Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On June 16, 2015, Automotive Finance Corporation (“AFC”), a subsidiary of KAR Auction Services, Inc. (the “Company”), and AFC Funding Corporation (“AFC Funding”), a wholly owned, bankruptcy remote, consolidated, special purpose subsidiary of AFC, entered into a Sixth Amended and Restated Receivables Purchase Agreement, dated as of June 16, 2015, by and among AFC, AFC Funding, Fairway Finance Company, LLC (“Fairway Finance”), Deutsche Bank AG, New York Branch (“Deutsche Bank”), Fifth Third Bank (“Fifth Third”), Chariot Funding LLC (“Chariot Funding”), BMO Capital Markets Corp., JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. and Bank of Montreal (as amended and restated, the “Receivables Purchase Agreement”), pursuant to which AFC Funding sells an undivided ownership interest in the receivables and related rights it purchases from AFC to Fairway Finance, Deutsche Bank, Fifth Third, and Chariot Funding (collectively, the “Purchasers”). The Purchasers' investment in the receivables and related rights, together with a return thereon, is paid from collections of the finance receivables held by AFC Funding.

Also on June 16, 2015, Automotive Finance Canada Inc. (“AFCI”), a subsidiary of the Company, and the Company entered into a Third Amended and Restated Receivables Purchase Agreement (as amended, the “Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement”), dated as of June 16, 2015, with BNY Trust Company of Canada, in its capacity as trustee of Precision Trust, a Canadian multi-seller conduit administered by BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. (the “Trust”). Pursuant to the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement, AFCI sells undivided interests in certain eligible Canadian-dollar denominated finance receivables to the Trust on a revolving basis.

The respective finance receivables sold and a cash reserve serve as security for the obligations to the Purchasers under the Receivables Purchase Agreement and for the obligations to the Trust under the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement. In each case, the amount of the cash reserve depends on circumstances which are set forth in the respective agreements. After the occurrence of a termination event, as defined in the Receivables Purchase Agreement, the Purchasers may, and could, cause the stock of AFC Funding to be transferred to the agent under the Receivables Purchase Agreement for the benefit of the Purchasers, though as a practical matter the Purchasers would look to the liquidation of the receivables under the transaction documents as their primary remedy. Upon the occurrence of a termination event under the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement, the Trust has discretion to liquidate the receivables under the applicable transaction documents as its primary remedy. Termination events, as defined in the Receivables Purchase Agreement, include, among other things, breaches of representations and warranties; failures to perform covenants and other obligations as seller or servicer; violations of financial covenants related to AFC, AFC Funding or the Company (including, among others, limits on the amount of debt AFC can incur, minimum levels of tangible net worth of AFC and AFC Funding, and certain financial covenants contained in the Company’s senior secured credit agreement); defaults in payment of other indebtedness of the Company, AFC or AFC Funding; violation of certain covenants related to the performance of the receivables portfolio; the occurrence of a material adverse change in the collectability of the receivables owned by AFC Funding or the business, operations, property or financial condition of AFC or AFC Funding; certain changes in control of AFC or AFC Funding; and certain bankruptcy events with respect to AFC, AFC Funding or the Company. The Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement includes substantially similar termination events pertaining to AFCI, AFC and the Company, as applicable.

The following provides a brief description of the amendments effected by the Receivables Purchase Agreement and the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement that are material to the Company.

Receivables Purchase Agreement

Bank of Montreal replaced BMO Capital Markets Corp. as agent;

The aggregate maximum commitment of the Purchasers was increased from $950 million to $1.15 billion;

The Termination Date was extended from June 30, 2016 to June 29, 2018;

The overcollateralization requirement pertaining to collateral exceeding the amount of the Purchasers' aggregate investment was reduced, providing AFC Funding greater financial flexibility;

Certain definitions related to eligible receivables and concentration limitations related to asset classes were modified to generally provide more flexibility to AFC Funding and to generally permit additional receivables to be added to the receivables pool; and

One of the termination events tied to the performance of the finance receivables portfolio was favorably modified based on the existing performance measure.

Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement

The Program Limit was increased from CAD$100 million to CAD$125 million;

The Termination Date was extended from June 30, 2016 to June 29, 2018;

Certain of the Trigger Events, the occurrence of which would, among other things, alleviate the Trust from its obligation to purchase receivables, were favorably modified; and

Certain definitions related to eligible receivables and concentration limitations related to asset classes were modified to generally provide more flexibility to AFCI and to generally permit additional receivables to be added to the receivables pool.

Certain of the Purchasers and agents and their respective affiliates have, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform, various financial advisory and investment banking, commercial banking and other services for the Company and its affiliates, for which they received or will receive customary fees and expenses.

In addition, BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., or certain of its affiliates ("BMO") previously acted as agent for the purchasers and currently acts as a purchasing agent for Fairway Finance under the Receivables Purchase Agreement, was an underwriter in the initial public offering and secondary offerings of the Company's common stock, and has, from time to time, performed, and may in the future perform various commercial banking and other services for the Company and its affiliates.

The above description of the amendments effected by the Receivables Purchase Agreement and the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement is not complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Receivables Purchase Agreement and the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement, copies of which will be filed as exhibits to the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2015. The Company intends to seek an order from the Securities and Exchange Commission granting confidential treatment for certain of the information included in the Receivables Purchase Agreement and in the Canadian Receivables Purchase Agreement, respectively.

Item 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation or an Obligation under an Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement of a Registrant.
