.com, Rentals.com and RentalHouses.com, representing approximately 93.7% of advertising revenue during the three months ended March 31, 2011, experienced a decrease in revenue of 7.7% compared to the same period in 2010, primarily due to a 12.0% decrease in revenue per community served by Apartment Guide, which was partially offset by a 2.7% increase in apartment communities served. The number of communities served by Apartment Guide increased, in part, as a result of enhancements to our product portfolio, intended to provide more flexibility to our clients, based on specific markets and market segments, and market expansion.

Effective January 1, 2011, the Company adopted a new accounting standard, which is more fully discussed in Note 1 to the condensed consolidated financial statements contained elsewhere in this Report. For the three months ended March 31, 2011, the adoption of the new accounting standard had the effect of delaying the recognition of approximately $0.4 million in Apartments advertising revenue compared to the amount that would have been recognized under previous accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP).

Revenue per community served decreased, in part, as a result of pricing pressure caused by negative economic and industry conditions, including high unemployment rates and low levels of new multi-family construction, and adverse market conditions, including relatively higher occupancy levels and historically lower effective rent levels. Competitive conditions also pressured pricing, as our competitors continued to reduce advertising rates to retain clients. Effective rents are essentially average rent amounts after giving effect to free months of rent and other incentives. Our historical experience has been that as occupancy rates increase beyond 95%, apartment communities tend to reduce their advertising spend because they require fewer prospective tenants. As occupancy rates fall below 90%, apartment communities tend to cut back on all discretionary spending, including advertising. For these reasons, occupancy rates (both actual and expected) in excess of 95% or below 90% ordinarily result in a decrease in advertising spend. However, the effects of occupancy rates can be mitigated or exacerbated by effective rent levels.

Key occupancy-related data is as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2011	2010
Range of occupancy rates in Apartment Guide markets	89%-97%	88%-100%
Average occupancy rate in Apartment Guide markets	94%	92%

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

Apartment Guide revenue derived from markets that had occupancy rates of 95% or higher	11%	2%
Apartment Guide revenue derived from markets that had occupancy rates below 90%	5%	15%

Table of Contents

The majority of markets experienced occupancy levels between 90% and 96% during the first quarter of 2011 and between 89% and 96% during the first quarter of 2010.

The effects of occupancy rates are mitigated or exacerbated by effective rent levels. In the markets in which we print a directory, effective rents were up 5.3% for the first quarter of 2011 compared to the same period in 2010.

Rentals.com revenue increased by 10.2% during the first quarter of 2011 compared to the same period in 2010. The increase was primarily due to an increase in display and performance-based advertising revenue.

New Homes

New Home Guide, NewHomeGuide.com and AmericanHomeGuides.com, representing approximately 6.3% of advertising revenue during the three months ended March 31, 2011, decreased 15.6% compared to the same period in 2010. The decrease in revenue was primarily due to a 17.4% decrease in revenue per new home community served, slightly offset by a 2.2% increase in new home communities served. This decrease in revenue resulted from declines in standard and premium advertising spend by many new home builders, driven by continued weakness in the new home sales sector.

Effective January 1, 2011, the Company adopted a new accounting standard, which is more fully discussed in Note 1 to the condensed consolidated financial statements contained elsewhere in this Report. For the three months ended March 31, 2011, the adoption of the new accounting standard had the effect of delaying the recognition of less than $0.1 million in New Homes advertising revenue compared to the amount that would have been recognized under previous GAAP.

We believe pressure in this business will continue over the near term and remain challenging for the foreseeable future. As of March 31, 2011, we published New Home Guides in 19 markets. We may suspend New Home Guide print directories that are considered less effective, which could adversely impact our revenue. We continue to focus on online offerings across all markets.

Distribution

Distribution revenue decreased by 14.0% during the three months ended March 31, 2011 compared to the same period in 2010. We realized a 15.1% decrease in the number of pockets sold in our display racks during the period, slightly offset by a 1.2% increase in the average revenue per pocket, as well as a reduction in the number of retail locations serviced due to restructuring activities further discussed in Note 8, Provision for Restructuring Costs, to the condensed consolidated financial statements included elsewhere in this Report. Our distribution revenue reflects the impact of the reduction in retail locations serviced, and it continues to be adversely impacted by the loss of business from publishers within the resale home, automobile sales and employment classifieds sectors scaling back or ceasing operations or providing an Internet-only product.

