Chairman's Statement

Dear Shareholders,

In 2015, the steep downward adjustment of the global economy has continued unabated with little signs of recovery. International oil prices have continued to hover at low levels due to concerns over the prospects of global economic growth and oversupply of crude oil. With oil prices once again plummeting towards the end of the year, worldwide oil and gas industry is experiencing a "cold winter".

We have proactively adjusted our approach and strategy for our future development, continued to focus on quality and efficiency, so as not only strive for survival, but also seek for future development. In 2015, the Company significantly reduced capital expenditures by 38% compared to 2014 and achieved favorable results in different areas of business.

First, we successfully achieved oil and gas production target for the year. Net oil and gas production reached 495.7 million BOE, representing a 14.6% growth over the prior year. The seven new projects planned for 2015 also commenced production smoothly, many of which were ahead of schedule, demonstrating once again our strong capability in project management.

Second, we maintained an intensive exploration program while lowering our exploration capital expenditures. With remarkable achievements in our oil and gas exploration, we have built a solid foundation for the Company's sustainable development. We once again achieved excellent results from our independent exploration offshore China, with new discoveries including mid-to-large discoveries such as Liuhua 20-2 and the successful appraisal of a number of mid-to-large size oil and gas structures such as Caofeidian 6-4. We also continued to maintain a relatively high exploration success rate and opened up new frontier areas for future exploration. Breakthroughs were also made in overseas exploration. We obtained new discoveries in Algeria and Nigeria, and successfully appraised three oil and gas structures including Libra in Brazil.

The Company continued to benchmark against first-class international peers in terms of business performance and management criteria to improve the profitability of international business and continuously enhance its ability in operating overseas assets. Under the low oil price environment, we closely monitored and strictly controlled the decision-making and execution process of major overseas investment projects. We also conducted comprehensive analysis on costs and returns of these projects. At the same time, we adopted measures to further strengthen risk management of our overseas operations.

In 2015, the Company continued to carry out the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program. Ensuring stable and safe operations of oil and gas fields and increasing the production efficiency have been the paramount mission for the Company. We have stimulated the momentum of our operations through innovation in management and effectively reduced operating costs through market mechanism. Through innovation in technology, we have embarked on the path for future growth, and we have established a system to streamline our cost structure in the long-term, laying a solid foundation to deal with the risk of continuing low oil prices. During the year, the Company’s all-in cost decreased to US$39.82 per BOE, representing a decline for the second consecutive year. The importance of quality and efficiency has been deeply embedded in the heart of every employee of the Company.

Benefitting from the excellent corporate governance and healthy operations, the Company has been selected as one of the forerunners in the Platts 2015 “Top 250 Global Energy Company Ranking”, ranking the fourth in the overall ranking chart and named the first place in the “oil and gas exploration and production” sector as well as in the “Asia/Pacific Rim” sector.

In view of the solid financial condition of the Company, the Board has recommended a final dividend of HK$0.25 per share (tax inclusive) for the year of 2015.

The downward cycle of oil prices has been deeper and longer than the industry’s expectation. The supply and demand pattern of international oil and gas is undergoing profound transformation. Going forward, oil prices may continue to be at low levels. Accordingly, the Company may face an even more complicated and difficult operating environment.

With the challenging external environment, both the management and staff are well prepared for the long-term confrontation with the “cold winter” and will pull our strengths together to manage through this difficult period. We will continue to adjust our operating strategies, intensify the activities for the “Year of Quality and Efficiency”, make further room for growth through reform and innovation, and consolidate our results through improved systems and policies.

We will maintain our prudent financial policies, be more stringent on investment decisions and strengthen cost control. We will also closely monitor our cash-flow management so as to maintain a more competitive financial condition.

We will ensure a balance between short-term benefits and long-term development. In the area of exploration, we will prioritize exploration work offshore China, striking a balance between mature areas, rolling areas and frontier areas. Overseas, we will focus on high-quality blocks and conventional oil and gas exploration. At the same time, we will strengthen value-driven exploration philosophy to accumulate a strong resource base for future development. In the area of development and production, we will proceed cautiously with our investment decisions and place emphasis on returns. We will continue the development of our nearly 20 existing projects at a steady pace, ensuring the sustainable growth of the company.

We will persist with green and sustainable development. We will continue to maintain the standards for safety and environmental protection, enhance our capability of risk management and emergency response, to ensure safe and reliable production operations. Meanwhile, we will actively develop clean energy and increase the supply of natural gas and its competitiveness in the market.

In 2015, Mr. Wang Yilin resigned as Chairman of the Company, and Mr. Wang Jiexiang retired as Non-Executive Director. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I wish to extend my appreciation to Mr. Wang Yilin and Mr. Wang Jiexiang for their contributions to the Company.

Despite the changing industry environment and the challenges resulting from low oil prices, I remain confident in the future of the Company. After steady growth in the past decades, CNOOC Limited is already equipped with a solid foundation to deal with external risks. The Company has a forward-looking vision and extensive experience to face periodic industry cycles. The enormous potential in Chinese energy industry and market has brought ample opportunities for future development of the Company. CNOOC Limited is committed to working hand in hand with all shareholders and welcome the arrival of spring.

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Overview

CNOOC Limited is an upstream company specializing in the exploration, development and production of oil and natural gas. It is the dominant oil and natural gas producer in offshore China and, in terms of reserves and production, is also one of the largest independent oil and natural gas exploration and production companies in the world. As of the end of 2015, the Company had net proved reserves of 4.32 billion BOE (including approximately 0.3 billion BOE in its equity method investees). In 2015, the Company had total net oil and gas production of 1,358,022 BOE per day (including net oil and gas production of approximately 50,357 BOE per day in its equity method investees).

In offshore China, the Company engages in oil and natural gas exploration, development and production in Bohai, Western South China Sea, Eastern South China Sea and East China Sea, either independently or in cooperation with foreign partners through production sharing contracts (“PSCs”). As of the end of 2015, approximately 53.9% of the Company’s net proved reserves and approximately 65.2% of its net production were derived from offshore China.

In its independent operations, the Company has been adding more reserves and production mainly through independent exploration and development in offshore China. As of the end of 2015, approximately 85.7% of the Company’s net proved reserves and approximately 73.8% of its net production in offshore China were derived from independent projects.

In its PSC operations, China National Offshore Oil Corporation (“CNOOC”), the Company’s controlling shareholder, has the exclusive right to explore and develop oil and natural gas in offshore China in cooperation with foreign partners through PSCs. CNOOC has transferred to the Company all of its rights and obligations under all the PSCs (except those relating to its management and regulatory function as a state-owned company), including new PSCs that will be signed in the future.

Overseas, following years of overseas development, the Company has essentially completed the layout of its global portfolio. Overseas assets account for over 50% of the Company’s total assets. Currently, the Company holds interests in oil and natural gas blocks in Indonesia, Australia, Nigeria, Uganda, Argentina, the U.S., Canada, the United Kingdom, Brazil and various other countries.

In 2015, growth momentum of the world economy was sluggish. The downward pressure of the Chinese economy continued while international oil prices remained low. The Company and the entire oil and gas industry faced severe market situation and difficult business environment.

For this reason, the Company continued to implement the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program and carried out effective measures to maintain healthy and sustainable development.

In 2015, the Company persisted with strategies formulated at the beginning of the year, which includes, maintaining prudent financial policy and investment decision; strengthening cost control and continuing to improve quality and efficiency; ensuring safe operation of producing projects; keeping sanctioned projects on schedule with stringent quality control.

In 2015, the Company significantly reduced its capital expenditure. However, the Company still reached its production and business targets in spite of all difficulties. The Company managed to maintain appropriate exploration expenditures and intensive exploration activities, and achieved successful results. Seven new projects planned in early 2015 all came on stream. The high end of production target was met with a total volume of 495.7 million BOE. To ensure sustainable development in the future, the Company steadily pushed ahead the construction of more than 20 projects. All in cost per BOE was US$39.82, representing a decline for the second consecutive year. The Company has maintained a healthy financial position with a net profit of RMB20.25 billion for the year. Meanwhile, health, safety and environmental protection performance remained stable.

Looking forward to 2016, the recovery of the global economy is expected to remain weak; low international oil prices will prevail, and the external operating environment is likely to remain tough. In spite of this, the Company remains confident and persistent. We will further strengthen our operating strategies under a low-oil-price environment, which include: maintaining prudent financial policy; continuing to lower costs and increase efficiency through technology and management innovation; ensuring safe operation and strict compliance with regulations; focusing on return by balancing short-term benefit and long-term development.

In 2016, the capital expenditure of the Company will be no more than RMB 60 billion. To maintain its competitive financial position, the Company will continue to strengthen cost controls and focus more on cash flow management. Our production target for 2016 is 470-485 million BOE with four new projects to come on stream. Meanwhile, the Company will maintain its high standards in health, safety and environmental protection.

EXPLORATION

New discoveries included REZ in Algeria and Ukot South in Nigeria. In addition, three oil and gas structures were successfully appraised, including MAS and OGB in Algeria and Libra in Brazil, demonstrating the Company's favorable exploration progress overseas.

Furthermore, the Company has enhanced its management through optimizing exploration portfolio and projects, improving management processes and operational organization and reinforcing on-site operation management, integration of development and exploration and overseas management. Specific measures carried out included: communicating actively with contractors to lower service prices; reinforcing the refined management of exploration wells and reducing costs by focusing on details; enhancing operational efficiency through technological innovation; and reinforcing the integration of exploration and development to enhance the overall benefits for the Company through effective control of exploration costs.

In 2015, the Company utilized technological innovation to break through bottlenecks in exploration. The Company also increased operational efficiency through technological innovations such as Single Trip Triple Large Coring. Breakthroughs were made in the sampling process of heavy oil in Bohai. The well logging and testing for high-pressure-high-temperature wells also made progress.

The Company will continue to maintain heavy exploration workload to ensure mid-to long-term sustainable development.

Engineering Construction, Development and Production

In 2015, the Company successfully completed its production target and reached the high end of the target set early this year. The Company carefully organized its operational resources and made smooth progress in engineering construction. There were more than 20 projects under construction in 2015. Currently, seven projects planned for 2015 came on stream.

In 2015, the Company's net oil and gas production reached 495.7 million BOE, representing an increase of 14.6% year over year and hit the high end of the production target of 475-495 million BOE. To date, new projects planned for 2015, Jinzhou 9-3 comprehensive adjustment, Bozhong 28/34 comprehensive adjustment, Kenli 10-1 oil field, Dongfang 1-1 phase I adjustment and Luda 10-1 comprehensive adjustment, commenced production in the year; Weizhou 11-4N oilfield phase II and Weizhou 12-2 oilfield joint development project were announced to commence production early 2016.

In 2015, the Company's development and production faced tremendous pressure due to the continuous slump in international oil prices. Therefore, while ensuring production safety, the Company focused on enhancing efficiency and lowering costs in its development and production operations, and was able to achieve its annual development and production targets during the year.

Firstly, we focused on return in feasibility study projects and significantly reduced development investments. We achieved this mainly by optimizing designs and investment.

Secondly, we strictly controlled the quality of geology and reservoirs designs and promoted the risk-resistance capacity of new projects. This will help us ensure that various development indicators are achieved for infill drilling, comprehensive adjustment projects and new oil and gas fields.

Thirdly, we conducted special programs to lower operating expenses and established a long-term mechanism to solidify the achievements, which resulted in the successful control of operating costs. By utilizing market mechanisms, service and supply costs have also been lowered.

Fourthly, the number of projects and production expenditures were effectively controlled through project screening, budget controls and process management. Meanwhile, through changes in the performance review system of business units, their motivation of cost control was strengthened.

Looking forward to 2016, the workload of onshore construction and offshore installation will remain stable. A total of four new projects are expected to commence production, including Kenli 10-4 oilfield, Panyu 11-5 oilfield, Weizhou 6-9/6-10 oilfield comprehensive adjustment project and Enping 18-1 oilfield. Among them, Kenli 10-4 oilfield already commenced production in January 2016. In addition, it is expected that nearly 20 new projects will be under construction in 2016 and support the Company's sustainable growth in the future.

In 2016, the Company's development and production are expected to face a harsh external environment due to pressure from international oil prices. The Company will undertake its various tasks with emphasis on the following areas:

Firstly, we will drive the feasibility study for major early-stage projects to further lower cost and enhance efficiency. We will strictly control the quality of geological reservoir designs of early-stage projects and strengthen the study on the producing reserves and recoverable reserves.

Secondly, we will further develop the potential of mature oil fields and slow down its production decline. With oil reservoirs as the focus, we'll intensify the basic work of improving water injection and liquid production structures through the meticulous study of mature oil fields and reformation of management concepts.

Thirdly, we will strengthen the post evaluation of the ODP project, infill drilling and workover, establish scientific assessment criteria, and explore the potential to further reduce costs and enhance efficiency.

Through the above key measures, the Company will prioritize return, strive to achieve its annual production target and lay a solid foundation for its long-term sustainable growth.

Sales and Marketing

Sales of Crude Oil

The Company sells its crude oil produced offshore China to the PRC market mainly through CNOOC China Limited, its wholly-owned subsidiary. The Company sells its crude oil produced overseas to international and domestic markets mainly through another wholly-owned subsidiary, China Offshore Oil (Singapore) International Pte Ltd. Nexen Energy ULC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company, sells its crude oil and synthetic oil to international markets separately.

The Company's crude oil sales prices are mainly determined by the prices of international benchmark crude oil of similar quality, with certain premiums or discounts subject to prevailing market conditions. Although the prices are quoted in U.S. dollars, customers in China usually pay by Renminbi. The Company currently sells three types of crude oil in China, namely, heavy crude, medium crude and light crude, which are benchmarked by Duri, Daqing, and Tapis, respectively, all of which are the benchmarking crude oil prices in the Far East. The Company's major customers in China are Sinopec, Petrochina and CNOOC. The crude oil produced overseas and sold in the international markets is benchmarked at the Brent and WTI oil prices.

The world economy lost its growth momentum and varied for different areas in 2015. The diversity in monetary policies in different countries led to a strong US dollar. While the global demand for oil increased moderately, international oil prices continued to plummet affected by oversupply of crude oil, which was mainly driven by increased production of US shale oil as well as from OPEC member states. As a result, the Company's realized oil prices declined significantly. In 2015, the Company's average realized oil price was US$51.27/barrel, representing a decline of 46.6% year over year.

Sales of Natural Gas

The Company's natural gas sales prices are mainly determined by the Company's negotiations with its customers. The Company's natural gas sales agreements are generally long-term contracts, which normally include a periodic price adjustment mechanism. The Company's natural gas customers are primarily located in the Southeastern coast of China and mainly include Hong Kong Castle Peak Power Company Limited, CNOOC Gas and Power Group, China BlueChemical Ltd, etc.

The LNG sourced by the Company from the North West Shelf LNG Project in Australia and the Tangguh LNG Project in Indonesia is mainly based on long-term supply contracts and is sold to various customers in the Asia-Pacific region, including LNG Terminals in Dapeng, Guangdong and Putian, Fujian, China.

In 2015, the Company's average realized natural gas price was US$6.39/mcf, representing a 0.8% decrease year over year, primarily due to two reasons: on one hand, production from new gas fields in offshore China commanded higher prices; on the other hand, realized gas price overseas decreased year over year as a result of significant decrease in natural gas prices in North America market, which offset the price increase in offshore China.

In China, the current oversupply of natural gas will adversely affect the development, operation and income of the Company's natural gas business. To cope with the current shortage of natural gas demand from downstream users, the Company will coordinate related designs, approvals and gas price negotiations with downstream customers, with the aim of promoting a stable production of producing oil and gas fields and the development of oil and gas fields under construction.

Research and Development

In 2015, the Company continued to implement its “technology-driven” strategy through further reforms in the scientific and technological systems, coordinated research resources and promoted research and production works in an orderly and effective manner. During the year, the Company continued to streamline the positions of different research institutes and to identify their respective responsibilities. In addition, measures were taken to coordinate the functions and systems of different institutes. The Company also established an unconventional oil and gas research institute. Pilot platforms such as the platform for the development of high temperature and high pressure reservoirs were put into use, providing basic requirements and protection for the Company’s independent technological innovations. Through such innovations, the Company was able to protect its increased reserves and production as well as to lower cost and enhance efficiency for its development projects. A series of research findings have been applied to increase production efficiency. In recognition of its achievements, a second prize was awarded to the Company for “Key Technological Application in Enhancing Oil Recovery of Offshore Heavy Polymer Flooding” from the National Technological Invention Award in 2015.

Major Scientific Project Development

In 2015, in order to provide key technological support for its sustainable development, the Company strengthened the management of technological projects and focused its efforts on areas such as exploration and development technology for deep water oil and gas fields, offshore heavy oil fields and fields with low porosity and permeability, onshore coalbed methane exploration technology, tapping technology of oil gas fields, offshore oil gas fields, development of high-temperature and high-pressure gas fields in South China Sea, etc.

In addition, the Company undertook a number of national and CNOOC’s science and technology projects such as the “Development of Large-scale Oil and Gas Fields and Coalbed Methane” and achieved know-how and new theories for geological explorations regarding the differences in oil and gas accumulation in active fault zones in Bohai as well as high-temperature and high-pressure natural gas accumulation. New exploration techniques were acquired, involving “low porosity, low permeability and low pressure” oil and gas reservoirs and deep oil and gas exploration as well as key developments of oil gas fields concerning improvements and comprehensive adjustments of maritime cluster well pattern and offshore heavy oil chemical flooding.

Innovative Development of Key Technologies

Following the successful well logging in Lingshui 18-1-1 well, the Company made its first commercial discovery in Central Canyon Yinggehai in 2015 through technological innovation. Results from the mathematical modeling and physical modeling research of thermal recovery of heavy oil reservoirs offshore, which were developed in-house, were used in Nanbao 35-2 and Luda 27-2 oilfields. We have successfully developed the first comprehensive assessment system of log interpretation which helped reduce the cost of comprehensive assessment considerably. The Company developed for its own 7 series and 5 processing techniques for sand prevention, including the complete series of cased well and open well. The Company is at the forefront of technological development in the country.

