U.S. Retail Sales

Our news release dated April 1, 2014 concerning U.S. retail sales in March 2014 is filed as Exhibit 99 to this Report and incorporated by reference herein.

Venezuelan Operations

Based on recent changes to Venezuelan currency exchange rate mechanisms, we are changing the exchange rate we use to remeasure our Venezuelan subsidiary's financial statements in U.S. dollars. As of March 31, 2014, we have begun to use the exchange rate determined by periodic auctions for U.S. dollars conducted under Venezuela's Complementary System of Foreign Currency Administration ("SICAD I"). At March 31, 2014, the SICAD I exchange rate we used was 10.8 bolivars to the U.S. dollar, compared with the CADIVI/CENCOEX exchange rate of 6.3 bolivars to the U.S. dollar we used previously.

Requests for U.S. dollars by our Venezuelan subsidiary for previously imported materials and spare parts will continue through the CADIVI/CENCOEX system, where the contracted rate is presently 6.3 bolivars to the U.S. dollar. However, as a result of a recent exchange agreement between the Central Bank of Venezuela and the Venezuelan government, we believe any future remittances for dividend payments that occur would be transacted at the SICAD I exchange rate. Accordingly, because the equity of our Venezuelan subsidiary would be realized through dividends, the SICAD I exchange rate represents a more realistic exchange rate at which to remeasure the U.S. dollar value of the assets, liabilities, and results of our Venezuelan subsidiary in our consolidated financial statements.

We expect this change to result in a first quarter 2014 pre-tax charge, directionally consistent with the bolivar devaluation effect of about $350 million we assumed in establishing the outlook for South America in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013. As indicated, the SICAD I exchange rate is determined by periodic auctions and, therefore, the potential exists for it to change significantly in future quarters.