Costs and Expenses

Total cost and expenses	$ 44,210	$ 54,516	$ (10,306)	(18.9)

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

The decrease in cost of goods sold was due to the reformatting of our printed guides, including reductions in paper size, as well as scheduling and distribution optimization.

Our distribution and circulation costs decreased as a result of ongoing action with certain of our retail display allowance contracts, or RDAs, since the third quarter of 2008. As is more fully discussed in Note 8, Provision for Restructuring Costs, to the condensed consolidated financial statements, other of our RDAs are part of restructuring charges we incurred during 2010 related to actions we took to reduce our ongoing distribution costs.

Table of Contents

The decline in general and administrative expenses was primarily due to a decrease of $0.4 million in employee-related costs, a decline of $0.4 million in legal fees and other professional fees, and a decrease of $0.3 million in facility and equipment costs.

The decrease in amortization of intangible assets was primarily as a result of certain intangible assets becoming fully amortized during the past 12 months.

As is more fully discussed in Note 8 to the condensed consolidated financial statements contained elsewhere in this Report, over the past several years, we have implemented a number of plans to streamline our expense structure, which have resulted in restructuring charges. The plans have included employee-related termination costs resulting from the elimination of certain positions; charges associated with vacating certain leased properties as a result of the co-location of operations within certain markets or leasing less space in a market due to a reduced number of employees; charges resulting from actions taken with respect to certain of our RDAs, which are intended to reduce our distribution costs; and charges to terminate other contracts.

Interest expense decreased primarily due to lower average debt levels, as during the second quarter of 2010 we repurchased and retired approximately $7.5 million in principal of our Term Loan B Facility, and during the third quarter of 2010 we repurchased and retired approximately $6.9 million in principal. The decrease is also attributable to a lower weighted-average effective interest rate during 2011.

Income Taxes

Our effective tax rate on income from continuing operations for the three months ended March 31, 2011 was 40.7%, compared to 48.1% for the three months ended March 31, 2010. The decrease in the effective rate was primarily due to a decrease in adjustments for changes to prior year estimates.

Primarily as a result of the ongoing amortization for tax purposes of certain indefinite-lived intangible assets, our net non-current deferred tax liability increased from approximately $4.2 million at December 31, 2010 to approximately $6.7 million at March 31, 2011.

Discontinued Operations

In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, we have classified the results of our divested entities as discontinued operations in the condensed consolidated statement of operations for all periods presented.

The components of discontinued operations for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 included in the condensed consolidated statement of operations are as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31,		$ Change	% Change
	2011	2010	Favorable/ (Unfavorable)	Favorable (Unfavorable)
	(Dollars in thousands)
Total revenue, net	$	$	$	%

Discontinued operations, net of tax	$ (1,120)	$ (792)	$ (328)	(41.4)

Table of Contents

The components of the benefit (provision) for income taxes included in discontinued operations for the three months ended March 31, 2011 and 2010 are as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31,		$ Change Favorable/ (Unfavorable)	% Change Favorable/ (Unfavorable)
	2011	2010 (Dollars in thousands)
Benefit (provision) for tax expense on pre-tax income (loss), adjusted for permanent differences	$ 555	$ (264)	$ 819	310.2%
Change in liability for uncertain tax positions	(240)	(170)	(70)	(41.2)
Changes in estimates included in prior year tax provision	5	(1)	6	600.0
Total benefit (expense) for income taxes	$ 320	$ (435)	$ 755	173.6

The Company and other parties reached a mediated settlement pertaining to certain copyright infringement claims against a divested entity. The amount of the settlement was $0.5 million.

The change in adjustments to accrued operating lease liabilities is primarily the result of changes in the timing and amount of anticipated sublease income.

The change in tax benefit (expense) is primarily due to changes in pre-tax income and the reversal of certain deferred tax items at a rate different than the statutory rate.

