Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On August 4, 2016, Windstream Holdings, Inc (“Windstream”, the “Company”, “we”, “us”, or “our”) issued a press release announcing the Company’s second quarter 2016 consolidated results of operations. The press release presents our unaudited consolidated results of operations measured under generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (“GAAP”) and certain unaudited adjusted results of operations, which are not calculated in accordance with GAAP. A “non-GAAP financial measure” is defined as a numerical measure of a company’s financial performance, financial position or cash flows that excludes (or includes) amounts that are included in (or excluded from) the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP in a company’s financial statements. The non-GAAP financial measures used by us may not be comparable to similarly titled measures used by other companies and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for measures of performance or liquidity prepared in accordance with GAAP.

The unaudited consolidated results presented on a adjusted basis exclude merger and integration costs associated with strategic transactions and results of operations of disposed non-strategic businesses when compared to measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. Windstream's purpose for excluding merger and integration costs and the operating results of disposed non-strategic businesses is to improve the comparability of results of operations in order to focus on the true earnings capacity associated with providing telecommunication services.

We use adjusted results as a key measure of our operational performance. Windstream management, including the chief operating decision-maker, uses these measures consistently for all purposes, including internal reporting, the evaluation of business objectives, opportunities and performance, and the determination of management compensation.

Our press release, and other communications from time to time, include a non-GAAP measure titled operating income before depreciation and amortization (“OIBDA”). OIBDA can be calculated directly from the Company’s financial statements by taking operating income and adding back depreciation and amortization expense. Management considers OIBDA to be useful to investors because OIBDA provides information specific to the Company’s operating performance.

We also make reference to adjusted OIBDA, adjusted OIBDAR, adjusted free cash flow and adjusted capital expenditures, which are also non-GAAP measures. In addition to excluding merger and integration costs and the operating results of disposed non-strategic businesses, these non-GAAP measures also adjust for the impact of the restructuring charges, pension costs, share-based compensation expense, and the annual cash rent payment due under the master lease agreement with Communications Sales & Leasing, Inc. (“CS&L”). Adjusted OIBDA and adjusted OIBDAR are included to provide investors with useful information about our operating performance before the impacts of certain non-cash items and to enhance the comparability of operating results for the periods presented. Adjusted OIBDA, defined as OIBDA excluding the impacts of pension costs, restructuring charges, share-based compensation expense, merger and integration costs related to strategic transactions and the operating results of disposed non-strategic businesses and including the annual cash rent payment due under the master lease agreement with CS&L.

Adjusted OIBDAR, defined as adjusted OIBDA excluding the impact of the annual cash payment due under the master lease agreement with CS&L.

Adjusted free cash flow, defined as operating income plus depreciation and amortization, merger and integration costs, pension costs, share-based compensation expense, restructuring charges, and the annual cash rent payment due under the master lease agreement with CS&L, less capital expenditures, interest paid on long-term debt obligations, income taxes paid, net of refunds, plus cash dividends received on our investment in CS&L common stock. Management believes that adjusted free cash flow provides investors with useful information about the ability of the Company’s core operations to generate cash flow.

Adjusted capital expenditures, defined as capital expenditures excluding the impacts of capital expenditures related to Project Excel, a $250 million capital program funded entirely using a portion of the $575 million proceeds from the sale of the data center business completed on December 18, 2015.
