Bruce Churchill to Leave STAR for Executive Role in Hughes Transition Team

NEW YORK, NY, May 29, 2003 - News Corporation today announced that Bruce Churchill, President and Chief Operating Officer of STAR Group Limited, will leave STAR to join the team of executives overseeing News Corporation's 34 percent acquisition and future operation of Hughes Electronics. As a member of the Hughes transition team - and, subsequent to the completion of the acquisition, in a senior executive capacity - Mr. Churchill will be responsible for a variety of initiatives, including the creation and implementation of a long-term business plan for the Company's Latin American operations.

News Corporation's acquisition of the 34 percent stake in Hughes is expected to be finalized by the close of the current calendar year or the first quarter of 2004.

Mr. Churchill has served as Chief Operating Officer of STAR, News Corporation's pan-Asian satellite television service, since May 2000.

Commenting on the announcement, Chase Carey, a Director of News Corporation and the future President and Chief Executive Officer of Hughes, said: "Bruce has played an extremely valuable role for News Corporation - not only in his hands-on capacity in Asia but as an advisor on the Company's pay-television operations worldwide. Over the past seven years, as he has demonstrated his business-building expertise across the complex and diverse markets of STAR, Bruce has proven himself an ideal executive to help us engineer the long-term growth and success of Hughes. We greatly look forward to his joining the team."

James Murdoch, Chairman and Chief Executive of STAR, said: "Bruce has been a keen and innovative leader of STAR. He has helped to guide virtually every aspect of our operations as we have grown from a fledgling television service into one of Asia's largest diversified media companies - and a platform reaching more than 53 countries in eight languages. His achievements at this company are indelible, and we are sorry to see him go. However, I have no doubt that his obvious talents will be as invaluable to Hughes' businesses as they have been to STAR."

Mr. Churchill commented: "It's been an exciting seven years at STAR. I am really proud of the business we have built and the team we have running it; and I know that under James's leadership, STAR will continue to flourish. I am looking forward to the challenges at Hughes and the opportunity to work in new markets such as the U.S. and Latin America."

Mr. Churchill has served as President and Chief Operating Officer at STAR for the past three years. Previously he served as STAR's Deputy Chief Executive Officer, a position he had held since 1996. Prior to joining STAR, Mr. Churchill was Senior Vice President of Finance at Fox Television, where he managed financial, corporate development and administrative functions for the FOX Broadcasting Company, Fox Television Stations, FX and Twentieth Television's domestic syndication.

Before he joined Fox, Mr. Churchill served for a year as Senior Vice President at Paramount Technology Group, following four years as Vice President of Strategic Planning at Paramount Pictures.