Overview

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

Management believes that our cash flows from operating activities will generally be sufficient to support our business operations and service our debt. Our cash flows from operating activities are somewhat seasonal in nature, primarily due to the timing of payments made under the terms of our RDAs, which generally occur in the first half of the year. To the extent that our cash flows from operating activities are not sufficient to meet our liquidity needs, including funds for our capital expenditures, our payment of dividends to stockholders, our contractual obligations and costs related to litigation, we may, from time to time, utilize amounts available under our $88.0 million revolving credit facility (the Revolving Facility), which is discussed in further detail under Financing Arrangements below.

Table of Contents

Outlook

For the remainder of 2011, our primary uses of cash are expected to represent expenditures related to:

the ongoing operations of our business;

capital expenditures of $9.0 million to $11.0 million;

required principal payments of our outstanding debt, including capital leases, of $1.9 million;

interest on our outstanding debt;

obligations arising from RDA restructuring activities of $0.2 million;

obligations arising from other restructuring activities, including real estate leases of $8.3 million;

obligations arising from real estate leases of divested entities of $4.2 million;

the payment of regular quarterly dividends to our stockholders;

the opportunistic repurchase of debt outstanding under our Term Loan B Facility, if any;

repayments of amounts outstanding under our Revolving Facility, if any; and our evaluation of various strategic alternatives.

Working Capital

The increase in working capital as of March 31, 2011 compared to March 31, 2010 was primarily due to the result of our ongoing cost-cutting initiatives that have enabled us to reduce our accounts payable and various accrued expenses.

Net Debt

Since March 31, 2010, we decreased our net debt by $26.9 million, primarily by the scheduled repayments of $2.5 million in principal, the repurchase of approximately $14.4 million in principal under our Term Loan B Facility, net repayments of $9.0 million on the Revolving Facility, repayments of $0.4 million on our capital lease obligations, and an increase of $0.6 million in cash and cash equivalents.

Cash Flows from Operating Activities

Our cash flows from operating activities are summarized as follows:

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

	Three Months Ended March 31,		$ Change
	2011	2010	From 2010
	(Dollars in thousands)

Net cash provided by (used in) operating activities	$ 8,616	$ (4,500)	$ 13,116

The items having the most significant impact on the increase in cash flows from operating activities include an increase in net income and the timing of the collection of accounts receivable and payment of liabilities.

Table of Contents*Cash Flows from Investing Activities*

Our cash flows from investing activities are summarized as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31, 2011	2010	$ Change From 2010
	(Dollars in thousands)
Additions to property and equipment	$ (3,253)	$ (2,945)	$ (308)
Other, net	2		2
Net cash used in investing activities	$ (3,251)	$ (2,945)	$ (306)

The decrease in cash flows from investing activities during the three months ended March 31, 2011 from March 31, 2010 was due to an increase in cash paid for property and equipment during the three months ended March 31, 2011.

Cash Flows from Financing Activities

Our cash flows from financing activities are summarized as follows:

	Three Months Ended March 31, 2011	2010	$ Change From 2010
	(Dollars in thousands)
Payment of dividends on common stock	$ (3,187)	$ (3,091)	$ (96)
Borrowings under revolving credit facility		9,000	(9,000)
Repayments under revolving credit facility	(1,200)		(1,200)

Capital lease payments	(94)	(121)	27
Payments related to issuances of common stock, net of value of shares withheld for employee taxes	(246)	(59)	(187)
Excess tax benefits from stock-based compensation	137		137
Net cash (used in) provided by financing activities	$ (5,215)	$ 5,104	$ (10,319)

The decrease in cash flows from financing activities was primarily attributable to net payments under the Revolving Facility of $1.2 million during the three months ended March 31, 2011 as compared to net borrowings of $9.0 million during the three months ended March 31, 2010.

Free Cash Flow

We believe that the use of free cash flow enables our chief operating decision maker, our President and Chief Executive Officer, to make decisions based on our cash resources. We also believe that free cash flow provides useful information to investors as it is considered to be an indicator of our liquidity, including our ability to reduce debt and make strategic investments.

