EIGHTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

2017

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

“China has said it will eventually ban gasoline-powered cars. California may be moving in the same direction. That pressure has set off a scramble by the world’s car companies to embrace electric vehicles....The accelerated pace of development also reflects the symbiotic relationship between battery-powered cars and another technological frontier; auto companies are tying their electric-car plans to lofty goals of building fleets of autonomous vehicles for ride-hailing services.

“The automakers believe they can solve the problem of achieving — as G.M.’s chief executive, Mary T. Barra, has begun stressing — a world with ‘zero crashes, zero emissions, and zero congestion.’ “It is a stunning statement from a company that, together with Ford, sells more large pickup trucks and full-size sport utility vehicles than the rest of the global industry combined — and from an industry that grudgingly got into building electric vehicles in the face of stricter fuel emissions standards.” (Bill Vlasic and Neil E. Boudette, The New York Times, October 2, 2017)

“Four hundred and fifty million dollars spent for anything short of a next-generation strategic bomber, let alone a beat-up old painting, not only makes no sense relative to current markets in worldly goods; it suggests that money has become worthless. Certainly, what an anonymous buyer laid out last week at Christie’s for ‘Salvator Mundi’ (circa 1500), a probable though to some degree only partial Leonardo da Vinci work that emerged from overpainted oblivion in 2005, seems a stuff fundamentally different from what you and I use to secure food and housing — or a yacht, even....

“Art is sometimes sentimentally termed priceless. But anything is priceless until someone sells it. Then there may be a clatter of the tote board for related items, pegging numbers up or down. The purely subjective rating of art works, which are all but devoid of material value, encounters no rational financial limit in either direction. The art market is a fever chart. Its zigs and zags call less for explanation than for diagnosis.” (Peter Schjeldahl, The New Yorker, November 27, 2017)

“For years, researchers have been sounding the alarm over the ubiquity of mobile phones and social media. A 2015 study... found that more than half of teenagers spent upward of four hours a day looking at screens, and that for a quarter of teenagers, the figure was more than eight hours. In another survey, in 2016, half the teenagers said they felt addicted to their mobile devices....

“Sean Parker, an early investor in Facebook, reflected on the sprawling influence of the social network. ‘It literally changes your relationship with society, with each other. It probably interferes with productivity in weird ways. God only knows what it’s doing to our children’s brains.’...

“Chamath Palihapitiya, an early Facebook executive and the chief executive of Social Capital, a venture capital firm, said that he felt ‘tremendous guilt’ about his role in building the social network. ‘The short term, dopamine-driven feedback loops we have created are destroying how society works. No civil discourse, no cooperation, misinformation, mistruth. And it’s not an American problem. This is not about Russian ads. This is a global problem.’” (David Gelles, The New York Times, January 8, 2018)

“The claim that protectionism made America’s economy great in the past, and can do so again today, is wrong. When the government boosts domestic steel prices to protect a few firms from foreign competition, it also hurts domestic steel users who need cheap inputs to remain competitive in a global marketplace. Making the U.S. a ‘high price island’ for steel, semiconductors, sugar and solar panels favors some businesses at the expense of others. Protectionism can even push manufacturers to leave the country in order to remain competitive. And protectionism hurts exporters — not just the many American farmers who sell to foreign markets, but big manufacturers, such as Boeing and General Electric, which produce goods for sale abroad.” (Douglas A. Irwin, The Wall Street Journal, September 20, 2017)

Central's largest investment continues to be The Plymouth Rock Company, Inc., a privately held company in which we invested at its inception in 1982. The Plymouth Rock Group of Companies together write and manage over $1 billion in personal and commercial auto, homeowners and umbrella insurance in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. We currently own 23% of Plymouth Rock. The company's audited financial results for last year are not yet available, but we anticipate that they will show an improvement over those of 2016.

Plymouth Rock's annual reports to stockholders may be accessed at www.plymouthrock.com/about/financial-information/annual-reports. The reports include audited financial statements and a letter from CEO Jim Stone which reviews notable events and achievements of the previous year and sets forth plans for the coming year. Taken as a whole, the reports provide a detailed history of the company since 1984. It is expected that Plymouth Rock's 2017 annual report to stockholders will be available in April.

