CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

Dear Shareholders,

The global economic upswing continued to strengthen in the first half of 2018. However, uncertainties still exist under the global economy and international oil prices remain volatile. Against this complicated environment, the Company continued to capitalize on its strengths to explore comparative advantage and develop innovative ideas in an effort to reach its potential. During the period, the Company put quality first and gave priority to performance and achieved outstanding results.

The Company continued to follow a value-driven exploration strategy in offshore China. In the first half of the year, the Company made six commercial discoveries and drilled 33 successful appraisal wells. Bozhong 19-6 was appraised and confirmed to be the largest gas field in Bohai area. It is expected to become a hundred-million-ton class gas field and to provide high-quality low-carbon energy to North China. In addition, Bozhong 29-6 was successfully appraised and is expected to become a 100-million-ton class oilfield.

Regarding our overseas operations, the Company continued to focus on strategic core areas. Three new discoveries, including Ranger, Pacora and Longtail, were made in Guyana year to date. In addition, the Liza field was successfully appraised, further enhancing the asset value and providing a solid resource base for future project development. The Company also successfully completed the integration of its overseas management structure in the first half of this year, which further enhanced the level of operation management of its overseas assets. Going forward, the Company will continue to acquire high-quality exploration blocks overseas, optimize its overseas asset portfolio and further promote global development.

At the beginning of this year, the Company set an annual production target of 470-480 million barrels of oil equivalent (BOE). Through careful cultivation, the Company maintained efficient oil and gas operations and successfully achieved its target for the first half of the year and net production amounted to 238.1 million BOE. During the period, the Company made considerable efforts to kick off the “Bohai oilfield stable production of 30 million tons for another 10 years” project, which further enhanced its oil and gas supply capability. To date, two out of the five new projects planned for 2018 have already commenced production and the remaining projects are also progressing smoothly.

During the low oil price cycle, the Company worked hard to improve its ability in cost control and sustainable development through management optimization and technological innovation. Despite international oil prices rebound and industry costs inflation, the Company maintained a competitive all-in cost of US$31.83 per BOE during the first half of the year.

In the first half of 2018, the Company continued to strengthen its refined management and maintained good profitability and sound financial position. Oil and gas sales revenue reached RMB90.31 billion, representing a year-on-year increase of 20.5%. Net profit reached RMB25.48 billion and earnings per share amounted to RMB0.57, representing a significant year-on-year increase of 56.8%. The Board of Directors has declared an interim dividend of HK$0.30 per share (tax inclusive) for the first half of 2018 by taking into account the Company's financial status.

The Company is committed to a green and low-carbon development model and has strived to enhance the supply of clean energy. After years of hard work, the Company's natural gas reserves have increased gradually with a promising development potential. In the first half of this year, natural gas production increased by 11.0% year-on-year. The successful appraisal of Bozhong 19-6, the largest gas field in Bohai, as well as the development and construction of Lingshui 17-2, the first independent deepwater gas field in offshore China, opened up a new era for the Company's natural gas business.

The Company has always regarded operational safety and environmental protection as the cornerstone for its sustainable development and upheld the principles of "Safety and Environmental Protection First, People Oriented and Focus on Equipment Integrity". The Company also adhered to the reciprocal relationship between development and protection. In practice, we strictly implemented national and industrial safety and environmental protection standards, actively participated in the battle against pollution, and focused on implementing the "Three-Year Action Plan to Enhance Environmental Protection in Bohai Oilfield". The Company continued to improve the level and capability of risk classification and management, to prevent major accidents and risks, and to ensure safety and environmental protection throughout the production process.

Looking forward to the second half of the year, the external environment is still complicated and volatile, with many uncertainties ahead. The Company will continue to maintain its confidence and make solid progress to achieve its major production and operation targets for the year. Meanwhile, we will ensure the spirit of reform and the enthusiasm of innovation, respond to the uncertainties of the environment with high-quality development, turn challenges into opportunities, and achieve an overall improvement on competitiveness and risk resistance ability.