RISK MANAGEMENT AND INTERNAL CONTROL SYSTEM

Since its establishment, the Company has treated risk management and internal control as a top priority. The Company recognizes that it is the duty and obligation of its management to establish and maintain a risk management and internal control system, which serves the Company's strategic objectives and meets the Company's business practice.

The Company's Risk Management Committee is directly managed by the Chief Executive Officer and has been authorized by the Board to be in charge with the organization and implementation of the overall risk management and internal control, on-going monitor of the risk management and internal control systems of the Company, and makes periodic reports to the Board regarding the status of the risk management and internal control systems of the Company.

With respect to risk management, the Company has chosen and adopted the risk management framework issued by COSO ("Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Tread way Commission") of the U.S., established a risk management system covering design, implementation, monitoring, assessment and continuous improvement based on the ISO 31000:2009 "Risk Management-Principles and Guidelines". The Risk Management Committee established the overall targets and policies of the risk management system which are in line with the strategic objectives of the Company, and identified, analysed and assessed the overall risk of the Company, including the Company's key risks in making major decisions, important events and key business processes. The Risk Management Committee is also responsible for reviewing and approving the response plans to major risks, as well as following-up and periodically reviewing the implementation of such response plans, in order to make sure that sufficient attention, monitor and responses will be paid to all key risks of the Company.

With respect to internal control, the Company has chosen and adopted the internal control framework issued by COSO of the U.S., established an internal control system and mechanism over financial, operational and compliance controls and has conducted continuing review and evaluation of the internal control of the Company to ensure the timeliness, accuracy and completeness of all information reported.

In 2015, the Company continued to strengthen the organization construction of risk management and internal control, carried out the anti-fraud status investigation and assessment and improved the decision-making related policies. The management conclude that as of 31 December 2015, the Company' internal control over financial reporting was effective.

As a company listed in Hong Kong, the U.S. and Canada, the Company will continue to strictly comply with all regulatory requirements, strengthen its risk management and internal control system, and maintain a high standard of corporate governance to ensure the Company's healthy development.

Risk factors

Although we have established the risk management system to identify, analyze, evaluate and respond to risks, our business activities are subject to the following risks, which could have material effects on our strategy, operations, compliance and financial condition. We urge you to carefully consider the risks described below.

Our business, cash flows and profits fluctuate with changes in oil and gas prices.

Prices for crude oil, natural gas and oil products may fluctuate widely in response to relative changes in the supply and demand for oil and natural gas, market uncertainty and various other factors beyond our control, including, but not limited to overall economic conditions, political instability, armed conflict and acts of terrorism, economic conditions and actions by major oil-producing countries, the price and availability of other energy sources, domestic and foreign government regulations, natural disasters and weather conditions. Changes in oil and gas prices could have a material effect on our business, cash flows and earnings.

Low oil and natural gas prices may adversely affect our business, revenue and earnings. Lower oil and natural gas prices may result in the write-off of higher cost reserves and other assets, reduction of the amount of oil and natural gas we can produce economically and termination of existing contracts that have become uneconomic. The prolonged slump in oil and natural gas prices may also impact our long-term investment strategy and operation capability for our projects.

Our business and strategy may be substantially affected by complex macro economy, political instability, war and terrorism and changes in policy and fiscal and tax regimes.

Economic conditions, energy costs, geopolitical issues and the availability and cost of credit resulted in a severe and prolonged global economic downturn period. The complex economic outlook may materially and adversely affect our business and financial conditions.

Some of the countries in which we operate may be considered politically and economically unstable. As a result, our financial condition and operating results could be adversely affected by associated international activities, domestic civil unrest and general strikes, political instability, war and acts of terrorism. Any changes in regime or social instability, or other political, economic or diplomatic developments, or changes in fiscal and tax regime are not within our control. Our operations, existing assets or future investments may be materially and adversely affected by these changes as well as potential trade and economic sanctions due to deteriorated relations between different countries.

Our financial performance is subject to the tax and fiscal regime of host countries in which we operate. Any changes in the tax and fiscal regime in these countries may increase our tax burden and have an adverse effect on our financial performance. For example, in October 2015, Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) published the “Base Erosion and Profit Shifting Project” (BEPS Project) final report with 15 action items, to enhance multilateral cooperation, pursuant to which the participating countries will amend their tax laws and tax treaties, and strengthen their supervision on the corporate tax planning and transfer pricing activities, which may cause risks to the Company on global transfer pricing activities.

Oil and natural gas industry are very competitive.

We compete in the PRC and international markets with national oil companies, major integrated oil and gas companies and various other independent oil and gas companies for access to oil and gas resources, products, alternative energy, customers, capital financing, technology and equipment, personnel and business opportunities. Competition may result in shortage of these resources or over-supply of oil and gas, which could increase our cost or reduce our earnings, and adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. For example, the over-supply of natural gas in China may negatively impact our development, operation and revenue of natural gas projects.

In addition to competition, as we need to obtain various approvals from governmental and other regulatory authorities in order to maintain our operations, we may face unfavorable results such as project delays and cost overruns, which may further impact the realization of our strategies and adversely impact our financial condition.

Our ability to deliver competitive returns and pursue commercial opportunities depends in part on the robustness and the long-lasting accuracy of our price assumptions.

We review the oil and natural gas price assumptions on a periodic basis when evaluating project decisions and business opportunities. We generally test projects and other business opportunities against a long-term price range. While we believe our current long-term price assumptions are prudent, if such assumptions proved to be incorrect, it could have a material adverse effect. For short-term planning purposes, we stress test the project feasibility against a wider range of prices.

Rising climate change concerns could lead to additional regulatory measures that may result in project delays and higher costs.

It is expected that the CO₂ emissions will increase as our production grows. CO₂ emissions from flaring will increase as long as there are no gas gathering systems in place. Over time, we expect that a growing share of our CO₂ emissions will be subject to supervision and result in an increase in our costs. Furthermore, the public's continued and increased attention to climate changes, including activities organized by non-governmental and political organizations, is likely to lead to implementation of additional regulations on reducing greenhouse gas emissions. If we are unable to find economically viable and publicly acceptable solutions that could reduce our CO₂ emissions for new and existing projects, we may experience additional costs, project delays, reduced production and reduced demand for hydrocarbons.

Mergers, acquisitions and divestments may expose us to additional risks and uncertainties, and we may not be able to realize the anticipated benefits from acquisitions and divestments.

Mergers and acquisitions may not succeed due to various reasons, such as difficulties in integrating activities and realising synergies, outcomes differing from key assumptions, host governments reacting or responding in a different manner from that envisaged, or liabilities and costs being underestimated. Any of these would reduce our ability to realise the anticipated benefits. We may not be able to successfully divest non-core assets at acceptable prices, resulting in increased pressure on our cash position. In the case of divestments, we may be held liable for past acts, or failures to act or perform responsibilities. We may also be subject to liabilities if a purchaser fails to fulfil all of its commitments. These risks may result in an increase in our costs and inability to achieve our business goals.

The nature of our operations exposes us and the communities in which we work to a wide range of health, safety, security and environment risks.

Every aspect of our daily operations exposes us to health, safety, security and environmental (HSSE) risks given the geographical area, operational diversity and technical complexity of our operations. Our operations include productions and transportations of oil and gas in difficult geographic or climate zones, as well as environmentally sensitive regions, such as Canada, the basins in Uganda or offshore, especially in deep water area. Our operations expose us and the areas in which we operate to a number of risks, including major process safety incidents, natural disasters, earthquakes, social unrest, health and safety lapses and crimes. If a major HSSE risk materialises, such as an explosion or hydrocarbon spill, this could result in casualties, environmental damage disruption of business activities and, depending on their cause and severity, material damage to our reputation, exclusion from bidding on mineral rights and eventually loss of our licence to operate. In certain circumstances, liabilities could be imposed without regard to our fault in the matter. Regulatory requirements for HSSE change constantly and may become more stringent over time. In the future, we may incur significant additional costs in complying with such requirements or bear liabilities such as fines, penalties, clean-up costs and third-party claims, as a result of breach of laws and regulations relating to HSSE matter. Our reputation may be adversely affected.

We maintain various insurance policies for our operations against potential losses. However, our ability to insure against our risks is subject to the availability of relevant insurance products in the market. In addition, we cannot ensure you that our insurance coverage is sufficient to cover any losses that we may incur, or that we will be able to successfully claim our losses under our existing insurance policies on a timely basis, or at all. If any of our losses are not covered by our insurance coverage, or if the insurance compensation is less than our losses or the claim is not paid on a timely basis, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Violations of anti-fraud, corruption and corporate governance laws may expose us to various risks.

Laws and regulations of the host countries or regions in which we operate, such as laws on anti-corruption, anti-fraud and corporate governance, are constantly changing and strengthening, especially in the United States, United Kingdom, Canada and China. The compliance with these laws and regulations may increase our cost. If the Company, our employees, executives or directors fail to comply with any of such laws and regulations, it may expose us to prosecution or punishment, damage to our brand and reputations, the ability to obtain new resources and/or access to the capital markets, and it may even expose us to civil or criminal liabilities.

The current or future activities of our controlling shareholder, CNOOC, or its affiliates in certain countries that are the subject of U.S. sanctions could result in negative media and investor attention and possible imposition of sanctions on CNOOC, which could materially and adversely affect our shareholders.

We cannot predict the interpretation or implementation of government policies at the U.S. federal, state or local levels with respect to any current or future activities by CNOOC or its affiliates in countries or with individuals or entities that are the subject of U.S. sanctions. As a result of such activities by CNOOC, we could be prohibited from engaging in business activities in the U.S. or with U.S. individuals or entities, and U.S. transactions in our securities and distributions to U.S. individuals and entities with respect to our securities could also be prohibited. Pension or endowment funds of certain U.S. State and local governments or universities may sell our securities due to certain restrictions on investments in companies that engage in activities in sanctioned countries, such as Iran and Sudan. We may also be subject to negative media or investor attention, which may distract management, consume internal resources and affect investors' perception of our company and investment in our company.

CNOOC LIMITED Annual Report 2015 21

As required by the Iran Threat Reduction and Syria Human Rights Act of 2012, which added a disclosure requirement to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, we are providing certain information regarding our non-controlled affiliates' activities. To our knowledge, in 2015, China Oilfield Services Limited (COSL), one of our non-controlled affiliates, continued to provide certain drilling and other related services in Iran under renewed subcontracting agreements entered into in 2009, as it did in 2014. We cannot predict at this time whether U.S. sanctions will be imposed on any of our affiliates.

Any failure to replace reserves and develop our proved undeveloped reserves could adversely affect our business and our financial position.

Our exploration and development activities involve inherent risks, including the risk of not discovering commercially productive oil or gas reservoirs and that the wells we drill may not be able to commence production or may not be sufficiently productive to generate a return of our partial or full investments. In addition, approximately 55.0% of our proved reserves were undeveloped as of 31 December 2015. Our future success depends on our ability to develop these reserves in a timely and cost-effective manner. There are various risks in developing reserves, mainly including construction, operational, geophysical, geological and regulatory risks.

The reliability of reserve estimates depends on a number of factors, including the quality and quantity of technical and economic data, the market prices of our oil and gas products, the production performance of reservoirs, extensive engineering judgments, comprehensive judgement of engineers and the fiscal and tax regime in the countries where we have operations or assets.

Many of the factors, assumptions and variables involved in estimating reserves are beyond our control and may prove be incorrect over time. Consequently, the results of drilling, testing, production and changes in the price of oil and gas may require substantial upward or downward revisions to our initial reserve data.

If we fail to develop or gain access to appropriate technologies, or to deploy them effectively, the realization of our strategies as well as our competitiveness and ability to operate may be adversely affected.

Technology and innovation are vital for us in meeting the global energy demands in a competitive environment. For example, we strive to rely on technologies and innovations to enhance our competitiveness in the development of unconventional oil and gas resources, including oil sands, shale oil and gas and coalbed methane, and deep water exploration and development. In the context of an operating environment with stricter environmental compliance standards and requirements, although current knowledge recognise these newly developed technologies as safe to the environment, there still exists unknown or unpredictable elements that may have an impact on the environment. This may in turn harm our reputation and operation, increase our costs or even result in litigations and sanctions. We may face risks in failing to meet the required environmental standards if our technologies in unconventional oil and gas operations are not sophisticated.

Breach of our cyber security or break down of our IT infrastructure could damage our operations and our reputation.

Intentional attacks on our cyber system, negligent management of our cyber security and IT system management and other factors may cause damage or break down to our IT infrastructure, which may disrupt our operations, result in loss or misuse of data or sensitive information, cause injuries, environmental harm or damages in assets, violate laws or regulations and result in potential legal liability. These actions could result in significant costs or damage to our reputational.

CNOOC largely controls us and we regularly enter into connected party transactions with CNOOC and its affiliates.

Currently, CNOOC indirectly owns or controls 64.44% of our shares. As a result, CNOOC is able to control our board composition, or our Board, determine the time and amount in dividend payments, and controls us in various aspects. Under current PRC laws, CNOOC has the exclusive right to enter into PSCs with foreign enterprises for the petroleum resources exploitation in offshore China. Although CNOOC has undertaken to transfer all of its rights and obligations under any new PSCs to us (except for those relating to administrative functions as a state-owned company), our strategies, results of operations and financial position may be adversely affected in the event CNOOC takes actions that favour its own interests over ours.

In addition, we regularly enter into connected transactions with CNOOC and its affiliates. Certain connected transactions require a review by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and are subject to prior approvals by the independent shareholders. If these transactions are not approved, the Company may not be able to proceed as planned and it may adversely affect our business and financial condition.

Oil and natural gas transportation may expose us to financial loss and reputation harm.

Our oil and gas transportation involves marine, land and pipeline transportation, which are subject to hazards such as capsizing, collision, acts of piracy and damage or loss from severe weather conditions, explosions, oil and gas spills and leakages. These hazards could result in serious personal injury or loss of human life, significant damage to property and equipment, environmental pollution, impairment of operations, risk of financial loss and reputation harm. We may not be insured against all of these risks and uninsured losses and liabilities arising from these hazards could reduce the funds available to us for financing, exploration and investment, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We face various risks with regard to our business and operations in North America.

Transportation and export infrastructure in North America is limited, and without the construction of new transportation and export infrastructure, our oil and natural gas production capacity may be affected. In addition, we may be required to sell our products into the North American markets at lower prices than in other markets, which could materially and adversely affect our financial performance.

Aboriginal people in Canada have claimed aboriginal title and rights to the lands and mineral resources in substantial portion of western Canada. As a result, negotiations with aboriginal people on surface activities are required and may result in timing uncertainties or delays of future development activities. Declaration by aboriginal people, if successful, could have a significant adverse effect on our business in Canada.

We may have limited control over our investments in joint ventures and our operations with partners.

A portion of our operations are conducted in the forms of partnerships or in joint ventures in which we may have limited ability to influence and control their operation or future development. Our limited ability to influence and control the operation or future development of such joint ventures could materially and adversely affect the realization of our target returns on capital investment and lead to unexpected future costs.

If we depend heavily on key customers or suppliers, our business, results of operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Key sales customers – if any of our key customers reduced their crude oil purchases from us significantly, our results of operation could be adversely affected. In order to reduce reliance on a single customer, we adopt measures including signing annual sales contracts, developing sales plans, and participating in market competition so as to maintain a stable cooperation with customers.

Key suppliers – we have strengthened our communication in business with our key suppliers in order to maintain a good working relationship. We have also established strategic partnerships through communications and a consensus in corporate cultures and win-win cooperation. Further, we actively explore new suppliers to ensure adequacy and foster competition.

We face currency risks and liquidity risks.

Currency risks – The Company’s oil and gas sales are substantially denominated in Renminbi and U.S. dollars. The depreciation of the Renminbi against the U.S. dollar may result in double effects. The appreciation of the U.S. dollar against the Renminbi may increase the Company’s revenue in the sales of oil and gas, but it may increase our costs of equipment and import of raw materials in the meantime.

Liquidity risks – Certain restrictions on dividend distribution imposed by the laws of the host countries in which we operate may adversely and materially affect our cash flows. For instance, as the dividend of our wholly owned subsidiaries in the PRC shall be distributed pursuant to the laws of the PRC and the articles and association, and we may face risks of not obtaining adequate cash flows from such subsidiaries. In addition, a ratings downgrade could potentially increase financing costs and adversely impact our ability to access financing, which could put pressure on the Company’s liquidity.

health, safety and environmental protection (“Hse”)

The Company always places great emphasis on health, safety and environmental protection (HSE). “Safety and environmental protection come first, people oriented and well-equipped facilities” have been regarded as the core values of quality, health, safety and environmental protection (QHSE). To promote the culture of HSE, the Company strives to establish a comprehensive management system to improve employees’ awareness of HSE during operations, to strengthen their ability to identify safety risks as well as improve their risk management skills.

Since the end of 2014, the Work Safety Law of the People’s Republic of China (as amended) and the Environmental Protection Law of the People’s Republic of China (as amended) have imposed stricter supervision and management of work safety on enterprises, which brings about additional challenges for the Company in work safety, clean production and development. For this reason, the Company further reinforced its basic work of production safety through system improvement and management innovation. The Company’s key responsibilities were effectively put in place and its safety culture was clearly demonstrated. All in all, the operation of the health, safety and environmental protection system remained stable.

Offshore China, in view of new regulations recently implemented, the Company has carried out safety hazards investigations and employed third-party agencies to carry out safety and environmental compliance management and operational assessments in 2015 to identify management’s weaknesses and to provide recommendations for improvement. We reinforced the system of QHSE work, adhered to the mode of system management, coordinated and prepared annual audit inspections, organized system reviews for the 7 units under the Company, and strengthened management reviews of highly specialized contractors by external experts. During the year, the Company carried out a review on 35 contract helicopters and 11 diving contractors in 12 helicopter bases to obtain detailed management findings and effectively avoid HSE risks. During the year, the Company also conducted special safety inspections of offshore oil and gas, dangerous chemicals and inflammable and explosive materials, and full coverage inspections of “Five No-drillings” to track potential problems and to remediate potential risks.

In 2015, the Company advocated the implementation of “China National Offshore Oil Safety Signs behavior” actions and enacted rules relating to safety signs behavior in three levels of daily working lives, including leaders, employees and organization in order to arouse the safety awareness of employees in their everyday life and to promote security management.