Coherent, Inc. was again the most significant contributor to our results in 2017, accounting for over 30% of Central's 2017 increase in net asset value. This result is all the more striking because it was after a moderate reduction in our holding during the year. CEO John Ambroseo and his excellent team certainly deserve a place in Central's pantheon of business heroes. Collectively Coherent together with our other technology and semiconductor holdings contributed about half of our results for the year. Our holdings of financial companies, including Plymouth Rock, provided approximately thirty percent. Amazon.com, Inc., Roper Technologies, Inc., TRI Pointe Group, Inc., and Heritage-Crystal Clean, Inc. were other outstanding individual contributors. General Electric Company was the only noteworthy detractor.

We made only a limited number of portfolio changes during 2017. We added three new investments (Hess Corporation, Kinsale Capital Group, Inc., and Kennedy-Wilson Holdings, Inc.) and sold three (John Wiley & Sons, Inc., Occidental Petroleum Corporation and AIA Group Ltd.). The most significant new holding was Hess Corporation. We were attracted to Hess because of a significant new oil find in the Stabroek Block offshore Guyana which Hess has made with Exxon Mobil Corp. and CNOOC. Over the past few years, under the direction of CEO John Hess, the company has simplified its business, and we think it is now capable of generating a decade of increased oil production at very attractive economic returns.

In last year's annual report, I noted a recent increase in interest rates and wondered if it presaged accelerating economic activity. That was apparently the case, and most economic and stock market observers now seem to believe that the economies of Asia, Europe and North America are growing in sync. Equity markets in the United States are making new highs. While this is exhilarating, it should be remembered that markets can decline as well. I can recall three major down markets, in 1973-4, 2000-2 and 2008-9. In each case the market declined between 35 and 40%. In retrospect, the greatest gains for investors come from being prepared to take advantage of the bargains which emerge in these periodic declines.

The world of investing is changing in a number of ways. Indexing and Exchange Traded Funds continue to gain market share. Artificial Intelligence (AI) is being used by many hedge fund investors. MiFID II regulations in Europe are changing rules about trading and payment of commissions. It will be interesting to observe their effects on the investment business and its ecosystem. Importantly, they should not affect Central's investment approach.

Central is an independent, internally managed investment company. Its investment objective is growth of capital with income a secondary consideration. We own a limited number of companies that we know well, and we invest for the long-term. It is our goal to own companies that generate superior returns when compared with the broad market. Honest and capable management working in the interests of all shareholders is of the utmost importance when we consider new investments. We attempt to purchase investments at a reasonable price in relation to their probable and potential intrinsic value over three to five years and then hold them through the inevitable stock market ups and downs. We believe that Central's ability to take a long-term view has been and will continue to be advantageous to shareholders.

On a personal note, it is with regret that I report that C. Carter Walker, Jr. has decided not to stand for reelection to the Board of Directors. Carter first became a Vice President and Director in 1974 and served as Vice President for Central until 1991. We will miss his strong and steady character, thoughtful advice and unfailing optimism. He remains a valued friend.

Shareholder's inquiries are welcome.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Significant Accounting Policies—Central Securities Corporation (the “Corporation”) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Corporation in the preparation of its financial statements. These policies are in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Security Valuation—Marketable common stocks are valued at the last or closing sale price or, if unavailable, at the closing bid price. Short-term investments are valued at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. Securities for which no ready market exists are valued at estimated fair value pursuant to procedures adopted by the Board of Directors. The determination of fair value involves subjective judgments. As a result, using fair value to price a security may result in a price materially different from the price used by other investors or the price that may be realized upon the actual sale of the security.

Federal Income Taxes—It is the Corporation’s policy to meet the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income and net capital gains to its stockholders. Management has analyzed positions taken on the Corporation’s tax returns and has determined that no provision for income taxes is required in the accompanying financial statements. The Corporation’s Federal, state and local tax returns for the current and previous three fiscal years remain subject to examination by the relevant taxing authorities.

Use of Estimates—The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported. Actual results may differ from those estimates.

Other—Security transactions are accounted for as of the trade date, and cost of securities sold is determined by specific identification. Dividend income and distributions to stockholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued daily.

2. Fair Value Measurements—The Corporation’s investments are categorized below in three broad hierarchical levels based on market price observability as follows:

Level 1—Quoted prices in active markets for identical investments;

Level 2—Other significant observable inputs obtained from independent sources, for example, quoted prices in active markets for similar investments;

Level 3—Significant unobservable inputs including the Corporation’s own assumptions based upon the best information available. The Corporation’s only Level 3 investment is The Plymouth Rock Company, Inc. Class A Common Stock (“Plymouth Rock”).

