Petrobras to join Oil and Gas Climate Initiative (OGCI)

Rio de Janeiro, January 25, 2018 Petróleo Brasileiro SA Petrobras informs that its CEO Pedro Parente has signed in Davos today a Letter of Engagement, so that the company can become an effective member of the Oil and Gas Climate Initiative (OGCI).

The OGCI is a voluntary initiative that intends to lead the oil and gas industry to climate change. Launched in 2014, OGCI is currently made up of oil and gas companies that pool expert knowledge and collaborate on action and development of technologies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

Currently, the companies that are already part of the initiative are BP, CNPC, Eni, Pemex, Repsol, Saudi Aramco, Shell, Statoil and Total.

The adhesion to the OGCI is in line with Petrobras' strategy to prepare the company for a future based on a low carbon economy, as disclosed in its 2018-2022 Business and Management Plan, and reinforces the company's commitment to ensuring business sustainability of oil and gas.

The effective adhesion is still subject to approval by Petrobras' Board of Directors of the signing of the agreement with the institution (OGCI Climate Investments Members Agreement).

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This release includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, that are subject to risks and uncertainties. The forward-looking statements, which address the Company's expected business and financial performance, among other matters, contain words such as believe, expect, estimate, anticipate, optimistic, intend, plan, aim, will, may, should, could, would, likely, and similar expressions cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date on which they are made. There is no assurance that the expected events, trends or results will actually occur. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information or future events or for any other reason.

The Company's actual results could differ materially from those expressed or forecast in any forward-looking statements as a result of a variety of assumptions and factors. These factors include, but are not limited to, the following: (i) failure to comply with laws or regulations, including fraudulent activity, corruption, and bribery; (ii) the outcome of ongoing corruption investigations and any new facts or information that may arise in relation to the Lava Jato Operation ; (iii) the effectiveness of the Company's risk management policies and procedures, including operational risk; and (iv) litigation, such as class actions or proceedings brought by governmental and regulatory agencies. A description of other factors can be found in the Company's Annual Report on Form 20-F for the year ended December 31, 2016, and the Company's other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