Apart from this, the Company further strengthened its energy saving technological reforms to reinforce energy discharge management and achieved 129,000 tons of standard coal energy savings in 2015.

In 2015, the Company continued to strengthen overseas HSE management and enacted individual management plans for all highlighted overseas projects. We have now finished all HSE management plans for branches in Iraq,

Indonesia, Uganda and we continued to integrate the HSE management within Nexen, gradually improved the HSE management and facilitated the implementation of corporate management requirements effectively by the following measures: competing focused reviews, organizing joint exercises, enhancing communication, and strengthening incident management.

The Company's emergency response system were undergoing serious testing. On 15 July 2015, an emulsion leak from a pipeline was discovered within Nexen's Long Lake operations, located in the south of Fort McMurray, Alberta, Canada. The estimated size of the leak was 5,000 m³ over an area of approximately 21,900 m² mostly within a compacted pipeline corridor. There were no injuries due to this incident. The affected wells were suspended and Nexen's emergency response plan was activated. The Company places great emphasis on production safety and has taken measures to minimize the spill's impact to the environment and wildlife. Since the incident, the Company has been working together with relevant regulatory agencies in its conduct of clean-up and remediation work at the spill site. Nexen is cooperating with the investigation of the regulatory agencies.

The majority of the released bitumen in the spill area has been safely removed. Further continued remediation and clean-up work is underway and will be carried out in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements.

HSE regulatory standards were further enhanced with the help of information technology. Our Environmental Information System is able to monitor real-time pollutant emission while safety inspection systems are available for continuing investigation and management of safety risks.

In 2015, the Company's OSHA (Occupation Safety and Health Administration) statistics on work safety maintained at a good level and performance is expected to continue to improve.

Corporate Citizen

The Company has been pursuing good social responsibility and the development of harmony between enterprise and society, and between people and nature, and has regarded its social responsibility as an undeniable obligation. While being committed to achieving sustainable development and creating value for its shareholders, the Company strives to provide clean and reliable energy supply for society and meeting needs of stakeholders.

Our social responsibilities are: to build CNOOC Limited into a driving force for sustainable energy supply, a leading force for clean, healthy and green energy development, and a motivating force for the mutual progress of stakeholders and society.

In 2015, the Company continued to use the concepts mentioned above as guidelines and place great emphasis on the following three areas to fulfill its social responsibility:

First, a driving force for sustainable energy supply

In 2015, the Company achieved significant progress in the areas of exploration, development and production, with stable growth in oil and gas reserves and production. In offshore China, 14 new discoveries were made and successful appraisals of 20 oil and gas structures were achieved. The Company achieved fruitful results in overseas exploration with new discoveries in Algeria and Nigeria, and the successful appraisal of three oil and gas structures. In addition, the Company overcame a number of difficulties to ensure stability in oil and gas production through promoting production of new oil and gas fields and new wells and successfully achieved its annual production target.

With sustainable growth in the Company's reserves and production volume, the Company has gradually increased its energy supply to China and the world, becoming a driving force for sustainable energy supply. We regard this as the most important aspect of the fulfillment of our social responsibility.

Second, a leading force for clean, healthy and green energy development

The development and expansion of our natural gas business is one of the three major developmental strategies of the Company. In 2015, the Company continued to develop its conventional natural gas business. In Eastern South China Sea, China's first large-scale deepwater gas field, Liwan 3-1, came on stream in 2014. Currently, the project is supplying gas to our customers in Hainan province and Hong Kong. Looking ahead, we will continue to develop clean energy to create a better environment.

Third, a motivating force for mutual progress with stakeholders and the society

The Company continued to actively participate in poverty alleviation, disaster relief, education loan and other social welfare activities. The Company provided electricity at a reduced tariff for the people in Weizhou Island helping them to solve the long-term problem of insufficient electricity and high electricity bills. In Overseas, we provided CNOOC scholarships for students in Uganda to encourage students from all regions to attain better academic results. In Iraq, in view of the difficulties in using water and electricity, the Company installed pipes and cables connecting to the village to solve the problem of water and electricity shortage. We also helped a local elementary school in its renovation and refurbishment.

In 2015, our ships continued to participate in sea rescue work in various regions, totaling 44 times for emergency sea rescues and 60 times for the use of ships and aircrafts.

In 2016, the Company will publish and upload on its website its “2015 Corporate Social Responsibility Report” to conclude and reflect upon its social responsibility performance in 2015.

Human resources

The Company strives to create an open, transparent and fair working environment. We adhere to the people-oriented spirit and staff caring concept, placing high emphasis on safeguarding the legal rights and rights of our staff. The Company has built a professional and highly efficient workforce capable of overcoming challenges, which has been essential to the success of the Company.

In 2015, faced with the tough challenge of low oil price, the Company continued to motivate staff and inspire their creativity through improving institutional mechanisms systems, enhancing organizational efficiency, continuing to strengthen the teams’ ability and to stimulate their talent. We had built up adequate human resources support amid the suppressed oil price environment.

The Company adheres to gender equality in the workplace, and makes an active effort to increase the number of female employees and to offer training for management positions for women. In addition, the Company also organizes a variety of leisure activities for female employees through different means and encourages them to participate in a variety of activities.

Sufficient Safeguard of Employees' Rights

The Company also strives to create an open, transparent and fair working environment. Adhering to the people-oriented spirit and staff caring concept, we place high emphasis on safeguarding the legal rights of our staff.

We offer employees with competitive compensation packages amongst industry peers and establish a salary growth mechanism, gradually implementing an allocation system that is consistent with the market. The Company's remuneration system, which fully takes field employees into account, is closely associated with employees' performance and contributions. A pay mechanism that links employee incomes with the Company's profits growth has also been adopted to ensure that our employees fully benefit from the growth and development of the Company.

A comprehensive and effective social security system has also been built and a series of measures have been adopted to help employees maintain better work-life balances.

Staff Development

We focus on providing opportunities and career development path for the advancement and personal growth of our staffs. Based on different professional groups and job characteristics, the Company has built respective paths for promotions. In 2015, the title management system was further improved to strengthen appraisal work.

For staff training, the Company offered a variety of training courses to ensure comprehensive coverage. In 2015, 61 core training programs and projects involving approximately 800 attendees and 5,700 days were completed for key professionals and positions.

The Company continued to encourage professional skills certification and further increased the proportion of experienced professionals. In 2015, a total of approximately 3,000 employees received certifications. Currently there are approximately 3,500 employees with titles of senior worker or above, and approximately 500 technicians and senior technicians, accounting for 55% and 7% of the total technical workforce, respectively.

Cultivation of International Talents

The Company has always placed strong focus on the cultivation of international talents with an established system of strata training through a variety of ways to enhance international talent cultivation, promoting business integration within and outside the Company.

In 2015, through short-term and long-term exchange programs held in coordination with Nexen, involving professional areas such as exploration, development, oil reservoir, oil sand, shale gas, project engineering and management, cost control, procurement, planning, HSE, etc, which effectively facilitated business integration with Nexen and played a dominant role as an international talent cultivation base.

In addition, through the overseas management training course, the development history, organizational structure, the scope of business and corporate culture of the Company were introduced to the senior management overseas. Together with site visits to the Company, this has deepened senior management's sense of belonging to the corporate culture of the Company, enhanced mutual understanding and promoted business exchange and integration.

In 2015, the Company executed its corporate governance policies strictly and sought to comply with the relevant provisions in the “Corporate Governance Code and Corporate Governance Report” set out in Appendix 14 to the Listing Rules (the “CG Code”), ensuring that all decisions were made on the principles of trust and fairness and in an open and transparent manner so as to protect the interests of all shareholders. The Company values the importance of corporate governance and in light of the CG Code, the Company set out a summary of the Company’s key corporate governance practices during 2015 below.

KEY CORPORATE GOVERNANCE PRINCIPLES AND THE COMPANY’S PRACTICES

A. DIRECTORS

A.1 The Board

Principle: “An issuer should be headed by an effective board which should assume responsibility for its leadership and control and be collectively responsible for promoting its success by directing and supervising its affairs. Directors should take decisions objectively in the best interests of the issuer.

The board should regularly review the contribution required from a director to perform his responsibilities to the issuer, and whether he is spending sufficient time performing them.”

The Board consisted of eight members, including two Executive Directors, two Non-executive Directors and four Independent Non-executive Directors, as of 31 December 2015.

The list of Directors, their respective biographies, and their respective roles in the Committees and the management are set out on pages 44 to 50 and 152, respectively. The relevant information has also been disclosed on the Company's website.

- The Board and Committee members of the Company are dedicated, professional and accountable.

The Company holds Board meetings at least four times a year at approximately quarterly intervals. Seven Board meetings were held in 2015. Members of the Board have also actively participated in the discussions on the business and operation of the Company, either in person or through other electronic means of communication such as emails, when necessary.

There exists an open atmosphere for Directors to contribute alternative views. All decisions of the Board are made on the principles of trust and fairness in an open and transparent manner, so as to protect the interests of all shareholders.

The Board has regularly reviewed the contribution required from a Director to perform his responsibilities to the Company, and whether he is spending sufficient time performing them in accordance with the CG Code.

Note 3: Mr. Wang Jiaxiang retired as Non-executive Director with effect from 23 September 2015.

The Joint Company Secretaries consulted the Directors on matters to be included in the agenda for regular Board meetings.

Dates of regular Board meetings have been scheduled at least two months before the meeting to provide sufficient notice to all Directors so that they can have an opportunity to attend. For non-regular Board meetings, reasonable advance notices have been given.

Minutes of the meetings of the Board and Committees are kept by the Joint Company Secretaries and open for inspection at any reasonable time upon reasonable request by any Director.

Minutes of the meetings of the Board and Committees recorded sufficient details of the matters considered by the Board and Committees and decisions reached, including any concerns raised by Directors or dissenting views expressed. Draft and final versions of the minutes of the Board meetings and Committee meetings are sent to all Directors and all Committee members respectively within a reasonable time after the Board meetings and Committee meetings for their comments and records.

Committees may, upon reasonable request, seek independent professional advice in appropriate circumstances at the Company's expense. The Board would resolve to provide separate independent professional advice to Directors to assist them in performing their duties to the Company at the Company's expense.

If a substantial shareholder or a Director has a conflict of interest in a matter to be considered by the Board and such interest has been considered to be material by the Board, the matter will not be dealt with by a written resolution but a Board meeting will be convened for that matter. Independent Non-executive Directors who do not (and whose close associates also do not) have material interest in the transaction will be present at such Board meeting.

- The Company has arranged appropriate insurance cover in respect of legal action against its Directors.

A.2

Chairman and Chief Executive

Principle: “There are two key aspects of the management of every issuer — the management of the board and the day-to-day management of business. There should be a clear division of these responsibilities to ensure a balance of power and authority, so that power is not concentrated in any one individual.”

The roles of the Chairman and CEO of the Company are separate and are not performed by the same individual. Mr. Yang Hua serves as the Chairman of the Board and Mr. Li Fanrong serves as the CEO of the Company.

The Chairman ensures all Directors are properly briefed on issues arising at Board meetings and is responsible for ensuring that Directors receive, in a timely manner, adequate information, which must be accurate, clear, complete and reliable.

One of the important roles of the Chairman is to provide leadership for the Board. The Chairman ensures that the Board works effectively and performs its responsibilities, and that all key and appropriate issues are discussed by the Board in a timely manner. The Chairman delegates the responsibility of drawing up the agenda for each Board meeting and Committee meeting to the Joint Company Secretaries who will take into account, where appropriate, any matters proposed by the other Directors for inclusion in the agenda, and the Chairman is primarily responsible for approving the agenda.

The Chairman takes primary responsibility for ensuring that good corporate governance practices and procedures are established.

The Chairman encourages all Directors to make full and active contribution to the Board’s affairs and takes the lead to ensure that the Board acts in the best interests of the Company. The Chairman encourages Directors with different views to voice their concerns, allows sufficient time for discussion of issues and ensures that Board decisions fairly reflect Board consensus.

The Chairman holds meetings with the Independent Non-executive Directors and Non-executive Directors without the presence of the Executive Directors at least annually.

The Chairman ensures that appropriate steps are taken to provide effective communication with shareholders and that their views are communicated to the Board as a whole.

The Chairman promotes a culture of openness and debate by facilitating the effective contribution of Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors in particular and ensuring constructive relations between Executive and Non-executive Directors.

The CEO is responsible for conducting the Company's business and affairs consistent with the principles and directions established by the Board. The clear division of responsibilities between the Chairman and the CEO ensures a balance of power and authority, as well as efficient management and operation of the Company, which contribute to the success of the Company.

A.3

Board composition

Principle: "The board should have a balance of skills, experience and diversity of perspectives appropriate to the requirements of the issuer's business. It should ensure that changes to its composition can be managed without undue disruption. It should include a balanced composition of executive and non-executive directors (including independent non-executive directors) so that there is a strong independent element on the board, which can effectively exercise independent judgment. Non-executive directors should be of sufficient calibre and number for their views to carry weight."

The Board, as representatives of the shareholders of the Company, is committed to the achievement of business success and the enhancement of long-term shareholder's value with the highest standards of integrity and ethics. The role of the Board is to direct, guide and oversee the conduct of the Company's business and to ensure that the interests of the shareholders are being served.

As of 31 December 2015, the Board consisted of eight members: two of them were Executive Directors, two of them were Non-executive Directors and four of them were Independent Non-executive Directors. All Directors were identified by categories of Executive Directors, Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors in all corporate communications that set out the names of the Directors of the Company. A list of the Directors identifying their roles and functions was maintained on the Company's website and on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's website during the reporting period.

The Executive Directors of the Company are all individuals with extensive experience in the Company's respective fields of operation. Both of them are familiar with the Company's businesses and have cooperated with leading global players in the oil and gas industry. Both Mr. Wu Guangqi and Mr. Li Fanrong have over 30 years of experience in petroleum exploration and operation.

The Non-executive Directors of the Company are all individuals with extensive experience in the parent company's respective fields of operation.

The Independent Non-executive Directors of the Company are all professionals or scholars with backgrounds in the legal, economic, financial and investment fields. They have extensive experience and knowledge of corporate management and make significant contributions to the Company's strategic decisions.

The Company believes that the active involvement of the Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors in the management and decision making of the Board and its Committees strengthens the objectivity and independence of the Board.

The diverse backgrounds of the Board members ensure that they can fully represent the interests of all shareholders of the Company and to enhance the effectiveness of the Board and corporate governance.

The Company has received annual confirmations from all of its Independent Non-executive Directors acknowledging full compliance with the relevant requirements in respect of their independence pursuant to Rule 3.13 of the Listing Rules. The Company is therefore of the view that all of the Independent Non-executive Directors are independent.

A.4 & Appointments, re-election and removal & Nomination Committee

Principle: "There should be a formal, considered and transparent procedure for the appointment of new directors. There should be plans in place for orderly succession for appointments. All directors should be subject to re-election at regular intervals. An issuer must explain the reasons for the resignation or removal of any director."

The Nomination Committee comprises two Independent Non-executive Directors (Mr. Lawrence J. Lau and Mr. Kevin G. Lynch) and a Non-executive Director (Mr. Wang Yilin (whose resignation became effective on 19 May 2015) and Mr. Yang Hua (whose appointment as a member of the Nomination Committee became effective on 19 May 2015)) with Mr. Yang Hua serves as the Chairman of the Nomination Committee. A list of members of the Nomination Committee is set out under the section headed “Company Information” on page 152 of this annual report. With effect from 19 May 2015, Mr. Yang Hua served as a member of the Nomination Committee, and Mr. Wang Yilin resigned as a member of the Nomination Committee on the same day.

The role of the Nomination Committee is to determine the policy and establish proper procedures for the selection of the Company’s leadership positions, upgrade the quality of Board members and perfect the Company’s corporate governance structure.

The main authorities and responsibilities of the Nomination Committee are to make recommendations to the Board for suitable candidates to serve as Directors and senior management of the Company for approval by the Board, to review the structure, size and composition of the Board (including the skills, knowledge and experience), and to evaluate the leadership abilities of Executive Directors, so as to ensure the competitiveness of the Company.

When nominating a particular candidate for director, the Nomination Committee will consider (1) the breadth and depth of the management and/or leadership experience of the candidate; (2) financial literacy or other professional or business experience of the candidate that are relevant to the Company and its business; and (3) the experience or knowledge of the candidate in international operations. All candidates must be able to meet the standards set out in Rules 3.08 and 3.09 of the Listing Rules. When nominating an Independent Non-executive Director who has served the Company for more than nine years, the Board will propose shareholders' vote by way of a separate resolution on any decision to re-elect such Independent Non-executive Director and include in the circular and/or explanatory statement accompanying the notice of the relevant general meeting to shareholders the reasons why the Board still considers such Director as independent and shall be re-elected. Mr. Chiu Sung Hong who has served as an Independent Non-executive Director of the Company for over nine years, will retire from office and being eligible for re-election at the forthcoming annual general meeting of the Company to be held on 26 May 2016. Mr. Chiu has thorough understanding of the Company's operations and business. As an Independent Non-executive Director, Mr. Chiu has expressed objective views and given valuable independent guidance to the Company over the years. He is currently the chairman of the remuneration committee and a member of the audit committee, and has served as the chairman of the independent board committee in connection with the connected transactions entered into by the Company and its subsidiaries. Mr. Chiu has continued to demonstrate firm commitments to his role. Mr. Chiu has provided confirmation of his independence according to Rule 3.13 of the Listing Rules. The Board considers that Mr. Chiu remains independent for the purpose of the Listing Rules despite the fact that he has served the Board for over nine years. In accordance with Code Provision A.4.3 of the CG Code, the Company will include in the notice of the annual general meeting to be held in 2016 and the circular of the Company the reasons why the Board still considers Mr. Chiu as independent and shall be re-elected.

The Nomination Committee is also responsible for evaluating the contributions and independence of incumbent Directors so as to determine whether they should be recommended for re-election. Based on such evaluation, the Nomination Committee will recommend to the Board candidates for re-election at general meetings and appropriate replacements (if necessary). The Board, based on the recommendations of the Nomination Committee, will propose to the shareholders the candidates for re-election at the relevant general meetings.