The designated Level for a security is not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in that security.

The Corporation’s investments as of December 31, 2017 are classified as follows:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total Value
Common stocks	$624,318,053	—	$144,962,400	$769,280,453
Short-term investments	—	$54,981,683	—	54,981,683
Total	$624,318,053	$54,981,683	$144,962,400	$824,262,136

The following is a reconciliation of the change in the value of Level 3 investments:

Balance as of December 31, 2016	$125,065,600
Change in unrealized appreciation of investments included in increase in net assets from operations	19,896,800
Balance as of December 31, 2017	$144,962,400

Unrealized appreciation of Level 3 investments still held as of December 31, 2017 increased during the year by $19,896,800, which is included in the above table.

In valuing the Plymouth Rock Level 3 investment as of December 31, 2017, management used a number of significant unobservable inputs to develop a range of possible values for the investment. It used a comparable company approach that utilized the following valuation multiples from selected publicly traded companies: price-to-book value (range: 0.6 – 3.4); price-to-earnings (range: 13.8 – 44.7); and price-to-revenue (range 0.5 – 1.7). Management also used a discounted cash flow model based on a forecasted return on equity ranging from 7%-8% and a weighted average cost of capital of 11%. An independent valuation of Plymouth Rock's shares was also considered. The value obtained from weighting the three approaches described above (with greater weight given to the comparable company approach) was then discounted for lack of marketability by 20% and 40%, a range management believes market participants would apply. The resulting range of values, together with the underlying support, other information about Plymouth Rock's financial condition and results of operations, its corporate governance, the insurance industry outlook and transacted values in Plymouth Rock's shares were also considered. These values as multiples of Plymouth Rock's book value were also considered. Based upon all of the above information, the Corporation's directors selected the value for the investment which implied a discount for lack of marketability in the higher end of the above range.

Significant increases (decreases) in the value of the price-to-book value multiple, price-to-earnings multiple, price-to-revenue multiple and return on equity in isolation would result in a higher (lower) range of fair value measurements. Significant increases (decreases) in the value of the discount for lack of marketability or weighted average cost of capital in isolation would result in a lower (higher) range of fair value measurements.

3. Common Stock and Dividend Distributions—The Corporation purchased 74,034 shares of its Common Stock in 2017 at an average price of $23.18 per share representing an average discount from net asset value of 18.7%. It may from time to time purchase Common Stock in such amounts and at such prices as the Board of Directors may deem advisable in the best interests of the stockholders. Purchases will only be made at less than net asset value per share, thereby increasing the net asset value of shares held by the remaining stockholders. Shares so acquired may be held as treasury stock available for stock distributions, or may be retired.

The Corporation declared two distributions to holders of Common Stock in 2017, $.20 per share paid on June 27 in cash and $.80 per share paid on December 21 in cash or in additional shares of Common Stock at the stockholder's option. In connection with the December 21 distribution, 74,034 treasury shares were distributed and 251,894 shares of Common Stock were issued, all at a price of $26.72 per share.

No borrowings were made during the year ended December 31, 2017.

8. Compensation and Benefit Plans—The aggregate remuneration paid to all officers during the year ended December 31, 2017 was $3,397,670.

Officers and other employees participate in a 401(k) profit sharing plan. The Corporation has agreed to contribute 3% of each participant's qualifying compensation to the plan, which is immediately vested. Contributions in excess of 3% may be made at the discretion of the Board of Directors and vest after three years of service. During the year ended December 31, 2017, the Corporation contributed $236,423 to the plan, which represented 15% of total qualifying compensation.

The Corporation maintains an incentive compensation plan (the "2012 Plan") which permits the granting of awards of unrestricted stock, restricted stock, restricted stock units and cash to full-time employees and non-employee directors of the Corporation. The 2012 Plan provides for the issuance of up to 1,000,000 shares of the Corporation's Common Stock over the ten-year life of the 2012 Plan, of which 944,156 remain available for future grants at

December 31, 2017. The 2012 Plan limits the amount of shares that can be awarded to any one person in total or within a certain time period. Any award made

Item 2. Code of Ethics.

- (a) The Registrant has adopted a code of ethics that applies to its principal executive officer and principal financial officer.
- (b) No information need be disclosed pursuant to this paragraph.
- (c) Not applicable.
- (d) The registrant has not granted any waivers, including implicit waivers from a provision of this code of ethics.
- (e) Not applicable.
- (f) This code of ethics is filed as an attachment on this form.

