NOTE 1 NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. (ITS or the Company), a Delaware Corporation with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio, is a provider of value-add electronic payment services. ITS clients are concentrated in the utilities and receivables management industries with emerging applications in the financial services and insurance markets. Prior to August 9, 2007, ITS operated as a parent company which included the operations of ITS and a wholly-owned subsidiary, Relationship Management LLC (d/b/a QuanComm) which provided comprehensive business management application software, systems and associated services to the health and fitness club chain industry. The financial position and results of operations were previously reported based on the consolidated financial position and results of operations of the entities.

On August 9, 2007 all of the stock of QuanComm was distributed to the stockholders of the parent company and on August 10, 2007, the remaining operations of ITS were acquired by Online Resources Corporation (Online) through the purchase of essentially all of the net non-inter-company assets of the ITS operation. (see Note 8).

Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation: The accompanying financial statements present the historic financial position, results of operations and cash flows of the operations acquired by Online in the August 10, 2007 acquisition. The activities of QuanComm have not been included in these financial statements of ITS because they are not considered relevant to operations that were acquired by Online as described.

The Company, had historically funded the working capital requirements and operating activities of QuanComm. Changes in the Company's investment in and advances to QuanComm have been reflected in the accompanying carved-out financial statements as in-kind distributions to stockholders. The balance due from QuanComm was $5,622,765 and $3,863,797 at June 30, 2007 and December 31, 2006, respectively. These amounts have not been included in these financial statements because they were not assets purchased by Online. The Company did not charge QuanComm interest on amounts advanced to fund working capital requirements.

Cash: The Company maintains deposit accounts in U.S. domestic financial institutions. Each institution provides FDIC coverage of $100,000 per depositor. Cash balances in excess of FDIC coverage were $9,218,767 at June 30, 2007 and $8,817,737 at June 30, 2006. Cash balances are comprised of both operating funds as well as in-transit customer payment transactions. Cash balances related to in-transit payments to be remitted to customers related to collections made on their behalf were $9,370,246 at June 30, 2007 and $7,554,060 at June 30, 2006. In-transit payments to be made to customers are also included in accounts payable at June 30, 2007 and 2006.

NOTE 2 STOCK OPTION PLAN

Effective July 23, 2002, the Company adopted the Stock Option Plan of Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. (the Plan). This Plan was most recently amended on January 1, 2006. The Plan has reserved 4,000,000 shares of the Company's Class A common stock for issuance. Options granted under the Plan vest from zero to four years from the date of grant. All stock options issued under the Plan have a ten-year contractual term.

A summary of activity related to the Company's stock options for the six months ended June 30, 2007 is as follows:

	Number of Options	Average Exercise Price
Outstanding at December 31, 2006	1,135,976	$ 0.71

Additional information about stock options outstanding at June 30, 2007 is as follows:

Range of Exercise Price	Number Outstanding	Weighted-Average Remaining Contractual Life	Weighted-Average Exercise Price
$0.50 - $0.75	3,273,716	8 years	$0.73

At June 30, 2007, the Company had 1,945,510 options exercisable at a weighted-average exercise price of $0.71. Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 123R. Upon adoption, the Company followed the prospective method whereby compensation cost is recognized beginning with the effective date based on the requirements of SFAS No. 123R for all share-based payments granted after the effective date.

As required by SFAS No. 123R, the Company estimates the expected forfeiture rate (assumed to be zero due to the limited number of participants in the Plan) and recognizes compensation expense only for those equity awards expected to vest. The Company estimates the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes valuation model. This valuation model takes into account the exercise price of the award, as well as certain assumptions. The assumptions used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted on January 1, 2007 are as follows:

Risk-free interest rate	4.35%
Dividend yield rate	nil
Expected stock volatility	65%
Expected option life	6.25 years

Based on the above assumptions and a grant date fair value of $0.75 per share, the fair value of stock options granted on January 1, 2007 was $136,287. During the six months ended June 30, 2007, the Company recorded employee stock compensation expense of $48,163 relating to these option grants.

NOTE 3 RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company's stockholders are also stockholders in certain affiliated entities. The Company has entered into contractual arrangements with these entities for them to provide certain technology development and support services to the Company. During the six months ended June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company recorded expenses related to these affiliated entities as follows:

	2007	2006
Current	$418,799	$133,866

The Company also subleases a portion of its operating facility to an affiliated entity. During the six months ended June 30, 2007 and 2006, the Company recognized rent income from this affiliated entity of $13,800 and $6,400 respectively, which is included in other income on the statements of operations.