A Director appointed by the Board to fill a casual vacancy or as an addition shall hold office until the next extraordinary general meeting and/or annual general meeting (as appropriate).

Our Non-executive Directors are appointed for a term of one year. However, none of our existing Independent Non-executive Directors are appointed for a specific term, which constitutes a deviation from the CG Code. Further explanation is set out under the section headed "Compliance with the Corporate Governance Code" on page 42.

All Directors, including those appointed for a specific term are subject to retirement by rotation once every three years and are subject to re-election in accordance with the Articles of Association of the Company (as amended and adopted by special resolution of the Company on 27 May 2009) (the "Articles") and the CG Code.

The following is a summary of the work performed by the Nomination Committee under its charter during the year:

Reviewed the structure, size and composition (including the skills, knowledge and experience) of the Board and its committees and made recommendations on any proposed changes to the Board to complement the Company's corporate strategy;

— Assessed the independence of Independent Non-executive Directors;

Identified individuals suitably qualified to become Board members and made recommendations to the Board on the selection of individuals nominated for directorships;

Made recommendations to the Board on the re-election of Directors and reviewed succession planning for Directors, in particular the Chairman and CEO, according to the nomination procedure and process and criteria adopted by the Company;

CNOOC LIMITED Annual Report 2015 32

- Reviewed and monitored the training and continuous professional development of Directors and senior management and made recommendations to the Board in that regard; and

Evaluated and assessed the effectiveness of the Nomination Committee and the adequacy of the charter of the Nomination Committee and recommended the proposed changes to the charter to the Board (if necessary).

During the year ended 31 December 2015, Mr. Yang Hua, an existing Non-executive Director, was appointed as Chairman of the Board and Chairman of the Nomination Committee with effect from 19 May 2015. Mr. Wang Yilin resigned as Chairman of the Board, Chairman of the Nomination Committee and Non-executive Director with effect on the same day. Mr. Wang Jiayang retired as Non-executive Director with effect from 23 September 2015. Other than the above, the Nomination Committee considered that any other change to the composition of the Board was not necessary. It will keep assessing whether any such change is required going forward and will recommend to the Board qualified candidates as Directors according to the nomination policy and procedure of the Nomination Committee.

In accordance with Code Provision A.5.6 of the CG Code and to demonstrate the Company's continued commitment to high standards of corporate governance, the Board adopted a board diversity policy (the "Policy") on 20 August 2013 prior to the implementation date as required by the Listing Rules. The Policy aims to continue to improve corporate governance and ensure the diversity of Board members. A summary of the Policy is set out below:

- Purpose: The Policy aims to continue to improve corporate governance and ensure the diversity on the Board.
- Policy statement: With a view to leading its leap-forward development, the Company sees increasing diversity at the Board level as an essential element in supporting the attainment of its strategic objectives and sustainable development. In designing the Board's composition, board diversity shall be considered from a number of aspects, including but not limited to, gender, age, cultural and educational background, professional experience, skills, knowledge and length of service. All Board appointments will be based on meritocracy, and candidates will be considered against objective criteria, having due regard to the benefits of diversity on the Board.
- Selection criterion: Selection of candidates will be based on diversity of perspectives, including but not limited to, gender, age, cultural and educational background, professional experience, skills, knowledge and diversified vision.

Since the adoption of the Policy in August 2013, the Board has observed the Policy and took into account the objectives set out in the Policy in reviewing its Board composition. In particular, in selecting the candidates for Independent Non-executive Director, not only the Board considered the knowledge, experience and industry-specific exposures of the candidates, the Board also took into account other factor such as cultural background and diversified vision of the candidates. As a result, the Nomination Committee considered that there is sufficient diversity at the Board level.

A.6

Responsibilities of Directors

Principle: “Every director must always know his responsibilities as a director of an issuer and its conduct, business activities and development. Given the essential unitary nature of the board, non-executive directors have the same duties of care and skill and fiduciary duties as executive directors.”

The Company regularly updates its Directors with changes in laws and regulations relevant to their roles as Directors of the Company.

- Directors’ training and professional development:

All Directors newly appointed to the Board receive a comprehensive, formal and tailored induction on appointment for the purpose of giving an overview of the business and operations of the Group and appropriate briefings and trainings from the Company covering the statutory and regulatory obligations of Directors, organizational structure, policies, procedures and codes of the Company and terms of reference of Committees. The senior management and the Joint Company Secretaries will also conduct subsequent briefings as and when necessary to ensure that the Directors are kept apprised of the latest developments relevant to the operations and business of the Company, and their responsibilities under statutes and common law, the Listing Rules, legal and other regulatory requirements as well as the Company’s business and governance policies, so that they are able to discharge their responsibilities properly.

The Company also recognizes the importance of continuous professional development of the Directors. Directors are encouraged to participate in continuous professional development to develop and refresh their knowledge and skills. During the year, the Company arranged a training conducted by its external professional advisers on the updates on Listing Rules, applicable laws, rules and regulations relating to Directors’ duties and responsibilities. The training covered a broad range of topics including disclosure of share interests of directors, new amendments to the CG Code, Hong Kong inside information disclosure and recent profit warning practice, 2015 Report on Review of Disclosure in Issuer’s Annual Report issued by the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and US Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.

Certain Directors also attended trainings organized by the Company or external professional bodies on other regulatory updates as well as obligations of directors. In addition, Directors also read materials/publications which they thought appropriate and necessary for the fulfillment of their roles. The Directors provided their regular training records to the Company.

In addition, the Company also provided regular updates to Directors in respect of continuing obligations of listed issuers and their directors as well as monthly updates on the business and operations of the Group.

The Non-executive Directors and the Independent Non-executive Directors actively participate in Board meetings and Committees meetings to exercise their independent judgement on issues of strategy, policy, performance, accountability, resources, key appointments and standards of conduct of the Company. They are responsible for taking the lead where potential conflicts of interests arise.

The Non-executive Directors and the Independent Non-executive Directors are invited to serve on the Audit, Remuneration and Nomination Committees of the Company.

During 2015, each Non-executive Director or Independent Non-executive Director attended or otherwise appointed an alternate to attend all regularly scheduled meetings of the Board and Committees on which such Non-executive Director or Independent Non-executive Director sat in, and reviewed the meeting materials distributed in advance for such meetings and shared their experience, skills and expertise with the Board or the relevant Committee. All of the Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors of the Company made positive contributions to the development of the Company's strategy and policies through independent, constructive and informed comments. The Non-executive Directors and the Independent Non-executive Directors have been responsible for scrutinising our performance in achieving agreed corporate goals and objectives and monitoring our performance reporting.

A.7 Supply of and access to information

Principle: “Directors should be provided in a timely manner with appropriate information in the form and quality to enable them to make an informed decision and perform their duties and responsibilities.”

The Company's senior management regularly provides the Board and its Committees with adequate information in a timely manner to enable them to make informed decisions. Senior management also organises presentations to the Board conducted by professional advisers on specific transactions as appropriate.

For regular Board meetings and Committee meetings, the agenda and accompanying Board papers are sent in full to all Directors at least three days before the intended date of the Board meetings or Committee meetings.

The Board and each Director have separate and independent access to the Company's senior management and also the Joint Company Secretaries, who will provide full and prompt responses to queries raised by the Directors. All Directors are entitled to have access to the Board papers, minutes and related materials upon reasonable notice.

B. REMUNERATION OF DIRECTORS AND SENIOR MANAGEMENT AND BOARD EVALUATION

B.1 The level and make-up of remuneration and disclosure

Principle: “An issuer should disclose its directors’ remuneration policy and other remuneration related matters. The procedure for setting policy on executive directors’ remuneration and all directors’ remuneration packages should be formal and transparent. Remuneration levels should be sufficient to attract and retain directors to run the company successfully without paying more than necessary. No director should be involved in deciding his own remuneration.”

The Remuneration Committee comprises two Independent Non-executive Directors (Mr. Chiu Sung Hong and Mr. Tse Hau Yin, Aloysius) and one Non-executive Director (Mr. Lv Bo) with Mr. Chiu Sung Hong served as the Chairman of the Remuneration Committee. The Remuneration Committee is delegated with the authority of determining and approving salaries, bonuses, share option packages, performance appraisal systems and retirement plans for all Executive Directors and Senior Management. A list of members of the Remuneration Committee is set out in “Company Information” on page 152 of this annual report.

The major responsibilities and authorities of the Remuneration Committee include making recommendations to the Board on the Company’s policy and structure of the remuneration of Directors and senior management of the Company and on the establishment of a formal and transparent procedure for developing remuneration policy, determining and reviewing the service contracts and specific remuneration packages for all Executive Directors and senior management, such as benefits in kind, pension rights and compensation payments, including any compensation payable for loss or termination of their office or appointment, and making recommendations to the Board on the remuneration of Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors.

The Company’s emolument policy is to maintain fair and competitive packages with reference to industry standards and prevailing market conditions. The Remuneration Committee is mindful that levels of remuneration must be sufficient to attract and retain the Directors and senior management in order to run the Company successfully, but at the same time, the Company should avoid setting remunerations which are in excess of those necessary for this purpose. The Directors’ emolument package may comprise the Director’s fees, basic salaries and allowances, bonuses, share options and others. The following factors are considered in determining the Directors’ remuneration package:

— Business needs, company goals and objectives;

— Responsibilities of the Directors and their individual contribution; and — Changes in relevant markets, for example, supply/demand fluctuations and changes in competitive conditions.

Details of the remuneration, as well as the share option benefits of Directors for the year ended 31 December 2015, are set out on pages 93 to 94 of this annual report.

No individual Director or senior management of the Company is permitted to determine his/her own remuneration.

The Company seeks to apply similar principles when determining the remuneration packages for senior management with reference to the Board's corporate goals and objectives. Other general staff and employees are rewarded on a performance-rated basis with other fringe benefits such as social insurance, pension funds and medical cover.

Please refer to notes 9 to 10 to the financial statements on pages 93 to 95 of this annual report for details of Directors' remuneration and senior management's remuneration by band and the five highest paid individuals in the Company.

The remuneration of Non-executive Directors and Independent Non-executive Directors recommended by the Remuneration Committee is determined by the Board where the vote of the Directors concerned will not be counted in relation to their remuneration.

The Remuneration Committee also administers the Company's share option schemes and all other employee equity-based compensation plans, with full authority to make all other determinations in the administration thereof, but subject to the limitations prescribed by laws and the rules of such plans and programs.

The Remuneration Committee consults the Chairman and CEO about its proposal relating to the remuneration of other Executive Directors and have access to independent professional advice if necessary.

ACCOUNTABILITY AND AUDIT

C.1

Financial reporting

Principle: “The board should present a balanced, clear and comprehensible assessment of the company’s performance, position and prospects.”

The Company has established a mechanism for reporting to the Board by providing a monthly management report in order to ensure that the Board fully understands the operating conditions and the relevant financial position of the Company. The Board is responsible for preparing accounts that give a true and fair view of the Group’s financial position on a going-concern basis and other financial disclosures. Management provides the Board with the relevant information it needs to fulfill these responsibilities.

Directors will discuss the operating budget for the next year and approve the operating budget at the end of each year and will review the execution of the operating budget for the whole year. Management will also provide sufficient explanations and information to the Board. All significant changes in the operating conditions and investment decisions will be discussed in sufficient details by the Board.

Directors will also discuss and analyse the performance of the Group, the long term business model and corporate strategies of the Company for achieving the Company’s objectives and generating or preserving value over the longer term. Please refer to the relevant section in Management’s Discussion and Analysis on pages 61 to 65 for details.

If necessary, the Directors will also engage professional independent consultants so that the Directors can gain an in-depth and comprehensive understanding and assessment of the relevant matters, in order to make well-grounded assessments.

In response to Section 404 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act promulgated by the U.S. Congress in 2002 to safeguard the interests of investors, increase the accuracy and effectiveness of financial reporting and financial information disclosure, the management has issued a statement on the responsibility and effectiveness of internal control based on financial reporting, and the auditors of the Company have also audited the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting.

The Company regularly updates investors with progress of development and performance of the Company through formal channels such as annual reports, interim reports and announcements made through the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's website and the Company's website, as well as through press releases. The Company also issues quarterly operational statistics and announces its strategy at the beginning of the year to enhance transparency about its performance and to give details of the latest development of the Company in a timely manner.

The Company provides a balanced, clear and understandable assessment in its interim and annual reports, other financial disclosures required by the Listing Rules, reports to the regulators and information disclosed under statutory requirements to enable investors to appraise its development over the period and its financial position.

The Company has also engaged independent technical consultant firms to conduct a review of its oil and gas business and discloses details of its oil and gas properties in its annual report (as set out on pages 132 to 144).

The Directors are not aware of any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt upon the Company's ability to continue as a going concern as referred to in Code Provision C.1.3 of the CG Code.

The statement by the auditor of the Company regarding its reporting responsibilities on the financial statements of the Group is set out in the Independent Auditors' Report on page 66.

C.2

Risk Management and internal controls

Principle: "The board is responsible for evaluating and determining the nature and extent of the risks it is willing to take in achieving the issuer's strategic objectives, and ensuring that the issuer establishes and maintains appropriate and effective risk management and internal control systems. The board should oversee management in the design, implementation and monitoring of the risk management and internal control systems, and management should provide a confirmation to the board on the effectiveness of these systems."

The Directors regularly, and at least annually, receive reports from the management of the Company regarding the establishment, review and evaluation of the Company's financial, operational and compliance control, internal control and risk management. All major risks are reported to the Board. The Board will also evaluate the corresponding risks and the response plan. The Company would review, among other things, adequacy of resources, staff qualifications and experience, training programmes and budget of our accounting, internal audit and financial reporting functions.

The Company's Risk Management Committee is directly managed by the Chief Executive Officer and has been authorized by the Board to be in charge with the organization and implementation of the overall risk management and internal control. The Risk Management Committee is responsible for establishing the risk management and internal control systems, implementing standardized organization, authorization, responsibilities, procedures and methods for the risk management and internal control systems. The Risk Management Committee is also responsible for ongoing monitoring of the risk management and internal control systems of the Company, and makes periodic reports to the Board regarding the status of the risk management and internal control systems of the Company. Such systems are designed to manage rather than eliminate the risk of failure to achieve business objectives, and can only provide reasonable and not absolute assurance against material misstatement or loss.

With respect to risk management, the Company has chosen and adopted the risk management framework issued by COSO in the United States of America (“COSO”), established a risk management system covering design, implementation, monitoring, assessment and continuous improvement based on the ISO 31000:2009 “Risk Management – Principles and Guidelines”. The Risk Management Committee established the overall targets and policies of the risk management system which are in line with the strategic objectives of the Company, and identified, analysed and assessed the overall risk of the Company, including the Company’s key risks in making major decisions, important events and key business processes. The Risk Management Committee is also responsible for reviewing and approving the response plans to major risks, as well as periodically following-up and reviewing the implementation of such response plans, in order to make sure that sufficient attention, monitor and responses will be paid to all key risks of the Company. The risk management reports are submitted to the Board periodically.

With respect to internal control, the Company has chosen and adopted the internal control framework issued by COSO, established an internal control system and mechanism over financial, operational and compliance controls and has conducted continuing review and evaluation of the internal control of the Company to ensure the timeliness, accuracy and completeness of all information reported.

The management has evaluated the design and operating effectiveness of its internal control regarding the financial report as of 31 December 2015, and has not discovered any material weakness as a result of the evaluation. On the basis of such evaluation, the Directors consider that as of 31 December 2015, internal control system of the Company in relation to financial reporting was effective.

Meanwhile, the Company has established a mechanism for rectifying internal control defects under which the leading officials of all units have clear responsibilities of rectifying internal control defects in their own units. Those responsibilities are also included in the internal performance indicators of the Company.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the Chairman's Statement and the Business Overview section, as well as the Group's audited financial statements and the related notes.

Development Strategy

As one of the largest independent oil and gas exploration and production companies, we mainly engage in the exploration, development, production and sales of oil and natural gas. The principal components of our strategy are as follows:

Focus on reserve and production growth

As an upstream company specializing in the exploration, development, production and sales of oil and natural gas, we consider reserve and production growth as our top priorities. We plan to increase our reserves and production through drill bits and value-driven acquisitions. We will continue to concentrate our independent exploration efforts on major operating areas, especially offshore China. In the meantime, we will continue to cooperate with our partners through production sharing contracts to lower capital requirements and exploration risks.

We increase our production primarily through the development of proved undeveloped reserves. As of 31 December 2015, approximately 55.0% of our proved reserves were classified as proved undeveloped, which provides a solid resource base for maintaining stable production in the future.

Develop natural gas business

We will continue to develop the natural gas market, and continue to explore and develop natural gas fields. In the event that we invest in businesses and geographic areas where we have limited experience and expertise, we plan to structure our investments in the form of alliances or partnerships with partners possessing the relevant experience and expertise.

Maintain a prudent financial policy

We will continue to maintain our prudent financial policy. As an essential part of our corporate culture, we continue to promote cost consciousness among both our management team and employees. Also, in our performance evaluation system, cost control has been one of the most important key performance indicators.

Aiming to reduce operating cost, we plan to actively promote the regional development of oil and gas fields and apply cutting-edge offshore engineering, drilling and production technologies to our operations. In 2015, we emphasized the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program, with efforts to control costs and increase efficiency. Operating expense per BOE lowered for the second consecutive year.

Currently, we have a healthy financial position. Under low oil price environment, we attached more importance to cash flow management and continued to balance Capex, dividend payment and debt financing.

2015 Overview

In 2015, the global economy continued to adjust, the overall recovery had been weak. The US economy rebounded moderately while the economic recovery in the eurozone was slow; and emerging countries experienced a slowdown in economic growth. For China, the economy was resilient yet under a downward pressure. In 2015, China’s GDP increased 6.9%, the first time in 25 years to achieve a GDP that falls below 7%.

During 2015, due to market concerns over global economic prospects and excess in global supply of crude oil, international oil prices remained at a low level. In 2015, WTI crude oil price averaged US$48.68 per barrel, representing a decrease of 47.7% over the previous year; brent crude oil price averaged US$53.60 per barrel, representing a decrease of 46.1% year over year.