Dear shareholders, looking ahead, CNOOC Limited will continue to work hard, bring about and strive forward in order to achieve a high-quality development and create a better future with you.

NOTES

30 JUNE 2018

(All amounts expressed in millions of Renminbi, unless otherwise stated)

1. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

The interim condensed consolidated financial statements for the six months ended 30 June 2018 have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34 Interim Financial Reporting and Hong Kong Accounting Standard 34 Interim Financial Reporting.

The interim condensed consolidated financial statements do not include all the information and disclosures required in the annual financial statements, and should be read in conjunction with the Group's annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017.

The financial information relating to the year ended 31 December 2017 that is included in this interim report as comparative information does not constitute the Company's statutory annual consolidated financial statements for that year but is derived from those consolidated financial statements. Further information relating to these statutory financial statements required to be disclosed in accordance with section 436 of the Companies Ordinance (Chapter 622 of the Laws of Hong Kong) (the "Companies Ordinance") is as follows:

The Company has delivered the consolidated financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017 to the Registrar of Companies as required by section 662(3) of, and Part 3 of Schedule 6 to, the Companies Ordinance.

The Company's auditor has reported on those consolidated financial statements. The auditor's report was unqualified; did not include a reference to any matters to which the auditor drew attention by way of emphasis without qualifying its reports; and did not contain a statement under sections 406(2), 407(2) or (3) of the Companies Ordinance.

Significant accounting policies

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the interim condensed consolidated financial statements are consistent with those followed in the preparation of the Group's annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2017 except for revenue recognition policy and assessment of impairment on financial assets under IFRS 9/HKFRS 9.

Changes in accounting policy and disclosures

(i) IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Group has applied IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 for the first time in the current period. IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 superseded IAS 18/HKAS 18 Revenue, IAS 11/HKAS 11 Construction Contracts and the related interpretations.

The Group's major sources of revenue are revenue from oil and gas sales and marketing revenues.

The Group has applied IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying this standard recognised at the date of initial application, 1 January 2018. Any difference as at the date of initial application has been recognised as an adjustment to the opening retained earnings and comparative information has not been restated. Furthermore, in accordance with the transition provisions in IFRS 15/HKFRS 15, the Group has elected to apply the standard retrospectively only to contracts that are not completed at 1 January 2018. Accordingly, certain comparative information may not be comparable as comparative information was prepared under IAS 18/HKAS 18 Revenue and the related interpretations.

1. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND ACCOUNTING POLICIES – continued

(a) Key changes in accounting policies resulting from the application of IFRS 15/HKFRS 15

IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 introduces a 5-step approach when recognising revenue:

Step 1: Identify the contract(s) with a customer

Step 2: Identify the performance obligations in the contract

Step 3: Determine the transaction price

Step 4: Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract

Step 5: Recognise revenue when (or as) the Group satisfies a performance obligation

Under IFRS 15/HKFRS 15, the Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when “control” of the goods or services underlying the particular obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards the satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if any one of the following criteria is met:

- (1) the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs;
- (2) the Group's performance creates and enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- (3) the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the associated good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with IFRS 9/HKFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group's unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

The most significant change arises from revenues relating to oil and gas sales in which the Group has an interest with joint operation partners. Oil and gas lifted and sold by the Group above or below the Group's participating interests in the production sharing contracts results in overlifts and underlifts. Since 1 January 2018, the Group ceased recording these transactions in accordance with the entitlement method. The Group recognises revenue when sales are made to customers.

(a) Key changes in accounting policies resulting from application of IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 – continued

The Group has entered into natural gas sale contracts with customers, which contain take-or-pay clauses. Under these contracts, the Group makes a long term supply commitment in return for a commitment from the customer to pay for minimum quantities, whether or not the customer takes delivery. Payments received from customers for natural gas not yet taken are recorded as contract liabilities. For contracts where the period between payment and transfer of the associated goods or services is less than one year, the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the transaction price for any significant financing component.

(b) Summary of effects arising from initial application of IFRS 15/HKFRS 15

The following table summarises the impact of transition to IFRS 15/HKFRS 15 on retained earnings as at 1 January 2018.