At June 30, 2007, accounts payable to affiliated entities of approximately $26,897 is included in accounts payable on the balance sheets.

The Company has notes receivable from certain stockholders totaling $1,312,055 at June 30, 2007.

The Company subleases a portion of its operating facility to QuanComm. The sublease agreement terminates March 31, 2009. In addition to the sublease payments of $3,135 per month, the Company provides certain ancillary services for $1,115 including accounting services, telephone and security pursuant to the sublease agreement.

NOTE 4 SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On August 10, 2007, pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger dated July 26, 2007, as amended, Online Resources Corporation (the Corporation), completed its acquisition of the Company through its merger into the Corporation's wholly-owned subsidiary, ITS Acquisition Sub, LLC. The purchase price for such acquisition was approximately $45 million. The Corporation agreed to issue 2,216,652 shares of its common stock to the stockholders and preferred equity rights holder of ITS in partial payment of this purchase price. These shares have been valued at $24.7 million. The balance of the purchase price, approximately $20.3 million, is payable in cash of which $3.6 million has been escrowed to cover claims in favor of the Corporation for indemnification and working capital deficits.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Board of Directors

Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc.

Columbus, Ohio

We have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the related statements of income, stockholders' equity and cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2006. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. as of December 31, 2006 and 2005, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for each of the years in the three-year period ended December 31, 2006 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

As discussed in Notes 2 and 3 to the financial statements, in 2006 the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 R, "Share-Based Payment", and changed its method of accounting for stock-based compensation.

As discussed in Note 8 to the financial statements, effective August 10, 2007, the business operations of Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. were acquired by Online Resources Corporation. As further described in Notes 1 and 2, these financial statements represent the financial position, results of operations and cash flows for the operations acquired in that transaction. Previously, these operations were included as part of a larger reporting entity.

As further discussed in Note 3, stock compensation costs included in these financial statements have been determined based on fair values of stock options determined as of the option grant dates and such fair value determinations were based on the larger reporting entity as it existed as of the grant dates.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Years Ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004

NOTE 1 NATURE OF OPERATIONS

Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. (ITS or the Company), is headquartered in Columbus, Ohio, and is a provider of value-add electronic payment services. ITS clients are concentrated in the utilities and receivables management industries with emerging applications in the financial services and insurance markets.

Prior to August 9, 2007, ITS operated as a parent company which included the operations of ITS and a wholly-owned subsidiary, Relationship Management LLC (d/b/a QuanComm) which provided comprehensive business management application software, systems and associated services to the health and fitness club chain industry. The financial position and results of operations were previously reported based on the consolidated financial position and results of operations of the entities.

On August 9, 2007 all of the stock of QuanComm was distributed to the stockholders of the parent company and on August 10, 2007, the remaining operations of ITS were acquired by Online Resources Corporation (Online) through the purchase of essentially all of the net non-inter-company assets of the ITS operation (see Note 8).

NOTE 2 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation: The accompanying financial statements present the historic financial position, results of operations and cash flows of the operations acquired by Online in the August 10, 2007 acquisition. The activities of QuanComm have not been included in these financial statements of ITS because they are not considered relevant to operations that were acquired by Online as described in note 1.

The Company had historically funded the working capital requirements and operating activities of QuanComm. Changes in the Company s investment in and advances to QuanComm have been reflected in the accompanying carved-out financial statements as in-kind distributions to stockholders . The balance due from QuanComm was $3,863,797 and $1,619,068 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively. These amounts have not been included in these financial statements because they were not assets purchased by Online. The Company did not charge QuanComm interest on amounts advanced to fund working capital requirements.

Revenue Recognition: The Company recognizes and earns revenues from payment processing services as cash is received and transactions are processed.

Accounts Receivable: The Company accounts for trade receivables based on amounts billed to customers. Past due receivables are determined based on contractual terms.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts: Management establishes an allowance for losses on its accounts based on specific customer situations, historic loss experience and current economic conditions. Losses are written off to the allowance when management deems further collection efforts will not produce additional recoveries. Management determined that no allowance was necessary at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

Cash: The Company maintains deposit accounts in U.S. domestic financial institutions. Each institution provides FDIC coverage of $100,000 per depositor. Cash balances in excess of FDIC coverage were $7,647,209 at December 31, 2006 and $7,507,642 at December 31, 2005. Cash balances are comprised of both operating funds as well as in-transit customer payment transactions. Cash balances related to in-transit payments to be remitted to customers related to collections made on their behalf were $6,585,958 at December 31, 2006 and $5,956,330 at December 31, 2005. In-transit payments to be made to customers are also included in accounts payable at December 31, 2006 and 2005.