In light of the harsh external environment, the Company intensified its “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program. While making efforts to improve cost efficiency, we also focused our efforts on developing a solid foundation for long term sustainable growth.

During the year, the Company realized a net production of 495.7 million BOE, representing an increase of 14.6% over the previous year, which was at the high-end of the annual production target. For exploration, the Company made breakthroughs domestically and overseas, consolidating our resources for sustainable development. New project construction progressed smoothly. All the seven new projects planned for 2015 have commenced production. HSE maintained a stable performance.

The Company maintained a solid financial condition in 2015. Oil and gas sales were RMB146,597 million (US$23,551.6 million, with the exchange rates applicable for 2015 at 6.2245), representing a decrease of 32.8% over the previous year. Net profit was RMB20,246 million (US$3,252.6 million), representing a decrease of 66.4% over the previous year.

As at 31 December 2015, the Company’s basic and diluted earnings per share were RMB0.45 and RMB0.45, respectively. The board of directors has recommended the payment of a final dividend of HK$0.25 per share (tax inclusive).

Looking into 2016, the global economy still lacks the momentum for recovery; international oil prices will stay at a low level and the external operating environment will remain tough. Despite this, we are confident in the Company’s future and will persevere through to further strengthen our operational strategies under a low oil price environment, and to promote the “Year of Quality and Efficiency” program in order to meet our production and operation targets.

China	323.4	269.1	54.3	20.2 %
Overseas	172.3	163.4	8.9	5.4 %

In 2015, our net production was 495.7 million BOE (including our interest in equity-accounted investees), representing an increase of 14.6% from 432.5 million BOE in 2014, benefitting from the commencement of production of new oil and gas fields in offshore China. The decrease in crude and liquids sales was primarily due to significantly lower realised oil prices in 2015, which was partially offset by the increase in sales volume.

Operating expenses

Our operating expenses decreased 9.0% to RMB28,372 million (US$4,558.1 million) in 2015 from RMB31,180 million in 2014, and the operating expenses per BOE decreased 20.9% to RMB59.4 (US$9.55) per BOE in 2015 from RMB75.1 (US$12.22) per BOE in 2014, attributable from effective cost control and large increase in production. Operating expenses per BOE offshore China decreased 18.0% to RMB49.5 (US$7.96) per BOE in 2015 from RMB60.4 (US$9.83) per BOE in 2014. Overseas operating expenses per BOE decreased 21.4% to RMB80.2 (US$12.88) per BOE in 2015 from RMB102.1 (US$16.61) per BOE in 2014.

Taxes other than income tax

Our taxes other than income tax decreased 9.1% to RMB10,770 million (US$1,730.3million) in 2015 from RMB11,842 million in 2014. The decrease was mainly due to the decrease in oil and gas revenue.

Exploration expenses

Our exploration expenses decreased 14.1% to RMB9,900 million (US$1,590.5 million) in 2015 from RMB11,525 million in 2014, among which dry hole expense decreased 16.7% to RMB4,740million (US$761.5 million) in 2015 from RMB5,686 million in 2014, due to the decrease of exploration expenditure, less high-cost wells and less wells expenses which were written off according to subsequent reserve evaluation. Meanwhile, the seismic expense decreased as compared to 2014, resulting from the continuing efforts in lowering costs and enhancing efficiency under the circumstance of decreasing exploration expenditure budget.

Depreciation, depletion and amortization

Our depreciation, depletion and amortization increased 26.0% to RMB73,439 million (US$11,798.4 million) in 2015 from RMB58,286 million in 2014. Our average depreciation, depletion and amortization per BOE, excluding the dismantlement-related depreciation, depletion and amortization, increased 11.8% to RMB146.4 (US$23.53) per BOE in 2015 from RMB130.9 (US$21.30) per BOE in 2014, primarily as a result of the increased proportion of production of new oil and gas fields and adjustment projects in offshore China and North Sea in UK in recent years, which were developed under the environment of increasing prices of raw materials and services over the past few years. Meanwhile, the commencement of production of new development wells of shale oil and gas in the U.S. further increased the amortization rate per BOE.

The dismantlement-related depreciation, depletion and amortization costs decreased 10.3 % to RMB3,545 million (US$569.5 million) in 2015 from RMB3,951 million in 2014. Our average dismantling costs per BOE decreased 22.0% to RMB7.43 (US$1.19) per BOE in 2015 from RMB RMB9.52 (US$1.55) per BOE in 2014, primarily due to the decrease of the expected value of asset retirement obligations of producing oil and gas fields, which was estimated based on current services price. Under the environment of reducing capital expenditure in upstream industry, the service price of projects constructions and drilling wells decreased.

Special Oil Gain Levy

Our Special Oil Gain (SOG) Levy decreased 99.7% to RMB59 million (US$9.5 million) in 2015 from RMB19,072 million in 2014, primarily as a result of our decreased realised oil price in offshore China and the Chinese government increased the threshold of the SOG levy to US$65 with effect from 1 January 2015.

Impairment, provision and write off

Our impairment and provision decreased 33.3% to RMB2,746 million (US$441.2million) in 2015 from RMB 4,120 million in 2014. In 2015, certain oil and gas properties located in China, North America, South America and Africa were impaired, which was reflected by the impact of near term lower price. In addition, the Company wrote off some shale oil and gas assets in North America and certain unproved properties in Canada. Approximately RMB1,400 million was included in the depreciation, depletion and amortization charge of the year, and approximately RMB461 million was included in the exploration expenses, respectively. The reason is that the leasehold contracts of these blocks were overdue, and the Company withdraw from these blocks by considering lower economy of the project and falling short of expectation of the exploration result. Please refer to Note 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statement of this annual report.

Selling and administrative expenses

Our selling and administrative expenses decreased 13.7% to RMB5,705 million (US$916.5 million) in 2015 from RMB6,613 million in 2014. Our selling and administrative expenses per BOE decreased 24.9% to RMB 11.95 (US$ 1.92) per BOE in 2015 from RMB15.93 (US$ 2.59) per BOE in 2014. Such decreases were primarily due to lower expense resulting from the Company's partial marketing business restructuring and Company's vigorous efforts in lowering costs and enhancing efficiency in this year.

Finance costs/Interest income

Our finance costs increased 28.2% to RMB6,118 million (US$982.9 million) in 2015 from RMB4,774 million in 2014, primarily due to the increased interest expense from new issuance of guaranteed notes. Our interest income decreased 18.6% to RMB873 million (US$140.3 million) in 2015 from RMB1,073 million in 2014, primarily due to the reduced deposit scale under the declining market interest rate environment.

Exchange gains, net

Our net exchange losses changed 113.6% to RMB143 million (US$23.0 million) in 2015, compared with exchange gains RMB1,049 million in 2014, primarily as a result of the increase in exchange loss as a result of RMB, GBP and CAD fluctuation against the US dollars.

Investment income

Our investment income decreased 10.7% to RMB2,398 million (US$385.3 million) in 2015 from RMB2,684 million in 2014, primarily attributable to the decline in market rate of return on investment which was caused by the continuously decline interest rates promulgated by the People's Bank of China.

Share of profits of associates/a joint venture

Our share of profits of associates/a joint venture increased 89.2% to RMB1,903 million (US$305.7 million) in 2015 from RMB1,006 million in 2014, primarily attributable to the increase in profitability of joint venture resulting from local finance and tax benefit.

Income tax expense

Our income tax credit changed 114.0% to RMB3,116 million (US$500.6 million) in 2015, compared with income tax expense of RMB22,314 million in 2014, mainly because the UK government decreased the combined income tax rate on North Sea oil and gas activities from 62% to 50% and resulted in a one-time reversal of net deferred tax liability. In addition, the lower profitability of overseas operations due to decreased oil prices resulted in a further decline in income tax expense. The effective tax rate changed to (18.2%) in 2015 from 27.0% in 2014.

Capital Resources and Liquidity

Overview

Our primary source of cash during 2015 was cash flows from operating activities. We used cash primarily to fund capital expenditure and dividends. The changes are as follows:

	2015		2014		Change
	RMB	US$	RMB	RMB	%
	million	million	million	million
Generated from operating activities	80,095	12,867.7	110,508	(30,413)	(27.5%)
Used in investing activities	(76,495)	(12,289.3)	(90,177)	13,682	(15.2%)
Used in financing activities	(6,893)	(1,107.4)	(19,486)	12,593	(64.6%)

Cash generated from operating activities

The cash inflow from operating activities decreased 27.5% to RMB80,095 million (US$12,867.7 million) in 2015 from RMB110,508 million in 2014, primarily attributable to the decrease in oil and gas sales cash inflows caused by the decline in international oil price.

Cash used in investing activities

In 2015, our capital expenditure (excluding acquisition) decreased 29.3% to RMB67,674 million (US$10,872.2 million) from 2014, because the Company reduced its capital expenditure on the basis improving quality and efficiency in response to the challenges of low oil prices. Our development expenditures in 2015 were primarily related to the capital expenditure of OML130 project, Iraq technical service contract project, deep-water Gulf of Mexico and U.S. shale oil and gas, as well as the expenses incurred for improving recovery factors of the oilfields in production. The Company had no significant acquisition during the year.

In addition, our cash used in investing activities was also attributable to the purchase of other financial assets of RMB122,030 million (US$19,604.8 million) this year. Our cash generated from investing activities was mainly from the proceeds from the sales of other financial assets in the amount of RMB104,900 million (US$16,852.8 million), and the decrease in our time deposits with maturity over three months in the amount of RMB4,825 million (US$775.2 million).

Cash used in financing activities

In 2015, the increase in net cash inflow from financing activities was mainly due to the proceeds of bank borrowings of RMB20,541 million (US$3,300.0 million) and RMB23,184 million (US$3,800.0 million) from the issuance of guaranteed notes, partially offset by the cash outflow of the distribution of dividends of RMB20,419 million (US$3,280.4 million), and the repayment of bank loans of RMB24,127 million (US$3,876.1 million).

At the end of 2015, our total interest-bearing outstanding debt was RMB164,645 million (US$26,451.1 million), compared to RMB136,563 million at the end of 2014. The increase in debt in 2015 was primarily attributable to the issuance of guaranteed notes of US$3.8 billion. Our gearing ratio, which is defined as interest-bearing debts divided by the sum of interest-bearing debts plus equity, was 29.9%, higher than that of 26.5% in 2014. The main reason for the increase was the increased scale of interest-bearing debts.

The provisions of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (Cap.622) regarding preparation of accounts and directors’ report and audits became effective, and has been adopted by the Company for the financial year ended 31 December 2015. Further, the disclosure requirements set out in the Listing Rules regarding annual accounts have been amended with reference to the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (Cap.622). Accordingly the presentation and disclosure of information in the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended 31 December 2015 have been changed to comply with these new requirements. Comparative information in respect of the financial year ended 31 December 2014 are presented or disclosed in the consolidated financial statements based on the new requirements.

Information previously required to be disclosed under the predecessor Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (Cap. 32) or Listing Rules but not under the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (Cap.622) or amended Listing Rules are not disclosed in these consolidated financial statements.

2.2 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICY AND DISCLOSURES

The IASB has issued a number of new and revised IFRSs that are first effective for the current accounting year commencing 1 January 2015 or later but available for early adoption. The equivalent new and revised HKFRSs consequently issued by the HKICPA have the same effective dates as those issued by the IASB and are in all material aspects identical to the pronouncements issued by the IASB.

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the year ended 31 December 2014, except for the first time adoption of the amendments to IFRSs/HKFRSs effective for the Group's financial year beginning on 1 January 2015 (the "Amendments") and early adoption of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) Financial Instruments. The adoption of the Amendments had no material impact on the accounting policies, the disclosures or the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements of the Group. Impact of early adoption of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) Financial Instruments is described as below.

Early adopted before mandatory effective dates

IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) – Financial Instruments

In the current year, the Group has applied IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009). The Group has chosen 1 January 2015 as its date of initial application (i.e. the date on which the Group has reassessed the classification of its financial assets in accordance with requirements of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009)). The classification is based on the facts and circumstances as at 1 January 2015. In accordance with transition provisions set out in IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009), the Group has chosen not to restate comparative information and has provided additional disclosures in accordance with IFRS/HKFRS 7 Financial Instruments – Disclosures in these consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2015, and any difference between the measurement under IAS/HKAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) as at 1 January 2015 is recognised in the opening retained earnings and other reserves at the date of initial application, if any. IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) does not apply to financial assets that have already been derecognised at date of initial application. Other than the changes in classification of certain financial assets, the changes in accounting policies had no material financial impact on the amounts recognised on the consolidated statement of financial position of the Group as at 1 January 2015.

IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) introduces new classification and measurement requirements for financial assets that are within the scope of IAS/HKAS 39. Specifically, IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) requires all financial assets to be classified and subsequently measured at either amortised cost or fair value on the basis of the Group's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets.

As required by IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009), debt instruments and hybrid contracts are subsequently measured at amortised cost only if (i) the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows and (ii) the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding (collectively referred to as the "amortised cost criteria"). If either of the two criteria is not met, the debt instruments are classified as at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL").

However, the Group may choose at initial recognition to designate a debt instrument that meets the amortised cost criteria as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch. Debt instruments that are subsequently measured at amortised cost are subject to impairment.

Investments in equity instruments are classified and measured as at FVTPL except when the equity investment is not held for trading and is designated by the Group as at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI"). If the equity investment is designated as at FVTOCI, all gains and losses are recognised in other comprehensive income and are not subsequently reclassified to profit or loss, except for dividend income that is generally recognised in profit or loss in accordance with IAS/HKAS 18 Revenue.

The directors have reviewed and reassessed the Group's existing financial assets at 1 January 2015 based on the Group's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets and concluded that the Group's financial assets, previously classified as "loans and receivables" under IAS/HKAS 39 are held within a business model whose objective is to hold these financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest. In addition, the directors concluded that the Group's investments in certain equity securities that previously classified as available-for-sale investments under IAS/HKAS 39 are not held for trading, but held for medium or long-term strategic purpose. Therefore, those investments in equity securities are designated as at FVTOCI under IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) as the directors believe that this provides a more meaningful presentation than reflecting changes in fair value in profit or loss. Other equity investments are classified as FVTPL.

The initial application of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) has affected the classification of financial assets of the Group, its joint venture/associates and the Group's other reserves and retained earnings as at 1 January 2015 as follows:

the Group's publicly traded equity investments (not held for trading) of RMB 2,958 million that were previously (i) classified as available-for-sale investments and measured at fair value at each reporting date under IAS/HKAS 39 have been designated as at FVTOCI;

(ii) the Group's non-publicly traded equity investments (not held for trading) of RMB 2,258 million previously classified as available-for-sale investments and measured at fair value at each reporting date or at cost less impairment under IAS/HKAS 39 have been designated as at FVTOCI. The carrying amounts of the investments previously measured at cost less impairment represent an appropriate estimate of their fair values as at 1 January 2015, as insufficient more recent information is available to measure their fair values;

(iii) the Group's equity investments of RMB 134 million previously classified as available-for-sale investments and measured at fair value at each reporting date under IAS/HKAS 39 have been classified as at FVTPL;

(iv) the Group's investment in liquidity funds of RMB5,453 million and corporate wealth management products of RMB48,564 million that were previously classified as available-for-sale investments and measured at fair value at each reporting date under IAS/HKAS 39 have been classified as FVTPL;

The investment in non-publicly traded investments (not held for trading) of the Group's joint venture/associates (vi) previously classified as available-for-sale investments and measured at fair value at each reporting date or at cost less impairment under IAS/HKAS 39 have been designated as at FVTOCI.

In relation to the equity investments (not held for trading), the Group has made an irrevocable election to present subsequent changes in their fair value in other comprehensive income under IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009), which will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal or impairment of the relevant investments. Under IAS/HKAS 39, when an available-for-sales equity investment is disposed of or impaired, the cumulative gain or loss is reclassified from other comprehensive income to profit or loss. Should the Group have not early adopted IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009), the Group's basic and diluted earnings per share would have been RMB0.41 yuan for the year ended 31 December 2015. There is no material impact on the basic and diluted earnings per share for the year ended 31 December 2014.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for as detailed in the accounting policies notes hereafter. These consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi (“RMB”) and all values are rounded to the nearest million except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 December 2015.

The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases. The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the parent company, using consistent accounting policies.

The results of subsidiaries are included in the Company’s statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company’s interests in subsidiaries are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

All intra-group balances, income and expenses and unrealised gains and losses and dividends resulting from intra-group transactions are eliminated in full.

Business combinations and goodwill

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred is measured at acquisition date fair value which is the sum of the acquisition date fair values of assets transferred by the Group, liabilities assumed by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. For each business combination, the Group elects whether it measures the non-controlling interests in the acquiree either at fair value or at the proportionate share of the acquiree’s identifiable net assets. All other components of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value. Acquisition related costs incurred are expensed and included in administrative expenses.

When the Group acquires a business, it assesses the financial assets and liabilities assumed for appropriate classification and designation in accordance with the contractual terms, economic circumstances and pertinent conditions as at the acquisition date. This includes the separation of embedded derivatives in host contracts by the acquiree.

If the business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date through profit or loss.

Any contingent consideration to be transferred by the acquirer is recognised at fair value at the acquisition date. Contingent consideration classified as an asset or liability is measured at subsequent reporting dates in accordance with IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) or IAS/HKAS 39, with the corresponding gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured and subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity.

Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred, the amount recognised for non-controlling interests and any fair value of the Group's previously held equity interests in the acquiree over the identifiable net assets acquired and liabilities assumed. If the sum of this consideration and other items is lower than the fair value of the net assets of the business acquired, the difference is recognised in profit or loss as a gain on bargain purchase.

After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill is tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired. For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Group are assigned to those units or groups of units.

Impairment is determined by assessing the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss on goodwill is recognised. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

Where goodwill has been allocated to a cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the operation disposed of is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on the disposal. Goodwill disposed of in these circumstances is measured based on the relative value of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are all those entities over which the Group has power over the investee such that the Group is able to direct the relevant activities, has exposure or rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to use its power over the investee to affect the amount of the investor's returns.

