day following the prescribed due date; and

(c) The accountant's statement or other exhibit required by Rule 12b-25(c) has been attached if applicable.

PART III -- NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, or the transition report portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

On April 21, 2002, the Company received notice that it was being sued by Brett Warner in the United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri in Kansas City. A shareholder in the Company by virtue of the Company's acquisition of JobBankUSA.com. Mr. Warner claims that the Company has breached the JobBankUSA Stock Purchase Agreement ("SPA") by failing to provide certain additional shares in the Company. The Company must respond to the suit by May 21, 2002, and intends to file a Counterclaim at that time. In the Counterclaim, the Company will claim that Mr. Warner has received all shares he is due pursuant to the SPA and, consequently, that all shares of JobBankUSA.com, Inc. should be transferred to the Company and that the transaction is complete.

The Company required additional time to review the carrying value of its investment in JobBankUSA as of March 31, 2002. Given the unpredictable nature of any litigation the Company has determined that it is prudent and conservative to reduce the carrying value of its investment in JobBankUSA.com to zero pending the outcome of this litigation. As a result, the Company's outside accountant has requested additional time to conduct their review.

The Company believes that the additional days provided by filing this exemption will be adequate for a timely review to be completed.