Property and Equipment: Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed over the estimated useful lives of the assets using the straight-line method. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of the lease term or the estimated useful life of the improvement.

Major renewals and betterments are capitalized. Maintenance, repairs and minor renewals are expensed as incurred. When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, the related cost and accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and any resulting gain or loss is recorded. Property and equipment as of December 31, 2006 and 2005 consists of the following:

	2006	2005
Furniture and fixtures	$ 82,747	$ 42,644
Leasehold improvements	79,327
Computer and office equipment	773,192	292,088
Software	498,750	186,264
Website and processing systems	258,999	258,999
	1,693,015	779,995
Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	692,912	523,441
	$ 1,000,103	$ 256,554

Software Purchased: Software and software development services have been purchased from third parties for external use. Once placed in service, these costs are amortized on a straight line basis over the estimated useful life of the software product.

Website Development Costs: The Company recognizes website development and processing systems costs in accordance with SOP 98-1, Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software Developed or Obtained for Internal Use. As such, the Company expenses all costs incurred that relate to the planning and post implementation phases of development. Costs incurred in the development phase are capitalized and recognized over the product's estimated useful life, as the product is expected to have a useful life beyond one year. Costs associated with the repair or maintenance of the existing site or systems, or the development of website content, are expensed when incurred. Accumulated amortization of website and processing systems costs was approximately $256,000 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Patents: Certain costs to acquire patents, consisting of costs paid to third party vendors and legal costs, are capitalized by the Company. Amortization begins when qualified expenditures are incurred using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. Accumulated amortization related to patents and other related costs was $22,461 and $16,878 at December 31, 2006 and 2005, respectively.

Estimated aggregate annual amortization expense for patents is as follows:

Fiscal
2007	$5,355
2008	2,894
2009	2,281
2010	911

Stock-Based Compensation: Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment (SFAS No. 123R). SFAS No. 123R requires all companies to record compensation expense for stock options provided to employees in return for employee service. The cost is measured at the fair value of the options when granted, and the cost is expensed over the employee service period, which is normally the vesting period of the options. SFAS No. 123R applies prospectively to awards granted or modified after the beginning of the first annual reporting period that begins on or after December 15, 2005.

Prior to January 1, 2006, the Company accounted for stock-based compensation in accordance with SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation and SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation-Transition and Disclosure.

Advertising Costs: The Company expenses advertising costs as incurred. Advertising expense for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 was $125,035, $99,386 and $52,672, respectively.

Income Taxes: The Company accounts for income taxes in accordance with SFAS No. 109, Accounting for Income Taxes, which requires the Company to record income tax expense on the liability method. The Company was part of a reporting entity which included the Company and the operations of QuanComm for purposes of filing federal and state income taxes. These financial statements include tax provisions and deferred tax assets and liabilities determined as if the Company were a separate taxpayer.

Use of Estimates in the Preparation of Financial Statements: The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the financial statement date and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the reporting period. Actual amounts could differ from those estimates.

New Accounting Standard: In June 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Interpretation No. 48 Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes (FIN 48). The primary objectives of FIN 48 are to provide guidance and to clarify the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in an enterprises financial statement in accordance with SFAS No. 109. FIN 48 will require the Company to evaluate tax positions taken and evaluate whether it is more-likely-than-not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination, including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes, based on the technical merits of the position. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold, the Company will presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured to determine the amount of benefit to recognize in the financial statements. The tax position is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. FIN 48 also provides guidance on de-recognition, classification, interest and penalties, accounting in interim periods, disclosure, and transition. The Company is required to adopt FIN 48 effective January 1, 2007. The Company is evaluating the impact that the adoption of FIN 48 will have on its financial position, results of operations and cash flows.

NOTE 3 STOCK OPTION PLAN

Effective July 23, 2002, the Company adopted the Stock Option Plan of Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. (the Plan). This Plan was most recently amended on January 1, 2006. The Plan has reserved 4,000,000 shares of the Company's Class A common stock for issuance. Options granted under the Plan vest from zero to four years from the date of grant. All stock options issued under the Plan have a ten-year contractual term.