Associates

Based on the Group's ownership percentage (considering its direct ownership as well as potentially exercisable or convertible shares) and other contractual rights, the Group has significant influence over its associates, rather than the power to control.

The Group's investments in associates are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of associates is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and consolidated reserves, respectively. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the Group's investments in the associates, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of associates is included as part of the Group's investments in associates and is not individually tested for impairment.

Joint arrangements

Certain of the Group's activities are conducted through joint arrangements. Joint arrangements are classified as either a joint operation or joint venture, based on the rights and obligations arising from the contractual obligations between the parties to the arrangement.

Joint control

Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

Joint operations

Some arrangements have been assessed by the Group as joint operations as both parties to the contract are responsible for the assets and obligations in proportion to their respective interest, whether or not the arrangement is structured through a separate vehicle. This evaluation applies to both the Group's interests in production sharing arrangements and certain joint operation.

The Group entered into numerous production sharing arrangements or similar agreements in China and overseas countries. The Group's participating interest may vary in each arrangement. The Group, as one of the title owners under certain exploration and/or production licenses or permits, is required to bear exploration (with some exceptions in China), development and operating costs together with other co-owners based on each owner's participating interest. Once production occurs, a certain percentage of the annual production or revenue is first distributed to the local government, which, in most cases, with the nature of royalty and other taxes or expenses, and the rest of the annual production or revenue is allocated among the co-owners.

The Group accounts for the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses relating to its interest in a joint operation in accordance with the IFRSs/HKFRSs applicable to the particular assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses.

Joint venture

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the arrangement.

The Group's investments in joint ventures are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of joint ventures is included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and consolidated reserves, respectively. Where the profit sharing ratios is different to the Group's equity interest, the share of post-acquisition results of the joint ventures is determined based on the agreed profit sharing ratio. Unrealised gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Group and its joint ventures are eliminated to the extent of the Groups investments in the joint ventures, except where unrealised losses provide evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Goodwill arising from the acquisition of joint ventures is included as part of the Group's investments in joint ventures and is not individually tested for impairment.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

- (a) the party is a person or a close member of that person's family and that person
 - (i) has control or joint control of the Group;
 - (ii) has significant influence over the Group; or
- (iii) is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or of a parent of the Group;

- (b) the party is an entity where any of the following conditions applies:
- (i) the entity and the Group are members of the same group;
 - (ii) one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or of a parent, subsidiary or fellow subsidiary of the other entity);
 - (iii) the entity and the Group are joint ventures of the same third party;
 - (iv) one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity;
 - (v) the entity is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of either the Group or an entity related to the Group;
 - (vi) the entity is controlled or jointly controlled by a person identified in (a); and
 - (vii) a person identified in (a)(i) has significant influence over the entity or is a member of the key management personnel of the entity (or of a parent of the entity).

Impairment of non-financial assets other than goodwill

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required (other than inventories, deferred tax assets, financial assets and goodwill), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs of disposal, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to profit or loss in the period in which it arises in those expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of an asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, but not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such an impairment loss is credited to profit or loss in the period in which it arises.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment comprise oil and gas properties, and vehicles and office equipment and others.

(a) Oil and gas properties

For oil and gas properties, the successful efforts method of accounting is adopted. The Group capitalises the initial acquisition costs of oil and gas properties. Impairment of initial acquisition costs is recognised based on exploratory experience and management judgement and charged to profit and loss as exploration expenses. Upon discovery of commercial reserves, acquisition costs are transferred to proved properties. The costs of drilling and equipping successful exploratory wells, all development expenditures on construction, installation or completion of infrastructure facilities such as platforms, pipelines, processing plants and the drilling of development wells and the building of enhanced recovery facilities, including those renewals and betterments that extend the economic lives of the assets, and the related borrowing costs are capitalised. The costs of unsuccessful exploratory wells and all other exploration costs are expensed as incurred.

The Group carries exploratory well costs as an asset when the well has found a sufficient quantity of reserves to justify its completion as a producing well and where the Group is making sufficient progress assessing the reserves and the economic and operating viability of the project. Exploratory well costs not meeting these criteria are charged to expenses. Exploratory wells that discover potentially economic reserves in areas where major capital expenditure will be required before production would begin and when the major capital expenditure depends upon the successful completion of further exploratory work remain capitalised and are reviewed periodically for impairment.

Producing oil and gas properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production basis over the proved developed reserves. Common facilities that are built specifically to service production directly attributed to designated oil and gas properties are depreciated based on the proved developed reserves of the respective oil and gas properties on a pro-rata basis. Common facilities that are not built specifically to service identified oil and gas properties are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Costs associated with significant development projects are not depreciated until commercial production commences and the reserves related to those costs are excluded from the calculation of depreciation.

Capitalised acquisition costs of proved properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production method over the total proved reserves of the relevant oil and gas properties.

(b) Vehicles, office equipment and others

Vehicles, office equipment and others are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. The straight-line method is adopted to depreciate the cost less any estimated residual value of these assets over their expected useful lives. The useful lives of vehicles, office equipment and other assets are in line with their beneficial periods.

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a recoverable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately.

Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed and, adjusted if appropriate, at each reporting date.

Any gains and losses on disposals of property, plant and equipment (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) are recognised in profit or loss.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

The intangible assets of the Group comprise software, gas processing rights of the NWS Project, marketing transportation and storage contracts, drilling rig contracts and seismic data usage rights. Intangible assets with finite lives are carried at cost, less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. The cost of intangible assets acquired in a business combination is the fair value as at the date of acquisition. Intangible assets with finite lives except for gas processing rights, are amortised on the straight-line basis over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each financial year end.

The intangible assets regarding software have been amortised on the straight-line basis over their respective useful lives. The intangible asset regarding the gas processing rights has been amortised upon the commercial production of the liquefied natural gas on a unit-of-production basis over the total proved reserves of the relevant asset. The intangible assets regarding the marketing transportation and storage contracts and drilling rig contracts are amortised over the life of the contracts on the straight-line basis. The intangible assets related to the seismic data usage rights are amortised over the estimated useful life of the seismic data.

Major maintenance and repairs

Expenditure on major maintenance refits or repairs comprises the cost of replacement assets or parts of assets and overhaul costs. Where an asset or part of an asset that was separately depreciated and is replaced, and it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group, the replacement expenditure is capitalised. Where part of the asset was not separately considered as a component, the replacement value is used to estimate the carrying amount of the replaced assets which is immediately written off. All other maintenance costs are expensed as incurred.

Research and development costs

All research costs are expensed as incurred.

Expenditure (other than that relating to oil and gas properties discussed above) incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. Product development expenditure which does not meet these criteria is expensed when incurred.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement prior to 1 January 2015

Financial assets within the scope of IAS 39/HKAS 39 are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments, and available-for-sale financial assets, as appropriate. The Group determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition. When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value plus transaction costs, except in the case of financial assets recorded at fair value through profit or loss.

Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the marketplace (regular way purchases or sales) are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset.

The Group's financial assets include cash and bank balances, trade and other receivables, equity and debt investments, and derivative financial instruments.

The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classifications as follows:

(a) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss and financial assets classified as held-for-trading. Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss are carried in the statement of financial position at fair value with net changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss in the period. These net fair value changes do not include any dividends or interest earned on these financial assets, which are recognised in accordance with the policies set out for “Revenue recognition” below.

(b) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. After initial measurement, such assets are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any allowance for impairment. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and includes fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

(c) Held-to-maturity investments

Non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity are classified as held to maturity when the Group has the positive intention and ability to hold them to maturity. Held-to-maturity investments are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method less any allowance for impairment. Amortised cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the investments are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

(d) Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets in listed and unlisted equity investments and debt securities. Equity investments classified as available for sale are those which are neither classified as held for trading nor designated at fair value through profit or loss. Debt securities in this category are those which are intended to be held for a long period of time and which may be sold in response to needs for liquidity or in response to changes in market conditions.

After initial recognition, available-for-sale financial assets are measured at fair value, with unrealised gains or losses recognised as other comprehensive income in the available-for-sale investment revaluation reserve until the investment is derecognised, at which time the cumulative gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss, or until the investment is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative loss is reclassified from the available-for-sale investment revaluation reserve to profit or loss. Interest and dividends earned whilst holding the available-for-sale financial investments are reported as interest income and dividend income, respectively and are recognised in profit or loss in accordance with the policies set out for “Revenue recognition” below.

When the fair value of unlisted equity investments cannot be reliably measured because (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant for that investment or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value, such investments are stated at cost less any impairment losses.

Classification and subsequent measurement on and after 1 January 2015

All recognised financial assets are subsequently measured in their entirety at either amortised cost or fair value, depending on the classification of the financial assets.

(a) Financial assets at amortised cost

Debt instruments and hybrid contracts that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost less impairment loss:

• the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows;
and

• the contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition. Interest income for debt instruments measured subsequently at amortised cost is recognised in profit or loss in accordance with the policies set out for “Revenue Recognition” below.

(b) Financial assets at FVTPL

Investments in equity instruments are classified as at FVTPL, unless the Group designates such investment that is not held for trading as at FVTOCI on initial recognition.

A financial asset is held for trading if it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling it in the near term or it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

Debt instruments that do not meet the amortised cost criteria (see (a) above) are measured at FVTPL. In addition, debt instruments that meet the amortised cost criteria but are designated as at FVTPL are measured at FVTPL. A debt instrument may be designated as at FVTPL upon initial recognition if such designation eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognising the gains and losses on them on different bases. The Group has not designated any debt instrument as at FVTPL on initial application of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009) and during the year.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognised in profit or loss.

Classification and subsequent measurement on and after 1 January 2015 (continued)

(c) Financial assets at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Group can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to designate investments in equity instruments as at FVTOCI. Designation at FVTOCI is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading.

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. Subsequently, they are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the other reserves. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the investments.

The Group has designated certain investments in equity instruments (publicly traded or non-publicly traded) that are not held for trading as at FVTOCI on initial application of IFRS/HKFRS 9 (2009).

Dividends on these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established in accordance with HKAS/IAS 18 Revenue, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment.

Fair value

The fair value of financial instruments that are traded in active markets at each reporting date is determined by reference to quoted market prices or dealer price quotations, without any deduction for transaction costs.

For financial instruments not traded in an active market, the fair value is determined using appropriate valuation techniques. Such techniques may include using recent arm's length market transactions; reference to the current fair value of another instrument that is substantially the same; a discounted cash flow analysis or other valuation models.

An analysis of fair values of financial instruments and further details as to how they are measured are provided in note 34.

CNOOC LIMITED Annual Report 2015 90

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses at each reporting date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset, other than those at FVTPL and FVTOCI, or a group of financial assets may be impaired.

(a) Assets carried at amortised cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the asset is reduced either directly or through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

If, in a subsequent year, the amount of the estimated impairment loss increases or decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is increased or reduced either directly or by adjusting the allowance account. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed amortised cost at the reversal date.

In relation to trade and other receivables, a provision for impairment is made when there is objective evidence (such as the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor and significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the debtor) that the Group will not be able to collect all of the amounts due under the original terms of an invoice.

(b) Assets carried at cost

Prior to 1 January 2015, if there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has incurred on an unquoted equity instrument that is not carried at fair value because its fair value cannot be reliably measured, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Impairment losses on these assets are not reversed.

(c) Available-for-sale financial assets

Prior to 1 January 2015, if an available-for-sale asset is impaired, an amount comprising the difference between its cost (net of any principal payment and amortisation) and its current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised in profit or loss, is removed from other comprehensive income and recognised in profit or loss.

Prior to 1 January 2015, equity investments are impaired if there is a significant or prolonged decline in fair value of the investment below its cost or where other objective evidence of impairment exists. Impairment of debt instruments is assessed based on the same criteria as assets carried at amortised cost. Impairment losses on equity instruments are not reversed through profit or loss; increases in their fair value after impairments are recognised directly in equity. Impairment losses on debt instruments are reversed through profit or loss, if the increase in fair value of the instruments can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in profit or loss.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised when:

- (i) The contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset, or the Group retains the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full (ii) without material delay to a third party under a “pass-through” arrangement; and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has no control of the asset.

When the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risk and rewards of ownership of the asset. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the Group continues to recognise the transferred asset to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement. In that case, the Group also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost (including interest-bearing loans and borrowings)

Financial liabilities including trade and other payables and interest-bearing loans and borrowings are initially stated at fair value less directly attributable transaction costs and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method. The related interest expense is recognised within "Finance costs" in profit or loss.

Gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the amortisation process.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is recognised initially at its fair value including transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issue of the guarantee. Subsequent to initial recognition, the liability is measured at the higher of the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the reporting date and the amount recognised less cumulative amortisation.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged, cancelled, or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the consolidated statement of financial position, if and only if, there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Inventories and supplies

Inventories primarily consist of oil and supplies, including items for repairs and maintenance of oil and gas properties. Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Costs of inventories and supplies represent purchase or production cost of goods and are determined on a weighted average basis.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at banks and on hand and short term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less.

Provisions

General

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the reporting date of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in “Finance costs” in profit or loss.

(b) Dismantlement liability

Dismantlement liability is recognised when the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of the past events, and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made. A corresponding amount equivalent to the provision is also recognised as part of the cost of the related property, plant and equipment. The amount recognised is the estimated cost of dismantlement, discounted to its present value using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Changes in the estimated timing of dismantlement or dismantlement cost estimates are dealt with prospectively by recording an adjustment to the provision, and a corresponding adjustment to property, plant and equipment. The unwinding of the discount on the dismantlement provision is included as a finance cost.

Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, either as an expense as it relates to operating activities or as a component of the applicable categories of other comprehensive income or expense.

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantially enacted, by the reporting date, in the countries where the Group operates and generates taxable income.

Deferred tax is provided, using the balance sheet liability method, on all temporary differences at the reporting date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

• when the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss;

and

in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

As at 31 December 2015, deferred tax liabilities related to undistributed earnings of certain of the Company's subsidiaries have not been recognised, since the timing of the reversal of the taxable temporary difference can be controlled by the Company and it is probable that the temporary difference would not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carryforward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit and taxable temporary differences will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

when the deferred tax assets relating to the deductible temporary differences arise from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries, associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profit and taxable temporary differences will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and when the revenue can be measured reliably, on the following bases:

(a) Oil and gas sales

Oil and gas sales represent the invoiced value of sales of oil and gas attributable to the interests of the Group, net of royalties, obligations to governments and other mineral interest owners. Revenue from the sale of oil and gas is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred, which is when title passes to the customer. Revenue from the production of oil and gas in which the Group has a joint interest with other producers is recognised based on the Group's working interest and the terms of the relevant production sharing contracts. Differences between production sold and the Group's share of production are not significant.

Oil and gas lifted and sold by the Group above or below the Group's participating interests in the production sharing contracts results in overlifts and underlifts. The Group records these transactions in accordance with the entitlement method under which overlifts are recorded as liabilities and underlifts are recorded as assets at year-end oil prices. Settlement will be in kind or in cash when the liftings are equalised or in cash when production ceases.

The Group has entered into gas sale contracts with customers, which contain take-or-pay clauses. Under these contracts, the Group makes a long term supply commitment in return for a commitment from the buyer to pay for minimum quantities, whether or not it takes delivery. These commitments contain protective (force majeure) and adjustment provisions. If a buyer has a right to get a “make up” delivery at a later date, revenue recognition is deferred. If no such option exists according to the contract terms, revenue is recognised when the take-or-pay penalty is triggered.

(b) Marketing revenues

Marketing revenues principally represent the sales of oil and gas purchased from the foreign partners under the production sharing contracts and revenues from the trading of oil and gas through the Company’s subsidiaries. The cost of the oil and gas sold is included in “Crude oil and product purchases” in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. In addition, the Group’s marketing activities in North America involves entering into contracts to purchase and sell crude oil, natural gas and other energy commodities, and use derivative contracts, including futures, forwards, swaps and options for hedging and trading purposes (collectively derivative contracts). Any change in the fair value is also included in marketing revenue.

(c) Other income

Other income mainly represents project management fees charged to foreign partners, handling fees charged to customers and gains from disposal of oil and gas properties and is recognised when the services have been rendered or the properties have been disposed of. Reimbursement of insurance claims is recognised when the compensation becomes receivable.

(d) Dividend income

Dividend income is recognised when the Group's right to receive payment is established.

(e) Interest income

Interest income is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest method.

The Group presents taxes collected from customers in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income on a net basis.

Share-based payment transactions

Employees (including directors) of the Group receive remuneration in the form of share-based payment transactions, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments ("equity-settled transactions").

The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value at the date at which they are granted. The fair value is determined by using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, further details of which are given in note 28.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled. The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at the end of the each reporting period until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The charge or credit to profit or loss for a period represents the movement in the cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

No expense is recognised for awards that do not ultimately vest for the Group.

No equity-settled award was cancelled or modified during the years ended 31 December 2015 and 2014.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options is reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

Retirement and termination benefits

The Group participates in defined contribution plans in accordance with local laws and regulations for full-time employees in the PRC and other countries in which it operates. The Group's contributions to these defined contribution plans are charged to profit or loss in the year to which they relate.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing costs directly relating to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the respective assets. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.

Foreign currencies

These consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi ("RMB"). Each entity in the Group maintains its books and records in its own functional currency. Foreign currency transactions recorded by the entities of the Group are initially recorded using their respective exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the exchange rates ruling at the end of the reporting period. All differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are taken to profit or loss. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined. The gain or loss arising on retranslation of a non-monetary item is treated consistently with the recognition of the gain or loss on change in fair value of the item.

The functional currencies of certain entities within the Group are currencies other than RMB. As at the end of the reporting period, the assets and liabilities of these entities are translated into the presentation currency of the Group at the exchange rates ruling at the reporting date, and their statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income are translated into RMB at the weighted average exchange rates for the year. The resulting exchange differences are included in the cumulative translation reserve. On disposal of a foreign operation, the deferred cumulative amount recognised in equity relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in profit or loss.

Operating leases

Leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Where the Group is the lessee, rentals payable under operating leases are charged to profit or loss on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Prepaid land lease payments under operating leases in China are initially stated at cost and subsequently amortised on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Contingencies

A contingent liability is disclosed when the existence of an obligation will only be confirmed by future events or when the amount of the obligation cannot be measured reliably.