Free cash flow is defined as net cash provided by operating activities adjusted for additions to property, equipment and other, net, exclusive of acquisitions, and capital lease payments.

Free cash flow is not intended to represent cash flows from operating activities as determined in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Free cash flow, as presented, may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies since not all companies necessarily calculate free cash flow in an identical manner, and therefore, it is not necessarily an accurate measure of comparison between companies.

The following table presents our free cash flow:

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

	Three Months Ended March		$ Change
	2011	2010	From 2010
	(Dollars in thousands)
Net cash provided by (used in) operating activities	$ 8,616	$ (4,500)	$ 13,116
Additions to property and equipment	(3,253)	(2,945)	(308)
Capital lease payments	(94)	(121)	27
Free cash flow	$ 5,269	$ (7,566)	$ 12,835

Table of Contents

Our free cash flow increased during the three months ended March 31, 2011, primarily due to an increase in net income, the timing of the collection of accounts receivable and payment of liabilities, slightly offset by increased payments for property and equipment.

*Financing ArrangementsBank Credit Facilities

Our bank credit facility provides for two loan facilities: (1) a revolving credit facility with aggregate commitments of $88.0 million, which matures on August 1, 2013, and (2) a Term Loan B credit facility (the Term Loan B Facility), which matures on August 1, 2014 (the Term Loan B Maturity Date).

Amounts borrowed under the Revolving Facility bear interest, at our option, at an annual rate of either the base rate plus an applicable margin ranging from 0.625% to 1.00% or the eurodollar rate plus an applicable margin ranging from 1.625% to 2.00%. The interest rate on the Revolving Facility at March 31, 2011 was 1.99%. The Term Loan B Facility bears interest, at our option, at an annual rate of either the base rate plus an applicable margin ranging from 1.00% to 1.25% or the eurodollar rate plus an applicable margin ranging from 2.00% to 2.25%. Approximately $200.0 million of the outstanding balance of the Term Loan B Facility is based on the three-month eurodollar rate plus the applicable margin. The remaining $7.0 million outstanding balance is based on the one-month eurodollar rate plus the applicable margin. The weighted-average interest rate on the Term Loan B Facility at March 31, 2011 was 2.30%, which does not include the impact of interest rate swaps in designated hedging relationships. Pursuant to the provisions of the Term Loan B Facility and as a result of having a leverage ratio below 2.75 to 1 at March 31, 2011, the applicable margin over the eurodollar borrowing rate will be 200 basis points for the second quarter of 2011. As a result of this and our interest rate swaps, we expect the weighted-average cost of our Term Loan B Facility to be approximately 3.6% during the three months ended June 30, 2011.

There are no scheduled commitment reductions under the Revolving Facility. The loan under the Term Loan B Facility is subject to scheduled repayment in quarterly installments of $0.6 million payable on March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year. The final quarterly installment is scheduled to be paid on June 30, 2014, followed by a final repayment of $199.0 million on the Term Loan B Maturity Date. We had derivative financial instruments with a notional amount equal to 96.5% of the unpaid principal balance of the Term Loan B Facility in a designated hedging relationship at March 31, 2011.

The bank credit facilities consisted of the following as of March 31, 2011:

	Revolving Facility	Term Loan B Facility	Total
		(Dollars in thousands)
Bank credit facilities	$ 88,000	$ 207,147	$ 295,147
Borrowings outstanding		(207,147)	(207,147)
Letters of credit outstanding	(2,068)		(2,068)
Unused bank commitments	$ 85,932	$	$ 85,932

The weighted-average of our commitment fees under the bank credit facilities during the three months ended March 31, 2011 was 0.30%.

The bank credit facilities agreement, among other things, limits our ability to change the nature of our businesses, incur indebtedness, create liens, sell assets, engage in mergers, consolidations or transactions with affiliates, make investments in or loans to certain subsidiaries, issue guarantees and make certain restricted payments, including dividend payments on or repurchases of our common stock.

