In light of press reports on the proposed settlement of Enron-related claims against Andersen Worldwide and the non-U.S. Arthur Andersen firms, Accenture confirms its understanding that, under the terms of the proposed settlement with the plaintiffs in the Houston class actions on behalf of shareholders and employees of Enron, Accenture will be released from all claims that were brought, or might have been brought, by these plaintiff groups once the settlement is finally approved by the court. As described under "Legal Proceedings" in Accenture's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended May 31, 2002,

Edgar Filing: ACCENTURE LTD - Form 8-K

Accenture had previously signed agreements with the lead class-action plaintiffs extending any deadlines by which it had to be added as a party to such lawsuits. Accenture signed those agreements to give the company time to inform the plaintiffs that adding Accenture as a defendant would be misdirected and without merit.

Accenture also confirmed that it is making no contribution to the settlement.

The proposed class-action settlement is subject to customary contingencies, such as the negotiation of a definitive agreement and final approval by the federal court in Houston, Texas. This process is expected to take several months.