A contingent asset is not recognised in the financial statements, but is disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

Significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRSs and HKFRSs requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Estimates and judgements are continuously evaluated and are based on management's experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. However, actual outcomes can differ from these estimates.

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, the Directors have made the following judgements, estimates and assumptions, which have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

(a) Reserve base

Oil and gas properties are depreciated on a unit-of-production basis at a rate calculated by reference to proved reserves. Commercial reserves are determined using estimates of oil in place, recovery factors and future oil prices, the latter having an impact on the proportion of the gross reserves which are attributable to the host government under the terms of the production sharing contracts. The level of estimated commercial reserves is also a key determinant in assessing whether the carrying value of any of the Group's oil and gas properties has been impaired.

Pursuant to the oil and gas reserve estimation requirements under US Securities and Exchange Commission's rules, the Group uses the average, first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the ending date of the period covered by the consolidated financial statements to estimate its proved oil and gas reserves.

(b) Carrying value of oil and gas properties

The calculation of the unit-of-production rate for oil and gas properties amortisation could be impacted to the extent that actual production in the future is different from current forecast production based on proved reserves. This would generally result from significant changes in any of the factors or assumptions used in estimating reserves. These factors could include changes in proved reserves, the effect on proved reserves of differences between actual commodity prices and commodity price assumptions and unforeseen operational issues.

(c) Impairment indicators

The recoverable amounts of cash-generating units and individual assets have been determined based on the higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal. These calculations require the use of estimates and assumptions. It is reasonably possible that any unfavorable oil price assumption will impact the estimated life of the field and then require a material adjustment to the carrying value of tangible and intangible assets. The Group monitors internal and external indicators of impairment relating to its tangible and intangible assets.

(d) Dismantlement costs

Dismantlement costs will be incurred by the Group at the end of the operating life of certain of the Group's facilities and properties. The ultimate dismantlement costs are uncertain and cost estimates can vary in response to many factors including changes to relevant legal requirements, the emergence of new restoration techniques or experience at other production sites. The expected timing and amount of expenditure can also change, for example, in response to changes in reserves or changes in laws and regulations or their interpretation. As a result, there could be significant adjustments to the provisions established which would affect future financial results.

(e) Taxes

Uncertainties exist with respect to the interpretation of complex tax regulations (including those applicable to tax credits) and the amount and timing of future taxable income. Given the wide range of international business relationships and the long term nature and complexity of existing contractual agreements, differences arising between the actual results and the assumptions made, or future changes to such assumptions, could necessitate future adjustments to tax income and expense already recorded. The Group establishes provisions, based on best estimates, for possible consequences of audits by the tax authorities of the respective countries in which it operates. The amount of such provisions is based on various factors, such as the Group's experience of previous tax audits and differing interpretations of tax regulations by the taxable entity and the responsible tax authority. Such differences of interpretation may arise on a wide variety of issues depending on the conditions prevailing in the respective group company's domicile.

4. SEGMENT INFORMATION

Segment results

The Group is engaged worldwide in the upstream operating activities of the conventional oil and gas, shale oil and gas, oil sands and other unconventional oil and gas business. The Group reports the business through three operating and reporting segments: exploration and production (“E&P”), trading business and corporate. These segments are determined primarily because the Group’s chief operating decision maker makes key operating decisions and assesses performance of the segment separately. The Group evaluates the performance of each segment based on segment profit or loss. The geographical information is separately disclosed in (b).

The following table presents the segment financial information for the Group for the years ended 31 December 2015 and 2014.

(b) Geographical information

The Group mainly engages in the exploration, development, production and sale of crude oil, natural gas and other petroleum products in offshore China. Activities outside the PRC are mainly conducted in Canada, the United States of America, United Kingdom, Nigeria, Argentina, Indonesia, Uganda, Iraq, Brazil and Australia etc.

In presenting the Group's geographical information, revenues from external customers are based on the location of the Group's customers, and non-current assets are attributed to the segments based on the location of the Group's assets. 73% (2014: 65%) of the Group's revenues are generated from PRC customers, and revenues generated from customers in other locations are individually less than 10%.

14. PROPERTY, PLANT AND EQUIPMENT (continued)

Included in the current year's additions was an amount of approximately RMB1,385 million (2014: approximately RMB1,842 million) in respect of interest capitalised in property, plant and equipment (note 8). Included also in the depreciation charge for the year was an amount of approximately RMB 3,465 million (2014: approximately RMB3,873 million) in respect of a depreciation charge on dismantlement cost capitalised in oil and gas properties.

Impairment and provision recognised during the year included the impairment loss of approximately RMB2,358 million (2014: RMB4,114 million) to reduce the carrying amount of certain oil and gas properties to the recoverable amount. This impairment loss was mainly related to fields in China, North America and South America and Africa which was primarily due to the decline in crude oil price in near-term. The recoverable amount was calculated based on the assets value in use and was determined at the oil field(s) level.

During the current year, the Group wrote off some shale oil and gas assets in North America and unproved properties in Canada. Approximately RMB1,400 million was included in the depreciation, depletion and amortisation charge of the year, and approximately RMB461 million was included in the disposal and write-offs which was classified as exploration expenses, respectively. The reason is that the leasehold contracts of these blocks were overdue, and the Group withdraw from these blocks by considering lower economy of the project and falling short of expectation of the exploration result.

According to the 2005 Share Option Scheme, the consideration payable by a grantee for the grant of options will be HK$1.00. The exercise price for such options will be determined by the Board at its discretion at the date of grant, except that such price shall be at least the higher of:

- (1) the nominal value of a share of the Company on the date of grant;
- (2) the average closing price of the shares as stated in the HKSE’s daily quotation sheets for the five trading days immediately preceding the date of grant; and
- (3) the closing price of the shares as stated in the HKSE’s daily quotation sheet on the date of grant.

The period within which the options must be exercised, as well as any minimum holding period or performance targets which apply to the options, will be specified by the Board of the Company at the time of grant. The exercise periods for options granted under the 2005 Share Option Scheme shall end not later than 10 years from the date of grant. No options may be granted under the 2005 Share Option Scheme after the date of the 10th anniversary of the adoption of the 2005 Share Option Scheme.

No new share option was granted during the year (2014: nil) and the Group recognised an equity-settled share option expense of nil (2014: nil) during the year.

The fair value of equity-settled share options granted was estimated as at the date of grant if any, using the Black-Scholes option pricing model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted.

Details of the share options outstanding are as follows:

	Number of	Weighted average	Number of	Weighted average

The weighted average remaining contractual life of share options outstanding at the end of the year was 2.74 years (2014: 3.50 years). The exercise in full of the outstanding share options would, under the present capital structure of the Company, result in the issue of 262,592,000 additional ordinary shares of the Company and additional share capital of RMB 2,323,404,158.

RESERVES

According to the laws and regulations of the PRC and the articles of association of CNOOC China Limited, CNOOC China Limited is required to provide for certain statutory funds, namely, the general reserve fund and the staff and workers' bonus and welfare fund, which are appropriated from net profit (after making up for losses from previous years), but before dividend distribution.

CNOOC China Limited is required to allocate at least 10% of its net profit as reported in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in the PRC ("PRC GAAP") to the general reserve fund until the balance of such fund reaches 50% of its registered capital. The general reserve fund can only be used, upon approval by the relevant authority, to offset against accumulated losses or to increase capital.

Appropriation to the staff and workers' bonus and welfare fund, which is determined at the discretion of the board of directors of CNOOC China Limited, is expensed as incurred under IFRSs/HKFRSs. The staff and workers' bonus and welfare fund can only be used for special bonuses or collective welfare of employees.

As at 31 December 2015, the general reserve fund amounted to RMB10,000 million (2014: RMB10,000 million), representing 50% (2014: 50%) of the total registered capital of CNOOC China Limited.

In accordance with the "Temporary Regulation for Safety Expense Financial Management of Higher Risk Industry" and the implementation guidance issued by the MOF of the PRC, the Group is required to accrue a safety fund for its oil and gas exploration and production activities within the PRC by appropriating a portion of its net profit to other reserves based on its annual production from offshore China. Such reserve is reduced for expenses incurred to improve the safety conditions of oil and gas production. When the safety fund is fully utilised, additional expenses incurred for safety production purposes are charged directly to the profit or loss for the year. As of 31 December 2015, the Group's safety fund reserve under the PRC regulations amounted to nil (2014: nil).

COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

(iii)

Contingencies

Two oil spill accidents (the “Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents”) occurred on 4 June and 17 June 2011 respectively at Platforms B and C of Penglai 19-3 oilfield, which is being operated under a production sharing (a) contract (the “PSC”) among CNOOC China Limited, a subsidiary of the Company, and two subsidiaries of ConocoPhillips, a U.S. based oil company, among which ConocoPhillips China Inc. (the “COPC”) was the operator and responsible for the daily operations of the oilfield when the Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents occurred.

On 10 August 2015, the Company received a Notice Calling for Responses from the Qingdao Maritime Court of the People’s Republic of China for a public interest action filed by China Biodiversity Conservation and Green Development Foundation (the “Plaintiff”) in relation to the Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents (the “Claim”). The Claim is lodged against COPC and CNOOC China Limited (together, the “Defendants”). The Plaintiff requires the Defendants to: (1) restore the ecological environment in the Bohai Bay as damaged by the Penglai 19-3 Oilfield Oil Spill Accidents so that the environment will be brought back to its original condition before the accidents occurred; (2) if the Defendants fail to set up and implement a scientific plan to restore the ecological environment in the Bohai Bay within three months after a court judgment is granted in favor of the Plaintiff, establish a fund specifically for the restoration of the ecological environment in the Bohai Bay. Such fund shall be supervised by a professional public welfare foundation and the total amount of such fund shall be fixed based on the estimated costs for restoring the ecological environment in the Bohai Bay as determined by a professional institution; and (3) bear all litigation costs incurred by the Plaintiff in connection with the Claim. CNOOC China Limited has engaged PRC lawyers in relation to the Claim and is defending the Claim vigorously.

The Company is of the view that the Company’s obligations, if any, arising from the above mentioned accidents (including the Claim disclosed in the paragraph above) shall be determined in accordance with relevant laws and regulations, the PSC and related agreements, among others. Based on evaluations performed as of the date of the consolidated financial statements authorised for issuance, the Company believes that it is not possible to determine provisions, if any, for the Company’s obligation determined in the future arising from the above mentioned accidents (including the Claim disclosed in the paragraph above) in the consolidated financial statements. The financial impact of such oil spill accidents on the Company is still uncertain, and the Company has not made any provision for the accidents in the consolidated financial statements.

(b) As a Chinese Resident Enterprise, the Company may be liable to pay taxes on the deemed interest income for the funding provided to its overseas subsidiaries starting from 1 January 2008. The Company has prepared contemporaneous documentation in accordance with applicable PRC tax laws and regulations and is currently awaiting confirmation from its in-charge tax authority.

(c) On 15 July 2015, an emulsion leak from a pipeline was discovered within Nexen’s Long Lake operations, located in south of Fort McMurray, Alberta, Canada. The estimated size of the leak was 5,000 m³ over an area of approximately 21,900 m² mostly within a compacted pipeline corridor. There were no injuries as a result of this incident. The affected wells were suspended, and Nexen's emergency response plan was activated. The Company places great emphasis on operation safety and has taken measures to minimise the spill's impact on the environment and wildlife. Since the incident, the Company has been working together with relevant regulatory agencies in its conduct of clean-up and remediation work at the spill site. Nexen is cooperating with the investigation of regulatory agencies.

The majority of leaked bitumen in the spill area has been safely removed. Further remediation and clean-up work is underway and will be carried out in compliance with applicable regulatory requirements. The total financial impact of this incident on the Group is still uncertain, and the Company has not made a complete provision for the incident in the consolidated financial statements.

On 15 January 2016, an explosion occurred at Nexen's Long Lake site near the hydrocracker unit. Two employees died as a result of the incident. Nexen informed the relevant regulatory authorities immediately and has been cooperating with the authorities investigating the incident. Reasonable estimates for the financial effect cannot be determined at this stage.

The Company maintains insurance policies that provide coverage against property damage, third party pollution clean-up and well control losses. The Company has submitted claims to its insurers on these recent Long Lake losses and each claim is being investigated.

The Group is subject to tax in numerous jurisdictions around the world. There are audits in progress and items under review. Difference in positions taken by taxation authorities over the interpretation and application of tax laws and regulations may increase our tax liability. Management has assessed the possible future outcome of matters that are currently under dispute. The Company believes that an adequate provision for future tax liability has been included in the consolidated financial statements based on available information.

In addition to the matters mentioned above, the Group is dealing with a number of other lawsuits and arbitrations that arise in the ordinary course of business. While the results of these legal proceedings cannot be ascertained at this stage, the Company believes these proceedings are not expected to have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

34. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Fair value of financial instruments

The Group enters into contracts to purchase and sell crude oil, natural gas and other energy commodities, and use derivative contracts, including futures, forwards, swaps and options for hedging and trading purposes (collectively derivative contracts). The Group also use derivatives to manage foreign currency risk for non-trading purposes. The total gains or losses in profit or loss for the year attributable to the realised and unrealised gains or losses relating to total derivative financial assets and liabilities that are included in “marketing revenues” is RMB 114 million (2014: RMB1,030 million).

For purposes of estimating the fair value of the derivative contracts, wherever possible, the Group utilises quoted market price and, if not available, estimates from third-party brokers. These brokers’ estimates are corroborated with multiple sources and/or other observable market data utilising assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the assets or liabilities, including assumptions about risk and market liquidity.

The carrying values of the Group’s cash and cash equivalents, time deposits, trade receivables, other current assets, short-term loans, trade and accrued payables, other payables and accrued liabilities approximated to their fair values at the reporting date due to the short maturity of these instruments.

The carrying amount of the Group's non-current non-publicly traded equity investments represents an appropriate estimate of their fair values, as insufficient more recent information is available to measure their fair values as at 31 December 2015.

The fair value of the Group's long term bank loans with floating interest rates approximated to the carrying amount as at 31 December 2015 and 2014.

The estimated fair value of the Group's long term guaranteed notes was approximately RMB133,629 million as at 31 December 2015 (2014: RMB108,106 million), which was determined by reference to the market price as at 31 December 2015.

Fair value hierarchy

The Group uses the following hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the fair value measurement:

Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities. Active markets are those in which transaction occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an on-going basis.

Level 2: fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. Instruments in this category include non-exchange traded derivatives such as over-the-counter physical forwards and options, including those that have prices similar to quoted market prices, private equity funds and corporate wealth management products. The Group obtains information from sources of independent price publications, over-the-counter broker quotes and the fund management's quotations as at the reporting date.

Level 3: fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs), or where the observable data does not support the majority of the instruments fair value.

34. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

As at 31 December 2015 and 31 December 2014, the Group held the following financial instruments measured at fair value for each hierarchy respectively:

34. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)Fair value hierarchy (continued)

For financial assets and liabilities arising from derivative contracts, inputs may be readily observable, market-corroborated or generally unobservable. The Group utilises valuation techniques that seek to maximise the use of observable inputs and minimise the use of unobservable inputs. To value longer term transactions and transactions in less active markets for which pricing information is not generally available, unobservable inputs may be used. In these instances, internally developed methodologies are used to determine fair value, which primarily includes extrapolation of observable future prices to similar locations, similar instruments or later time periods. Key inputs are forward price of the underlying commodity, which may be observable or unobservable, discount rate and foreign exchange rates. The derivatives are classified according to the above fair value hierarchy based on the amount of observable inputs used to value the instruments. For derivatives categorised within level 3 of the fair value hierarchy, the significant unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement includes the extrapolation of future price of commodity.

No amounts have been transferred between the different levels of the fair value hierarchy for the year.

A reconciliation of changes in the fair value of the derivatives classified as Level 3 for the year ended 31 December 2015 and 2014 is provided below:

Level 3 Reconciliation of derivative financial assets and liabilities, net

	2015	2014
Fair value, beginning of year	131	115
Realised gains	156	541
Unrealised gains	6	132
Settlements	(296)	(657)
Exchange difference	3	—
Fair value, end of year	—	131

Items classified in Level 3 are generally economically hedged such that gains or losses on positions classified in Level 3 are often offset by gains or losses on positions classified in Level 1 or Level 2.

35. CONCENTRATION OF CUSTOMERS

A substantial portion of the Group's oil and gas sales to third-party customers is made to a small number of customers on credit. Details of the gross sales to these top five third party customers are as follows:

	2015	2014
China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation*	14,692	25,055
Royal Dutch Shell plc	6,917	16,724
PetroChina Company Limited*	5,502	14,048
Phillips 66 Co.	4,554	15,057
ExxonMobil Corporation	4,548	14,429

* These transactions are with other state-owned enterprises.

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group's principal financial instruments comprise bank loans, long term guaranteed notes, equity investments and other financial assets/available-for-sale financial assets, cash and short term deposits. The Group has various other financial assets and liabilities such as trade receivables, trade and accrued payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The Group is exposed to credit risk, oil and gas price risk, currency risk, interest rate risk and liquidity risk.

The Group's senior management oversees the management of these risks. The Group's senior management is supported by various departments that advise on financial risks and the appropriate financial risks governance framework for the Group. Those departments provide assurance to the Group's senior management that the Group's financial risk-taking activities are governed by appropriate policies and procedures and that financial risks are identified, measured and managed in accordance with group policies and group risk appetite.

(i) Credit risk

The carrying amounts of the Group's cash and cash equivalents, time deposits, liquidity funds investments and corporate wealth management products, trade receivables and other receivables, and other current assets except for prepayments represent the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk in relation to its financial assets.

The significant portion of the Group's trade receivables is related to the sale of oil and natural gas to third party customers. The Group performs ongoing credit evaluations of the customers' financial condition and collateral may be required from customers. The Group made an impairment allowance on doubtful receivables and actual losses have been within management's expectation.

Concentrations of credit risk are managed by customer/counterparty and by geographical region. At 31 December 2015, the Group has certain concentrations of credit risk as 7% (2014: 11%) and 10% (2014: 15%) of the Group's trade receivables were due from the Group's largest third-party customer and the five largest third-party customers, respectively.

