EL PASO CORPORATION ANNOUNCES EXECUTIVE MANAGEMENT CHANGES

HOUSTON, TEXAS, MAY 13, 2003--As part of its Clean Slate Initiative to achieve additional cost reductions, El Paso Corporation (NYSE:EP) today announced that it is reducing the number of executive officers in the company from ten to six.

"This action is an important step in our efforts to drive down costs throughout the organization and symbolizes the fact that every cost within the organization, from top to bottom, will be examined," said Ronald L. Kuehn, chairman and chief executive officer of El Paso. "El Paso's Clean Slate Initiative is part of the company's plan to achieve a total of $400 million of cost savings and business efficiencies. This compares with the original 2003 goal of $150 million."

With these changes, three executives will be leaving the company within the next month, including H. Brent Austin, president and chief operating officer of El Paso Corporation, Greg G. Jenkins, president of El Paso's petroleum and LNG businesses, and Clark C. Smith, president of El Paso's trading operations. David E. Zerhusen will become senior vice president and deputy general counsel for the company. The company is eliminating the positions of president and chief operating officer and executive vice president, Administration.

The six executive officers of the company will include Robert W. Baker, president, El Paso Merchant Energy; Rodney D. Erskine, president, El Paso Production Company; Peggy A. Heeg, general counsel; Robert G. Phillips, president, El Paso Field Services; D. Dwight Scott, chief financial officer; and John W. Somerhalder II, president, El Paso Pipeline Group. Robert Baker will now be responsible for the trading and petroleum businesses in addition to his responsibilities as president of Global Power.

Mr. Kuehn continued, "As the company moves forward in executing its business plan, we must change to address the issues facing the company and the current realities of the marketplace. All of these senior executives have contributed greatly to El Paso. We appreciate their work and wish them well in the future."

El Paso Corporation is the leading provider of natural gas services and the largest pipeline company in North America. The company has core businesses in pipelines, production, and midstream services. Rich in assets, El Paso is committed to developing and delivering new energy supplies and to meeting the growing demand for new energy infrastructure. For more information, visit www.elpaso.com.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This release includes forward-looking statements and projections, made in reliance on the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The company has made every reasonable effort to ensure that the information and assumptions on which these statements and projections are based are current, reasonable, and complete. However, a variety of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, anticipated results or other expectations expressed in this release, including, without limitation, our ability to attract and retain qualified members of the Board of Directors; the successful recruitment and retention of a qualified CEO; the successful implementation of the 2003 operational and financial plan; the successful implementation of the settlement related to the Western Energy Crisis; material and adverse impacts from our proxy contest with Selim Zilkha/Oscar Wyatt; actions by the credit rating agencies; the successful close of financing transactions; our ability to successfully exit the energy trading business; our ability to divest of certain non-core assets; changes in commodity prices for oil, natural gas, and power; general economic and weather conditions in geographic regions or markets served by El Paso Corporation and its affiliates, or where operations of the company and its affiliates are located; the uncertainties associated with governmental regulation; political and currency risks associated with international operations of the company and its affiliates; inability to realize anticipated synergies and cost savings associated with restructurings and divestitures on a timely basis; difficulty in integration of the operations of previously acquired companies, competition, and other factors described in the company's (and its affiliates') Securities and Exchange Commission filings. While the company makes these statements and projections in good faith, neither the company nor its management can guarantee that anticipated future results will be achieved. Reference must be made to those filings for additional important factors that may affect actual results. The company assumes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements made herein or any other forward-looking statements made by the company, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise.
