Gravity Enters into License and Distribution Agreement for Emil Chronicle Online in Mainland China.

SEOUL, South Korea, January 17, 2007 - Gravity, Co., Ltd. (Nasdaq: GRVY, the "Company"), an online game developer and publisher, announced that it has entered into a License and Distribution Agreement for Emil Chronicle Online (or ECO) in mainland China.

The agreement for China was entered into with a wholly-owned subsidiary of The9 Limited in China in January 2007, which is effective for 3 years from the commercial service date.

In November 2006, the Company entered into a software license and distribution agreement with Infocomm Asia Holdings Pte Ltd., an online game publisher based in Singapore, for ECO in Southeast Asia and Oceania, which includes Singapore, Malaysia, Brunei, Thailand, Philippines, Indonesia, Vietnam, Australia and New Zealand.

As a result of the agreement, the total revenue from ECO for the term of the agreement in these territories is expected to amount over US$ 6.8 million including license fees and minimum guaranteed payments.

Mr. Il Young Ryu, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Gravity, said "We expect that ECO will present a wide appeal to worldwide game users who are familiar with the manga and animation culture. We are very much pleased with our recent first closed beta test in Korea, leading to such business accomplishments where the total expected revenue from our recent agreements already exceeds the amount paid for the global publishing rights for ECO. In addition, there is more potential depending on the success of ECO in these markets and Korea. We believe ECO fits into our global publishing strategy, which is to excavate high quality games throughout the world and publish these games through our global distribution network."