No other financial assets carry a significant exposure to credit risk.

(ii)

Oil and gas price risk

Since the Group makes reference to international oil prices to determine its realised oil price, fluctuations in international oil price would have a significant impact on the Group's sale revenue, profit, assets value and cashflow. In addition, certain of the Group's natural gas sales contracts contain price adjustment provisions. Any changes in international oil prices, inflation rate and domestic natural gas price policies may result in changes in natural gas prices, which will affect the Group's profitability. In North America, the majority of the Group's oil and gas production is sold under short-term contracts, exposing the Group to the risk of price movements. Other energy contracts the Group enters into also expose the Group to commodity price risk between the time the Group purchases and sells contracted volumes.

CNOOC LIMITED Annual Report 2015 135

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (continued)(iii)*Currency risk

Substantially all of the Group's oil and gas sales are denominated in Renminbi and United States dollars ("US dollars"). Starting from 21 July 2005, China reformed the exchange rate regime by moving into a managed floating exchange rate regime based on market supply and demand with reference to a basket of currencies. Renminbi would no longer be pegged to the US dollars. From 1 January 2015 to 31 December 2015 (the last working day in 2015), Renminbi has depreciated by approximately 5.77% against the US dollars. At 31 December 2015, approximately 89% (2014: 79%) of the Group's cash and cash equivalents and time deposits with maturity over three months were denominated in Renminbi, and the remaining amounts were substantially denominated in US dollars and Hong Kong dollars. The Group also have exposures to currencies other than the US dollars, such as Canadian dollar and British Pounds as such exposures are considered insignificant.

Management has assessed the Group's exposure to foreign currency risk by using a sensitivity analysis on the change in foreign exchange rate of the US dollars, to which the Group is mainly exposed to as at 31 December 2015 and 2014. Based on management's assessment, a 5% change in the foreign exchange rate of the US dollars at 31 December 2015 would have impacted the profit for the year of the Group by 0.09% (2014: 0.06%) and the equity of the Group by 0.12% (2014: 0.50%). This analysis has been determined assuming that the change in foreign exchange rates had occurred at the end of the reporting period and had been applied to the foreign currency balances to which the Group has significant exposure with all other variables held constant. The analysis is performed on the same basis for 2014.

Senior management are closely monitoring the Group's net exposure to foreign currency risk. The depreciation of Renminbi against the US dollars may have the following impact on the Group. On one hand, since the benchmark oil and gas prices are usually in US dollars against Renminbi, the Group's oil and gas sales may increase due to the appreciation of the US dollars against Renminbi. On the other hand, the appreciation of the US dollars against Renminbi will also increase the Group's costs for imported equipment and materials, most of which are denominated in the US dollars.

(iv)Interest rate risk

The interest rate risk is closely monitored by the Group's senior management. As at the end of 2015, the interest rates for 84.2% of the Group's debts were fixed. Apart from borrowing for Tangguh LNG Project, all of the Group's long term debts are fixed rate. The weighted average term of the Group's debt balance outstanding was approximately 9.02 years. The fixed interest rates can reduce the volatility of finance costs under uncertain environments and the Group's exposure to changes in interest rates is not expected to be material.

(v)Liquidity risk

The Group manages its liquidity risk by regularly monitoring its liquidity requirements and its compliance with debt covenants to ensure that it maintains sufficient cash and cash equivalents, readily realisable equity investments and other financial assets/available-for-sale financial assets, and adequate time deposits to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and long term. In addition, bank facilities have been put in place for contingency purposes.

The Group's trade and accrued payables, other payables and accrued liabilities are all due for settlement within six months after the reporting date.

CNOOC LIMITED Annual Report 2015 136

36. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES (continued)(vi) Capital management

The primary objectives of the Group's capital management are to safeguard the Group's ability to continue as a going concern and to maintain healthy capital ratios in order to support its business and maximise shareholders' value.

The Group manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Group may return capital to shareholders, raise new debt or issue new shares. No changes were made in the objectives, policies or processes for managing capital during the years end 31 December 2015 and 2014.

The Group monitors capital on the basis of the debt to capital ratio, which is calculated as interest-bearing debts divided by total capital (equity attributable to owners of the parent plus interest-bearing debts).

	2015	2014
Interest-bearing debts	164,645	136,563
Equity attributable to owners of the parent	386,041	379,610
Total capital	550,686	516,173
Gearing ratio	29.9%	26.5%

37. CHARGE OF ASSETS

CNOOC NWS Private Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Group, together with the other joint venture partners and the operator of the NWS Project, signed a Deed of Cross Charge and an Extended Deed of Cross Charge whereby certain liabilities incurred or to be incurred, if any, by the Company in respect of the NWS Project are secured by its interest in the NWS Project.

38. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Except for the matter mentioned in Note 33 (c), the Group has no other significant subsequent events needed to be disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

Supplementary Information on Oil and Gas Producing Activities (Unaudited)

31 December 2015

(All amounts expressed in millions of Renminbi unless otherwise stated)

The following disclosures are included in accordance with the FASB Accounting Standard Codification 932 “Extractive Activities-Oil and Gas (the “ASC 932”).

The regional analysis presented below is on a continent basis, with separate disclosure for countries that contain 15% or more of the total proved reserve, in accordance with SEC and FASB requirements.

(a) Reserve quantity information

Crude oil and natural gas reserve estimates are determined through analysis of geological and engineering data which appear, with reasonable certainty, to be economically producible in the future from known oil and natural gas reservoirs under existing economic and operating conditions. The reserve data that we disclosed were all based on the definitions and disclosure guidelines contained in the US Securities and Exchange Commission’s final rules on “Modernization of oil and Gas Reporting” (the “SEC Final Rule”).

For the years 2015, 2014 and 2013, approximately 62%, 52% and 52%, respectively, of our total proved reserves were evaluated by us, and the remaining were evaluated by independent third parties.

We implemented rigorous internal control system that monitors the entire reserves estimation process and certain key metrics in order to ensure that the process and results of reserves estimates fully comply with the relevant SEC rules.

We established the Reserve Management Committee, or RMC, which is led by one of our Executive Vice Presidents and comprises the general managers of the relevant departments.

The RMC's main responsibilities are to:

- review our reserves policies;
- review our proved reserves and other categories of reserves; and
- select our reserves estimators and auditors.

The RMC follows certain procedures to appoint our internal reserves estimators and reserves auditors, who are required to have undergraduate degrees and at least five years and ten years of experience related to reserves estimation, respectively.

The reserves estimators and auditors are required to be members of a professional society, such as China Petroleum Society (CPS), and are required to take the professional trainings and examinations as required by the professional society and us.

The RMC delegates its daily operation to our Reserves Office, which is led by our Chief Reserve Supervisor. The Reserves Office is mainly responsible for supervising reserves estimates and auditing. It reports to the RMC periodically and is independent from operating divisions such as the exploration, development and production departments. Our Chief Reserve Supervisor has more than 30 years' experience in oil and gas industry.

The Group's net proved reserves consist of its interest in reserves, comprised of a 100% interest in its independent oil and gas properties and its participating interest in the properties covered under the production sharing contracts in the PRC, less (i) an adjustment for the Group's share of royalties payable by the Group to the PRC government and the Group's participating interest in share oil payable to the PRC government under the production sharing contracts, and less (ii) an adjustment for production allocable to foreign partners under the PRC production sharing contracts as reimbursement for exploration expenses attributable to the Group's participating interest, and plus the participating interest in the properties covered under the production sharing contracts in oversea countries, less adjustments, if any, of share oil attributable to the host government and the domestic market obligation.

Pursuant to SEC Final Rule, the Group uses the average, first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the ending date of the period covered by the consolidated financial statements to estimate its proved oil and gas reserves.

The Company determines its net entitlement oil and gas reserves under production sharing contracts using the economic interest method.

(e) Standardised measure of discounted future net cash flows and changes therein

Pursuant to FASB Topic 932, the average of first-day-of-the-month oil price during the 12-month period before the year end, were used to estimate annual future production from proved reserves to determine future cash inflows.

Future development costs are estimated based upon constant price assumptions and the assumption of the continuation of existing economic, operating and regulatory conditions. Future income taxes are calculated by applying the year-end statutory rate to estimate future pre-tax cash flows after provision for the tax cost of the oil and natural gas properties based upon existing laws and regulations. The discount was computed by the application of a 10% discount factor to the estimated future net cash flows.

Management believes that this information does not represent the fair market value of the oil and natural gas reserves or the present value of estimated cash flows since no economic value is attributed to potential reserves, the use of a 10% discount rate is arbitrary, and prices change constantly.

Present value of estimated future net cash flows:

The Company does not intend to adopt a majority voting policy at this time or for so long as CNOOC is the majority controlling shareholder, as majority approval of each such director is already assured.

In addition, the TSX requires that at each annual meeting of holders of listed securities, the board of directors of a listed issuer must permit security holders of each class or series to vote on the election of all directors to be elected by such class or series. Historically, the Company applied for and received a waiver of this requirement from the TSX on an annual basis. However, the TSX adopted an exemption from this requirement for Eligible International Interlisted Issuers in 2015. The Company qualifies as an Eligible International Interlisted Issuer. LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Hotel Hong Kong, Pacific Place, Supreme Court Road, Central, Hong Kong on 26 May 2016 at 3:30 p.m. (the “Annual General Meeting”). References in this document to “Shares” are to share(s) of all classes in the number of issued shares of the Company.

PROPOSED GENERAL MANDATES TO ISSUE SHARES AND BUY BACK SHARES

At the annual general meeting of the Company held on 21 May 2015, ordinary resolutions were passed granting general mandates to the directors of the Company (the “Directors”), inter alia, (i) to buy back Shares the aggregate number of which shall not exceed 10% of the total number of issued shares of the Company as at 21 May 2015; (ii) to issue, allot and deal with additional Shares the aggregate number of which shall not exceed 20% of the total number of issued shares of the Company as at 21 May 2015; and (iii) extend the general mandate granted to the Directors to issue, allot and deal with such number of Shares the aggregate number of which shall not exceed the aggregate number of Shares bought back, which shall not exceed 10% of the total number of issued shares of the Company as at 21 May 2015 (collectively referred to as the “Existing General Mandates”).

The Existing General Mandates will lapse at the conclusion of the Annual General Meeting. Accordingly, new general mandates to issue shares and buy back Shares, respectively, as set out as ordinary resolutions in the notice of the Annual General Meeting, are now proposed to be granted. The Directors, at the date hereof, have no immediate plans to buy back any Shares or to issue any new Shares pursuant to the relevant mandates.

In relation to the general mandate for the issuance and allotment of Shares (“Share Issue Mandate”), on 30 March 2016, being the latest practicable date before printing of this document for ascertaining certain information for the purpose of inclusion in this document (the “Latest Practicable Date”), 44,647,455,984 Shares were in issue and fully paid. Assuming that there are no changes from the Latest Practicable Date to the date of the Annual General Meeting in the Company’s issued and fully paid share capital and subject to the passing of the ordinary resolution approving the Share Issue Mandate, the maximum number of Shares that may be issued by the Company will be 8,929,491,196 Shares.

The explanatory statement, as required by The Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Listing Rules”) to be sent to the shareholders of the Company (the “Shareholders”) in connection with the proposed general mandates to issue shares and buy back Shares, is set out in Appendix I to this document. The explanatory statement contains all information reasonably necessary to enable the Shareholders to make an informed decision on whether to vote for or against the relevant resolutions at the Annual General Meeting.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

PROPOSED RE-ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Pursuant to Article 97 of the Articles of Association of the Company (the “Articles”), Mr. Li Fanrong, Mr. Lv Bo and Mr. Chiu Sung Hong will retire from office at the Annual General Meeting and, being eligible for re-election, Mr. Li Fanrong, Mr. Lv Bo and Mr. Chiu Sung Hong have been recommended by the board of directors of the Company (the “Board”) and have offered themselves for re-election.

Mr. Chiu Sung Hong (“Mr. Chiu”) who has served as an Independent Non-executive Director of the Company for over nine years, will retire from office and being eligible for re-election at the forthcoming Annual General Meeting of the Company to be held on 26 May 2016. Mr. Chiu has thorough understanding of the Company’s operations and business. As an Independent Non-executive Director, Mr. Chiu has expressed objective views and given valuable independent guidance to the Company over the years. He is currently the chairman of the remuneration committee and a member of the audit committee, and has served as the chairman of the independent board committee in connection with the connected transactions entered into by the Company and its subsidiaries. Mr. Chiu has continued to demonstrate firm commitments to his role. Mr. Chiu has never been engaged in any executive management of the Group. The Board has received from Mr. Chiu a confirmation of independence according to Rule 3.13 of the Listing Rules. Despite Mr. Chiu has served as an Independent Non-executive Director of the Company for over nine years, taking into consideration of the above and the independent natures of Mr. Chiu’s role and duties in the past years, the Board considers that the long service of Mr. Chiu would not diminish his independence and affect his exercise of independent judgment and is satisfied that Mr. Chiu has the required character, integrity, experience and independence to continue fulfilling the role of independent non-executive director. Further, given Mr. Chiu’s extensive knowledge, expertise and experience, the Board considers the re-election of Mr. Chiu as independent non-executive director is in the best interest of the Company and shareholders as a whole.

Details of such Directors required to be disclosed under the Listing Rules are set out in Appendix II to this circular.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

A notice convening the Annual General Meeting is set out on pages 145 to 150 of the annual report of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2015 and also in Appendix II to this circular.

There is no Shareholder who is materially interested in the proposed resolutions regarding the granting of general mandates to issue and buy back Shares, and therefore none of the Shareholders is required to abstain from voting in respect of such resolutions.

Pursuant to Rule 13.39(4) of the Listing Rules, at any general meeting of the Company, a resolution put to the vote of the meeting shall be taken by poll, other than resolution which relates purely to a procedural or administrative matter which may be decided by the chairman in good faith to be voted by a show of hands.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

A form of proxy for use at the Annual General Meeting is enclosed. Shareholders are requested to complete the form of proxy and return it to the registered office of the Company at 65th Floor, Bank of China Tower, 1 Garden Road, Central, Hong Kong in accordance with the instructions printed on it not less than 36 hours before the time appointed for the holding of the meeting or any adjournment thereof (as the case may be), if they do not intend to be present in person at the meeting. Completion and return of the form of proxy will not preclude Shareholders from attending and voting at the meeting or any adjournment thereof if they so wish and, in such event, the relevant form of proxy shall be deemed to be revoked.

RECOMMENDATION

The Directors believe that the granting of the general mandates to issue and buy back Shares and the re-election of the said Directors are in the best interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole, and accordingly recommend the Shareholders to vote in favour of all the relevant resolutions to be proposed at the Annual General Meeting.

Yours faithfully,

For and on behalf of the Board

APPENDIX I EXPLANATORY NOTES TO BUY BACK MANDATE

EFFECT OF THE HONG KONG CODE ON TAKEOVERS AND MERGERS

If as a result of a buy-back of Shares by the Company, a Shareholder's proportionate interest in the voting rights of the Company increases, such increase will be treated as an acquisition for the purpose of the Hong Kong Code on Takeovers and Mergers (the "Takeovers Code"). As a result, a Shareholder, or a group of Shareholders acting in concert, depending on the level of increase of its or their shareholding, could obtain or consolidate control of the Company and become obliged to make a mandatory offer in accordance with Rules 26 and 32 of the Takeovers Code.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the immediate controlling shareholder of the Company, CNOOC (BVI) Limited ("CNOOC BVI"), was recorded in the register required to be kept by the Company under section 336(1) of the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Chapter 571 of the Laws of Hong Kong) (the "SFO") as having an interest in 28,772,727,268 Shares, representing approximately 64.44% of the issued share capital of the Company as at that date. CNOOC BVI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Overseas Oil & Gas Corporation, Ltd. ("OOGC"), which is in turn a wholly-owned subsidiary of China National Offshore Oil Corporation ("CNOOC"). Accordingly, CNOOC BVI's interests are recorded as the interests of OOGC and CNOOC. OOGC also has a direct interest in five Shares. If the Share Buy-back Mandate is exercised in full, CNOOC BVI, OOGC and CNOOC will be regarded as being interested in approximately 71.60% of the reduced issued share capital of the Company. Regardless of such increase in shareholding, none of CNOOC BVI, OOGC or CNOOC would become obliged to make a mandatory offer for all securities not already owned by it or its concert parties under Rule 26 of the Takeovers Code.

PUBLIC FLOAT

The Directors do not have a present intention to exercise the Share Buy-back Mandate to such extent, causing the public float of the securities of the Company to fall below 25%.

LISTING RULES FOR SHARE BUY-BACKS

Reasons for Share Buy-backs

The Directors consider that the Share Buy-back Mandate will provide the Company with the flexibility to make such buy-backs when appropriate and beneficial to the Company and its Shareholders. Such buy-backs may, depending on the market conditions and funding arrangements at the time, lead to an enhancement of the net asset value per Share and/or earnings per Share.

Source of Funds

Buy-backs must be made from funds legally available for such purpose in accordance with the Company's Articles, the Listing Rules and applicable laws and regulations in Hong Kong. The Companies Ordinance provides that that the amount paid in connection with a buy-back may only be made from the distributable profits of the Company and/or proceeds of a new issue of Shares made for the purpose of the buy-back to the extent permissible under the Companies Ordinance.

APPENDIX I EXPLANATORY NOTES TO BUY BACK MANDATE

On the basis of the consolidated financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2015 (being the date to which the latest published audited financial statements of the Company have been made up) and in particular the working capital position and gearing ratio of the Company and the number of Shares in issue, the Directors consider that there will not be a material impact on the working capital or the gearing position of the Company in the event that the Share Buy-back Mandate were to be carried out in full at any time during the proposed buy-back period. No buy-back would be made in circumstances that would have a material adverse impact on the working capital of the Company (as compared with the position disclosed in the latest published audited financial statements) unless the Directors consider that such buy-backs were in the best interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole.

SHARE BUY-BACK MADE BY THE COMPANY

No share buy-back had been made by the Company (whether on the Stock Exchange or otherwise) during the six months immediately prior to the Latest Practicable Date.