Revolving Facility Borrowings

Activity under our Revolving Facility is summarized as follows:

Date	Borrowings	Repayments
------	------------	------------

Edgar Filing: PRIMEDIA INC - Form 10-Q

	(Dollars in thousands)
February 2010	$ 9,000	$
May 2010		9,000
August 2010	2,000	2,000
September 2010	8,700
December 2010		7,500
January 2011		1,200

Table of Contents

A change in the rating of our debt instruments by outside rating agencies does not negatively impact our ability to use our available lines of credit or the borrowing rate under our bank credit facilities. As of March 2010, our senior debt ratings from Moody's and Standard and Poor's were B1 and B, respectively.

Covenant Compliance

Under the most restrictive covenants contained in our bank credit facilities agreement, the maximum allowable total leverage ratio, as defined in the agreement, is 5.25 to 1 and was approximately 2.69 to 1 at March 31, 2011.

At March 31, 2011, we were in compliance with all of our debt covenants.

Interest Rate Swaps

As of March 31, 2011, we were party to three interest rate swaps with an aggregate notional amount of $200.0 million. All of the interest rate swaps were in designated hedging relationships to hedge the variability of future cash flows due to changes in the benchmark interest rate associated with our variable-rate debt. The following is a summary of our outstanding interest rate swaps at March 31, 2011 (dollars in thousands):

Maturity Date	Notional Amount
September 30, 2011	$ 50,000
December 30, 2011	150,000

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

At March 31, 2011, we had approximately $2.1 million in outstanding letters of credit and less than $0.1 million in outstanding surety bonds, which are not included in our condensed consolidated balance sheet. The letters of credit are used to cover reimbursement obligations for our insurance carriers and certain of our real estate obligations, while the surety bonds are used to satisfy real estate broker license obligations in several states. The letters of credit generally expire within one year but have automatic renewal clauses, while the surety bonds must be renewed annually. There are no additional contingent liabilities associated with them as the underlying liabilities are already reflected in our consolidated balance sheet.

We have no variable interest entities or off balance sheet obligations other than as described above and as related to operating leases in the ordinary course of business.

Contingencies and Other

As is more fully discussed in Note 13, Commitments and Contingencies, under Part I, Item 1 of this Form 10-Q, we are involved in lawsuits and claims, both actual and potential, including some that we have asserted against others, in which substantial monetary damages are sought. These lawsuits and claims generally relate to contract, patent and other matters arising out of the conduct of our current and past business activities. Although the result of any future litigation of such lawsuits and claims is inherently unpredictable, management believes that, in the aggregate, the outcome of all such lawsuits and claims will not have a material effect on our long-term consolidated financial position or liquidity; however, any such outcome could be material to the results of operations or cash flows of any particular period in which costs, if any, are recognized or amounts in resolution, if any, are paid.

We announced on April 28, 2011 that our Board of Directors had authorized a regular quarterly cash dividend of $0.07 per share of common stock, payable on or about May 18, 2011, to stockholders of record on May 9, 2011. We expect to pay this dividend out of our existing cash balance.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

Multiple-Deliverable Revenue Arrangements. We enter into contracts to sell our subscription-based advertising, and the majority of our agreements are for integrated marketing packages, containing both digital and print advertising, and which are typically 12 or more months in duration. We were required to adopt new accounting literature that provides new criteria for separating individual deliverables in multiple-deliverable arrangements into separate units of accounting. The new accounting literature is effective for multiple-deliverable revenue arrangements that are entered into or significantly modified on or after January 1, 2011. As a result, we must allocate the consideration under these arrangements to the two deliverables, the digital advertising and the print advertising, on the basis of their relative selling prices. We use a hierarchy to determine the selling price to be used for allocating revenue to deliverables:

vendor-specific objective evidence (VSOE), if available;

third-party evidence (TPE), if vendor-specific objective evidence is not available; or estimated selling price, if neither vendor-specific objective evidence nor third-party evidence is available.

