2011 Production

Rio de Janeiro, January 19th, 2012 – Petróleo Brasileiro S.A. - Petrobras releases its oil and natural gas production figures for December and 2011 average.

Petrobras' average oil and natural gas output in 2011, in Brazil and overseas, was 2,621,209 barrels of oil equivalent per day (boed), up by about 1.4% from last year's average. Domestic oil and natural gas production reached 2,376,359 boed, of which 2,021,779 relate only to oil. These figures correspond to an increase of 1.7% and 0.9% respectively, from last year's average.

In December, average oil and natural gas output was 2,715,809 barrels of oil equivalent per day (boed), up 1.2% from the total volume extracted in November 2011.

Average oil and natural gas output from domestic fields reached 2,465,828 boed, up 1.7% from November 2011. Figuring in the exclusive production of oil from domestic fields, the company produced 2,084,262 barrels per day, up 1.1% from November.

The December output increase was primarily due to the going on stream of new fields in platforms P-57 (Jubarte) and P-56 (Marlim Sul), both in Campos Basin and of FPSO-Angra dos Reis, in Lula field, in the Santos Basin pre-salt.

In December, average natural gas production from domestic fields reached 60,664,000 m³/d, up 5.3% from the same previous month.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This press release may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (Securities Act), and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Exchange Act) that are not based on historical facts and are not assurances of future results. These forward-looking statements are based on management's current view and estimates of future economic circumstances, industry conditions, company performance and financial results. The words "anticipates", "believes", "estimates", "expects", "plans" and similar expressions, as they relate to the company, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Statements regarding the declaration or payment of dividends, the implementation of principal operating and financing strategies and capital expenditure plans, the direction of future operations and the factors or trends affecting financial condition, liquidity or results of operations are examples of forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the current views of management and are subject to a number of risks and uncertainties. There is no guarantee that the expected events, trends or results will actually occur. The statements are based on many assumptions and factors, including general economic and market conditions, industry conditions, and operating factors. Any changes in such assumptions or factors could cause actual results to differ materially from current expectations.

All forward-looking statements are expressly qualified in their entirety by this cautionary statement, and you should not place reliance on any forward-looking statement contained in this press release. We undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information or future events or for any other reason.