Item 3. Audit Committee Financial Experts.

- The Board of Directors of the Corporation has determined that none of the members of its Audit Committee meet the definition of “Audit Committee Financial Expert” as the term has been defined by the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). The Board of Directors considered the possibility of adding a member that would qualify as an
- (a) Audit Committee Financial Expert, but has determined that the Audit Committee collectively has sufficient expertise to perform its duties. In addition, the Audit Committee’s charter authorizes the Audit Committee to engage a financial expert should it determine that such assistance is required.

Item 4. Principal Accountant Fees and Services.

	2017		2016
Audit fees	$94,000	(1)	$89,000	(1)
Audit-related fees	0		0
Tax fees	22,000	(2)	21,000	(2)
All other fees	0		0

- (1) Includes fees for review of the semi-annual report to stockholders and audit of the annual report to stockholders.
- (2) Includes fees for services performed with respect to tax compliance and tax planning.

Pursuant to its charter, the Audit Committee is responsible for recommending the selection, approving compensation and overseeing the independence, qualifications and performance of the independent accountants. The Audit Committee’s policy is to pre-approve all audit and permissible non-audit services provided by the independent accountants. In assessing requests for services by the independent accountants, the Audit Committee considers whether such services are consistent with the auditor’s independence; whether the independent accountants are likely to provide the most effective and efficient service based upon their familiarity with the Corporation; and whether the service could enhance the Corporation's ability to manage or control risk or improve audit quality. The Audit Committee may delegate pre-approval authority to one or more of its members. Any pre-approvals by a member under this delegation are to be reported to the Audit Committee at its next scheduled meeting.

All of the non-audit and tax services provided by KPMG LLP for fiscal year 2017 (described in the footnotes to the table above) and related fees were approved in advance by the Audit Committee.

Item 7. Disclose Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures for Closed-End Management Companies.

CENTRAL SECURITIES CORPORATION

PROXY VOTING GUIDELINES

Central Securities Corporation is involved in many matters of corporate governance through the proxy voting process. We exercise our voting responsibilities with the primary goal of maximizing the long-term value of our investments. Our consideration of proxy issues is focused on the investment implications of each proposal.

Our management evaluates and votes each proxy ballot that we receive. We do not use a proxy voting service. Our Board of Directors has approved guidelines in evaluating how to vote a particular proxy ballot. We recognize that a company's management is entrusted with the day-to-day operations of the company, as well as longer term strategic planning, subject to the oversight of the company's board of directors. Our guidelines are based on the belief that a company's shareholders have a responsibility to evaluate company performance and to exercise the rights and duties pertaining to ownership.

When determining whether to invest in a particular company, one of the key factors we consider is the ability and integrity of its management. As a result, we believe that recommendations of management on any issue, particularly routine issues, should be given substantial weight in determining how proxies should be voted. Thus, on most issues, our votes are cast in accordance with the company's recommendations. When we believe management's recommendation is not in the best interest of our stockholders, we will vote against management's recommendation.

Due to the nature of our business and our size, it is unlikely that conflicts of interest will arise in our voting of proxies of public companies. We do not engage in investment banking nor do we have private advisory clients or any other businesses. In the unlikely event that we determine that a conflict does arise on a proxy voting issue, we will defer that proxy vote to our independent directors.

We have listed the following, specific examples of voting decisions for the types of proposals that are frequently presented. We generally vote according to these guidelines. We may, on occasion, vote otherwise when we believe it to be in the best interest of our stockholders:

Election of Directors – We believe that good governance starts with an independent board, unfettered by significant ties to management, in which all members are elected annually. In addition, key board committees should be entirely independent.

- We support the election of directors that result in a board made up of a majority of independent directors who do not appear to have been remiss in the performance of their oversight responsibilities.
- We will withhold votes for non-independent directors who serve on the audit, compensation or nominating committees of the board.
- We consider withholding votes for directors who missed more than one-fourth of the scheduled board meetings without good reason in the previous year.
- We generally oppose the establishment of classified boards of directors and will support proposals that directors stand for election annually.
- We generally oppose limits to the tenure of directors or requirements that candidates for directorships own large amounts of stock before being eligible for election.

