Section 1 - Registrant's Business and Operations

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

Transaction Overview

On April 7, 2014, Cincinnati Bell Inc., an Ohio corporation (the "Company") announced that it has entered into arrangements to sell its wireless spectrum licenses (the "Licenses") and certain other assets related to its wireless business, including its leases to certain wireless towers and related equipment and other assets (collectively, the "Assets"), to Cellco Partnership, a Delaware general partnership doing business as Verizon Wireless ("Verizon Wireless"). The Company will continue to operate and receive proceeds from its wireless operations until the later of April 6, 2015 and 90 days after the transfer of the Licenses.

License Purchase Agreement

In connection with the sale of the Licenses to Verizon Wireless, the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary Cincinnati Bell Wireless, LLC, an Ohio limited liability company ("Cincinnati Bell Wireless"), entered into a License Purchase Agreement (the "License Purchase Agreement") dated April 6, 2014 with Verizon Wireless.

Pursuant to the License Purchase Agreement, Cincinnati Bell Wireless will sell to Verizon Wireless all of its right, title and interest in and to the Licenses for cash consideration of approximately $194 million. In order to facilitate the wind down of the Company's wireless business, upon the closing of the transactions under the License Purchase Agreement, Cincinnati Bell Wireless and Verizon Wireless will enter into a lease agreement (the "Lease Agreement") pursuant to which Cincinnati Bell Wireless will, for a nominal cost, continue to be able to use certain of the Licenses to continue operating its wireless business until the later of April 6, 2015 and 90 days after the closing under the License Purchase Agreement.

The closing of the purchase and sale of the Licenses is subject to customary closing conditions, including, among others, the (1) approval of the transactions contemplated by the License Purchase Agreement and the Lease Agreement by the Federal Communications Commission, (2) absence of injunctions or legal restraints prohibiting the closing, (3) absence of certain pending and threatened litigation, (4) accuracy of the representations and warranties made by the parties (subject to materiality standards) and (5) performance, in all material respects, by the parties of their obligations under the License Purchase Agreement.

The License Purchase Agreement also contains customary representations, warranties and covenants with regard to the parties and the Licenses, as well as certain customary termination rights and indemnification provisions.

Network Asset Purchase Agreement

In connection with the transfer of the Assets to Verizon Wireless, the Company and Cincinnati Bell Wireless entered into a Network Asset Purchase Agreement (the "Network Asset Purchase Agreement") dated April 6, 2014 with Verizon Wireless.

Pursuant to the Network Asset Purchase Agreement, Cincinnati Bell Wireless will sell to Verizon Wireless all of its right, title and interest in and to the Assets and Verizon Wireless will assume all of Cincinnati Bell Wireless' liabilities and obligations under and in respect of the Assets to the extent that such liabilities and obligations relate to periods after the transfer of the Assets.

The closing under the Network Asset Purchase Agreement will only occur after the closing under the License Purchase Agreement, the expiration of the Lease Agreement and the cessation of Cincinnati Bell Wireless' wireless operations. The closing under the Network Asset Purchase Agreement is also subject to other customary closing conditions, including, among others, the (1) absence of injunctions or legal restraints prohibiting the closing, (2) absence of certain pending and threatened litigation, (3) accuracy of the representations and warranties made by the parties (subject to materiality standards) and (4) performance, in all materials respects, by the parties of their obligations under the Network Asset Purchase Agreement. Separate regulatory approvals are not required in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Network Asset Purchase Agreement.

The Network Asset Purchase Agreement also contains customary representations, warranties and covenants with regard to the parties and the Assets, as well as certain customary termination rights and indemnification provisions.

The foregoing descriptions of the License Purchase Agreement and the Network Asset Purchase Agreement are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the License Purchase Agreement and the Network Asset Purchase Agreement, which are filed hereto as Exhibit 10.1 and Exhibit 10.2, respectively, and are incorporated herein by reference.

The License Purchase Agreement and the Network Asset Purchase Agreement have been attached as exhibits to this Current Report on Form 8-K in order to provide investors and security holders with information regarding their terms. They are not intended to provide any other information about the parties thereto or their respective subsidiaries and affiliates. The representations, warranties and covenants contained in the License Purchase Agreement and the Network Asset Purchase Agreement were made only for purposes of those agreements and as of specific dates; were solely for the benefit of the parties thereto; may be subject to limitations agreed upon by such parties, including being qualified by confidential disclosures made for the purposes of allocating contractual risk between the parties thereto instead of establishing these matters as facts; and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to the contracting parties that differ from those applicable to investors and security holders. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations, warranties and covenants may change after the date of the License Purchase Agreement and the Network Asset Purchase Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in public disclosures by the parties thereto.
