II. Shapell Overview

NYSE: TOL

Shapell: 55+ Year History of Land

Development & Homebuilding

Nathan Shapell was born in Poland and during World War II was a prisoner of the infamous Buchenwald and Auschwitz Concentration Camps where most of his family members, including his mother, were executed.

After the war he devoted himself to helping thousands of Holocaust survivors by building housing complexes in Germany for survivors and representing them before American military panels responsible for ruling on requests to immigrate to America.

In 1952,

Nathan Shapell
immigrated to the United States
with his wife
and daughter.

1955
Shapell
Industries was founded by

Mr. Shapell, his brother David and brother-in-law Max Webb as a home construction company that built custom-quality single family home communities in Southern California.

Since that time the Company has remained family-owned and has expanded its expertise to include virtually every aspect of the real estate development process from land acquisition to design, land development and construction.

To date, Shapell Homes has delivered over 70,000 homes, built over 7,000 apartments, and owns and manages more than 2.7 million square feet of commercial space. Toll will acquire the single-family residential real property development business of Shapell. Toll will not acquire Shapell's commercial and multi-family units, which will be retained by the seller as a separate business.

Case Study: Investment in

Shapell Lots

Amalfi Hills

In 2012, Toll acquired two Shapell communities (Sorrento & Positano) that consisted of 113 Lots in Yorba Linda & Amalfi Hills (Orange County) for $47mm

Yorba Linda is a highly desirable housing market with median household income of $115k and restricted supply

Toll Brothers was able to drive pricing from $1.3 mm to approximately $1.6 mm in Sorrento and from $1.5 mm to approximately $2.3 mm at Positano since the acquisition

Toll's pace is almost 3x as fast as originally underwritten 18 months ago

The vast improvement in pace and price should result in meaningful gross margin expansion at these two communities

IV. Transaction Overview and Rationale

Toll Brothers, Inc.

NYSE: TOL

Overview of Transaction Financing

Total purchase price of ~$1.60 billion, all cash, for 5,200 lots plus Shapell's homebuilding operations

The purchase will be financed using a combination of equity and debt:

Equity

will represent 10

15%
of the purchase price
Debt will represent the remaining 85

90%
and
will be comprised
draws on our existing senior unsecured credit facility and other senior unsecured debt
We believe that closing will occur by the end of the first calendar quarter of 2014

Toll Brothers, Inc.
16
NYSE: TOL
Key Acquisition Considerations
We believe
$100
million

cash
will
on their balance sheet at closing which we will retain plus another $150 million will be returned in the first 6 months from WIP

We believe we will return cash of approximately $500 million from land sales within the first 18 months

Strong pro forma free cash flow will quickly reduce incremental leverage

We underwrote the transaction based on the underlying value of the land

We did not assume any inflation in our underwriting

We anticipate very limited goodwill and intangibles as a result of the transaction

After the transaction is completed, we still anticipate having more than $1 billion of available liquidity

Note: Cash flow and asset sale estimates are management projections that are subject to material revision.

We believe it will be accretive to earnings in the first year, excluding transaction costs

We believe we will receive a significant return of our investment in the first 18 months

Demographics Support Incremental

Investment in California

Source: California Building Industry Association, U.S. Census Bureau.

From 1970 to 2006, California averaged over 177,000 annual housing starts per year

During the downturn from 2007 to 2012, starts plummeted 66% to under 61,000 starts per year

California needs to build an additional ~700,000 units, or 4-years worth of supply, just to catch up from the downturn and return to its 35+ year average of annual housing starts

Toll's Conservative Long Term
Leverage Strategy Remains in Place

Toll's conservative long term leverage strategy will remain in place after this transaction

We believe our liquidity and balance sheet were helpful in winning this bid

While our leverage ratios will rise at closing, we believe the return of cash from Shapell's operations and from our land sales will help our leverage return to historical levels quickly

Toll Brothers, Inc.

22

NYSE: TOL

We are very excited, and honored that the Shapell family has chosen Toll Brothers to continue on with their legacy

This is a one-of-a-kind coastal California land portfolio that dovetails perfectly with our own footprint

We have proven historical success in California markets

We believe the transaction will be accretive to income and operating margins, excluding transaction costs, and we assumed no inflation in our underwriting

This is the right acquisition at the right time in the right location for Toll Brothers
