At March 31, 2012, the Company's intangible assets include an Onerous Assignment agreement in the amount of R$ 74,808, entered into in 2010 between the Federal Government (assignor) and the Agência Nacional de Petróleo, Gás Natural e Biocombustíveis - ANP (regulator and inspector), referring to the right to carry out prospection and drilling activities for oil, natural gas and other liquid hydrocarbons located in blocks in the pre-salt area (Franco, Florim, Nordeste de Tupi, Entorno de Iara, Sul de Guará and Sul de Tupi), limited to the production of 5 billion oil equivalent barrels in up to 40 years, renewable for five years under certain conditions.

The agreement for concession of the rights establishes that at the time of the declaration of the commerciality of the reserves there will be a review of volumes and prices, based on independent technical reports.

If the review determines that the acquired rights reach an amount greater than that initially paid, the Company may pay the difference to the Federal Government, recognizing this difference as an intangible asset, or it may reduce the total volume acquired in the terms of the agreement. If the review determines that the acquired rights result in an amount lower than that initially paid by the Company, the Federal Government will reimburse the difference in legal tender or bonds, subject to the budgetary laws, resulting in a decrease in the intangible assets by the amount of the reimbursement.

18.5.1 Receivables from the electricity sector

The Company has receivables from the electricity sector related to a supplying of fuel to thermoelectric power stations, direct and indirect subsidiaries of Eletrobras, located in the northern region of Brazil. Part of the costs for supplying fuel to these thermoelectric power stations is borne by funds from the Fuel Consumption Account (CCC), managed by Eletrobras.

The Company also supplies fuel to Independent Power Producers (PIE), companies created for the purpose of producing power exclusively for Amazonas Distribuidora de Energia S.A. - ADESA, a direct subsidiary of Eletrobras, whose payments for supplying fuel depend directly on the forwarding of funds from ADESA to these Independent Power Producers.

The balance of these receivables at March 31, 2012 was R$ 3,035 (R$ 2,952 at December 31, 2011), of which R$ 2,566 was overdue (R$ 2,426 at December 31, 2011).

The Company has made systematic collections from the debtors and Eletrobras, itself, and partial payments have been made.

18.5.2 Petroleum and alcohol accounts - STN

At March 31, 2012, the balance of the account was R$ 833 (R$ 832 at December 31, 2011) and this balance can be settled by the Federal Government by issuing National Treasury Notes in an amount equal to the final balance for the settling of accounts with the Federal Government, in accordance with what is established in Provisional Measure 2,181, of August 24, 2001, or through offsetting against other amounts that Petrobras may be owing the Federal Government at the time, including tax related amounts or a combination of the foregoing operations.

Aiming at concluding the settlement of accounts with the Federal Government, Petrobras provided all the information required by the Secretary of the National Treasury Office (STN) seeking to settle the differences still existing between the parties.

As the Company considers that the negotiation process between the parties at the administrative level has been exhausted, the Company decided on judicial collection of the aforementioned credit and, accordingly, it filed a lawsuit in July 2011.

18.6 Remuneration of the Company's key personnel

The total remuneration of short-term benefits for the Company's officers during the first quarter of 2012 was R$ 4.0 referring to eight officers and nine board members (R$ 2.9 in the first quarter of 2011 referring to seven officers and nine board members).

29.3 Contingencies from operating partnerships - Frade field

In November 2011, there was an oil spillage in the Frade field, located in the Campos basin, which is operated by Chevron Brasil. The federal public prosecutor is conducting an investigation and has initiated a process claiming R$ 20 billion in damages against Chevron Brazil, Chevron Latin America Marketing LLC and Transocean Brasil Ltda., where the latter was operator of the platform at the time of the spillage.

In April 2012, a new public civil suit was filed by the Federal Public Attorney's Office against Chevron and Transocean, due to droplets of oil identified in underwater images within the Frade field. In this suit the Federal Public Attorney's Office intends to condemn the defendants to a further R$ 20 billion as compensation for damages to the community.

The assessment by our lawyers is that the amounts claimed are not reasonable and are disproportionately high in relation to the extent of the damages caused. In the second suit, as the oil was not identified on the surface, it is not even possible to conceive of the existence of any actual damage to the community.

Petrobras holds a 30% interest in the Frade consortium. Although it is not a party to the processes, because of its equity interest Petrobras may be contractually obliged to pay 30% of the total contingencies related to the Frade field. In the event Chevron is held legally responsible, Petrobras may be contractually subject to the payment of up to 30% of the costs referring to the compensations.

29.4 Contingencies assets

29.4.1 Recovery of maintenance costs - Barracuda & Caratinga

In 2006, Petrobras, as representant of Barracuda & Caratinga Leasing Company B.V. (BCLC), resorted to arbitration abroad against Kellogg, Brown, Root, LLC (KBR), to obtain indemnifications for maintenance costs carried out on flexible lines of the Barracuda and Caratinga field, in the period covered by contractual guarantee.