Compensation - We believe that appropriately designed equity-based compensation plans can be an effective way to align the interests of long-term shareholders and the interests of management, employees, and directors. We are opposed to plans that substantially dilute our ownership interest in the company, provide participants with excessive awards, or have inherently objectionable structural features without offsetting advantages to the company's shareholders.

We evaluate proposals related to compensation on a case-by case basis.

- We generally support stock option plans that are incentive based and not excessive.
- We generally oppose the ability to re-price options without compensating factors when the underlying stock has fallen in value.
- We support measures intended to increase the long-term stock ownership by executives including requiring stock acquired through option exercise to be held for a substantial period of time.
- We generally support stock purchase plans to increase company stock ownership by employees, provided that shares purchased under the plan are acquired for not less than 85% of their market value.

- We generally oppose change-in-control provisions in non-salary compensation plans, employment contracts, and severance agreements which benefit management and would be costly to shareholders if triggered.

Corporate Structure and Shareholder Rights - We generally oppose anti-takeover measures and other proposals designed to limit the ability of shareholders to act on possible transactions. We support proposals when management can demonstrate that there are sound financial or business reasons.

- We generally support proposals to remove super-majority voting requirements and oppose amendments to bylaws which would require a super-majority of shareholder votes to pass or repeal certain provisions.
- We will evaluate proposals regarding shareholders rights plans (“poison pills”) on a case-by-case basis considering issues such as the term of the arrangement and the level of review by independent directors.
- We will review proposals for changes in corporate structure such as changes in the state of incorporation or mergers individually. We generally oppose proposals where management does not offer an appropriate rationale.
- We generally support share repurchase programs.
- We generally support the general updating of or corrective amendments to corporate charters and by-laws.
- We generally oppose the elimination of the rights of shareholders to call special meetings.

Approval of Independent Auditors – We believe that the relationship between the company and its auditors should be limited primarily to the audit engagement and closely related activities that do not, in the aggregate, raise the appearance of impaired independence.

- We generally support management’s proposals regarding the approval of independent auditors.
- We evaluate on a case-by-case basis instances in which the audit firm appears to have a substantial non-audit relationship with the company or companies affiliated with it.

Social and Corporate Responsibility Issues - We believe that ordinary business matters are primarily the responsibility of management and should be approved solely by the corporation’s board of directors. Proposals in this category, initiated primarily by shareholders, typically request that the company disclose or amend certain business practices. We generally vote with management on these types of proposals, although we may make exceptions in certain instances where we believe a proposal has substantial economic implications.

- We generally oppose shareholder proposals which apply restrictions related to social, political, or special interest issues which affect the ability of the company to do business or be competitive and which have significant financial impact.

- We generally oppose proposals which require that the company provide costly, duplicative, or redundant reports, or reports of a non-business nature.

Item 8. Portfolio Managers of Closed-End Management Investment Companies. As of the date of this filing, Mr. Wilmot H. Kidd, President, Mr. Andrew J. O'Neill, Vice President, and Mr. John C. Hill, Vice President, manage the Corporation's investments. Mr. Kidd has served in that capacity since 1973. Mr. O'Neill joined the Corporation in 2009, and was elected Vice President in 2011. Mr. Hill joined the Corporation in 2016. He had worked as an investment analyst with Davis Selected Advisers LP since 2009. Mr. Kidd, Mr. O'Neill and Mr. Hill do not manage any other accounts, and accordingly, the Registrant is not aware of any material conflicts with their management of the Corporation's investments.

Mr. Kidd's, Mr. O'Neill's and Mr. Hill's compensation consists primarily of a fixed base salary and a bonus. All or a portion of their bonus may be paid in shares of stock of the Corporation. Their compensation is reviewed and approved annually by the Compensation and Nominating Committee of the Board of Directors (the "Committee"), which is comprised solely of independent directors. Their compensation may be adjusted from year to year based on the Committee's perception of overall performance and their management responsibilities.

Mr. Kidd's, Mr. O'Neill's and Mr. Hill's bonus in 2017 was at the discretion of the Committee. Mr. Kidd, Mr. O'Neill and Mr. Hill also participate in the Corporation's 401k Profit Sharing Plan, pursuant to which the Corporation contributed a percentage of their eligible compensation.

As of December 31, 2017, the value of Mr. Kidd's and Mr. O'Neill's investment in Central Securities common stock each exceeded $1 million, and Mr. Hill's was between $500,001 - $1,000,000.