Table of Contents

Our product offerings include a digital-only advertising package. As a result, the average selling price for this package provides us with VSOE for the digital advertising deliverable in our integrated marketing package. However we do not offer a print-only advertising package, and the selling price of the print advertising deliverable in our integrated marketing package is determined based on average third-party evidence of the selling price for print advertising in the Company's markets. The timing of the completion of the earnings process is different for digital and print advertising. The earnings process for digital advertising is completed as a customer's advertisement is hosted over the contract period, while the earnings process for print advertising is completed when the directories are placed on display racks and made available to end consumers. Due to this difference, the recognition of the portion of the consideration allocated to the digital advertising deliverable effectively must be delayed for approximately one month.

The selling price which is used for the allocation of the consideration under multiple-deliverable revenue arrangements must be periodically updated, and changes in the selling price can result in changes in the allocation between the digital advertising deliverable and the print advertising deliverable, which may impact the timing of revenue recognition but will not change the total revenue recognized on the contract.

There have been no other changes in our Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates since December 31, 2010.

Goodwill Impairment Testing

We perform our annual goodwill impairment test as of October 31. We must also test goodwill for impairment between annual tests if an event occurs or circumstances change that would more likely than not reduce the fair value of our reporting unit below its carrying amount.

Our most recent annual impairment test indicated the fair value of our reporting unit exceeded its carrying value. Although our business continues to be adversely impacted by the weakened national economy, our consideration of events and circumstances potentially affecting the fair value of our reporting unit indicated that it was not more likely than not that the fair value of the reporting unit has fallen below its carrying value. Accordingly, we have not performed an interim goodwill impairment test subsequent to our most recent annual impairment test.

Recent Accounting Developments

See Note 1, Summary of Significant Accounting Policies Recent Accounting Pronouncements, to the condensed consolidated financial statements, included elsewhere in this Report.

Seasonality

Our operations are minimally seasonal in nature.

The majority of our advertising and distribution revenue is comprised of contracts with a duration of 12 months or longer.

We experience modest seasonality in Rentals.com as that business declines in the winter months. This business represents a relatively small part of the total business.

Our cash flows from operating activities are somewhat seasonal in nature, primarily due to the timing of payments made under the terms of our RDAs, which generally occur in the first half of the year.

Item 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to the impact of changes in interest rates, primarily through our Term Loan B Facility, which is variable-rate debt that had an outstanding balance of $207.1 million as of March 31, 2011. As part of our management of interest rate risk, we have designated derivative financial instruments in hedging relationships against the variability in cash flows due to changes in the benchmark interest rate on our variable-rate debt. The table below shows the change in interest expense we estimate would occur over the next 12 months from 50 and 100 basis point increases and decreases in interest rates based upon our current Term Loan B Facility balance and derivative financial instrument positions as of March 31, 2011. Such potential increases or decreases are based on certain simplifying assumptions, including a constant level of debt and an immediate, across-the-board increase or decrease in the level of interest rates with no other subsequent changes for one year.

Table of Contents

Interest Rate Change (in Basis Points)	Change in Interest Expense (Dollars in thousands)
+100	$ 687
+50	344
-50	(344)
-100	(687)

Credit Risk

Our hedging transactions using derivative financial instruments also involve certain additional risks, such as counterparty credit risk. The counterparties to our derivative financial instruments are major financial institutions and securities dealers, which we believe are well capitalized with investment grade credit ratings and with which we may have other financial relationships. While we do not anticipate nonperformance by any counterparty, we are exposed to potential credit losses in the event the counterparty fails to perform. Our exposure to credit risk in the event of default by a counterparty is the difference between the value of the contract and the current market price at the time of the default. There can be no assurance that we will be able to adequately protect against the foregoing risks and will ultimately realize an economic benefit that exceeds the related expenses incurred in connection with engaging in such hedging strategies.

Item 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the Exchange Act) is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer (principal executive officer) and Chief Financial Officer (principal financial officer), to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. We have established a Disclosure Committee, consisting of certain members of management, to assist in this evaluation. The Disclosure Committee meets on a regular quarterly basis and as needed.

Our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) promulgated under the Exchange Act) as of March 31, 2011. Based on that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of March 31, 2011, our disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

There was no change in internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended March 31, 2011 that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1A. RISK FACTORS

There have been no material changes to the Company's risk factors during the three months ended March 31, 2011.