On September 21, 2011, the Court of arbitration ruled in favor of BCLC, definitively, condemning KBR to indemnify it in the amount of R$ 339, pleaded in the arbitration, plus Petrobras' internal costs in conducting the arbitration, in addition to legal fees and costs of the arbitration. After the definitive decision, Petrobras recognized in 2011 the amount of R$ 339 in non-current assets.

29.4.2 Recovery of PIS and COFINS

Petrobras and its subsidiaries filed civil suits against the Federal government referring to recovery, through offsetting, of the amounts paid as PIS on financial revenue and exchange gains in the period between February 1999 and November 2002 and COFINS between February 1999 and January 2004, in light of the ruling that paragraph 1 of article 3 of Law No. 9,718/98 is unconstitutional.

On November 9, 2005, the Federal Supreme Court considered that the respective paragraph 1 of article 3 of Law No. 9,718/98 is unconstitutional.

On November 18, 2010, the Superior Court of Justice upheld the action by Petrobras, filed in 2006 to recover the COFINS for the period from January 2003 to January 2004. After the res judicata of the action, Petrobras recognized the amount of R$ 497 as recoverable taxes in non-current assets.

On March 31, 2012, the Company had R$ 2,555 related to these suits which are not yet reflected in the financial information due to the absence of a final favorable decision.

29.4.3 Litigation in the United States - P-19 and P-31

In 2002, Brasoil and Petrobras won, in the first instance, before the U.S. Justice, related actions filed by the insurance companies United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company and American Home Assurance Company, where, through a final decision confirmed by the Federal Court of the Southern District of New York, the right was recognized to receipt by Brasoil and Petrobras for losses and damages, plus interest and reimbursement of legal expenses on the date of receipt, referring to the performance bond of platforms P-19 and P-31. The amount of the indemnification is approximately US$ 290 million.

On July 21, 2006, the US court handed down an executive decision, conditioning the payment of the amounts owed to the permanent closing of legal proceedings involving identical claims in progress before the Brazilian courts, which the parties proceeded to do.

30 Guarantees for concession agreements for oil exploration

Petrobras gave guarantees to the Agência Nacional do Petróleo, Gás Natural e Biocombustíveis (ANP) in the total amount of R$ 6,254 for the Minimum Exploration Programs as established in the concession agreements for exploration areas, with R$ 5,663, net of commitments already undertaken, remaining in force. Of this amount, R$ 3,380 corresponds to a lien on the oil from previously identified fields already in production, and R$ 2,283 refers to bank guarantees.

31 Risk management and derivative financial instruments

Petrobras is exposed to a series of risks arising from its operations , such as market risk related to oil prices and derivatives, foreign exchange rates and interest rates, credit risks and liquidity.

31.1 Risk management

The Petrobras risk management policy aims at contributing towards an appropriate equilibrium between its objectives for growth and return and its risk exposure level, whether inherent to the exercise of its activities or arising from the context within which it operates, so that, through effective allocation of its physical, financial and human resources, the Company may achieve its strategic goals.

The Executive Committee, responsible for Petrobras risk management, established the Financial Integration Committee, to assess and establish guidelines for measuring, monitoring and managing the risks to support its decisions. The Committee is composed of all the executive managers of the financial department, and the executive managers of the business departments are called upon for discussions of specific themes.

31.2 Market risk

31.2.1 Risk management of prices of oil and oil products

Petrobras maintains, as a preference, exposure to the price cycle, not using derivatives for hedging systematic operations (purchase or sale of commodities with the aim of attending the Company's operational requirements).

The purchases and sales that aim at attending Petrobras's needs are generally exposed to fluctuations in prices. Therefore, they are not covered by derivative instruments. However, the Financial Integration Committee may recommend the use of derivative instruments to the Executive Board.

Operations with derivatives are limited to hedging the expected results from transactions carried out abroad, which are usually short-term, accompanying the terms of commercial operations.

The main parameters used in risk management, for changes in Petrobras's prices of oil and oil products, in the transactions carried out abroad, are: operating cash flow at risk (CFAR), Value at Risk (VAR) and Stop Loss.

c) Embedded derivatives - Sale of ethanol

The Company entered into a sales agreement of hydrated ethanol by a price formula set in the time of signing the agreement. The definition of price of each shipment of hydrated ethanol delivered this agreement involves two distinct references quotations: ethanol and naphtha.

Considering that the quotation for naphtha does not have a strict relation with the market cost or value of ethanol, the portion referring to the derivative instrument was separated from the main agreement and recognized at fair value (level 3), and classified as financial income. The Company determined the fair value of this agreement based on the difference between the spreads for naphtha and ethanol.

The notional and fair values and the sensitivity analysis of the swap are presented below.