A summary of activity related to the Company's stock options for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 is as follows:

	Number of Options	Average Exercise Price
Outstanding at January 1, 2004	939,054	$ 0.61
Granted	571,554	0.75
Outstanding at December 31, 2004	1,510,608	0.67
Granted	848,054	0.75
Outstanding at December 31, 2005	2,358,662	0.70

At December 31, 2006, the Company had 496,054 options exercisable at a weighted-average exercise price of $0.65. Effective January 1, 2006, the Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 123R. Upon adoption, the Company followed the prospective method whereby compensation cost is recognized beginning with the effective date based on the requirements of SFAS No. 123R for all share-based payments granted after the effective date.

Prior to January 1, 2006, the Company accounted for its stock options in accordance with SFAS No. 123. Under the provisions of SFAS No. 123, the Company valued stock options issued based upon use of the Black Scholes valuation model using the minimum value method and recognized this value as stock compensation expense over the period in which the options vest. Compensation expense was offset by a credit to additional paid-in capital. During the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, the Company recorded compensation expense of $42,289, $49,538 and $28,418, respectively, relating to those options granted prior to January 1, 2006 and the adoption of SFAS No. 123R. As required by SFAS No. 123R, the Company estimates the expected forfeiture rate (assumed to be zero due to the limited number of participants in the Plan) and recognizes compensation expense only for those equity awards expected to vest. The Company estimates the fair value of stock options using the Black-Scholes valuation model. This valuation model takes into account the exercise price of the award, as well as certain assumptions. The assumptions used to estimate the fair value of the stock options granted on January 1, 2006 are as follows:

Risk-free interest rate	4.32% to 4.35%
Dividend yield rate
Expected stock volatility	60% to 65%
Expected option life	5.00 to 6.25 years

The following table summarizes the key assumptions which were used to determine the fair value of the Company's options granted during 2005 and 2004:

Risk-free interest rate	5.50%
Dividend yield rate
Expected stock volatility
Expected option life	4 years

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Based on the above assumptions and a grant date fair value of $0.87 per share, the fair value of stock options granted on January 1, 2006 was $342,058. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company recorded employee stock compensation expense of $248,675 relating to these option grants.

At the time of the respective grants, fair values were determined on a consolidated basis, including QuanComm which had reported significant losses and was in a deficit equity position. If fair value had been determined for the Company on a carved-out basis, the valuation of the options and the related compensation expense might have been significantly different had the same number of options been granted.

During 2004, 2005 and 2006, certain QuanComm employees were granted ITS stock options, resulting in aggregate compensation expense of $125,000. The Company determined these amounts were not significant to any of the respective years and accordingly did not allocate any of these expenses to QuanComm during 2004, 2005 or 2006. During 2006, the Company amended certain Plan participant agreements to amend the vesting period of options granted prior to December 31, 2005. As a result, during the year ended December 31, 2006 the Company recorded employee stock compensation expense of $188,915 reflecting the previously unrecognized compensation expense of these options.

On March 31, 2006, 1,852,740 options granted at various dates between July 23, 2002 and January 1, 2006 were exercised by Plan participants at a weighted average exercise price of $0.71, or $1,312,055.

Simultaneously, on March 31, 2006, the Company adopted the Internet Transaction Solutions, Inc. Executive Loan Program (the Loan Program). The Loan Program allows certain executives and board members to individually borrow up to $600,000 for such purposes specifically approved by the Company's Board of Directors. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company issued notes receivable to eight executives and/or board members totaling $1,312,055 used for the exercise of stock options. Notes issued under the Loan Program mature on December 31, 2008 and are collateralized by the common stock held by the executive or board member. Notes issued under the Loan Program bear interest at 5.00% per annum, payable upon maturity. These stockholder notes receivable were reclassified to a contra-equity account in the financial statements at December 31, 2006. These notes were netted against the proceeds from the sale of ITS to Online on August 10, 2007 (see Note 8).

Subsequent to December 31, 2006, the Company granted an additional 285,000 stock options at $0.75 per share.

