Item 8.01 Other Events

On February 16, 2011, IDT Corporation (the “Registrant”) disclosed the results of a trial in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas where the jury found that IDT infringed certain patents relating to the activation of phone and gift cards from standard retail point of sale terminals by using bank identification numbers.

While continuing to evaluate its legal options with respect to the case and the verdict, the Registrant has reviewed the operations of its IDT Telecom division and has determined that the impact of the decision is limited to that portion of IDT Telecom’s prepaid card operations that employs point of sale activation which excludes the majority of IDT Telecom’s core prepaid calling card sales. Further, the Registrant is developing modifications to its card activation systems to avoid any further claims of infringement of the patents in suit. Registrant believes that the decision will not have a material impact on its business operations.