Forward contracts	Notional value (in thousands of m ³)	Fair value		Risk	Sensitivity analysis
		03.31.2012	12.31.2011		Probable 03.31.2012	Possible (Δ of 25%)	Remote (Δ of 50%)
Long position (Maturity in 2015)	715	118	49	Fall in Naphtha vs. Ethanol spread	118	96	69

The Company determined the fair value of this contract based on practices used on the market, where the difference between the spreads for naphtha and ethanol is calculated. The selling price of the ethanol in the agreement refers to the Brazilian market (ESALQ). The values of the parameters used in the calculation were obtained from market price quotations for ethanol and naphtha on the CBOT (Chicago Board of Trade) future market on the last working day of the period of the financial statements.

31.2.2 Exchange risk management

Exchange risk is one of the financial risks that the Company is exposed to and it originates from changes in the levels or volatility of the exchange rate that reference asset and liabilities positions.

As regards exchange risk management, Petrobras seeks to identify and handle them in an integrated manner, and treat them or create “natural risk mitigation”, benefiting from the correlation between its income and expenses. In the specific case of exchange variation inherent to the contracts with the cost and remuneration involved in different currencies, this natural risk mitigation is carried out through allocating the cash investments between the real and the US dollar or another currency.

The management of risks is done for the net exposure. Periodical analyses of the exchange risk are prepared, assisting the decisions of the executive committee. The exchange risk management strategy involves the use of derivative instruments to minimize the exchange exposure of certain Company’s obligations.

a) Main transactions and future commitments in foreign currency hedged by derivative operations

Cross currency swap:

Yen vs. Dollar

The Company contracted a cross currency swap, aimed at fixing in dollars the Company's bonds issued in yens. The Company does not intend to settle these contracts before the end of term.

For this relation between the derivative and the loan, qualified as cash flow hedge, the hedge accounting was adopted.

Changes in fair value, to the extent the hedge is effective, which is tested quarterly, are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income until the results of the hedged item occurs.

b) Notional value, fair value, guarantees and sensitivity analysis of the foreign currency derivatives

¹ Financing in local currency parameterized to the variation of the dollar.

Currency risks arise from the devaluation of the Real against the foreign currencies.

Sensitivity analysis of net debt alone does not represent the Company's net exposure to currency risk. Considering the equilibrium of liabilities, assets, revenues and future commitments in foreign currency, the economic impact of possible foreign exchange fluctuations does not compromise the Company's liquidity since a large portion of its debt is due at the long-term.

31.2.3 Interest rate risk management

Petrobras is subject mainly to fluctuations of the LIBOR, in the financing expressed in foreign currency, and to the long-term interest rate, published by the Central Bank, in the financing expressed in Reais. An increase in the rates negatively impacts Petrobras's financial expenses and financial position.

Petrobras considers that the exposure to interest rate fluctuations will not have a material impact, and so, preferably, it does not use derivative financial instruments to manage this type of risk; except for specific situations presented by companies of the Petrobras system.

31.3 Credit risk

Petrobras is exposed to the credit risk of clients and financial institutions, resulting from its commercial operations and its cash management. These risks consist of the possibility of non-receipt of sales made and amounts invested, deposited or guaranteed by financial institutions.

Credit risk management in Petrobras is part of financial risk management, which is performed by the Company's officers, under a policy of corporate risk management. The Credit Commissions are, each, composed of Executive Manager for Finances and the Executive Manager for the commercial department.

The purpose of the Credit Commissions is to analyze questions connected with credit management, not only with respect to granting credit but also with respect to its management; to encourage integration between the units that compose them; and to identify recommendations to be applied in the units involved or to be submitted to the appreciation of higher jurisdictions.

The credit risk management policy is part of the Company's global risk management policy and aims at reconciling the need for minimizing exposure to credit risk and maximizing the result of sales and financial operations, through an efficient credit analysis, concession and management process.

In its management of credit risks, Petrobras uses quantitative and qualitative parameters that are appropriate for each of the market segments in which it operates.

The Company's commercial credit portfolio, is very diversified and the credits granted are divided between clients on the Brazilian domestic market and foreign markets.

Loans to financial institutions are distributed among the major international banks considered by the international risk classifiers as Investment Grade and the most important Brazilian banks.

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented mainly by the balance of accounts receivable and derivative transactions outstanding.

The Company's liquidity risk is represented by the possibility of a shortage of funds, cash or another financial asset in order to settle its obligations on the established dates.

The policy on liquidity risk management adopted by the Company provides for the continued lengthening of the maturity of its debt, exploring the financing capacity of the domestic market and developing a strong presence in the international capital market by broadening the investor's base in fixed income.

Petrobras finances the working capital through the centralization of the System's cash and assuming short-term debt that are usually related to the flow of trade, as export credit notes and advances on exchange contracts. Investments in non-current assets are financed through long-term debt as issuing bonds in the international market, credit bureaus, financing and pre-payment of exports, development banks in Brazil and abroad, and lines of credit with national and international commercial banks.
