CVS Pleased with Chancery Court Ruling Allowing Vote on Caremark Merger to Proceed

WOONSOCKET, R.I.-- March 7, 2007--In response to the decision by the Delaware Chancery Court to deny the motions of Express Scripts, Inc. (NASDAQ: ESRX) and the class plaintiffs to postpone the Caremark (NYSE: CMX) shareholder meeting, CVS (NYSE: CVS) issued the following statement:

We are extremely pleased that today's decision by Chancellor Chandler will allow Caremark's shareholders' voices to be heard.

In his decision, Chancellor Chandler described the class plaintiffs' motion for contempt as "theatrical and absurd" and dismissed it "out of hand." In addition, the court noted that further delay will cause uncertainty and be disruptive to Caremark's business. Finally and most importantly, the court noted that one is left to wonder why Express Scripts has not made an unconditional bid.

CVS looks forward to receiving Caremark shareholder approval for our transformational combination next week and closing our merger shortly thereafter.

About CVS

CVS is America's largest retail pharmacy, operating approximately 6,200 retail and specialty pharmacy stores in 43 states and the District of Columbia. With more than 40 years of dynamic growth in the retail pharmacy industry, CVS is committed to being the easiest pharmacy retailer for customers to use. CVS innovatively serves the healthcare needs of all customers through its CVS/pharmacy stores; its online pharmacy, CVS.com; its retail-based health clinic subsidiary, MinuteClinic; and its pharmacy benefit management, mail order and specialty pharmacy subsidiary, PharmaCare. Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This document contains certain forward-looking statements about CVS and Caremark. When used in this document, the words "anticipates", "may", "can", "believes", "expects", "projects", "intends", "likely", "will", "to be" and any similar expressions and any other statements that are not historical facts, in each case as they relate to CVS or Caremark or to the combined company, the management of either such company or the combined company or the transaction are intended to identify those assertions as forward-looking statements. In making any of those statements, the person making them believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions. However, any such statement may be influenced by factors that could cause actual outcomes and results to be materially different from those projected or anticipated. These forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, statements relating to anticipated accretion, return on equity, cost synergies, incremental revenues and new products and offerings, are subject to numerous risks and uncertainties. There are various important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in any such forward-looking statements, many of which are beyond the control of CVS and Caremark, including macroeconomic condition and general industry conditions such as the competitive environment for retail pharmacy and pharmacy benefit management companies, regulatory and litigation matters and risks, legislative developments, changes in tax and other laws and the effect of changes in general economic conditions, the risk that a condition to closing of the transaction may not be satisfied, the risk that a regulatory approval that may be required for the transaction is not obtained or is obtained subject to conditions that are not anticipated and other risks to consummation of the transaction. The actual results or performance by CVS or Caremark or the combined company, and issues relating to the transaction, could differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, any forward-looking statements relating to those matters. Accordingly, no assurances can be given that any of the events anticipated by the forward-looking statements will transpire or occur, or if any of them do so, what impact they will have on the results of operations or financial condition of CVS or Caremark, the combined company or the transaction.
