CA and Ranger Governance Agree to End Contested Election

Islandia, NY and Dallas, TX - July 24, 2002. CA and Ranger Governance today announced that they have entered into an agreement pursuant to which Ranger has dropped its proxy challenge for five seats on CA's Board of Directors and has withdrawn its slate of nominees.

CA announced that it will elect one additional independent director to the Company's Board. CA's Corporate Governance Committee will nominate a candidate and the entire board will vote on the nomination, most likely before the end of the calendar year.

Sanjay Kumar, President and Chief Executive Officer of Computer Associates, said, "We are pleased to put this matter behind us. In conversations with Ranger over the last few days, it has become clear that Ranger and we are largely in agreement on corporate governance issues. And we are pleased that many of their suggestions have already been incorporated in our Corporate Governance Principles announced in May and contained in our recently filed preliminary proxy. In particular, we agree with Ranger's thesis that companies with good corporate governance will in the long run be awarded a premium by shareholders."

Kumar continued: "We recently added four new directors at a time when many companies are having difficulty finding one, and we credit our new governance principles for setting the stage to attract such outstanding business leaders."

Said Stephen Perkins, President of Ranger Governance, "At a time when many boards are being broadly criticized for having failed to exercise good oversight, we are pleased to see that CA has made great strides in the corporate governance area. We believe Ranger has played a very important role in raising important issues at CA and in encouraging them to focus on good corporate governance. We believe that the Company's new independent directors -- and its process for identifying new directors -- will ensure that the Company adheres to its stated principles and that this will benefit shareholders. Our goal has always been to focus on providing value for all shareholders and we are confident that CA's Board is well positioned to do just that."

Said Sam Wyly, founder of Ranger Governance, "With the changes that CA has made, and under the leadership of Sanjay Kumar and his management team, I am confident that CA is on a course to being recognized as the gold standard in good corporate governance. CA's new business model and demonstrable focus on corporate governance should yield good results for all shareholders in the future. I am proud of Ranger's role in this process of shareholder democracy."
