The Board is comprised of nine individuals who have substantial professional accomplishments and experience

Eight of the nine directors (89%), including the Fund's 2015 nominees William R. Hutchinson, Eileen A. Kamerick and Robert D. Agdern, are independent under the Investment Company Act of 1940 and NYSE rules.

The Board's actions demonstrate its commitment to all investors and have benefited all shareholders:

The current Board and its 2015 nominees are highly experienced, independent and focused on the interests of all shareholders with a proven track record of performance

RIT's Board is highly experienced and independent

The Board reviews and discusses performance and premiums/discounts when they meet. The Board believes that in the current market environment a tender offer will not benefit shareholders in the long term

Bulldog proposed its own slate of directors, but does not articulate how they will aid ALL shareholders

In August 2011, replaced the sub-advisor

In August 2011, negotiated a fee waiver of 5 bps

In August 2008, redeemed all $95 million ARPS at liquidation value

In 2004, adopted a managed distribution policy

The Bulldog nominees have a history and relationship with Bulldog and Philip Goldstein and will pursue actions that benefit Bulldog investors, not all RIT shareholders

INDEPENDENT EXPERTISE. SINGULAR FOCUS.

Bulldog's actions are self serving and may hurt long-term investors

7

The vast majority of RIT shareholders are long-term investors who initially invested in RIT because of performance and monthly distributions. It is obvious that our shareholders are not short-term players

Bulldog has a short-term investment agenda to benefit its own investors

In September 2014, Bulldog reported ownership in RIT of 5.54%, but only eight days later reduced its position to 4.77%. Bulldog sold shares for a quick gain

Bulldog
submitted

a letter

to
RIT

on February

24,
2015,
informing

senior management

that it

would be presenting a proposal to shareholders at the annual meeting to seek a tender offer. Bulldog was purchasing shares before it sent

the
letter

and continued

to accumulate

shares
after

sending

From January 15, 2015 to April 6, 2015, (less than 4 months), Bulldog purchased over 50% of its current holdings

A tender offer in the current market environment is not in the best interests of all shareholders, as it would:

Force the sale of securities at inopportune times and could result in a taxable event for remaining shareholders

Increase RIT's expense ratio and potentially reduce future earnings and distributions to shareholders

Reduce market trading liquidity as fewer shares would be outstanding

Given current market conditions, the discount levels of the broader closed-end fund space and RIT's Lipper peers, and as independent research has shown, a tender offer cannot reasonably be expected to have a lasting impact on RIT's discount

INDEPENDENT EXPERTISE. SINGULAR FOCUS.

Bulldog's claims are misguided

8

Bulldog claims the Board concedes that the persistent discount is a problem

At each meeting the Board reviews and discusses RIT's performance and premium/discounts with portfolio

managers

The Board is committed to delivering results to all investors and believes that any action that can narrow the discount over the longer-term would benefit all investors and should be explored

Tender
offers
are not
new;
the Board
has evaluated
them
in
the
past.
Historical
analysis
shows
that
tender

offers do not have a lasting effect on discounts and can negatively impact long-term investors who do not tender shares

Bulldog says the Board refused to include its proposal on the Fund's proxy card

Bulldog
missed
the shareholder
proposal
submission
deadline
of November
26
th
by three months
never

submitted or requested its proposal appear in the Fund's proxy until after mailing its own proxy to investors

The Board believes proxy rules are in place for a reason - to protect retail investors and the integrity of the process -
and should be followed

Bulldog questions board independence based on the number of funds they serve and overall compensation

RIT's board oversees multiple funds in the Legg Mason family of funds in conformity with best practices in the industry. See for example: The Independent Director's Council Task Force Report (May 2005)

Eight of nine current directors are independent under the 1940 Act and NYSE rules

Each director received approximately $3,000 last year for their service to RIT

9

Bulldog appears to equate following the rules regarding disclosure of sensitive shareholder information to cheating?

RIT's shareholder list contains personal information that mandates taking precautions under applicable law to protect it

Because RIT is a Maryland corporation doing business in New York, the Fund must follow both the Maryland General Corporation Law and New York Business Corporation Law in safeguarding shareholder information

Under Maryland law, shareholders must meet certain requirements in order to inspect a list of shareholders.

This includes a requirement to have held at least 5% of a fund's outstanding stock for six months or more prior to the request.

Based upon Bulldog's public filings, the Fund determined that Bulldog did not satisfy the ownership requirements

New York law permits shareholders who are New York residents to access fund shareholder records, but only after satisfying certain safeguards designed to protect shareholder privacy.

These include a requirement that the requesting shareholder furnish to the fund an affidavit stating that:

the shareholder does not desire to conduct such inspection for a purpose which is in the interest of a business or object other than the business of the fund, and the shareholder has not within five years sold or offered for sale any list of stockholders of any corporation, or aided or abetted any person in procuring any such record of stockholders for any such purpose

RIT furnished the shareholder list to Bulldog only after these requirements were satisfied

Bulldog received the shareholder list on April 13, 2015. This is 47 days in advance of the May 29, 2015 annual meeting. As of May 5, 2015, Bulldog has not commenced a calling campaign, nor has Bulldog mailed any subsequent communications to shareholders