(ii) IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 Financial Instruments

In the current period, the Group has applied expected credit losses (“ECL”) model for financial assets in accordance with IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 Financial Instruments and the related consequential amendments to other IFRSs/HKFRSs.

The Group has applied IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 in accordance with the transition provisions set out in IFRS 9/HKFRS 9, i.e. applying the relevant requirements (other than those early adopted by the Group in previous year) retrospectively to instruments that have not been derecognised as at 1 January 2018 (the date of initial application) and not applying the requirements to instruments that have already been derecognised as at 1 January 2018. The difference between carrying amounts as at 31 December 2017 and the carrying amounts as at 1 January 2018 are recognised in the opening retained earnings, without restating comparative information.

(a) Key changes in accounting policies resulting from application of IFRS 9/HKFRS 9

Impairment under ECL model

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 (including trade receivables). The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL (“12m ECL”) represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment is done based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information.

Generally, the ECL is estimated as the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

(b) Summary of effects arising from the application of IFRS 9/HKFRS 9

The application of IFRS 9/HKFRS 9 does not have any material impact on the interim financial position or performance of the Group.

2. OIL AND GAS SALES AND MARKETING REVENUES

Oil and gas sales represent the sales of oil and gas, net of royalties, obligations to governments and other mineral interest owners. Revenue from the sale of oil and gas is recognised at a point in time when the control of ownership has been transferred, which is when title passes to the customer.

Marketing revenues principally represent the sales of oil and gas that the Group has interest with the foreign partners under the production sharing contracts and revenues from the trading of oil and gas through the Company's subsidiaries, which is recognised at a point in time when title passes to the customer. The cost of the oil and gas sold is included in "Crude oil and product purchases" in the interim condensed consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

3. SEGMENT INFORMATION

The Group is engaged worldwide in the upstream operating activities of the conventional oil and gas, shale oil and gas, oil sands and other unconventional oil and gas business. The Group reports the business through three operating and reporting segments: exploration and production ("E&P"), trading business and corporate. These segments are operating segments whose financial information is reviewed by the Group's chief operating decision maker when making decisions regarding allocating resources and assessing performance.

The following table presents revenue, profit or loss, assets and liabilities information for the Group's operating segments.

The following summarises the requirement under the above-mentioned Code Provisions and the reasons for such deviations.

Code Provision A.4.1

Under Code Provision A.4.1, non-executive directors should be appointed for a specific term and be subject to re-election.

REVISED CAP OF CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTION WITH CNOOC FINANCE

Reference is made to the announcement of the Company dated 1 December 2016 regarding the financial services framework agreement dated 1 December 2016 between the Company and CNOOC Finance with effect from 1 January 2017. The Directors expect that the Existing Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement for its remaining term of such agreement will not fully satisfy the demands of business and therefore propose the Revised Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement of RMB23.5 billion for the period from 23 August 2018 to 31 December 2019.

As the applicable percentage ratios (as defined in the Listing Rules) in respect of the Revised Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement is less than 5% but more than 0.1%, the depository services under the Framework Agreement will be subject to the annual reporting, annual review and announcement requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules, but exempted from the Independent Shareholders' approval requirement.

This announcement is made pursuant to Rule 14A.54 of the Listing Rules.

Reference is made to the announcement of the Company dated 1 December 2016 regarding the financial services framework agreement dated 1 December 2016 between the Company and CNOOC Finance with effect from 1 January 2017.