NOTE 4 LEASES

The Company leases its operating facilities under operating leases that expire on November 30, 2010 (with five one year renewal options) and February 14, 2017. Future minimum lease options are as follows (assuming renewal options are exercised):

Fiscal
2007	$ 192,106
2008	304,606
2009	304,606
2010	304,606
2011	304,606
Thereafter	1,333,509
	$ 2,744,039

Total rent expense was approximately $157,000, $80,000 and $43,000 during the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

In February 2007, the Company's main operating facility was sold to an entity partially owned by one of the Company's stockholders. The Company now leases this facility from this affiliated entity.

NOTE 5 RETIREMENT PLANS

The Company has a 401(k) retirement plan that covers substantially all employees with at least one year of service. The Company may contribute to this plan based on the employee's compensation. The total expense related to this plan was approximately $115,100, $73,600 and $41,700 for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

On January 1, 2004, the Company adopted the ITS Profit Sharing Plan (the Profit Sharing Plan). The Profit Sharing Plan covers substantially all employees with at least one year of service. The purpose of the Profit Sharing Plan is to enable eligible employees to share in the benefits of the Company's discretionary contributions. During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company did not make a discretionary contribution to the Profit Sharing Plan. Total expense related to the Profit Sharing Plan was $100,000 and $104,000 for the years ended December 31, 2005 and 2004, respectively.

NOTE 6 INCOME TAXES

The provision for income taxes for the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004 consists of the following:

	2006	2005	2004
Federal income taxes
Current	$ 782,000	$ 936,000	$ 559,000
Deferred	44,000	(28,000)	17,000
	826,000	908,000	576,000
State and local income taxes
Current	9,000	18,000	15,000
	9,000	18,000	15,000
Total provision for income taxes	$ 835,000	$ 926,000	$ 591,000

Significant components of deferred income taxes are as follows:

	2006	2005
Deferred tax asset
Tax benefit of stock options	$ 38,000	$ 37,000
Deferred tax liability
Depreciation of property and equipment	(109,000)	(64,000)
	$ (71,000)	$ (27,000)

As further described in Note 2, the allocation of consolidated income taxes to the Company is determined as if the Company prepared separate tax returns.

The difference between a theoretical income tax provision and the Company's reported income tax provision is largely the result of state income taxes.

NOTE 7 RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company's stockholders are also stockholders in certain affiliated entities. The Company has entered into contractual arrangements with these entities for them to provide certain technology development and support services to the Company. During the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005 and 2004, the Company recorded expenses related to these affiliated entities as follows:

	2006	2005	2004
	$450,833	$229,646	$51,670

The Company also subleases a portion of its operating facility to an affiliated entity. During the years ended December 31, 2006, 2005, and 2004, the Company recognized rent income from this affiliated entity of $14,550, $12,000, and $10,000 respectively, which is included in other income on the statements of operations.

At December 31, 2006, accounts payable to affiliated entities of approximately $63,000 is included in accounts payable on the balance sheets.

As more fully described in Note 3 to the financial statements, the Company has notes receivable from certain stockholders totaling $1,312,055 at December 31, 2006.

The Company subleases a portion of its operating facility to QuanComm. The sublease agreement terminates March 31, 2009. In addition to the sublease payments of $3,135 per month, the Company provides certain ancillary services for $1,115 per month as an allocation of accounting services, telephone and security pursuant to the sublease agreement. Management believes the method of allocations used in the above charges relating to sublease payments and allocated ancillary services is reasonable but would not necessarily represent those costs charged by non-affiliated companies or incurred for similar functions on a stand-alone basis. With the exception of the lease agreement discussed above, there are no contractual relationships between the Company and QuanComm.

NOTE 8 EQUITY RIGHTS

On October 25, 2000, The Board of Directors granted Equity Rights to New Ridge LLC, an entity controlled by Kent D. Stuckey, the Company's CEO. This grant gave New Ridge LLC rights to 10% of the fully diluted shares of the Company.

NOTE 9 SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On August 10, 2007, pursuant to the terms of an Agreement and Plan of Merger dated July 26, 2007, as amended, Online Resources Corporation (the Corporation), completed its acquisition of the Company through its merger into the Corporation's wholly-owned subsidiary, ITS Acquisition Sub, LLC. The purchase price for such acquisition was approximately $45 million. The Corporation agreed to issue 2,216,652 shares of its common stock to the stockholders and preferred equity rights holder of ITS in partial payment of the purchase price. These shares have been valued at $24.7 million. The balance of the purchase price, approximately $20.3 million, is payable in cash of which $3.6 million has been escrowed to cover claims in favor of the Corporation for indemnification and working capital deficits.