Historical figures and the Existing Cap

The Existing Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement is RMB19.5 billion and a breakdown of its approximate historical transaction figures is as follows:

	For the year ended 31 December 2017	For the seven months ended 31 July 2018
Maximum daily outstanding balance of deposits (including accrued interest) (excluding funds placed for the purpose of extending entrustment loans pursuant to the entrustment loan services) placed by the Group with CNOOC Finance	RMB 19,499,999,833.61	RMB 19,499,999,234.61

Revised Cap and the reasons for raising the Existing Cap

While the Existing Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement has not been exceeded as at the date of this announcement, in view of the increase in demand for settlement of transactions with members of CNOOC Group and third parties (including those receivables arising from the sales of crude oil and natural gas of the Group to CNOOC Group and third parties, and payables by the Group to CNOOC Group and third parties for the provision of different types of services to the Group), due to the increase in oil prices, the Directors expect that the Existing Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement for the remaining term of such agreement will not fully satisfy the demands of business and therefore propose a Revised Cap for the depository services under the Framework Agreement of RMB23.5 billion for the period from 23 August 2018 to 31 December 2019.

The Revised Cap was calculated on the basis of several factors including (i) the requirements for settlement of transactions with members of CNOOC Group or any third party (including those receivables arising from the sales of crude oil and natural gas of the Group to CNOOC Group and any third party and payables by the Group to CNOOC Group or any third party for the provision of different types of services to the Group); (ii) the expected amount of interest income from CNOOC Finance compared with interest income that could otherwise be realized by placing deposits with independent commercial banks; (iii) the control of financial risks in selecting financial services providers; (iv) the strategies of the treasury management of the Group taking into account business development plans and the financial needs of the Group; and (v) the historical transaction figures for the depository services. Both the historical transaction figures and the Revised Cap refer to the maximum daily outstanding balances of the deposits during the period from 1 January 2017 to 22 August 2018 and from 23 August 2018 to 31 December 2019, respectively, and are not cumulative in nature.

All terms and conditions of the Framework Agreement shall remain unchanged and effective.

Benefits of the Revision of Caps for Depositary Services

CNOOC Finance is familiar with the business and transaction pattern of the Group and the CNOOC Group, the settlement services provided by CNOOC Finance provides a more efficient settlement platform than those that could be provided by commercial banks. The settlement services enable the Group to achieve same-day zero-rate settlement at no cost. As aforementioned, the increase in oil prices caused an increase in demand for settlement of transactions with members of CNOOC Group and third parties and also enabled further business growth of the Group, which in turn have increased the Group's need to place more deposits with CNOOC Finance so as to facilitate the necessary settlement between members of the Group and members of the CNOOC Group or other third parties. The Group also expects to enjoy the same or higher amount of interest income by placing deposits with CNOOC Finance instead of independent commercial banks, since the interest rates on deposits offered by CNOOC Finance must be agreed by both parties and determined in accordance with the relevant unified standard deposit interest rates as promulgated by the PBOC from time to time and may be subject to upward adjustment of up to 40% of such PBOC standard deposit interest rates subject to the requirements of the PRC laws and regulations and with reference to the deposit interest rates offered by commercial banks for deposit of the same nature and maturity. The Group as CNOOC Finance's shareholder can also enjoy the corresponding returns.

In light of the aforesaid, the Board (including the independent non-executive Directors) considers that the Revised Cap is fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and its shareholders as a whole.

assigned to the commercial banks in China and CNOOC Finance is the only domestic finance company with this rating.

Implications under the Listing Rules

As CNOOC Finance is a subsidiary of CNOOC, which is the controlling shareholder of, and currently indirectly holds approximately 64.44% of the total issued shares of the Company, and is therefore a connected person of the Company pursuant to Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules. Accordingly, the services to be provided by CNOOC Finance pursuant to the Framework Agreement constitute continuing connected transactions of the Company.

As the applicable percentage ratios (as defined in the Listing Rules) in respect of the Revised Cap for the depositary services under the Framework Agreement is less than 5% but more than 0.1%, the depositary services under the Framework Agreement will be subject to the annual reporting, annual review and announcement requirements under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules, but exempted from the Independent Shareholders' approval requirement.

None of the Directors has any material interest in the transactions contemplated under the Framework Agreement. Nevertheless, from the perspective of good corporate governance, Mr. Yang Hua, Mr. Wang Dongjin, Mr. Yuan Guanyu and Mr. Xu Keqiang abstained from voting on the board resolutions approving the Revised Cap due to their positions at CNOOC.
